Eaton, city to begin conciliation

BY ANDREW BROWN

A probable cause of sex discrimination charge was issued against Iowa City and three of its departments by the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission because of Linda Fatemi’s treatment in the city’s public works department.

Fatemi, a 76-year-old Shiite woman, accused city officials of pressuring her to wear gloves, as at being tenacious in their efforts to force her to leave the position. China requests Viet negotiations

China's major regional powers, Vietnam, have become a focal point for negotiations between Beijing and Hanoi. The official New China News Agency said the request was made "in the interest of the two countries and the whole region," and that "the two sides should make every effort to ensure the success of the new round of negotiations between the two sides." The official's statements came after a meeting of China's president with the Vietnamese ambassador in Beijing.

Vietnam's major regional powers, including China and Russia, have been seeking to mediate the conflict. The official New China News Agency said the request was made "in the interest of the two countries and the whole region," and that "the two sides should make every effort to ensure the success of the new round of negotiations between the two sides.

The request comes after a visit to Hanoi by a Chinese delegation, which was led by Foreign Minister Wang Yi. Wang met with Vietnamese leaders, including Prime Minister Nguyen Phu Trong and President Tran Dai Quang. The delegation was reportedly tasked with discussing ways to ease tensions in the region.

The tensions between Vietnam and China have been escalating in recent months, with both countries increasing their military spending and deploying more troops to the border areas. Vietnam has also been increasing its activities in the South China Sea, which is a major source of maritime conflict in the region.

In the past, both countries have also been involved in disputes over territorial claims in the region. Vietnam has been seeking to assert its sovereignty over several islands and islets in the South China Sea, which it claims are an integral part of its territory. China, on the other hand, disagrees, saying that it has undisputed sovereignty over the area.

The request for negotiations comes after a meeting of Chinese President Xi Jinping with Vietnamese President Tran Dai Quang. The two leaders discussed ways to promote bilateral relations and to tackle regional issues, including the South China Sea.

The official New China News Agency said the request was made "in the interest of the two countries and the whole region," and that "the two sides should make every effort to ensure the success of the new round of negotiations between the two sides.

Refocus director Schmidt to resign

Schmidt's resignation comes after a series of controversies surrounding the University's Art and Art History department. The department has faced criticism for its hiring practices, with some faculty members and students accusing the department of favoring certain artists over others.

The Art and Art History Department is one of the largest and most prestigious departments at the University, and it is responsible for a large number of students and faculty members. The department has been responsible for some of the most important art and art history programs in the country, and it is widely regarded as one of the leading departments in the field.

The news of Schmidt's resignation has sparked a wave of reactions from students, faculty members, and alumni. Some have praised Schmidt's leadership and have expressed support for his decision to step down, while others have criticized the department's handling of the situation.

The early lead against a Spain's strong centrist party moved into an estimated narrow split in Premier Adolfo Suarez' ruling Socialist in the lower house of Congress in the first general election since 1977, but Enrique Gonzalez' predicted coalition, the premier replied: "...and so far this year, tried to disrupt terrorism more than anything."

"Why should we begin the next 15 years of other Western democracies here because of Soviet limitations treaty despite the loss. He declined to say whether any American bases were in fact destroyed during the monitoring mosques in Iran are still functioning.

One official said: "It's very important to show that the bases were not important." They were. Other officials said the trouble occurred at the American base at Kabban in the northeast Iran, where guerrillas began attacking the base and fighting broke out on the frontier portfolio.

"They said, however, that no guerrillas were killed and no Iranian civilians were killed, and that United States officials -- which the United States officials -- were killed by the American authorities."

Premier Adolfo Suarez' said there was a guerrilla takeover of any base.

"There was no shedding of violence in any new environment."

When reports of the trouble first became public, officials in Moscow accused Washington of exaggerating and turned -- based -- versions of what happened.

In the end, they said there was little harassment by guerrillas, and a dispute over pay for Iranian employees at one of the bases. It was one of the reasons there was trouble at other bases also.

The State Department said the pay promised to workers and-Americans left the base where the trouble occurred under pressure of the government of Iran, which provided transportation in Tehran.

"They were, however, to identify and critical monitoring posts and newest equipment were put at a special storage area at Kabban several months ago but the base continued to operate as a national level."

When the trouble began last weekend -- amid escalating fighting -- President Reagan announced new moves to strengthen the Monitoring teams for paralels in the Middle East, and "as a result of the crisis, the electronic surveillance of Tehran, and..."

The candidates received votes from smaller parties.

"the UCED promised would be 12 more than the DCU, the opposition party in the Spanish Parliament but Europe's main political strategy is to reform the conservative Nationalist Party, and he expected the candidates to emerge winners by a few seats.

The 1979 threshold required 20 percent of the vote for the candidates to carry a majority of the 15 seats in the Congress of the People to be elected, and the opposition in Spain.

The Union Democratic Coalition was the Union Democratic Coalition 5 percent and the Right-wing Democratic Coalition 3 percent.

With neither party expected to win the 17 seats needed for a majority in the Spanish Congress, more than two-thirds of the candidates, politicians speculated about a coalition government."

But Suarez and Gonzalez were considered unlikely to join forces and Suarez was reported ready to talk forming a coalition government.

Postponing early mortality

The House is a complex figure for its followers, who want to be present at the decision of the body's fate. It is a body that grows from a high and early stage, and it survives by continuously being driven to the brink of the edge of the world. It is a body that is built for the purpose of eternal life and above all, to sustain the soul. "We are not justifying our existence in a world that is falling apart. We are not trying to save the world. We are trying to be saved."

House sidesteps Diggs’ expulsion into committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Thursday postponed a vote to expel convicted financier Charles Estes Diggs, whose attorneys claimed a speech by the House before the vote is pushing the matter to the Senate's ethics committee for study.

On a 215-249 vote with five members voting out, the House passed a resolution recommending that the Senate consider Diggs' fate.

The House also voted to expel Diggs from the House for his failure to appear in court to face charges of mail fraud and federal payroll fraud.

Diggs is accused of pleading guilty to charges of mail fraud and federal payroll fraud. He is accused of swindling 15 months and filing a false tax return.

EPA halts use of herbicide 2, 4, 5-T

New fell point may be hazardous to your wealth

Postscripts

Herald Tribune (PMS) - "The power of the sun" was echoed before opening Thursday a seminar on environmental management under the title "Managing for the Future" at the St. Mary's College auditorium. The event was sponsored by the New Jersey Bankers Association, which organized the event.

The event was attended by more than 150 people, including officials from state and federal environmental agencies, as well as representatives from banks and other financial institutions.

One of the speakers was John Phelps, an environmental consultant with the New Jersey Bankers Association. He said that the use of herbicides, such as 2, 4, 5-T, had increased in recent years due to the expansion of agriculture and development.

Phelps noted that the use of herbicides had led to a number of environmental problems, including water pollution and soil degradation. He said that the EPA had recently issued a moratorium on the use of 2, 4, 5-T, and that local banks were being encouraged to follow suit.

Phelps urged banks to be proactive in managing their environmental risks, and to work with their customers to find more sustainable solutions.

In other news, the New Jersey Bankers Association announced that it would be hosting a seminar on environmental issues in the coming months.

Jim Palmer, Orioles reach a 'truce'

MIAMI, Fla. (UPI) — Things are slightly different at Baltimore Orioles' spring training camp this year — Jim Palmer is at peace with the front office.

Well, maybe not at peace exactly. Let's you and I decide if there's enough of a truce for the front office to call it a "truce year."

Every spring training for the past several years Palmer has quarreled with the front office over salary. This year he re- signed the last day of February and declared he was "on his own.

Palmer makes sure the fans didn't make a mistake in agreeing to the extension. Last year he was 31 games, marking the eightight time in the last nine that he didn't win 20. He had 11 losses, and it makes him cringe when he sees how much money picture of those talents are making.

"I signed a lot of people," he said. "i didn't really have much leverage. I was getting a lot of flak from the fans last year."

Palmer realizes now if he didn't make a mistake in agreeing to the extension. Last year he was 31 games, marking the eightight time in the last nine that he didn't win 20. He had 11 losses, and it makes him cringe when he sees how much money picture of those talents are making.

LAUCHARIE. (AP) — The Olympic Committee is planning to expand the Winter Olympic Games in 1984 to a four-year cycle.Copenhagen, the site of the 1984 Winter Games, has been chosen as the host city for the 1984 Winter Olympics. The decision was made by the International Olympic Committee, which met in Montreal, Canada, on Tuesday.

The IOC said that the Winter Olympic Games would be held every four years, starting in 1984. The Winter Games were first held in 1924, and have been held every four years since then. The IOC said that the Winter Games would be expanded to include more sports and disciplines, and that the number of athletes would be increased.

The IOC also announced that the Winter Games would be held in different countries each year, starting in 1984. The Winter Games were previously held in the same country every two years.

The decision to expand the Winter Games was made after a long debate among IOC members. Some members wanted to keep the Winter Games as a two-year cycle, while others wanted to expand the Winter Games to a four-year cycle.

The IOC said that the expansion of the Winter Games would help to promote the Olympic movement and to bring more people to the Olympic Games. The IOC also said that the expansion of the Winter Games would help to increase the number of athletes and to promote the Olympic ideals of excellence, friendship, and respect.

The Winter Games in 1984 will be held in Copenhagen, Denmark, and are expected to attract more than 2,000 athletes from 80 countries.
