First direct confrontation since end of 1973 war

By Beirut Press International

The Syrian armed forces last night opened fire on the Israeli army in the first direct confrontation between the two armed forces since the 1973 Middle East war.

Israel's military command sources said that the Syrian attack came after extensive preparation and was carried out with the purpose of provoking Israel to return fire. Israeli officials said that the Syrian forces had been on alert since last night, when the Israeli forces opened fire on the Syrian forces in order to prevent a possible invasion.

The Syrian attack came after a series of warnings and threats by the Syrian military, which had been escalating its military activities in recent days. The Syrian forces had been increasing their military presence along the border with Israel, and had been shelling Israeli positions in preparation for the attack.

The Israeli military command sources said that the Syrian attack was a clear violation of the armistice agreements and was an act of aggression against Israel. They said that the Israeli forces had been on high alert and had been preparing for a possible attack.

The Israeli military command sources also said that the attack was a clear indication of the Syrian forces' determination to continue their military activities along the border and to escalate the military tension in the region.

The Israeli military command sources said that the Israeli forces had responded to the Syrian attack with equal severity and had retaliated with heavy fire on the Syrian positions.

The Israeli military command sources also said that the Syrian forces had been heavily engaged in recent military activities along the border, and had been shelling Israeli positions in preparation for the attack.

Graham leads in Florida race

MIAMI (UPI) - Undoubtedly the key to Tuesday's election was the south Florida area, particularly Miami-Dade County, for Graham would have to carry the populous Duval County, which went for Carter, to hold on to his slim lead.

With 98 percent of the vote counted, Graham had 51.8 percent of the vote to 48.2 percent for Carter.

As the early reports went, Graham won everything south of Port St. Lucie, except for Palm Beach County, which went for Carter. He also carried Broward County by a 53-47 margin.

Graham even took a slight lead in his victory from Miami, which Graham entered in the first primary, Graham entered with his victory in the first primary.

The decision by the U.S. Department of the Interior to designate the Hopi Reservation in Arizona for inclusion in the National Park System has been applauded by Indian leaders. The Hopi have been pressing for the recognition of their land as a national park for many years.

The Interior Department’s decision is seen as a significant step towards preserving the Hopi culture and heritage. The reservation has a long history of cultural and spiritual significance to the Hopi people.

Jimmie isn’t that good—or that bad

WASHINGTON (AP) — It was a very good congressional term for Jimmy Carter. As president, he did not achieve all the goals he set out to accomplish. Yet, as he prepares to leave office, he is leaving behind a legacy that will be remembered.

During his presidency, Carter implemented a transition concept that was designed to be peaceful and free from conflict. Under the British-American plan, Britain would hold fair and free elections for a new government. Under the United States, a similar process was implemented, with the hope that the new government would be a transition government, which would eventually lead to a new and free government.

The transition government, which Carter proposed, was based on the idea that the process of change should be peaceful and free from conflict. Under the Carter plan, a transition government would be established, which would be responsible for organizing the new government.

The Carter administration was committed to the idea of a peaceful transition. It believed that the process of change should be as painless and free from conflict as possible. The Carter administration was committed to the idea of a peaceful transition.

In the absence of any clear potential for a peaceful transition, the Carter administration was committed to the idea of a peaceful transition. Griffin: Incumbent a ‘file clerk’

WALTER GRiffin

Newspapermen spent close to $1,000 to win an Iowa Supreme Court judgeship. The contest was a sort, which is to say a holding action to break up the campaign of the Democratic individual secretary of state. This is the state office that $1,000 spent close to winning.

Secretary of State Walter Griffin has been in office more than a decade longer than his Democratic successor, who has been reduced to nothing more than a file clerk. This is the office of a man with the knack of avoiding every public occurrence, but making on occasion an appearance to look as if he had an important office, even though he has not. Secretary of State Walter Griffin says: ‘I will spend less than $1,000 to win the election. I have a campaign in store for you,' he added. ‘The candidate who is to be defeated by such a vote is not likely to appear. The campaign, therefore, is a mere holding action to break up the campaign of the Democratic individual secretary of state.'

Okay, Leather Gallery, you win. Leather is a more practical and economical upholstery material. All we ever seem to see is funny-looking, uncomfortable, big back wings chairs with 700 brass nails all over them. Are there ever any other styles that leather comes in?

Answer

Phew! All of our friends who live traditional styling will be offended. But yes, leather comes in any style available. You can see most of them here at the Leather Gallery. For example, you probably already know the answer to your question: Yes, it’s beautiful. It will take even your breath away.

Any day thinking about crossing town into Iowa City this weekend to see the trapshoot championship really makes you sick. Seeing the intramural trapshoot results.

Trapshooters came out of the dark with a bang in order to compete in the annual trapshoot championships. The seniors and juniors showed their support for their team with a strong showing. The 200 entrants hit the course.

Coach Ballard remarked, "I think that we have the best trapshooters on the team that we have ever had. We are all here and we are all working on our shots. We are all working on our shots and trying to perfect them."

The intramural trapshoot has been selected as a national tournament for the upcoming season. The trapshooters are looking forward to the upcoming season and are working hard to perfect their shots.

The trapshooters will begin their season with a match against Loras and a big tournament. There are 250 entrants expected to take part in the tournament. The team will be hoping for a good showing in the upcoming season.

Mountaineering is an old career. Over the years, it has been passed down from teacher to teacher, through the generations. It has seen a resurgence, and now young Jim Gilliam, second baseman for the Los Angeles Dodgers, is proving he can do it as well as ever after watching the Yankees find themselves set up for a man living on a mountain. You can't shut down the whole Olympic Committee protects the city of Los Angeles from outside interference. President S. B. Fulmer, Secretary Clancy, who has been running the Los Angeles Olympic Games, returned from his tour of the mountains. President Fulmer, a man living on a mountain, said: "I think I'll live as long as I can, and if I can do it as well as ever, I'll be doing it." Los Angeles, in the series Friday night, had a chance to face lefthander Guidry. He will face lefthander Hunter instead of Guidry, who has 52-3 in.

IOWA Vs. UTAH — opportunity for offense

BUSINESS

“high school, high school, high school, high school” That's how high school percussionists are going to answer the question, "What's a Marching Band Day?"

"When we played at the University of Iowa Marching Band on Saturday, there was a lot of excitement in the stands,"

Dr. William S.
King, Davenport orchestra director, said. "But that's how high schools play, and that's the name of the game."

It may seem like a strange term to many people.
But a Marching Band Day is an event that was planned to bring high school bands from across the state together.

The event was specifically directed at high school bands, and that was the purpose behind the idea.

It's not just another gimmick
but something that will trigger interest in the audience — a combined effort that will be dotted with people from all walks of life.

That little tune sung by the Hawkeye Marching Band
will be heard on the field at halftime
as part of the halftime show.

The spark
for this idea came from
the Des Moines Register,

"We're interested in showing our support for the band and the audience,"

said King. "We want the audience to have a good time and enjoy the performance."

And that's what it's all about.

oit has the blessing of every official in the band and the school here. And that was the reason we had the idea in the first place.

That's why we're excited about it, and we hope some of those people call us for more information.

The event was specifically
directed at high school
bands, and that was the purpose behind the idea.

It's not just another gimmick
but something that will trigger interest in the audience — a combined effort
that will be dotted with people from all walks of life.

That little tune sung by the Hawkeye Marching Band
will be heard on the field at halftime
as part of the halftime show.

The spark
for this idea came from
the Des Moines Register,

"We're interested in
showing our support
for the band and the audience,"

said King. "We want
the audience to have a good time and enjoy the performance."

And that's what it's all about.

The Hawkeye Marching Band

Iowa hosts first Band Day; 36 high schools to participate

By DOUG HEAR

"High school, high school, here's the catch." That little song for the Hawkeye Marching Band may be quite well known before Saturday, but not in the traditional sense.

"High school, high school, here's the catch."

No one has heard the little song before Saturday, but it has the feeling of every official on campus that I've talked to," Jones said.

The Hawkeye-Marching Band has selected three primary songs for the Band Day: "The Blues," "Big Nine," and "Oh, Iowa!"

The three songs are featured in the main key of C, the same key as the other songs heard Saturday.

"Iowa Ye Hawkeyes,"

"The Team of the West," and "Iowa Hawkeyes"

Jones said that the songs were chosen because they are traditional and have been sung for many years.

The songs will be performed in a different key than the usual C major.

Weiss ready for action

By DOUG BAND

Swot

Iowa fans eagerly await the return to action of the Hawkeyes' quarterback.

Weiss explained that he is ready to return to the lineup.

"I've been working hard to be an important part of the team," Weiss said. "I'm excited to be back in the lineup and contribute to the team's success."
ready for action

The Iowa linebacker carries a strong defense that can beat any Big Ten football player. "I have never doubted our ability to win," Weiss said. "I believe we can beat any Big Ten team, and the records prove it."

"I am always one to rise over the line. I always know where my receivers are and I'm used to getting hit, so there really is no such thing as a factor involved," he said.

"I am living proof of the old adage that big things come in small packages. Last season he passed for 1,900 yards and finished second in passing in the Western Athletic Conference behind highly-touted Mark Wilson of Brigham Young University."

Weiss was recruited heavily by several Big Ten schools, but chose Iowa because of its confidence in him as a Big Ten football player. "I have no regrets about coming down here," Weiss said. "I've been recruited by several schools, but I chose Iowa because I'm not a top recruit."

"I've been told that Iowa is the best school in the Big Ten, and that's why I chose Iowa," Weiss said.

Conference race lies just ahead

BY STEVE WENMETH

Sports Editor

Eight of the Big Ten teams will spend this weekend battling for conference hon; before heading into the real conference battle.

Indiana and Wisconsin will get a head start in the league when the two teams collide in Madison, Wis. The Hoosiers, having swept Big Ten foe the last weekend, will meet again in Bloomington, Ind., tonight. The Wolverines will host Michigan State, looking to pull away from the Big Ten race after the weekend's victories.

Minnesota will host Iowa this weekend, bringing a 5-1 conference record into its matchup with Iowa. The Gophers are looking to maintain their lead in the conference standings.

Ohio State and Penn State will clash in State College, Pa., with both teams looking to prove their worth in conference play. The Buckeyes and Nittany Lions are tied at the top of the Big Ten standings.

The Bruins will host the Trojans in Pasadena, Calif., looking to solidify their position at the top of the Pac-12 standings. UCLA has been on a roll lately, winning six of its last seven games.

Illinois will host Michigan in Champaign, Ill., with both teams looking to gain ground in the Big Ten standings. The Fighting Illini have been a surprise team this season, making the conference race even more competitive.

The Buckeyes will host the Wolverines in Columbus, Ohio, with the winner gaining a major advantage in the conference race. The Buckeyes are looking to combat the streaking Wolverines and take back the Big Ten conference lead.

By the end of the weekend, the conference race will be well underway, with key matchups setting the stage for the stretch run. The teams will be playing for conference championships and a shot at the Big Ten title.
