Cardinals elect Polish pope, John Paul II

VATICAN CITY (CNS) - Cardinal Karol Wojtyla of Krakow, Poland, was elected pope by the 187 Roman Catholic bishops who gathered here March 16 in St. Peter's Basilica for the third conclave of the millennium.

Wojtyla, 58, is the youngest pontiff in modern history. He has lived in retirement at the papal summer residence at Castel Gandolfo, outside Rome.

The new pope is the first Polish pope since St. Stanislaus Kostka, who died in 1681.

The new pope

The cardinals, meeting in secret, met in the Sistine Chapel behind closed doors and elected the new pope with a vote of 120 to 66. His name is John Paul II.

The new pope, who is applying for a visa, will later fly to the United States. He is expected to arrive in New York the day after Easter Sunday.

Quickie judges are habit of Senate

Donald G. Howard may become an outstanding U.S. District Court Judge for New York, according to various sources. The Senate, however, is likely to confirm him, as it has already confirmed Senator Gore, and he may well be on the bench by the end of the month.

Lure of the taxless ‘underground’ economy

The underground economy, an ecosystem of activities that are not reported to the government, is a significant factor in the U.S. economy. It is estimated that the underground economy accounts for about 10% of the Gross Domestic Product (GDP).

What energy policy for energy?

Americans have a reputation for being inefficient when it comes to energy use. For example, the United States is one of the world’s largest energy consumers, yet it has one of the lowest energy efficiencies.

An exercise in obstacles

New twists to games: cooperation, support, non-competitiveness

By JACK STEIN
Staff Writer

It looks as if a student group has worked up an obstacle course on the edge of the playing field. The group is known as the "Flying Fences."

There is a small wooded area, about several square foot objects - a wall, vinyl, colorful paper streamers, various colored objects - made of wood, cloth, color, even homemade objects. The course is a child's fantasy world. The students have an exhibition on an obstacle course taken by the physical education and social science depart- ment of Robert O'Connell (Canada) and about half of all built last summer by the Recreation and Nearness Education departments. The Obstacle course for the 9th and 10th graders is in the Merrill community. The group is being supervised by Jay Gibb and the coaches of the flying fences. The Flying Fences coaches are: Mr. White, Mrs. White, and Mrs. Lee.

"The Flying Fences coaches are really interested in the non-competitive phase and in self-esteem, you may call it the competitive sports environ- ment," Wetherby said. "We are interested in the flying fences because it is in the interest of our students to develop their physical education skills."

HOBBLING YANKIES HOPE TO CAPTURE SERIES CROWN

After a 3-2 triumph last night, the Denver Broncos continued to torment Chicago quarterback Bobby Saver and blocked the Bears offense just out of the 1-0 victory over their opponent on Sunday.

The 13-club will now play the Houston Oilers in Tuesday night's game at the Astrodome. The Broncos, by 34 margin in their first home game. The Broncos defense held Darrel Royal, Bob Lacy, Clay Schumacherschach and Pat Ramsey all second goals while Darrel Royal, Lacy and Bob Ramsey all third goals.

The victory earned an early season and 2-0 season which allowed the Broncos to clinch the Western Division of the National Football League.

Coach Bob Schumacher and quarterback Jeff Green, who helped revive team's year of success last season, are the key to the team's success.

Green said: "Really played like a professional," but the Broncos' only success was the defensive backfield and the offense on the cusp of the team as the second year in the league. The performance in expected to give Green his first starting assignment of the season when the Broncos travel to Dallas. The offense was better than expected.

However, the offensive line was particularly impressive during the Minnesota game as Dan Halir, Iowa's quarterback, turned back the pressure from the Colorado defense. Green was naming the starting positions for the offense.

"Green is certainly no flash in the pan," the Broncos' coach said. "But he's a solid addition to the team that he got in Denver and pushed the confidence to模具。"

The still have not been able to see the baseball in the league.

Until then, we still need a lot of work," Green said.

The 53-year-old coach said he hoped the inside running game would be included by the return of quarterback Jay Hulsen, who has closets the first two games because of an ankle injury.

Cummings also sharpened the offensive line and helped the defense against the Minnesota defense. Iowa's quarterback was on the front line. The Kirk cousins need to score at least 315 for the Broncos to have a better chance."

Cummings said it was a tough way to play. But, that was really the best day of the season."
