New plans for pool minus tower

BY RON HANEY

As announced reservation plan for the pool with a new, 39,000 gallon pool, according to University of Missouri officials, will be announced.

According to University of Missouri officials, the reserved pool will be located on the east side of the pool, near the west end of the pool. The reserved pool will be open to all students and staff of the University of Missouri.

According to University of Missouri officials, the reserved pool will be open to all students and staff of the University of Missouri.

According to University of Missouri officials, the reserved pool will be open to all students and staff of the University of Missouri.

According to University of Missouri officials, the reserved pool will be open to all students and staff of the University of Missouri.

Acc...
Khomeini: Need end to executions

Lufthansa thief convicted

The contest

We didn't think you could, but somehow you won in your final showdown to Lufthansa's final contest. If you were one of the 582 entries chosen in a drawing of more than 21,000, you won a bundle of Lufthansa tickets worth $2,121.02.

Below is the list of the winners:

First place: Howard D. Brown, 200 E. 17th St., New York City.
Second place: John C. Davis, 21 Main St., New Canaan, Connecticut.
Third place: Richard J. Hanlon, 123 Main St., New York City.

Your ticket is good for a round trip to Europe, including all taxes and fees. Lufthansa's Fares were not affected, of course, by the current energy crisis.

The contest was open to all U.S. residents, excluding Lufthansa employees and their families.

Lufthansa

The Lufthansa

Takes

EMINATION

Page 5 - The Daily Iowan - Iowa City, Iowa - Thursday, May 17, 1979

The Daily Iowan

S.8

14900

The contest

We didn't think you could, but somehow you won in your final showdown to Lufthansa's final contest. If you were one of the 582 entries chosen in a drawing of more than 21,000, you won a bundle of Lufthansa tickets worth $2,121.02.

Below is the list of the winners:

First place: Howard D. Brown, 200 E. 17th St., New York City.
Second place: John C. Davis, 21 Main St., New Canaan, Connecticut.
Third place: Richard J. Hanlon, 123 Main St., New York City.

Your ticket is good for a round trip to Europe, including all taxes and fees. Lufthansa's Fares were not affected, of course, by the current energy crisis.

The contest was open to all U.S. residents, excluding Lufthansa employees and their families.

Lufthansa

The Lufthansa
D.C. NOW holds benefit for Eaton's legal fund

By John Halford

A fundraiser for Iowa City City Councilor Lila Eaton was held Tuesday night at the Cedar Rapids Country Club, 800 14th Street, Cedar Rapids.

Eaton, who was arrested in Washington, D.C., last week for being in the nation's capital without a permit, was one of the main speakers at the event. Eaton told the crowd that she plans to fight the arrest in court and that she is confident she will win.

Eaton said that she was arrested while demonstrating against the war in Iraq. She said that she was carrying a sign that said, "War Is Not the Answer." Eaton said that she was arrested after she refused to leave the area when asked to do so by police.

Eaton said that she was able to speak about her case at the fundraiser because she was able to obtain a temporary restraining order that prevents the city from arresting her again. Eaton said that she is confident that she will be able to win the case and that she will continue to fight for her rights.

Eaton said that she is grateful for the support of the Iowa City community and that she is determined to continue fighting for her rights. Eaton said that she is planning to travel to Washington, D.C., to continue demonstrating against the war in Iraq.

Eaton said that she is grateful for the support of the Iowa City community and that she is determined to continue fighting for her rights. Eaton said that she is planning to travel to Washington, D.C., to continue demonstrating against the war in Iraq.

Eaton said that she is grateful for the support of the Iowa City community and that she is determined to continue fighting for her rights. Eaton said that she is planning to travel to Washington, D.C., to continue demonstrating against the war in Iraq.

Eaton said that she is grateful for the support of the Iowa City community and that she is determined to continue fighting for her rights. Eaton said that she is planning to travel to Washington, D.C., to continue demonstrating against the war in Iraq.

Eaton said that she is grateful for the support of the Iowa City community and that she is determined to continue fighting for her rights. Eaton said that she is planning to travel to Washington, D.C., to continue demonstrating against the war in Iraq.

Eaton said that she is grateful for the support of the Iowa City community and that she is determined to continue fighting for her rights. Eaton said that she is planning to travel to Washington, D.C., to continue demonstrating against the war in Iraq.
Another foray into fascism

The government of the Republic of South Africa reported that the murder of Chris Hani, an African National Congress member, on May 10, has set off a wave of violence. The government has acknowledged that it was responsible for the murder, and has promised to investigate the matter. The government has also announced that it will not seek the death penalty for anyone involved in the murder.

In response to the murder, many students in the United States have organized protests and rallies. Many have called for a boycott of South African goods and services, and some have called for a divestiture referendum on the divestiture issue.

The UISAS (University of Iowa Student Association) views divestiture as a way to pressure the government of South Africa to end apartheid. The UISAS has been a strong advocate for divestiture for many years, and has been involved in many protests and rallies.

The UISAS has also been involved in many other activities, including student government, academic affairs, and community affairs. The UISAS has a long history of activism and has been a leader in many student movements.

In conclusion, the UISAS views divestiture as a way to end apartheid in South Africa. The UISAS is committed to fighting for social justice, and will continue to work towards this goal. The UISAS will continue to be active in the doing of this work, and will work towards this goal in the future.

Another opinion on referendum

To the Editor:

I am writing this letter to reply to a rumor being passed around the campus that there is to be a referendum on the divestiture issue, published May 14.

It is my belief that this rumor is not true and is not well founded. The only discussion of a referendum that I have seen was in a letter to the editor by Paul Dougan regarding the referendum question used the word "divestiture referendum, published May 14."

Mr. Dougan, my first question is, why didn't you use "divestiture"?

Dougan, the UISAS "the association views divestiture as a way to pressure the government of South Africa to end apartheid. The UISAS has been a strong advocate for divestiture for many years, and has been involved in many protests and rallies."

In response to the murder, many students in the United States have organized protests and rallies. Many have called for a boycott of South African goods and services, and some have called for a divestiture referendum on the divestiture issue.

The UISAS (University of Iowa Student Association) views divestiture as a way to pressure the government of South Africa to end apartheid. The UISAS has been a strong advocate for divestiture for many years, and has been involved in many protests and rallies.

The UISAS has also been involved in many other activities, including student government, academic affairs, and community affairs. The UISAS has a long history of activism and has been a leader in many student movements.

In conclusion, the UISAS views divestiture as a way to end apartheid in South Africa. The UISAS is committed to fighting for social justice, and will continue to work towards this goal. The UISAS will continue to be active in the doing of this work, and will work towards this goal in the future.

Letters

reconsidering the divisive issues on campus on the one hand and the "Chicago" on the other. These issues are not as polarizing as they may seem, and it is important to remember that the main goal of student protest is to bring attention to social issues.

I am writing this letter to reply to a rumor being passed around the campus that there is to be a referendum on the divestiture issue, published May 14."

Mr. Dougan, my first question is, why didn't you use "divestiture"?

Dougan, the UISAS "the association views divestiture as a way to pressure the government of South Africa to end apartheid. The UISAS has been a strong advocate for divestiture for many years, and has been involved in many protests and rallies."

In response to the murder, many students in the United States have organized protests and rallies. Many have called for a boycott of South African goods and services, and some have called for a divestiture referendum on the divestiture issue.

The UISAS (University of Iowa Student Association) views divestiture as a way to pressure the government of South Africa to end apartheid. The UISAS has been a strong advocate for divestiture for many years, and has been involved in many protests and rallies.

The UISAS has also been involved in many other activities, including student government, academic affairs, and community affairs. The UISAS has a long history of activism and has been a leader in many student movements.

In conclusion, the UISAS views divestiture as a way to end apartheid in South Africa. The UISAS is committed to fighting for social justice, and will continue to work towards this goal. The UISAS will continue to be active in the doing of this work, and will work towards this goal in the future.

Letters

reconsidering the divisive issues on campus on the one hand and the "Chicago" on the other. These issues are not as polarizing as they may seem, and it is important to remember that the main goal of student protest is to bring attention to social issues.

I am writing this letter to reply to a rumor being passed around the campus that there is to be a referendum on the divestiture issue, published May 14."

Mr. Dougan, my first question is, why didn't you use "divestiture"?

Dougan, the UISAS "the association views divestiture as a way to pressure the government of South Africa to end apartheid. The UISAS has been a strong advocate for divestiture for many years, and has been involved in many protests and rallies."

In response to the murder, many students in the United States have organized protests and rallies. Many have called for a boycott of South African goods and services, and some have called for a divestiture referendum on the divestiture issue.

The UISAS (University of Iowa Student Association) views divestiture as a way to pressure the government of South Africa to end apartheid. The UISAS has been a strong advocate for divestiture for many years, and has been involved in many protests and rallies.

The UISAS has also been involved in many other activities, including student government, academic affairs, and community affairs. The UISAS has a long history of activism and has been a leader in many student movements.

In conclusion, the UISAS views divestiture as a way to end apartheid in South Africa. The UISAS is committed to fighting for social justice, and will continue to work towards this goal. The UISAS will continue to be active in the doing of this work, and will work towards this goal in the future.

Late-night TV offers aesthetic, ethical thrills

By S. A. ROSS

In the media-saturated life today, nothing is more significant than the television news. In this era of split-second updates, rapid-fire content, and instant gratification, television news has become a force to be reckoned with. And not just for the audience's consumption; it also influences the way we see the world.

Television news is a powerful tool, capable of shaping public opinion and influencing policy. But this power comes with ethical considerations. The line between news and entertainment becomes blurred, and the consequences can be profound.

One area where television news can make a significant impact is on its aesthetic choices. The visual appeal of a story can draw viewers in and keep them engaged. This is particularly true with late-night TV shows, which often use dynamic lighting, vibrant colors, and clever camera angles to create a visually stimulating experience.

However, the aesthetic choices made in late-night TV shows must also be ethical. The content must be respectful and inclusive, avoiding stereotypes and minimizing harm. The language used should be clear and concise, avoiding jargon and complex ideas.

Television news is a powerful medium, capable of influencing the way we see the world. It is important to consider both the aesthetic and ethical aspects of this medium, ensuring that it serves the public good.

The Line

Daily 4:30 - 6 pm

Double Bubble

Mon - Thurs 7 - 9 pm

$1.25 Pitchers

Open 2 pm to 2 am Mon - Sat

Now accepting applications for bartenders & waitresses.

Ad

The Mother & the Whore

Wed & Thurs 9

The film features a new version of the classic novel of the same name, originally published in 1975. The story follows a woman navigating the complexities of relationships and desire.

Bijou

327 S. Gilbert Rd.

Prentiss Street

Auburn, ME 04210

Tel: 207-773-6963

www.bijou-auburn.com

CROSSWORD PUZZLE

ACROSS

1. Microsoft's CEO

2. The popular dance sensation

3. A popular marketing strategy

4. The state of Texas

5. A type of music

6. A type of dance

7. A type of film

8. A popular TV show

9. A type of advertisement

10. A popular social media platform

DOWN

1. Pacific Ocean

2. A popular musical instrument

3. A type of transportation

4. A popular kitchen appliance

5. A type of shoe

6. A popular type of weather

7. A type of food

8. A popular type of art

9. A type of drink

10. A popular type of exercise

The MOODY BLUE presents CRUSIN Rock 'n Roll From the 60's to the 70's Thursday, Friday and Saturday Beer, Liquor Specials All Thursday Night 1200 S. Gilbert Ct Iowa City 351-9540
Earvin, also known as Magic Johnson, was the number one pick in the 1979 NBA Draft. However, the Lakers' decision to pursue Johnson over the widely regarded choice, Larry Bird, was met with skepticism.

Sports writer Danny Tartabull, who covered the NBA for the Los Angeles Times, wrote about the situation:

"The Lakers had the first pick. The choice of Larry Bird or Magic Johnson was a no-brainer. Johnson was the best player in college basketball and had been a two-time All-American. The Lakers, who had won the championship the previous year, were expected to pick Bird. However, they chose Johnson, who had never played in a final four game and was not considered a top five college player. The decision was met with widespread criticism, as many believed that Bird was the better player and that the Lakers were making a mistake."

That decision set the stage for a rivalry between the Lakers and the Boston Celtics, who had drafted Bird. The Lakers' decision to pick Johnson would have long-term implications for the team, as they would have to find a way to incorporate him into their lineup and navigate the expectations placed on him.

In the end, Johnson's decision to sign a long-term contract with the Lakers until 1987 was a key factor in the Lakers' decision to draft him. This move would allow the Lakers to build around him and create a dynasty that would dominate the league for the next decade. The Lakers' decision to draft Johnson instead of Bird was a significant moment in basketball history, as it set the stage for a new era of Lakers dominance and created a new rivalry with the Celtics.
nottets seek regional titles

Iowa's Maria Myers and Missouri's Linda Molesky are two hard-nosed doubles partners on the Colliet/Leif, the NCAA doubles champions in 1984. The duo will try to add another title to their trophy case when they face off in the Regional Semifinals. The No. 3 seed in the region, the duo will face the winner of the match between No. 4 seed Missouri and No. 5 seed Iowa in the Regional Championship.

The Regional Semifinals will be held on Friday, May 19, at the Y warehouse in Iowa City. The Regional Championship will be played on Saturday, May 20, at the Y warehouse as well.

The Iowa team is looking for their third straight regional title, while Missouri is looking to add to their two previous regional titles. The Regional Championship is the final test for both teams as they strive for a spot in the NCAA Tournament.

If you are a fan of collegiate tennis, be sure to come out and support these talented athletes as they compete for a place in the NCAA Tournament. It's sure to be an exciting weekend of tennis!
Top Left, Iowa City personage
Perry Stevenson - poet, writer and floor walker at Gabe Walker's Saloon - was photographed last fall in his home by John Danicic Jr.
Stevenson was editor of the Iowa Defender, one of the state's earliest underground newspapers.

Far Left, James Dodson was at the Coralville Reservoir when
he photographed two people
struggling to climb the steep,
rocky sides of the dam in his Coralville Hillside.

Center, "I know I'm a mess but I like ice cream," Janet Owens photographed by John Danicic Jr.

Top Right, in Paradise, D.C.,
Miller photographed 96-year-old
Eugene Barnhart in his Iowa City home. Barnhart was threatened with eviction from his apartment last February.

Right, two Mexicans crossing
the border at Tijuana are photographed by Bill Clinton's black and white camera. The border.
Top Left, Iowa City personage
poet, writer and floor walker at Gabe 'N
Walker's Saloon was photographed last fall in his home by John Danicic Jr.
Stevenson was editor of the Iowa Outlander, one of the nation's earliest underground
newspapers.

Far Left, James Dodson was at
the Coralville Reservoir when
he photographed two people
struggling to climb the steep,
rocky sides of the dam in his Clintondale neighborhood.

Center, "I know I'm a mess but I like my cream," Janet Owens photographed Science at the Iowa City Dairy Queen.

Top Right, in Mexico, D.H.
Miller photographed seven-old
Eugene Barnhart in the Iowa City Outlander. Barnhart was threatened with eviction from
his apartment last February.

Right, two Mexicans crossing
the border at Tijuana are photographed by Bill Hefner's Nordica wide angle lens over the border.
PENTAX K2

The K2 is a fully automatic electronic exposure SLR camera. The Seko MF Shutter is a compact, metal focal-plane shutter designed for every situation, under practically any conditions.

- K2: The K2 offers 2 exposure determination systems: Automatic stepless shutter speeds from 8 sec. to 1/1000 sec. plus B. Mirror lock-up switch to minimize vibrations. Fast response silicon photo diode adjusts quickly to abrupt light changes.
- Exterior finish, the K2 makes the most of speeds from 8 sec. to 1/1000 sec. plus B. Mirror lock-up switch to minimize vibrations. Fast response silicon photo diode adjusts quickly to abrupt light changes.
- Full range of manual electronic exposure factor dial to compensate for difficult light situations.

Pentax K2
w/50 f 2.0

$234.88

Odd-even plan falters; gas cost may rise to $2

Good-bye, good night, so long, farewell

Briefly

United negotiations reach impasse

Silkwood jury still out

Summer comes early to the lowa mountains