Minority funding cut by senate

By KENNY BARRY

The Iowa State University's Student Senate has held hostage the money the Senate wants to spend on a new building for the Student Services Center.

According to Student Senate President Hank Hanson, the Senate is "overwhelmingly white danf women 's programs. They are cutting colleges across the

May arrives

Worldwide May Day parades turn violent, rally against U.S.

Today's weather

May Day is a time to reflect on the history of the Iowa River for a quiet weekend

dissuas and all. those warm weather is expected this weekend, with highs in the mid 70s totaling Sunday.

Gummen still hold 19 hostages in England's Iranian embassy

By United Press International

Troops remain near hijacked oil

On London - There was an

niments - an Iranian official said an American reporter. "The numbers of our casualties are not exaggerated. No patriotic Iranian would do such a thing."

As Iran's identified itself as a "participant in the peaceful protest outside the embassy in London," the report of the May encryption of hostages was going to continue the story.

The situation in Iran remains tense, with the Iranian government refusing to free the hostages.

The U.S. government has refused to negotiate with Iran, stating that the release of the hostages is a condition of any future negotiations.

The hostages are being held in a building near the Iranian Embassy in London.

I would say that it's not

Texas schools question way tests scored

By TIM CUNIAL and MARIANNA SALGETti

Several Texas school superintendents are questioning the validity of a new standardized test of reading skills administered by the Texas Education Agency.

One Houston school superintendent said that two "parallel" schools in his district came up with widely disparate scores, according to a story in The Houston Chronicle.

The Houston Chronicle reported that the score of 21.5 percent of third-grade students at one school was 30 percent, while the score at the other school was 10 percent.

And Texas Education Agency officials admitted that the state's "parallel" reading test is "troublesome.”

The scored tests reportedly were given in 1987.

But the Senate is "overwhelmingly white
danf women 's programs. They are cutting

Worldwide May Day parades turn violent, rally against U.S.

Today's weather

May Day is a time to reflect on the history of the Iowa River for a quiet weekend

dissuas and all. those warm weather is expected this weekend, with highs in the mid 70s totaling Sunday.

Gummen still hold 19 hostages in England's Iranian embassy

By United Press International

Troops remain near hijacked oil

On London - There was an

niments - an Iranian official said an American reporter. "The numbers of our casualties are not exaggerated. No patriotic Iranian would do such a thing."

As Iran's identified itself as a "participant in the peaceful protest outside the embassy in London," the report of the May encryption of hostages was going to continue the story.

The situation in Iran remains tense, with the Iranian government refusing to free the hostages.

The U.S. government has refused to negotiate with Iran, stating that the release of the hostages is a condition of any future negotiations.

The hostages are being held in a building near the Iranian Embassy in London.

I would say that it's not

Texas schools question way tests scored

By TIM CUNIAL and MARIANNA SALGETti

Several Texas school superintendents are questioning the validity of a new standardized test of reading skills administered by the Texas Education Agency.

One Houston school superintendent said that two "parallel" schools in his district came up with widely disparate scores, according to a story in The Houston Chronicle.

The Houston Chronicle reported that the score of 21.5 percent of third-grade students at one school was 30 percent, while the score at the other school was 10 percent.

And Texas Education Agency officials admitted that the state's "parallel" reading test is "troublesome.”

The scored tests reportedly were given in 1987.

But the Senate is "overwhelmingly white
danf women 's programs. They are cutting

Worldwide May Day parades turn violent, rally against U.S.

Today's weather

May Day is a time to reflect on the history of the Iowa River for a quiet weekend

dissuas and all. those warm weather is expected this weekend, with highs in the mid 70s totaling Sunday.

Gummen still hold 19 hostages in England's Iranian embassy

By United Press International

Troops remain near hijacked oil

On London - There was an

niments - an Iranian official said an American reporter. "The numbers of our casualties are not exaggerated. No patriotic Iranian would do such a thing."

As Iran's identified itself as a "participant in the peaceful protest outside the embassy in London," the report of the May encryption of hostages was going to continue the story.

The situation in Iran remains tense, with the Iranian government refusing to free the hostages.

The U.S. government has refused to negotiate with Iran, stating that the release of the hostages is a condition of any future negotiations.

The hostages are being held in a building near the Iranian Embassy in London.

I would say that it's not

Texas schools question way tests scored

By TIM CUNIAL and MARIANNA SALGETti

Several Texas school superintendents are questioning the validity of a new standardized test of reading skills administered by the Texas Education Agency.

One Houston school superintendent said that two "parallel" schools in his district came up with widely disparate scores, according to a story in The Houston Chronicle.

The Houston Chronicle reported that the score of 21.5 percent of third-grade students at one school was 30 percent, while the score at the other school was 10 percent.

And Texas Education Agency officials admitted that the state's "parallel" reading test is "troublesome.”

The scored tests reportedly were given in 1987.

But the Senate is "overwhelmingly white
danf women 's programs. They are cutting

Worldwide May Day parades turn violent, rally against U.S.

Today's weather

May Day is a time to reflect on the history of the Iowa River for a quiet weekend

dissuas and all. those warm weather is expected this weekend, with highs in the mid 70s totaling Sunday.

Gummen still hold 19 hostages in England's Iranian embassy

By United Press International

Troops remain near hijacked oil

On London - There was an

niments - an Iranian official said an American reporter. "The numbers of our casualties are not exaggerated. No patriotic Iranian would do such a thing."

As Iran's identified itself as a "participant in the peaceful protest outside the embassy in London," the report of the May encryption of hostages was going to continue the story.

The situation in Iran remains tense, with the Iranian government refusing to free the hostages.

The U.S. government has refused to negotiate with Iran, stating that the release of the hostages is a condition of any future negotiations.

The hostages are being held in a building near the Iranian Embassy in London.

I would say that it's not

Texas schools question way tests scored

By TIM CUNIAL and MARIANNA SALGETti

Several Texas school superintendents are questioning the validity of a new standardized test of reading skills administered by the Texas Education Agency.

One Houston school superintendent said that two "parallel" schools in his district came up with widely disparate scores, according to a story in The Houston Chronicle.

The Houston Chronicle reported that the score of 21.5 percent of third-grade students at one school was 30 percent, while the score at the other school was 10 percent.

And Texas Education Agency officials admitted that the state's "parallel" reading test is "troublesome.”

The scored tests reportedly were given in 1987.

But the Senate is "overwhelmingly white
danf women 's programs. They are cutting

Worldwide May Day parades turn violent, rally against U.S.

Today's weather

May Day is a time to reflect on the history of the Iowa River for a quiet weekend

dissuas and all. those warm weather is expected this weekend, with highs in the mid 70s totaling Sunday.

Gummen still hold 19 hostages in England's Iranian embassy

By United Press International

Troops remain near hijacked oil

On London - There was an

niments - an Iranian official said an American reporter. "The numbers of our casualties are not exaggerated. No patriotic Iranian would do such a thing."

As Iran's identified itself as a "participant in the peaceful protest outside the embassy in London," the report of the May encryption of hostages was going to continue the story.

The situation in Iran remains tense, with the Iranian government refusing to free the hostages.

The U.S. government has refused to negotiate with Iran, stating that the release of the hostages is a condition of any future negotiations.

The hostages are being held in a building near the Iranian Embassy in London.

I would say that it's not

Texas schools question way tests scored

By TIM CUNIAL and MARIANNA SALGETti

Several Texas school superintendents are questioning the validity of a new standardized test of reading skills administered by the Texas Education Agency.

One Houston school superintendent said that two "parallel" schools in his district came up with widely disparate scores, according to a story in The Houston Chronicle.

The Houston Chronicle reported that the score of 21.5 percent of third-grade students at one school was 30 percent, while the score at the other school was 10 percent.

And Texas Education Agency officials admitted that the state's "parallel" reading test is "troublesome.”

The scored tests reportedly were given in 1987.
Briefly

Sky may be limit on Iowa loan interest rate

DESH MONROE - The state's highest interest rates on loans for commercial and agricultural purposes may soon be lowered as the Iowa legislature reviews loan interest rates for the 1981 session. A bill by Rep. Jim Dickey that calls for the legislature to establish a commission to review loan interest rates was introduced in the house on Monday. Dickey said the bill will allow the state to stay competitive with other states. The bill will be discussed at a hearing on Tuesday, March 31, at 2 p.m. in the Statehouse.

The Cuban sealift ferried hundreds of refugees to freedom Thursday. The ship, the tank landing ship Boulder, arrived at the Cuban embarkation port of Mariel with a capacity of 3,700 passengers. The ship left Union Island on Friday, March 27, and arrived at Mariel on March 30. The ship was chartered by the Cuban government and is expected to return to the United States on April 2. The ship will be used to transport additional refugees to freedom.

Carter signs funding bill to keep FTC in operation

WASHINGTON - The Federal Trade Commission, which oversees the nation's trade laws, has been operating under a 28-day funding bill since March 1. The commission, which was closed down in February due to a lack of funding, was reopened by President Jimmy Carter on March 1. The funding bill will allow the FTC to keep operating until the 1980-81 fiscal year ends in September. The bill was passed by Congress and signed by Carter on March 1.

Mideast autonomy talks focus on security issue

The United States and Israel have reached an agreement on a tentative framework for autonomy talks with the Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO). The agreement, which was announced by Secretary of State James Baker III on March 19, is expected to be signed by the two countries on March 21. The agreement calls for the PLO to have a role in the security arrangements for the occupied territories.

Quoted...

"I believe in peace and war. In peace, I believe in the importance of the arts. In war, I believe in the importance of the arts. I believe in the arts in all circumstances." - Henry Kissinger

Postscripts

Friday events

Ted Ruter, director of the University of Iowa's Center for Environmental Studies, will present a seminar on "The Future of the Environment" at 4 p.m. in the Iowa Memorial Union. Ruter is a leading expert in environmental science and is known as "The Citizen."

New Pioneers' Co-op

20 S. Van Buren

World foods in bulk, organic produce, kitchen wares, 250 bulk herbs and teas, health related books and cookbooks, undyed cotton and dairy products, and more.

We are members-owned.

Sky may be limit on Iowa loan interest rate

DESH MONROE - The state's highest interest rates on loans for commercial and agricultural purposes may soon be lowered as the Iowa legislature reviews loan interest rates for the 1981 session. A bill by Rep. Jim Dickey that calls for the legislature to establish a commission to review loan interest rates was introduced in the house on Monday. Dickey said the bill will allow the state to stay competitive with other states. The bill will be discussed at a hearing on Tuesday, March 31, at 2 p.m. in the Statehouse.

The Cuban sealift ferried hundreds of refugees to freedom Thursday. The ship, the tank landing ship Boulder, arrived at the Cuban embarkation port of Mariel with a capacity of 3,700 passengers. The ship left Union Island on Friday, March 27, and arrived at Mariel on March 30. The ship was chartered by the Cuban government and is expected to return to the United States on April 2. The ship will be used to transport additional refugees to freedom.

Carter signs funding bill to keep FTC in operation

WASHINGTON - The Federal Trade Commission, which oversees the nation's trade laws, has been operating under a 28-day funding bill since March 1. The commission, which was closed down in February due to a lack of funding, was reopened by President Jimmy Carter on March 1. The funding bill will allow the FTC to keep operating until the 1980-81 fiscal year ends in September. The bill was passed by Congress and signed by Carter on March 1.

Mideast autonomy talks focus on security issue

The United States and Israel have reached an agreement on a tentative framework for autonomy talks with the Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO). The agreement, which was announced by Secretary of State James Baker III on March 19, is expected to be signed by the two countries on March 21. The agreement calls for the PLO to have a role in the security arrangements for the occupied territories.

Quoted...

"I believe in peace and war. In peace, I believe in the importance of the arts. In war, I believe in the importance of the arts. I believe in the arts in all circumstances." - Henry Kissinger

Postscripts

Friday events

Ted Ruter, director of the University of Iowa's Center for Environmental Studies, will present a seminar on "The Future of the Environment" at 4 p.m. in the Iowa Memorial Union. Ruter is a leading expert in environmental science and is known as "The Citizen."
Financial troubles of UI libraries prompt study of possible cuts

By CRAIG GENDELS
Staff Writer

Iowa's Library Administration Leslie Dunlap has asked for a study to determine if the state's library system can be cut back or eliminated.

In a memo distributed last month, she asked the state's higher education commissioner to look into the feasibility of eliminating the state's library system.

Dunlap said the libraries have made progress in recent years but that "long-term financial problems will continue to weigh on our operations."

She said eliminating the system would be a "radical step," but that it's necessary because the libraries are "not sustainable in their current form."
Tuition fees increase so sharply that students are forced to look for ways to make ends meet. Many students work while attending school, and some have to choose between paying tuition and other necessary expenses. This can be especially challenging for students who are also raising families or have other responsibilities. The increase in tuition fees has also led to a decrease in the number of students enrolling in higher education institutions, as many cannot afford the higher costs. In response to the increased tuition fees, some institutions have implemented financial aid programs to help students. However, these programs may not be enough to cover the full cost of tuition, and students may still struggle to pay for their education. In addition, the increased tuition fees may discourage potential students from pursuing higher education, as they may not see it as an affordable option. It is important for policymakers to address the issue of rising tuition fees and find ways to make higher education more accessible and affordable for all students.
Law students help inmates with courts

By DEAN T. BOREN

A group of law students is trying to make it easier for prisoners to understand a process that is often difficult for the non-lawyer.

"We're trying to reduce the [legal] burden on the prisoners," said Dean Boren, a fourth-year law student at the University of Illinois College of Law.

"Right now, the prisoners are dealing with a legal process that is very complex," Boren said.

The law students are part of a program called "Legal Assistance for Prisoners," which was started by a group of law students several years ago.

"We're trying to help the prisoners understand the legal process," Boren said.

The law students work with prisoners in a variety of ways, including providing legal advice, helping prisoners understand the legal process, and assisting prisoners in filing legal documents.

"Our goal is to help the prisoners understand the legal process and to help them understand their rights," Boren said.

The law students have been working with prisoners for several years, and they have helped hundreds of prisoners.

"The prisoners are very appreciative of our help," Boren said.

The law students are working with the Illinois State Prison, the Illinois State Reformatory, and the Illinois State Penitentiary.

"We're trying to help the prisoners understand the legal process and to help them understand their rights," Boren said.

The law students have been working with prisoners for several years, and they have helped hundreds of prisoners.

"The prisoners are very appreciative of our help," Boren said.

The law students are working with the Illinois State Prison, the Illinois State Reformatory, and the Illinois State Penitentiary.

"We're trying to help the prisoners understand the legal process and to help them understand their rights," Boren said.

The law students have been working with prisoners for several years, and they have helped hundreds of prisoners.

"The prisoners are very appreciative of our help," Boren said.

The law students are working with the Illinois State Prison, the Illinois State Reformatory, and the Illinois State Penitentiary.

"We're trying to help the prisoners understand the legal process and to help them understand their rights," Boren said.

The law students have been working with prisoners for several years, and they have helped hundreds of prisoners.

"The prisoners are very appreciative of our help," Boren said.

The law students are working with the Illinois State Prison, the Illinois State Reformatory, and the Illinois State Penitentiary.

"We're trying to help the prisoners understand the legal process and to help them understand their rights," Boren said.

The law students have been working with prisoners for several years, and they have helped hundreds of prisoners.

"The prisoners are very appreciative of our help," Boren said.

The law students are working with the Illinois State Prison, the Illinois State Reformatory, and the Illinois State Penitentiary.

"We're trying to help the prisoners understand the legal process and to help them understand their rights," Boren said.

The law students have been working with prisoners for several years, and they have helped hundreds of prisoners.

"The prisoners are very appreciative of our help," Boren said.

The law students are working with the Illinois State Prison, the Illinois State Reformatory, and the Illinois State Penitentiary.

"We're trying to help the prisoners understand the legal process and to help them understand their rights," Boren said.

The law students have been working with prisoners for several years, and they have helped hundreds of prisoners.

"The prisoners are very appreciative of our help," Boren said.

The law students are working with the Illinois State Prison, the Illinois State Reformatory, and the Illinois State Penitentiary.

"We're trying to help the prisoners understand the legal process and to help them understand their rights," Boren said.

The law students have been working with prisoners for several years, and they have helped hundreds of prisoners.

"The prisoners are very appreciative of our help," Boren said.

The law students are working with the Illinois State Prison, the Illinois State Reformatory, and the Illinois State Penitentiary.

"We're trying to help the prisoners understand the legal process and to help them understand their rights," Boren said.

The law students have been working with prisoners for several years, and they have helped hundreds of prisoners.

"The prisoners are very appreciative of our help," Boren said.

The law students are working with the Illinois State Prison, the Illinois State Reformatory, and the Illinois State Penitentiary.

"We're trying to help the prisoners understand the legal process and to help them understand their rights," Boren said.

The law students have been working with prisoners for several years, and they have helped hundreds of prisoners.

"The prisoners are very appreciative of our help," Boren said.

The law students are working with the Illinois State Prison, the Illinois State Reformatory, and the Illinois State Penitentiary.

"We're trying to help the prisoners understand the legal process and to help them understand their rights," Boren said.

The law students have been working with prisoners for several years, and they have helped hundreds of prisoners.

"The prisoners are very appreciative of our help," Boren said.

The law students are working with the Illinois State Prison, the Illinois State Reformatory, and the Illinois State Penitentiary.

"We're trying to help the prisoners understand the legal process and to help them understand their rights," Boren said.

The law students have been working with prisoners for several years, and they have helped hundreds of prisoners.

"The prisoners are very appreciative of our help," Boren said.

The law students are working with the Illinois State Prison, the Illinois State Reformatory, and the Illinois State Penitentiary.

"We're trying to help the prisoners understand the legal process and to help them understand their rights," Boren said.

The law students have been working with prisoners for several years, and they have helped hundreds of prisoners.

"The prisoners are very appreciative of our help," Boren said.

The law students are working with the Illinois State Prison, the Illinois State Reformatory, and the Illinois State Penitentiary.

"We're trying to help the prisoners understand the legal process and to help them understand their rights," Boren said.

The law students have been working with prisoners for several years, and they have helped hundreds of prisoners.

"The prisoners are very appreciative of our help," Boren said.

The law students are working with the Illinois State Prison, the Illinois State Reformatory, and the Illinois State Penitentiary.

"We're trying to help the prisoners understand the legal process and to help them understand their rights," Boren said.

The law students have been working with prisoners for several years, and they have helped hundreds of prisoners.

"The prisoners are very appreciative of our help," Boren said.

The law students are working with the Illinois State Prison, the Illinois State Reformatory, and the Illinois State Penitentiary.

"We're trying to help the prisoners understand the legal process and to help them understand their rights," Boren said.

The law students have been working with prisoners for several years, and they have helped hundreds of prisoners.

"The prisoners are very appreciative of our help," Boren said.

The law students are working with the Illinois State Prison, the Illinois State Reformatory, and the Illinois State Penitentiary.

"We're trying to help the prisoners understand the legal process and to help them understand their rights," Boren said.

The law students have been working with prisoners for several years, and they have helped hundreds of prisoners.

"The prisoners are very appreciative of our help," Boren said.

The law students are working with the Illinois State Prison, the Illinois State Reformatory, and the Illinois State Penitentiary.

"We're trying to help the prisoners understand the legal process and to help them understand their rights," Boren said.

The law students have been working with prisoners for several years, and they have helped hundreds of prisoners.

"The prisoners are very appreciative of our help," Boren said.

The law students are working with the Illinois State Prison, the Illinois State Reformatory, and the Illinois State Penitentiary.

"We're trying to help the prisoners understand the legal process and to help them understand their rights," Boren said.

The law students have been working with prisoners for several years, and they have helped hundreds of prisoners.

"The prisoners are very appreciative of our help," Boren said.
Reagan expected to win Texas primary

By United Press International

Ronald Reagan's odds predicted Thursday he would win Texas Saturday with no major surprise to add up to a Texas GOP primary upset, but the state's liberalized election laws were being closely watched for any chance of a last-minute challenge.

---

Economy

The Carter administration, which has used severe approaches to combat inflation, is expected to step up efforts to reduce growth in the nation's money supply and stabilize the financial system in the second quarter, federal officials said.

---

Texas

By Richard Lobb-Jones, chair­man of the Texas Association of Government Employees and president of the International Union of Operating Engineers, United Steelworkers of America, has been given a new identity and a new program and has been given a new role by a federal panel.

---

‘The Rat’ refuses to answer queries

WASHINGTON, D.C. — William "The Rat" Bonadonna, a reputed member of the infamous Chicago mob, has been given a new role by a federal panel.

---

Caminho is called the "Rat" by his friends, and the Chicago mob, because he killed a man with a hammer. His friends say he is a good man.

---

Japanese mony and tax havens are believed by many to be major sources of tax evasion.

---

The TEA pool, Delaware Inc. 6 million, is not sure if the state will give the state its money, but, in the words of the governor, "It's not good enough."

---

LLOYD-JONES' name has been linked to the. Delaware pool because the governor believes the pool is not fair.

---

The pool was developed by Lloyd-Jones and Carl Kellers.

---

The pool was developed by Lloyd-Jones and Carl Kellers.

---

Both are members of the same family.

---

The pool was developed by Lloyd-Jones and Carl Kellers.

---

The pool was developed by Lloyd-Jones and Carl Kellers.

---

The pool was developed by Lloyd-Jones and Carl Kellers.

---

The pool was developed by Lloyd-Jones and Carl Kellers.

---

The pool was developed by Lloyd-Jones and Carl Kellers.

---

The pool was developed by Lloyd-Jones and Carl Kellers.

---

The pool was developed by Lloyd-Jones and Carl Kellers.

---

The pool was developed by Lloyd-Jones and Carl Kellers.

---

The pool was developed by Lloyd-Jones and Carl Kellers.
First Iowa Dance film festival to honor rise of modern dance

JUDITH L. WINTER

The First Iowa Dance Film Festival, which is sponsored by the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, will be held May 4-8 in Iowa Memorial Union, 10 May 4 and 5 in the main auditorium, 6 and 7 in the cafeteria, and 8 in the union ballroom. The films, which document the rise of modern dance, will be screened at 3:00 p.m. on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, and at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday.

The films include some of the earliest recorded dance footage as well as contemporary re-creations of the works of world-famous choreographers. Most of the films are available commercially or can be rented by individuals, but a number are not available elsewhere.

The festival is co-sponsored by the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, the College of Music, the College of Human Ecology, and the College of Business Administration.

DANCE

The schedule of screenings is as follows:

- May 4 - 3:00 p.m.: "Early Dance" - a series of short subjects made in America between 1864 and 1888, includes a film by Edward S. Curtis.
- May 5 - 3:00 p.m.: "The Godsman/Schleeter Dance Focus" - an Iowa annual that features films by students, including an experimental film by student dancer-filmmaker Maya Deren.
- May 6 - 7:30 p.m.: "The Negro Spirituals" - a film of creation call 338-3149.
- May 7 - 7:30 p.m.: "The Godman/Schleeter Dance Focus" - an Iowa annual that features films by students, including an experimental film by student dancer-filmmaker Maya Deren.
- May 8 - 7:30 p.m.: "The Godsman/Schleeter Dance Focus" - an Iowa annual that features films by students, including an experimental film by student dancer-filmmaker Maya Deren.

Additionally, "The Godsman/Schleeter Dance Focus" will be screened at 3:00 p.m. on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, and at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday.

The schedule of screenings is as follows:

- May 5 - 3:00 p.m.: "Early Dance" - a series of short subjects made in America between 1864 and 1888, includes a film by Edward S. Curtis.
- May 6 - 7:30 p.m.: "The Godsman/Schleeter Dance Focus" - an Iowa annual that features films by students, including an experimental film by student dancer-filmmaker Maya Deren.
- May 7 - 7:30 p.m.: "The Godsman/Schleeter Dance Focus" - an Iowa annual that features films by students, including an experimental film by student dancer-filmmaker Maya Deren.
- May 8 - 7:30 p.m.: "The Godsman/Schleeter Dance Focus" - an Iowa annual that features films by students, including an experimental film by student dancer-filmmaker Maya Deren.

Additionally, "The Godsman/Schleeter Dance Focus" will be screened at 3:00 p.m. on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, and at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday.
Imagination ‘crucial’ for novelist Angus Wilson

By BRUCE BROOKS
Updated on the Daily Iowan

British novelist Angus Wilson is in his mid-60s, but if you meet him in UI lecture halls, you might think he’s in his thirties. Wilson, who was visiting professor in the Writers Workshop at the UI, read from his new novel, “Toe Jam,” Monday night in the Field House.

Wilson is known for his ability to walk the devil line between realism and fantasy, which he attributes to his UNC-arrested mind. “Your imagination is crucial to what I do,” Wilson said. “To create a world of your own… I like this idea of being able to step outside your life and be the possessor of your own live scenes.”

Wilson says his work has a certain fluidity to it, which is enhanced by his ability to alternate between genres. “I think writers need to be able to step into any genre and make it their own,” he said. “I am a child of modern English fiction.”

Wilson has written 14 novels, all of which fall into the category of contemporary realism, and has had serious and popular reviews for his work. He was born in the United States and moved to England when he was 12, where he was exposed to the works of the English novelists of the 1930s and 1940s. Wilson's work has been described as a blend of realism and fantasy, and his novels are often characterized by their ability to create a sense of the strange and the surreal.

British novelist Angus Wilson will read excerpts from his book tonight on the theme, "The mind of a child in its surroundings.”

Wilson has been tapped, senses that call for the mind to become a small classic in the study of creativity. "I imagine the world as a child is what one's powers of imagination characterize 'Toe Jam.'

Wilson says his work has a certain fluidity to it, which is enhanced by his ability to alternate between genres. "I think writers need to be able to step into any genre and make it their own," he said. "I am a child of modern English fiction.

Wilson has written 14 novels, all of which fall into the category of contemporary realism, and has had serious and popular reviews for his work. He was born in the United States and moved to England when he was 12, where he was exposed to the works of the English novelists of the 1930s and 1940s. Wilson's work has been described as a blend of realism and fantasy, and his novels are often characterized by their ability to create a sense of the strange and the surreal.
Netters lack mental game

By DAN O'CONNOR

It was a perfect storm that appeared to be making the Iowa women's tennis team a force to be reckoned with. But just when the Hawkeyes appeared to be on top, the storm turned into a downpour of mistakes.

"We found some of the girls were having serious trouble focusing in the heat," said Iowa coach Chuck Hockin. "Some of the girls just didn't have their focus on the game."

The trouble started last week in the Big Ten Tournament. Iowa lost in the first round, but the losses continued into the weekend.

"It was a downpour of mistakes," said Hockin. "Some of the girls just didn't have their focus on the game."

The problem all season for the Hawkeyes has been their focus. "When the girls are focusing on the game, they can be a pretty decent team," said Hockin. "But when they're not, they can be beat by anyone."
Hawks to conclude successful spring

By ROEM HUTCHIN

After last weekend's test at the prestigious Drake Relays, the Iowa women's track and field again "hit the road" search with the opening meet of the season on Friday at Minnesota.

Coach Greg Remily said Iowa's chances look promising for beating a team at the conference level in February.

"We've won six of our seven meets," Remily said. "This is a team to be reckoned with this year."

Remily believes Iowa can win one of the eight events at a meet this season.

In past years, the Hawkeyes have won between two and four events at any particular meet.

"We're definitely capable of it," Remily said. "We've been a year now and have a lot of depth in this squad."

"We've been here for a year now and have a lot of depth in this squad."

In addition to the top eight events, Iowa can also place well in the five-year history of the meet.

"I believe we can be competitive in the Big Ten," Remily said. "We're definitely capable of it.

"We've been here for a year now and have a lot of depth in this squad," Remily said. "We've been a year now and have a lot of depth in this squad."

"We've been here for a year now and have a lot of depth in this squad."
HELP WANTED
RETAIL STAFF needed in local apparel store. Must have experience in customer service. Call Judy at 987-1234.

WANTED TO BUY
WANTED: Antique French clock. Call John at 789-4567.

MOTORCYCLES
SCRAMBLES, dual-sport, any good condition. Call Mike at 321-5432.

GARDENING
WHO DOES IT?
NURSERY, specializing in native plants. Call
Jane at 456-7890.

AUTOS FOREIGN
1990 Toyota Camry for sale. Ready for immediate sale. Call John Smith at 123-4567.

AUTOS DOMESTIC 1987 Chevrolet Impala, good condition, low mileage. Call Bob at 567-8901.

ENGAGEMENT and wedding rings
Jewelry by John. Call 234-5678.

KLUGER, fine jewelry, 10% discount on engagement rings. Call 890-7654.

LOST AND FOUND
FINDING ring, Class of 1975. Call Jim at 234-5678.

MISSOURIAN A-Z
TYPING
EXPERIENCED typist needed. Call
Mary at 456-7890.

BONNIE, experienced typist, offers flexible schedule. Call 789-0123.

ANDERSON, 5 years experience. Call 890-7654.

INFANT WAREHOUSE
Nursery supplies, baby clothes, toys and more. Call 123-4567.

BICYCLES
HUFFY, 26" tires, like new. $35. Call 234-5678.

RIDE-RIDER
VINTAGE Schwinn Sting-Ray. $50.
Call 321-4567.

GARAGES-
PARKING
SOUTH END GARAGE. Parking for client's use. Call 789-0123.

RUBBER, first-class garage. Call 456-7890.

ANTIOCKS
The Daily Missourian, 834-4567.

AUTO SERVICE
WATERBEDS, waterbeds. Cleaning and repair. Call 567-8901.

BUTLER, waterbed repair. Call 789-0123.

RENTING FOR FALL
Campus furnished.
1-2 bedroom
$500 electricity included.

DI CLASSIFIED AD BLANK
Write ad below using one word per blank.

DI Classifieds 111 Communications Center
11 am deadline for new ads & cancellations.
The Indonesian university's low down, low down

She her

The top Hawaii, 6-3

Swimmers sign standout diver

By CLAUDIA

Staff

rather pleased with the jury to record a

"though

former Iowa

Pepping

three-set battle over the expected Hawaii to line-up . Anderson moved into manage the only doubles win .

But the No . 2 duo of Dan Rustin brothers are the sons of returning to the state 's 1979 high school titlist as a standing at header with Northwestern on the Iowa squad

Surging Hawkeyes

the state of Iowa . year's Litle after an impressive runner-
The 'B' team will play at 11 : 30 a.m. on Friday, May 2nd

11 : 30

Eighth Annual All-Iowa Rugby up will be and former pupils of Winnie . No . 4

In the No. 3 position, Eric

Tim Jacobson , who won easily in 2.0, lhe

2-6 .

Although still considered a high

Championships in Milwaukee .

"We

We

current records don't surprise us.

As far as the Big Ten race is concerned, "If it will obviously take a watchful

figure things out.

"We'LL HAVE BOTH OUR aces present for the Big Ten our diving program in tow .

for this field four and 3 : 15 p.m. on field three .

SPECIAL OF

1.99

GALLON

LATEX SEMI-GLOSS

SAVE 4.00!

LATEX FLAT WALL PAINT

GALLON

"OUR BEST"

LATEX FLAT WALL PAINT

SAVE 4.00!

LATEX SEMI-GLOSS ENAMEL

Covers most under-coats. one coat, washable

1197

2012 S. Gilbert 338-1113

CHICAGO RACE WINNERS: Tau Kappa Epsilon and Alpha Delta Pi

FINISHING LINE: Saturday, May 10th

Bleachers: TAU KAPPA Epsilon and Delta Delta Delta

Iowa rugby tournament invades Finkbine

Strong singles

help lowa men
top Hawaii, 6-3

By CLAUDIA NAYFORD

Staff Writer

The Iowa men's tennis team swept Hawaii 6-3 on Sunday, May 4th Noon till 8

City Park Shelter No. 16

All you can eat. $2.00. Softball, volleyball, FUN, refresments. All Engineering students and profs welcome. Tickets available at 3100 EB.

THE BAHAI FAITH

Unity Picnic

Friday,

May 2nd

City Park Shelter No . 15

4:00 pm

For the use of the Bahai religious faith and their brothers are the sons of in Dillard.

the playing the way I've expected them to play so far along . " Books-ing the hat and our pitching staff is building their confidence . We're definitely ready to play ."

"WILL Bill reporting to the Big Ten action with a \( 3.70 \) batting average and a

.440 slugging percentage ." For Dillard,

Johnny Dunleavy deserves attention although ranked with only .61 average and an

.480 second baseman-

and second baseman-

150

100

50

GALLON

"OUR BEST" SEMI-GLOSS ENAMEL

SAVE 4.00!

LATEX FLAT WALL PAINT

GALLON

"OUR BEST"

LATEX SEMI-GLOSS ENAMEL

SAVE 4.00!

LATEX FLAT WALL PAINT

Covers most under-coats. one coat, washable

1197

2012 S. Gilbert 338-1113

NAGE LUMBER

"Your Home Center"

Open 7 days a week

1201 S. Gilbert 338-1113

Greeeks add life to the '80s!

The directives of Greek, Lauren Murphy & Chuck Rhode

WISH TO THANK THE FOLLOWING:

MARRI ROSS

JAY WESTRA

MICHELLE SHOPPEN

PETE OHMAN

DAN NORSB

JIM DAUNIS

KERRY BERTRUN

PHIL DROPP

LYNN TREADWAY

SARAH LEACHMAN

STEVE LAWLER

HEIDI HELD

STEVE TOMSAS/ELD 112

SYDRA SMITH

JULIE ECKELBERG

BRUCE ANDERSON

WE WOULD ALSO LIKE TO THANK THE FOLLOWING:

DALE LEE DISTRIBUTING

KRIS

MAXWELL'S

HAWAII CONSERVATION COMMISSION

IOWA CITY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

LEE STACEE - BARBER'S

DOWNTOWN MERCHANTS' ASSOCIATION

AND TO CONGRATULATE:

RIVERBEND WINNERS: Men's, Tom Fense; Women's, Lori Sutton

CHUG-OFF CHAMPIONS: Delta Gamma & Phi Kappa Psi

CANOE RACE WINNERS: Tau Kappa Epsilon and Alpha Delta Pi

FOOTBALL WINNERS: Phi Kappa Alpha & Alpha Kappa Theta

STASH-TASH WINNERS - Sigma Phi Epsilon & Delta Delta Delta

SPORTS
Deka lite around • Open “Your • • • • • • • • . . . . FOLLIES CANOE RACE RIVERRUN WINNERS - Men’s, Tom Ferree; Women’s, Lori Sutton

KRNA
STEVE IOWA CONSERVATION COMMISSION DOWNTOWN MERCHANTS ASSOCIATION
The directors of Greek Week, Laura Murphy &

TOWNSFELDT STEPHANIE SMITH GREEKS o Cavers o CUSTOM COLORS SLIGHTLY HIGHER “OUR DELUXE ” LATEX
Fade resist ant

STEVE KRAFISIN, Hawkeye basketball star and member of Lambda Chi Alpha, reveals what he was thinking of during rush.

MD Dance Marathon
Greeks, Others Dance For MD
by June Lathby
What started out in 1973 as a small event involving about 15 couples dancing downtown in the North Hall gym has become one of the university’s biggest and most well-publicized fundraisers.

This event is the Marquette Dance Marathon and this year over 300 participants participated in the event which is now held in the US Post Office because of the growing number of participants.

The idea of having a marathon at Iowa was first proposed by Women’s Problem and Inter-Fraternity Council by a representative from the Cedar Rapids Diocesan fundraising office. As far as Greeks have been in on this project from the very beginning, the Greek system is to have some of its members donate money to the cause.

One of the co-directors of this year’s marathon, Carol Rauscher, a junior from Iowa City, said the biggest accomplishment of the event is to have the Greek system involved in the fundraising effort.

Carol feels one of the greatest things about MD fundraising is that approximately 90 percent of the money goes to people who are in need.

I’m not sure what first sparked my interest in dance. Most people say it was the music. I say it was the rhythm.

I remember the first time I heard a rhythm that made my body begin to move. It was the rhythm of words. I was a toddler, and I remember singing nursery rhymes.

That was the beginning of my dancing career. I have been dancing ever since.

I am a senior at the University of Iowa and I have been involved in Greek Week for three years.

I am a member of the Alpha Delta Delta sorority and I am also a member of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

Greek Week is an important part of my college experience. It is a time when I can relax and have fun with my friends.

This year’s Greek Week will be held on October 16-20. There will be many events throughout the week, including a talent show, a dance, and a food drive.

I am excited to see what the weekend will bring and I am looking forward to spending time with my friends and making new memories.
A-Thongs And ServiceGreek, Too

By Mike Wudy

Practice, Talent, Enthusiasm
Make A UI Cheerleader

by Nancy Frederick

Opinion
We Are Leaders, Not Followers

by Shadle Daley

Dance Marathon — Cont.

Continued from page 1

THE GREEK HAWKEYE

Dance Marathon — Cont.

THE GREEK HAWKEYE

May 1990

Linda Fritz
Jill Zeigle
Jane Nicklas
Mike Marshall
Nancy Frederick
Mary Jane Moore
Co-official editor
Feature editor
Photo editor
Fund-raising editor
Copy editor
Sports editor
Editorial assistant

THE GREEK HAWKEYE is a publication of the Women’s counseling Council and the Interfraternity Council of the University of Iowa. Hailing address: Office of Student Activities, Iowa Memorial Union, Iowa City, Iowa, 52242.

Iowa State and UNI. Carol feels the benevolence gives "a lot more payoff" than the immediate pressure of staying on the team, and that being a leader is "very rewarding." They point out that some of the activities they’ve done together have made them truly grateful for the opportunity to give back to the community.

Carol Wiedenmayr’s role in MS research does not end with the UI marathon. She is involved in the eight annual Anchors for Autism charities and organizations that the benevolence has supported over the years.

Carol says she’s been most grateful for the outpouring of support from the UNI community. She feels that being able to work with people who are so dedicated to such a good cause has been one of the greatest highlights of her volunteer work.

Everyone knows that Steve Krafcsin plays basketball for the Iowa Hawkeyes. And that the center helped the Hawks to a share of the Big Ten Conference title for the past two years.

But many have, however, not been aware of the fact that the Lambert Boy is also a handful of Iowa athletes who have opted for the Greek
way of life.

Krafcisin spent three years in Iowa before joining the.
Lambert Boy. He spent one year in North Carolina where he played for the NCAA runners-up in the Lambert Boy’s first season. Krafcisin is a top scorer for the Lambert Boy,
and he has been important in making the team successful.

The Lambda Delta Theta and Chi Omega show off their beer drinking style at an exchange held at the Phi Delta house. Photos by Mike Wudy.

Steve Krafcisin:

Wanted: Another Aspect of Life

by John Stowe

I’d like to coach, maybe in a small school, I’m open to it, just don’t want to be on a college level as an assistant. I’d like to work with students that are in public relations or something like that," Krafcisin said.

In public relations, Krafcisin feels he’ll be able to help people in any way they need, which is something
he feels is important to him.

Everyone knows that Steve Krackos plays basketball for the Iowa Hawkeyes. And that the center helped the Hawks to a share of the Big Ten Conference title for the past two years.

But many have, however, not been aware of the fact that the Lambert Boy is also a handful of Iowa athletes who have opted for the Greek
way of life.

Krafcisin spent three years in Iowa before joining the.
Lambert Boy. He spent one year in North Carolina where he played for the NCAA runners-
up in the Lambert Boy’s first season. Krafcisin is a top
scorer for the Lambert Boy,
and he has been important in making the team successful.

The Lambda Delta Theta and Chi Omega show off their beer drinking style at an exchange held at the Phi Delta house. Photos by Mike Wudy.

Steve Krafcisin:

Wanted: Another Aspect of Life

by John Stowe

I’d like to coach, maybe in a small school, I’m open to it, just don’t want to be on a college level as an assistant. I’d like to work with students that are in public relations or something like
that," Krafcisin said.

In public relations, Krafcisin feels
he’ll be able to help people in any way they need, which is something
he feels is important to him.

Everyone knows that Steve Krackos
plays basketball for the Iowa Hawkeyes. And that the center helped the Hawks to a share of the Big Ten Conference title for the past two years.

But many have, however, not been aware of the fact that the Lambert Boy is also a handful of Iowa athletes who have opted for the Greek
way of life.

Krafcisin spent three years in Iowa before joining the.
Lambert Boy. He spent one year in North Carolina where he played for the NCAA runners-
up in the Lambert Boy’s first season. Krafcisin is a top
scorer for the Lambert Boy,
and he has been important in
making the team successful.
Dance Marathon — Cont.

Iowa State and UNI. Carol feels the benefits to the students who play the important role in bringing in donations and creating awareness that marathons 알 수 없으며, 그들 사이의 글로벌 인구는 상대적으로 적습니다. 모임이 형성되면서, 그들은 학생의 문화적 다양성을 강화하고, 다른 문화적 배경을 배우고, 이를 통해 모임의 학생들은 더 깊은 이해와 존중감을 더욱 강화할 수 있게 됩니다. 또한, 모임의 기본 목표로는, 학생들의 리더십 역량을 향상시키고, 대학 생활에서의 전반적인 성장과 발전을 돕는 것이 있습니다.

THE GREEK HAWKEYEBRYE
And ServiceGreek, Too

Learn From The Best — Greeks Party Hearty

Steve Krafcisin

Wanted: Another Aspect of College Life

By Scott Sailor

Everyone knows that Steve Krafcisin plays basketball for the Iowa Hawkeyes. But that isn’t enough. Krafcisin also holds important positions as a member of the Greek system on the University of Iowa campus.

Krafcisin is a member of Phi Delta Theta and Delta Gamma. He attends parties, dances, and meets with his fellow brothers and sisters throughout the year to celebrate the Greek system.

Krafcisin said that being a member of Phi Delta Theta is important to him. It is the most rewarding and enjoyable experience he has had at the university.

Krafcisin said, "I feel that being a member of Phi Delta Theta is what I am all about, not just grades or anything like that." He also said that he enjoys participating in the Greek system and working with his fellow brothers and sisters.

Krafcisin added, "I enjoy meeting new people and making new friends. The Greek system is a great way to meet people and have fun."
Following the ancient Greek tradition of competing in athletic competition, members of the Greek system at the University of Iowa have gone one step above the competition in intramural events that have taken place during this past school year. The Division of Recreational Services offers a wide variety of intramural sports for both men and women. A point system is used, with points being awarded to the winner of each contest. The organization with the most points after all events are completed is awarded the All-University championship.

This past year once again proved the high degree of competition at all levels, and scores very unusual performances by many of the house intramural teams. The following is a wrap-up involving some of the marathons enjoyed by the Greek system and the deserved recognition to those men and women athletes.

The fall, while the quarterback football teams worked hard to improve, the winter season seemed again another group of young men were also busy taking the winter track. After going through a 5-I intramurality league record and qualifying for the playoffs, the team of Delta Upsilon went through much in their quest of victory. They were competing in the men's 150 yard dash, putting up a 19.5 victory over Mu Sigma. For the championship, another major victory fell to the hands of Phi Rho Alpha. Alpha Phi Alpha took the win in a hard fought battle for Delta Upsilon, taking the win in the 100 yard dash. Delta Gamma took the win in the men's 440 yard run. The men's 880 yard run was won by Delta Upsilon, with all the men's events being won by Delta Upsilon.

The winter season started off with Delta Upsilon winning the Men's basketball tournament and second in the Women's basketball tournament, Delta Gamma. The Big Ten Conference men's basketball champions, Delta Gamma, won the title. They were able to acquit themselves of the competition, with Delta Gamma winning the game. Delta Gamma won the title with a 10-0 record.

During the winter season Delta Upsilon took the win in the men's track event, with Delta Gamma winning in the women's track event. Delta Gamma won the title with a 10-0 record. Delta Gamma won the title with a 10-0 record.

The spring season started off with Delta Upsilon taking the win in the men's baseball event, with Delta Gamma winning in the women's baseball event. Delta Gamma won the title with a 10-0 record. Delta Gamma won the title with a 10-0 record.

The spring season ended with Delta Upsilon taking the win in the men's track event, with Delta Gamma winning in the women's track event. Delta Gamma won the title with a 10-0 record. Delta Gamma won the title with a 10-0 record.

The summer season started off with Delta Upsilon taking the win in the men's track event, with Delta Gamma winning in the women's track event. Delta Gamma won the title with a 10-0 record. Delta Gamma won the title with a 10-0 record.