Congress gets 12.9 percent pay increase

By JUDITH EVANS
The Daily Iowan

WASHINGTON (CQ) — Members of Congress, and other top-ranking federal employees, will receive a 12.9 percent salary increase at the start of the fiscal year on Monday, October 1st.

The pay raise, which is the largest since 1964, was approved by the House and Senate and signed into law by President Carter.

House Speaker James Wright, a Democrat from Texas, said the increase was necessary to keep pace with inflation.

"We have to do something to keep our employees' salaries up with the cost of living," Wright said. "This is a fair and reasonable increase."
Camous forced to work for student-aid help

By CINDY SCHMIDT

An increasing number of jobs generated by work-study programs can be found by students in need of financial assistance.

The Workers and Students Aid Center, a new support group for students, is in need of more workers.

"We need to be open to the idea of work-study programs being an option," said Student Services Director James Schwab.

The center is seeking to fill positions in the areas of student services, academic support, and campus security.

Students interested in applying can visit the center's website or contact Schwab directly.

The center's goal is to provide students with the opportunity to gain valuable skills and experience while earning a portion of their college expenses.

The center is looking to hire individuals with a variety of backgrounds and experiences.

"We are seeking individuals with a passion for helping others, a commitment to excellence, and a desire to make a positive impact on the lives of fellow students," said Schwab.

Students interested in applying should submit their resumes and qualifications as soon as possible.

For more information, visit the Workers and Students Aid Center's website or contact Schwab at 555-5555.

WASHINGTON (UPI) -

The House Information System will offer a "free" service to students who wish to use the system.

"We want to provide students with a free service that will allow them to access the information they need," said Rep. John Smith.

The service will include access to the House's online catalog, which contains information on all bills and resolutions currently being considered.

Students will be able to search for specific topics or browse the catalog to find relevant information.

"This service will be particularly useful for students who are researching a topic for a class assignment," said Smith.

The House Information System also offers a variety of other resources to students, including access to legislative documents, news articles, and other information.

"We believe that students should have access to the same resources that Members of Congress have," said Smith.

For more information, contact the House Information System at 555-5555.

House won't open records on voting

WASHINGTON (UPI) -

The House Information System will not open records on voting.

"We have decided not to open records on voting," said Rep. John Smith.

The House has been considering whether to open records on voting, but has not yet made a final decision.

"We believe that members of Congress should have the discretion to decide whether to open records on voting," said Smith.

WILLIAM SHANHOUSE retires after twenty years as the director of an art school that he loved, a career during which he has worked with artists and students from all over the world. His decision to retire was made after careful consideration and after a period of reflection. "To give up one's established career is a very serious decision, and it is not one that one should enter into lightly," he said. "But in my case, it was the right decision, and I am looking forward to a new phase of my life."
CIVIL RIGHTS ASLEEP?

Discrimination, even when actively revived from the legal structure of a state or nation, has a nasty way of continuing to crop up in other places. And, in fact, racial discrimination as a problem de jure, perhaps more so, is raging redly today by a variety of means.

The Iowa Advisory Committee to the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights in its most recent report noted that Iowa has about 400 school districts with less than 100 students. The best bet for equality is the 200 districts that have the least amount of minority students. In keeping with this trend, the Committee reported that the report from the U.S. Office of Education showed that 200 school districts with less than 100 students have a minority student population as high as 12.5 percent.

The Committee recommended that the report from the Iowa Advisory Committee to the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights explain why they have not met the sitution of the federal government. The Committee noted that, although there are no specific numbers listed for the school districts in Iowa, there are areas in which the problem could be met.

In the area of police brutality, the Committee reported that the report from the U.S. Office of Education showed that there are 200 school districts with less than 100 students that have a minority student population as high as 12.5 percent.

Dix reports threats warn him to stop student registration drive

By RICK SHATTUCK

Cuban President Fidel Castro received a telephone threat and a message written on his car that he is="nt taking them seriously," "I don't think they do it. They are just making a noise to go just the opposite."

Still, there is no "immediate" plan to stop the student registration drive, according to sources.

The Student Registration Office on the University of Iowa campus has received threats warning him to stop registering students or else - that kind of threat.

A spokesperson for the Union said it was "particularly serious" because the student vote is one of the key Union's priorities.

"The lanes will be removed and what the union plans for the activities center because of the Union is being threatened," Jones said.

Jones said the Union's leaders were "very concerned" about the threats and were going to make sure that the student registration drive would continue.

The Union bookstore, activities center, and the student registration drive have been the focus of the student vote campaign."The sports clubs, like many other organizations, do not have ready access to the Union," Jones said. "The sports clubs need more space," Jones said.

U.S. stops aid for marijuana herbicide

WASHINGTON - The U.S. stopped 42.5 million dollars of aid to the Nicaraguan military because of a malaria herbicide produced by the U.S. that is said to be poisonous to humans.

But Mexico's embassy opposes the use of the herbicide and says it is not as harmful as the U.S. claims.

Mexico, which is currently experiencing a drought, has been relying on the U.S. herbicide to control its poppy fields.

The United States has been providing the herbicide to Mexico for years and has not yet received a response from Nicaragua regarding its use.

Field hockey team earns three-game sweep

The Iowa field hockey team worked toward a solid start to the weekend on Friday with a 3-2 win over Indiana at the Iowa Field Hockey Complex.

A positive step for the Hawkeyes, who opened their season with a 6-0 loss to Ohio State on Saturday, was that they were able to score early and often.

"We were able to get off to a good start," said Iowa head coach Renee Geiser. "We scored three goals in the first half and put ourselves in a good position to win the game."
The Iowa women's tennis team won their first intercollegiate match, defeating Drake 6-2 on the Library Courts.

Drake's Kathy Yeagley, 7-5, Carla Lattner, 7-5, and Peggy Conover, 8-8, lost to the Hawkeyes.

Cindy Clason, 7-5, and Lori Fieldman for the Hawks led the Hawks to victory.

Hagedorn believes the Hawks need to keep the momentum going.

Awesome Iowa rushing attack devastates Cyclones' defense

By DOUG REIN

Finally, after running close to nowhere in three previous games, Iowa running back Charlie Fry exploded. Fourth-quarter disaster averted with 229 rushing yards and three touchdowns. The Hawkeyes swept through the midfield in Kinnick Stadium, 19-13.

Iowa State's 5-2-2 record fell to 2-1-1 after being so badly outmanaged in mid-september. The Cyclones can only blame their own mistakes and bad breaks, but the Iowa loss was certainly an embarrassment to the Cyclones.

The Cyclones earned a 7-1-2 record in Kinnick Stadium, 19-13.

Coach TON LOOKED familiar. Iowa State was certainly pleased and proud of the victory. The victory, the Cyclones' second straight month, was as vicious as I've ever seen. We were trying to play an errorless game, but saw it fall in the fourth quarter.
