Jet hijacked to Cuba, first in seven years

MIAMI (UPI) - A Delta Airlines jet, en route from New York to Port Lauderdale, Fla., with 200 people aboard, was hijacked to Havana, Cuba, said Delta officials. Details of the incident were not available at press time.

ABOUT A PUPIL, friends and neighbors of 17-year-old Richard T. Ferguson, gathered at his home Monday evening. Richard was noted a 17-year-old handicapped individual who lived in a large two-story house. He was killed by a large group of men wearing black clothes who entered the house late Monday night. The group of men, who are believed to be rebels of the Sandinista regime, are known to be active in the Sandinista movement in Nicaragua. Richard was a member of the Youth Wing of the Sandinista movement.

In the United States, the government has for years debated whether or not to forcibly change the laws of a handicapped individual. In the case of Richard T. Ferguson, the government was faced with a difficult decision. Richard was a member of the Sandinista movement and had been involved in numerous rebellions throughout Nicaragua. The government was concerned about the safety of its citizens and felt that Richard's involvement in the Sandinista movement posed a threat to the country's security.

The government ultimately decided to forcibly change the laws of Richard T. Ferguson. The government felt that this was necessary to protect the citizens of the United States. The government believed that Richard's involvement in the Sandinista movement made him a threat to the country's security and that he had to be removed from the country.

The government's decision to forcibly change the laws of Richard T. Ferguson was met with considerable controversy. Many people felt that the government was acting too quickly and did not consider Richard's rights. Others felt that the government was justified in its actions and that Richard posed a threat to the country's security.

In conclusion, the government's decision to forcibly change the laws of Richard T. Ferguson was a difficult one. The government had to make a difficult decision about the safety of its citizens and felt that Richard's involvement in the Sandinista movement posed a threat to the country's security. The government ultimately decided to forcibly change the laws of Richard T. Ferguson, and the country is now safer as a result.
Briefly

Strike by UFW erupts in violence

SALINA, KANSAS (UPI) - Several people were hospitalized, one with six wounds, and at least 12 were arrested during Monday's strike at the Salina, Kansas, plant of the Anheuser-Busch Brewing Corp.

The strikers were seeking wage increases of 15 percent and the right to organize and bargain collectively.

A police report said the melee erupted when a group of striking workers decided to try to break into the plant.

Fire chiefs from California, Mexico, burned rare trees

LOUISIANA (UP) - Five fires, some of them a 7,200-acre fire across the U.S.-Mexico border, burned through the world's largest stand of bald cypress trees.

The fires in Louisiana, Mississippi, Texas, Arkansas and New Mexico were the result of both natural and human-caused events. The fires in Mexico were started by a lightning strike that hit an oil pipeline.

Complaint against 'Moonie' deprogrammer dismissed

WASHINGTON (UPI) - A member of Reverend Sun Myung Moon's Unification Church in Chicago was allowed to return to his job with a local hospital on Monday after a federal judge held a hearing to determine whether he had been deprogrammed.

The judge found that the man had been deprogrammed and released him.

Accused of crimes against nature

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) - A former member of the Earth First group was sentenced to 10 years in prison Monday for conspiring to set fire to a nuclear power plant.

The defendant, who was arrested in 1982, pleaded guilty to the charge and was sentenced by a federal judge.

Priest arrested for 'crimes against nature'

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) - A Catholic priest was arrested in New Orleans Sunday and charged with conspiring to commit a crime against nature.

The priest had been wanted by authorities since 1982, when he was accused of setting fire to a nuclear power plant.

Energy department announcement criticized

By Jim Faure for the Record

American consumers were making 4.8 percent less power in January than they did a year ago, the Energy Department reported Monday.

The announcement, which comes as the nation faces a possible energy shortage, is based on a survey of four million homes.

Severe energy crisis predicted for Iowa

DES MOINES (UPI) - The state of Iowa is facing a severe energy crisis this winter, according to a report issued Monday.

The report, which is based on a survey of the state's energy usage, predicts that the state will run out of fuel within six months.

Offshore oil well in flames

MEXICO CITY (UPI) - A man was found dead Sunday after his boat caught fire in the Gulf of Mexico off the coast of Mexico.

The man was identified as the owner of the boat, who had been killed by the explosion.

Caroilina transit given allocation

The Iowa Department of Transportation has approved the expansion of the Coralville transit system.

The expansion will include the addition of a new route that will serve the eastern part of the city.

Kirkwood Community College Education Classes

Bartending * Tennis * Disco * Crafts * Dance & Golf * Etc.

For information call 338-5588

ACADEMY STUDY

Subjects needed for a study involving antiretroviral drug administration: female, age 18-40, no current acne, no recent cuts, no biopsy. Pay $50 per day and live medication. For more information call: Brook DeBakey, Department of Dermatology, University of Iowa Hospitals and Clinics, 386-2274.
Emergency levy denied

In his reply, Kaiser said he was concerned Dooney's letter and stressed the Iowa DOT's "great effort to offer a fair and just settlement, and for the development of the state's transportation system." He stressed the need for "a fair and just settlement" and "to assure our citizens an efficient and safe transportation system."

Kaiser said he also considers the Iowa DOT's "great effort to offer a fair and just settlement, and for the development of the state's transportation system." He stressed the need for "a fair and just settlement" and "to assure our citizens an efficient and safe transportation system."
Sugar Bottom

Effective May 15, the Sugar Bottom camping area of Coralville Lake, east of North Liberty, became a restricted area. Area camping permits will be required for unlimited day and overnight use, fishing and picnicking. It will be restricted to use by the campers of the lake.
The Powers That Be: comprehensive but wordy

by JENNIFER RAN

In a recent television interview, journalist Jonathan Koppman said that despite the complexity of the issue of climate change, many people are willing to take action. He highlighted the need for better communication and education to foster greater awareness and understanding.

RANSHA ABSTRACT

The book is an eye-opener, covering a wide range of topics from climate change to renewable energy. It is well-written and informative, providing a comprehensive overview of the current state of the issue. The author's passion for the subject is evident throughout, and the book is a must-read for anyone interested in the future of our planet.

BY DAVID HALBERSTAM

THE POWERS THAT BE

WALTERS, JOHN

By JACQUES LUBIS

Threats from reactors told

WASHINGTON (AP) - The chairman of the Nuclear Regulatory Commission said Monday he has been told of all threats to power plants from the hands of terrorists.

Chairman William Woodyard said he has been told by the directors of the nation's nuclear reactors that no threats have been made. The NRC, which oversees nuclear power plants, has been under increased scrutiny since the Sept. 11 attacks.

Woodyard said the NRC has been working closely with defense and law enforcement agencies to ensure the safety of nuclear power plants.

The NRC is responsible for the safety of nuclear facilities in the United States, including power plants, research reactors, and fuel reprocessing facilities.

Kissinger aid in shah's trip to Mexico

WASHINGTON (AP) - For Kissinger's sake, the Shah has been in Mexico for the last two weeks. The Shah, who is visiting Mexico as a guest of the government, was in Mexico City on Tuesday for meetings with President Miguel de la Madrid.

While in Mexico, the Shah met with business leaders and political figures to discuss issues of mutual concern. The visit is expected to strengthen ties between the two countries.

The Shah is scheduled to return to Washington on Thursday to continue his work on a number of important issues.

Kissinger aide shah in trip to Mexico

DOONESBURY by Garry Trudeau

Doonesbury is a popular comic strip that has been running since 1970. It is known for its satirical take on current events and social issues, often drawing attention to political leaders and their mishaps. The strip is syndicated by King Features Syndicate and is distributed to over 1,000 newspapers worldwide.

The Powers That Be: comprehensive but wordy

by JENNIFER RAN

In a recent television interview, journalist Jonathan Koppman said that despite the complexity of the issue of climate change, many people are willing to take action. He highlighted the need for better communication and education to foster greater awareness and understanding.

RANSHA ABSTRACT

The book is an eye-opener, covering a wide range of topics from climate change to renewable energy. It is well-written and informative, providing a comprehensive overview of the current state of the issue. The author's passion for the subject is evident throughout, and the book is a must-read for anyone interested in the future of our planet.

BY DAVID HALBERSTAM

THE POWERS THAT BE

WALTERS, JOHN

By JACQUES LUBIS

Threats from reactors told

WASHINGTON (AP) - The chairman of the Nuclear Regulatory Commission said Monday he has been told of all threats to power plants from the hands of terrorists.

Chairman William Woodyard said he has been told by the directors of the nation's nuclear reactors that no threats have been made. The NRC, which oversees nuclear power plants, has been under increased scrutiny since the Sept. 11 attacks.

Woodyard said the NRC has been working closely with defense and law enforcement agencies to ensure the safety of nuclear power plants.

The NRC is responsible for the safety of nuclear facilities in the United States, including power plants, research reactors, and fuel reprocessing facilities.

Kissinger aid in shah's trip to Mexico

WASHINGTON (AP) - For Kissinger's sake, the Shah has been in Mexico for the last two weeks. The Shah, who is visiting Mexico as a guest of the government, was in Mexico City on Tuesday for meetings with President Miguel de la Madrid.

While in Mexico, the Shah met with business leaders and political figures to discuss issues of mutual concern. The visit is expected to strengthen ties between the two countries.

The Shah is scheduled to return to Washington on Thursday to continue his work on a number of important issues.

Kissinger aide shah in trip to Mexico

DOONESBURY by Garry Trudeau

Doonesbury is a popular comic strip that has been running since 1970. It is known for its satirical take on current events and social issues, often drawing attention to political leaders and their mishaps. The strip is syndicated by King Features Syndicate and is distributed to over 1,000 newspapers worldwide.

The Powers That Be: comprehensive but wordy

by JENNIFER RAN

In a recent television interview, journalist Jonathan Koppman said that despite the complexity of the issue of climate change, many people are willing to take action. He highlighted the need for better communication and education to foster greater awareness and understanding.

RANSHA ABSTRACT

The book is an eye-opener, covering a wide range of topics from climate change to renewable energy. It is well-written and informative, providing a comprehensive overview of the current state of the issue. The author's passion for the subject is evident throughout, and the book is a must-read for anyone interested in the future of our planet.

BY DAVID HALBERSTAM

THE POWERS THAT BE

WALTERS, JOHN

By JACQUES LUBIS

Threats from reactors told

WASHINGTON (AP) - The chairman of the Nuclear Regulatory Commission said Monday he has been told of all threats to power plants from the hands of terrorists.

Chairman William Woodyard said he has been told by the directors of the nation's nuclear reactors that no threats have been made. The NRC, which oversees nuclear power plants, has been under increased scrutiny since the Sept. 11 attacks.

Woodyard said the NRC has been working closely with defense and law enforcement agencies to ensure the safety of nuclear power plants.

The NRC is responsible for the safety of nuclear facilities in the United States, including power plants, research reactors, and fuel reprocessing facilities.

Kissinger aid in shah's trip to Mexico

WASHINGTON (AP) - For Kissinger's sake, the Shah has been in Mexico for the last two weeks. The Shah, who is visiting Mexico as a guest of the government, was in Mexico City on Tuesday for meetings with President Miguel de la Madrid.

While in Mexico, the Shah met with business leaders and political figures to discuss issues of mutual concern. The visit is expected to strengthen ties between the two countries.

The Shah is scheduled to return to Washington on Thursday to continue his work on a number of important issues.

Kissinger aide shah in trip to Mexico

DOONESBURY by Garry Trudeau

Doonesbury is a popular comic strip that has been running since 1970. It is known for its satirical take on current events and social issues, often drawing attention to political leaders and their mishaps. The strip is syndicated by King Features Syndicate and is distributed to over 1,000 newspapers worldwide.

The Powers That Be: comprehensive but wordy

by JENNIFER RAN

In a recent television interview, journalist Jonathan Koppman said that despite the complexity of the issue of climate change, many people are willing to take action. He highlighted the need for better communication and education to foster greater awareness and understanding.

RANSHA ABSTRACT

The book is an eye-opener, covering a wide range of topics from climate change to renewable energy. It is well-written and informative, providing a comprehensive overview of the current state of the issue. The author's passion for the subject is evident throughout, and the book is a must-read for anyone interested in the future of our planet.

BY DAVID HALBERSTAM

THE POWERS THAT BE

WALTERS, JOHN

By JACQUES LUBIS

Threats from reactors told

WASHINGTON (AP) - The chairman of the Nuclear Regulatory Commission said Monday he has been told of all threats to power plants from the hands of terrorists.

Chairman William Woodyard said he has been told by the directors of the nation's nuclear reactors that no threats have been made. The NRC, which oversees nuclear power plants, has been under increased scrutiny since the Sept. 11 attacks.

Woodyard said the NRC has been working closely with defense and law enforcement agencies to ensure the safety of nuclear power plants.

The NRC is responsible for the safety of nuclear facilities in the United States, including power plants, research reactors, and fuel reprocessing facilities.

Kissinger aid in shah's trip to Mexico

WASHINGTON (AP) - For Kissinger's sake, the Shah has been in Mexico for the last two weeks. The Shah, who is visiting Mexico as a guest of the government, was in Mexico City on Tuesday for meetings with President Miguel de la Madrid.

While in Mexico, the Shah met with business leaders and political figures to discuss issues of mutual concern. The visit is expected to strengthen ties between the two countries.

The Shah is scheduled to return to Washington on Thursday to continue his work on a number of important issues.

Kissinger aide shah in trip to Mexico

DOONESBURY by Garry Trudeau

Doonesbury is a popular comic strip that has been running since 1970. It is known for its satirical take on current events and social issues, often drawing attention to political leaders and their mishaps. The strip is syndicated by King Features Syndicate and is distributed to over 1,000 newspapers worldwide.

The Powers That Be: comprehensive but wordy

by JENNIFER RAN

In a recent television interview, journalist Jonathan Koppman said that despite the complexity of the issue of climate change, many people are willing to take action. He highlighted the need for better communication and education to foster greater awareness and understanding.

RANSHA ABSTRACT

The book is an eye-opener, covering a wide range of topics from climate change to renewable energy. It is well-written and informative, providing a comprehensive overview of the current state of the issue. The author's passion for the subject is evident throughout, and the book is a must-read for anyone interested in the future of our planet.

BY DAVID HALBERSTAM

THE POWERS THAT BE

WALTERS, JOHN

By JACQUES LUBIS

Threats from reactors told

WASHINGTON (AP) - The chairman of the Nuclear Regulatory Commission said Monday he has been told of all threats to power plants from the hands of terrorists.

Chairman William Woodyard said he has been told by the directors of the nation's nuclear reactors that no threats have been made. The NRC, which oversees nuclear power plants, has been under increased scrutiny since the Sept. 11 attacks.

Woodyard said the NRC has been working closely with defense and law enforcement agencies to ensure the safety of nuclear power plants.

The NRC is responsible for the safety of nuclear facilities in the United States, including power plants, research reactors, and fuel reprocessing facilities.

Kissinger aid in shah's trip to Mexico

WASHINGTON (AP) - For Kissinger's sake, the Shah has been in Mexico for the last two weeks. The Shah, who is visiting Mexico as a guest of the government, was in Mexico City on Tuesday for meetings with President Miguel de la Madrid.

While in Mexico, the Shah met with business leaders and political figures to discuss issues of mutual concern. The visit is expected to strengthen ties between the two countries.

The Shah is scheduled to return to Washington on Thursday to continue his work on a number of important issues.

Kissinger aide shah in trip to Mexico

DOONESBURY by Garry Trudeau

Doonesbury is a popular comic strip that has been running since 1970. It is known for its satirical take on current events and social issues, often drawing attention to political leaders and their mishaps. The strip is syndicated by King Features Syndicate and is distributed to over 1,000 newspapers worldwide.

The Powers That Be: comprehensive but wordy

by JENNIFER RAN

In a recent television interview, journalist Jonathan Koppman said that despite the complexity of the issue of climate change, many people are willing to take action. He highlighted the need for better communication and education to foster greater awareness and understanding.

RANSHA ABSTRACT

The book is an eye-opener, covering a wide range of topics from climate change to renewable energy. It is well-written and informative, providing a comprehensive overview of the current state of the issue. The author's passion for the subject is evident throughout, and the book is a must-read for anyone interested in the future of our planet.
Aggressive Jordan hopes for two titles

By DOUG ROAN

Junior took a break for herself after picking up a doughnut in Southern California's Anne Marie Perkins' shop. "That was just what I needed," she said.

Jordan, who has been in the second-flight tournament in San Francisco, feels the tournament has been a source of inspiration for her to try to win the title. The tournament has been a continual source of inspiration for her to try to win the title.

Jordan said she has been working hard on her game since the first tournament and has been focused on improving her game. "It's been a great experience," she said.