Bush favorite in county straw poll

By BILL BROWN

Bush won the favor of the county Republicans, despite the political effort of the state senator to run as a third-party candidate. The senator, an avid supporter of the Bush campaign, wasencouraged by many Republicans who felt that the senator was the only one to have a chance of winning the county seat.

Ford: Nothing new in charges against Pinto

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Ford Motor Co. today asked Judge Edward S. Stobbs to rule against plant manager Michael J. Pinto, 37, who was charged last week with conspiracy to tamper with the inspection system at Ford's Dearborn Assembly Plant.

"The charges are without foundation and should be dismissed," said a Ford spokesman.

The spokesman declined to comment further on the case, which involves the inspection of parts that are used in the production of the Ford Mustang and the Thunderbird.

The charges were filed last week by the United States Attorney's Office in Detroit. The indictment alleges that Pinto and five other employees conspired to defraud the government by falsifying the inspection records of parts used in the Mustang and Thunderbird.

Pinto and the other employees were arraigned in federal court last week and were released on bond.

The case is being handled by the United States Attorney's Office in Detroit.

Sheriff testifies about Oglevie’s limp

By KEVIN KINSEY

JOHNSON COUNTY SHERIFF Gary Hughes testified Friday in Linda Lebre, Oglevie’s girlfriend at the time, that there was no breaking in shortly before he and Robert Kern were stopped by a number of law enforcement agencies.

The sheriff said there were no siren lights at all, that the radio had been turned off, and that there was no ambulance. However, he said the radio still had been on.

Hughes said he was not sure what was going on but he called for medical assistance, which arrived on the scene.

Robert and Mary Sherwood said they had been out to the scene when the sheriff arrived.

Recognizing Castro

The real reason for Fidel Castro's visit to the U.S. — and to the U.S. — is emerging. He wants to kiss and make up and well: "I come here not as a prophet of anti-Catholicism," he said, "but to wish or ask anything of the U.S."

Letters: T.A.S. voter registration, pencils

To the Editor:

Have you ever contemplated the vast amount of energy that is used in the making of pencils? When an individual in the administration of the university is charged with the task of purchasing pencils for the students who will make up the next generation of college students, the task is a Herculean one.

It is estimated that the production of one pencil requires approximately 100 times more energy than the production of one book. The production of one pencil requires approximately 100 times more energy than the production of one book. The production of one pencil requires approximately 100 times more energy than the production of one book. The production of one pencil requires approximately 100 times more energy than the production of one book.

The last few weeks have seen a great deal of interest in voter registration, but it may be worthwhile to consider the importance of the task. It is always important to register, but it may be worthwhile to consider the importance of the task. Cassidy was the most critical of the three polls, one of which is being released Thursday by David Howard Miller for the third and fourth quarter edition. He said the city was "completely without work," and that "if I were a politician I would have been as much a candidate as someone else." Cassidy told reporters he had left both the city council and editorializing. Cassidy said he had not left both the mayor’s office and editorializing.

"THREE KIND OF THING: A candidate, a mayor, and a businessman," Howard Miller said. He said he hoped that "the ability to make a political candidate" would make a difference in the election. Cassidy said he had not left both the city council and editorializing.

he Baker, who was running in the mayor’s office, said "Based on the results of the poll, it’s a good idea to run another," he said. He added that the "right thing to do" was to have a mayor who "will conduct the city council and editorializing."

"This is the first time that I have seen a true thing," Howard Miller said. "I have never seen a true thing that was made on the basis of the political candidate and editorializing."

DOONESBURY

"You won’t see me in the mayor’s office at any time," Howard Miller said. "I will be in the mayor’s office at any time," he added.

"I think they are important in showing the mayor’s office and editorializing," Howard Miller said. "The mayor’s office and editorializing are important in showing the mayor’s office and editorializing."
Ul-organized van pools cut driving costs— study

By JULIE VORMAN

Students, faculty, and staff who commuted to the UI campuses by car spent $49,000 last year, $160,000 the year before, according to Union Manager James Burke. A report prepared for the UI Parking Office by the Planning and Research Council states that an undetermined number of the lane s are removed next fall.

Burke favors removing all of the lanes and spending $28,000, $160,000 in half or one mile driving mid-sized cars. By switching an undetermined number of the lane s it becomes easy and more productive.

UI officials decide if Union bowling will stay

By BETTY DAVIS

UI officials will decide the fate of the UI bowling league by the end of the semester, according to Dave Arens, a Rights Line staff member.

"It's more economical than driving or spending $1 or more on a car to go to a bowling alley," Arens said.

Mary Taskert, accounting specialist for the UI student union, agrees. "It's a necessity," she said. "It's a cheaper way to go." The bowling league has been in operation since 1965.

The act that the league's training center costs make any income nonexistent is self-evident.

PHI UI students and other employers have the right to drive or purchase a van-pool. Burke said his office maintains a current mailing list.

"We search area and provide data to individuals," he said. "They then, if they choose, can form a van pool."

The service is available to pay the student, faculty, or staff member, and the necessary forms are mailed and returned to theui.

Burke said, about $60 UI car-poolers are currently using the service, Burke says, with each pool assigned priority parking spaces on campus. He is quick to point out that many other "unofficial" car-poolers are using the service.

Seniorphone line helps handle rights violations

By CINDY SCHROEDER

Students who feel their rights have been violated can get help by calling the Seniorphone, according to seniors member Scott Kilman.

"The Seniorphone is designed to help students who feel their rights have been violated," Kilman said. "If a student feels that his or her rights have been violated, the Seniorphone is a way to report it."

The number to call is 353-4326, a recorded message asks the student to fill out a questionnaire and have it faxed to a UI staff member. According to Arens, it's a necessity.

PHI UI students and other employers have the right to drive or purchase a van-pool. Burke said his office maintains a current mailing list.

"We search area and provide data to individuals," he said. "They then, if they choose, can form a van pool."

The service is available to pay the student, faculty, or staff member, and the necessary forms are mailed and returned to theui.

Burke said, about $60 UI car-poolers are currently using the service, Burke says, with each pool assigned priority parking spaces on campus. He is quick to point out that many other "unofficial" car-poolers are using the service.

Seniorphone line helps handle rights violations

By CINDY SCHROEDER

Students who feel their rights have been violated can get help by calling the Seniorphone, according to seniors member Scott Kilman.

"The Seniorphone is designed to help students who feel their rights have been violated," Kilman said. "If a student feels that his or her rights have been violated, the Seniorphone is a way to report it."

The number to call is 353-4326, a recorded message asks the student to fill out a questionnaire and have it faxed to a UI staff member. According to Arens, it's a necessity.

"It's more economical than driving or spending $1 or more on a car to go to a bowling alley," Arens said.

Mary Taskert, accounting specialist for the UI student union, agrees. "It's a necessity," she said. "It's a cheaper way to go." The bowling league has been in operation since 1965.

The act that the league's training center costs make any income nonexistent is self-evident.

Thousands of gays and lesbians march down Pennsylvania Avenue Sunday to dramatize their plea for equal rights. The U.S. Capitol is in the background.

Group condemns homosexuality while gays hold national march

WASHINGTON (UPI) - While thousands of gay rights supporters demonstrated on the streets of Washington, it took less than 100 members of the religious group Christian Coalition of the Americas to ban the event on the Capitol grounds on the heels of a recent Supreme Court decision allowing the demonstration.

Christian Coalition president Chuck Smith said the group opposed the demonstration because it does not recognize or respect the family and the Judeo-Christian tradition.

In the wake of the demonstration last week of stockbrokers who opposed the AIDS crisis, the Christian Coalition of the Americas organized a similar demonstration.

In 1989, the Supreme Court declared that the First Amendment guaranteed the right of a group to protest on the grounds of the U.S. Capitol.

Commission states human rights bleak

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The human rights commission and Sunday's rally in the nation's capital was intended to dramatize the bleak future of human rights in the U.S. and the world.

The commission's report on human rights in the United States was released and the annual report of the American Bar Association's Commission on Human Rights was made public.

There were also humanitarian concerns and a call for action to end human rights abuses around the world.

Union: No faith in social security

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Federal workers have lost confidence in the Social Security system after a series of cutbacks that left them with less money in their retirement accounts.

The cuts have left many Federal workers with less money in their retirement accounts, but Federal workers still have a reason to be optimistic about the future of the Social Security system.

"We've got special deals that the federal worker makes a larger contribution. We're going to work together to ensure that the Social Security system is strong and that it works for all workers," Bates said.

"And they feel that they have been wronged in their own plans. They're having it up their backsides." Bates said.

"There's absolutely unistributed, publicly demonstrated, for the first time everybody but ourselves," Bates said. "And the Federal workers are going to make sure that Social Security system won't work unless everybody is in it.

Group works to release ‘prisoners of conscience’

By GREGORY L. SHERR

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The Freedom Fund, a New York-based group devoted to improving the treatment of prisoners worldwide, is seeking assistance in liberating two prisoners in Uruguay.

According to Freedom Fund, the two prisoners are: Amedeo Marrazzi, a 34-year-old Italian and the director of the Instituto de Investigaciones Antimilitaristas, and Diego Vieira, a Brazilian and the head of the Instituto de Estudos Juventude e Universidade, a group that uses non-violent methods to protest government policies.

Freedom Fund has been working with Marrazzi and Vieira for over a year to secure their release. The group argues that both men have been held in prison for political reasons.

Marrazzi was arrested in 1975 and charged with "anything the state considers disruptive," a catch-all for political dissent. Since then, he has been held in various prisons, including one in Montevideo.

Vieira was arrested in 1977 for monitoring and publishing Soviet literature. He has been held in several prisons, including one in Porto Alegre.

Freedom Fund is calling for international pressure to be applied to the Uruguayan government to release Marrazzi and Vieira.

The group is also calling for the release of all political prisoners worldwide, including those in Iran, Saudi Arabia, and China.

Freedom Fund is a non-profit organization founded in 1962. It has a network of over 500 local chapters around the world.

Freedom Fund's mission is to promote human rights and reduce imprisonment through legal action, advocacy, and education.

Freedom Fund works with other organizations to support political prisoners in their efforts to secure their release.

Freedom Fund's work is funded through donations from individuals, organizations, and foundations.

Freedom Fund has a track record of successfully securing the release of over 10,000 political prisoners in 14 countries.

Freedom Fund is committed to working with political prisoners worldwide to ensure their freedom and human rights are protected.
