"Normal kickbacks" not enough for GSA Washington, D.C. - General Accounting Office investigators with normal kickbacks, created last year from government construction contracts, are still finding kickbacks.

Commissioner William Hill made the remarks yesterday at a hearing of the House Commerce Committee investigating kickbacks in government construction contracts.

"The evidence is clear that kickbacks still exist," Hill said. "We have been able to uncover kickbacks as high as 30 percent of the contract price."

Hill said the kickbacks are a threat to the integrity of government contracts and to the taxpayers who pay for them.

Carter stakes inflation Washington, Aug. 20 (UPI) - President Carter today ordered a freeze of all wage and price increases in the United States.

The move, which effectively freezes the economy, was to begin at midnight tonight and last for 90 days.

"I will issue an order today that, effective tonight, no basic wage or price increases will be permitted until February 20th," Carter said.

The freeze will affect all wages, salaries, prices and fees, including those in the transportation, communications and retail trade industries.

"The effective shutdown of these industries will begin immediately," Carter said.

Sadar contacts Begin; compromise speculated

By United Press International

Egyptian President Anwar Sadat sent a confidential letter to Israeli Prime Minister Menahem Begin Thursday suggesting that a Middle East peace conference be convened, the major daily El-Hayagia reported.

Sadat wrote that he wants to meet with Begin to discuss a Middle East peace conference, the Arabic-language daily reported.

Sadat's letter suggested a meeting early next month in a neutral country.

The Egyptian leader wrote that he believes it is time to discuss the future of the Middle East and that his offer to meet with Begin is a sign of his desire for peace.

Sadat's letter was welcomed by Israeli officials as a positive step towards a solution to the Israeli-Palestinian conflict.

In Washington, President Jimmy Carter welcomed Sadat's letter and said he would consider meeting with Sadat to discuss the possibility of a peace conference.

Sadat's letter also includes a proposal for a conference to be held in the United Nations, the Egyptian daily reported.

Sadat's letter is a significant move towards a peaceful resolution of the conflict in the Middle East, the Egyptian daily noted.

New Times deserved better

New Times challenged fast-food journalism.

The honestly bowled five anniversaries of the magazine, for New Times has been around for a long time, and more than enough financial loss to put it out of business by January 13, a decade after its launch. In fact, the magazine was launched by the author of this essay. In New York, on March 1, 1975, the magazine's founder, Robert Carlin, described the publication as "at the heart of the New Times scene."

Now, as the magazine celebrates its 10th anniversary, it is time to assess the state of the industry and the magazine itself.

The magazine has been successful in publishing articles on a wide range of topics, from politics to culture to technology. However, the magazine has also faced criticism for its lack of depth and breadth in its coverage.

In this essay, I will argue that the New Times has been a valuable contributor to the industry and has demonstrated its value in producing quality journalism.

Oh, shut up

Ronald Reagan, desperately grasping for another run for the presidency, is courting the votes of the Working Class. He is promising, among other things, to "make the hard times easier" for the people. People planning to run for president in 1980 are looking for new strategies. If you are a candidate, this might be the time to consider the Working Class.

People are concerned with their work and with their jobs. They are concerned with the quality of their lives. They are concerned with the future of their children. They are concerned with the future of their country. They are concerned about their rights as Americans. They are concerned about their safety and security.

These are the people who make up the Working Class.

Street Singer Casse Culver to perform here

It's a revolution a minute in women's music industry

By BENJAMIN LEMON

Streetsinger, visionary, avant-garde Casse Culver is a genuine musician, who will perform in The Pink Panther strikes green again in Sellers' latest farce

By ROBBIE WALTERS

The Pink Panther has tempted Casse Culver again, and the result is one of the best revues in the last few months. It is hard to believe that the Pink Panther started out as a character in a comic strip, but the fact remains that this is the case. The character was created by Al Capp, and he has been running since the early 1940s. The Pink Panther became popular with audiences all over the world, and his popularity continued to grow throughout the years.

The success of the Pink Panther led to the creation of a television series, which ran from 1963 to 1968. The series was syndicated in countries all over the world, and it was a hit in many places. The Pink Panther was also featured in a number of films, including The Pink Panther (1963), The Pink Panther Strikes Again (1976), and The Pink Panther Returns (1982). The character has also been used in a number of other media, including video games and comic books.

The Pink Panther is a humorous and lighthearted character, and his popularity has continued to grow over the years. He is a beloved character, and his popularity is expected to continue for many years to come.
"Hon'or humorous, not melodramatic"

Broad Walker

Opera means, for most people, the image of singing Wagnersian personages, broad-shouldered and determined, followed by the colorful pageantry and operatic melodramas that often make up the shows. Pointy ends of tunics, a fight, a climax, and the victorious heroine in a long dress with her hair in disarray. But in Three members of Puccini's Troubadours, a quartet, there is none of these. The characters are all realistic people, a cartoon Image of the orchestra in opera settings. All, of course, is resolved in a happy ending, which is the way operas end.

James Johnson, the Well-Tempered Classical, is one of the three possible conductors. It is his job to provide the musical settings for the quartet, and, as the only one, he is the main force behind the interpretations. All of the others, in fact, are dependent on what James Johnson does. The performances of the quartet are not, although they are not, a reflection of the opera's musical setting.
Sky-Scan will look for 'fuelish' homes

Operation Sky-Scan, a program designed to help homes become more energy efficient, will begin soon in Iowa City.

Thomas Hoogerwerf, commercial supervisor for Iowa Gas and Electric, said that as soon as the temperature starts to drop below freezing on a regular basis, the project will begin. The project, facilitated by the Department of Housing and Urban Development, will be marketed and handled by recording rooftop thermograms of each house, which homes are using energy by recording rooftop thermograms of each house. The program, called Sky-Scan, is similar to black and white photography in that it is able to see the contrast and the detail, and that they are being exposed as a light gray area.

Order from the house in order to the thermograms to be successful, he said. The task will be to take the thermograms and have them be printed on a transparency, for recording residential consumption. The pictures, called thermograms, are similar to black and white photography in that they are able to see the contrast and the detail, and that they are being exposed as a light gray area.

Fewer blacks moving to cities

WASHINGTON (UPI) -- The number of college graduates moving to cities in search of jobs has fallen by nearly 70,000 since 1974, but the city-dwelling whites who are leaving for the suburbs has more than doubled, and has remained the same as the number of blacks moving to cities.

According to the Census Bureau's latest figures, the number of blacks moving to cities has fallen from 67,000 in 1974 to 52,000 in 1977. The number of whites moving to cities has increased from 117,000 in 1974 to 232,000 in 1977. The number of whites moving to the suburbs has also increased, from 69,000 in 1974 to 99,000 in 1977.

The study noted that during the second half of last year, blacks moving to cities was reduced to its lowest level in nearly five years. The number of blacks moving to cities was reduced to 45,000 in the first half of 1977, but had increased to 75,000 in the second half.

In addition, the Census Bureau said that the number of blacks moving to cities was reduced to 67,000 in the third quarter of this year, but had increased to 80,000 in the fourth quarter.

The number of blacks moving to cities has fallen in the past five years, but has increased in the last five years. The number of blacks moving to cities has fallen by 70,000 since 1974, but the number of whites moving to cities has increased by 150,000 since 1974.

Ain't seen nothin' Covenant promises

"I was thought of as a stuntman," said Princeton defense end Steve McVay, "but I'm looking for an opportunity to contribute."

The lure of the NFL has taken hold of many college backs, including McVay, whose 11 tackles in the Big Eight finals a year ago were the most by a Princeton player in the history of the school.

"I've been told I can be a starter if I report to training camp," McVay said. "But I'm not sure if that will happen."

The signature style of the Browns is that of the old-fashioned, hard-hitting running game, with McVay's 5-11, 210-pound frame fitting the mold.

"I would like to contribute as a runner and as a blocker," McVay said. "I know I have the capability to do both."
The Hawkeye cagers open Big Ten season

By GREG SMITH

The Big Ten season opens today for the Iowa women's basketball team, with the Hawkeyes hosting Wisconsin at 2:05 p.m. in the Field House. The Hawkeyes, 6-2 on the season and winners of three consecutive victories, have a very high caliber meet this weekend in Iowa City, starting with a school record. The Hawkeyes open their 1979-80 Big Ten season on Saturday when they face the Badgers at the Field House. The Badgers open their season tonight at Ohio State. The Badgers are 7-2 on the season and winners of three consecutive victories, but the Hawkeyes are favored in this game.

The Hawkeyes are led by the nation's leading scorer, junior Lisa Haronoja, who had 18 points in the Hawkeyes' 91-72 victory over Western Illinois in the season opener. Haronoja is currently the school's all-time leading scorer with 1,000 points. She is also the nation's leading scorer, averaging 25.5 points per game.

"High caliber competition awaits Hawkeye gymnasts

By MARILYN R. JANSCH

The Iowa State women's gymnastics team will be in Des Moines on Saturday for the Iowa women's gymnastics meet. The meet will be held at 2:00 p.m. in the Field House. The meet will be the second game of the year for the Hawkeyes and play some very aggressive competition.

The Hawkeyes are led by senior Lisa Haronoja, who had 18 points in the Hawkeyes' 91-72 victory over Western Illinois in the season opener. Haronoja is currently the school's all-time leading scorer with 1,000 points. She is also the nation's leading scorer, averaging 25.5 points per game.

Hawkeyes crush Buckeyes, 43-0

The Iowa offense was led by quarterback Kirk Ferentz who completed 14 of 22 passes for 184 yards and two touchdowns. The defense was led by defensive end Terry Connelly who had two sacks and a fumble recovery.

Reid named Iowa MVP

Iowa's defensive player of the year, Junior Reid, was named the Most Valuable Player for his performance in last night's game. Reid had a sack and an interception in Iowa's 31-12 victory.

The Hawks' second leading pass receiver with 24 yards against Indiana. Reid was the only team with which he scored three touchdowns in one game.

The Hawkeyes, who are ranked number one in the Associated Press Poll, defeated the Buckeyes, who are ranked number two.

The Hawkeyes scored on their first drive, and never looked back as they cruised to an easy win.

Rose refutes Phillips' offer

Jim Phillips, the head coach of the Iowa Hawkeyes, offered a $2 million contract to Jim Rose, the head coach of the Ohio State Buckeyes. Rose has turned down the offer, stating that he is not interested in leaving his current position.

"I am not interested in leaving Iowa," Rose said. "I am happy here, and I want to stay here."
