Grassley has placed the finishing touches on restructuring his Republicans.

Grassley ends shuffle of campaign personnel

by steve hedges

Iowa City (symbolic chronometer)

Grassley announced Thursday the resignations of the Scholarship Fund and his chief of staff, John H. McDaniel. Grassley also announced Thursday that he would resign as chairman of the Senate Select Committee on Aging.

The move was announced late Thursday night by Grassley, who said he had been working on the issue for months. Grassley said he would resign as chairman of the Senate Select Committee on Aging on March 1.

The move comes after a month of turmoil in Grassley's campaign as he struggles to hold on to the Senate seat he has held for 24 years. Grassley is facing a tough challenge from Democrat David Vitter, who is trying to unseat Grassley in November.

Grassley's decision comes after a week of scandals and controversies. Grassley's campaign has been hit by allegations of impropriety and corruption, and Grassley has faced criticism for his handling of the situation.

The move is likely to be seen as a sign that Grassley is trying to distance himself from the controversy and to focus on his re-election campaign.

Grassley has been a top Senate Republican for years, and his decision to step down as chairman of the Senate Select Committee on Aging is likely to be seen as a sign that he is ready to make a fresh start.

The move is likely to be welcomed by many in the Senate, who have been concerned about Grassley's handling of the situation.

Nicklaus, Weiskopf shoot 63, lead Open

BY JACOB LONDIS, Sports Editor

The U.S. Open, which got under way today at Baltusrol Golf Club in Springfield, N.J., appears to be shaping up as the one tournament Nicklaus and Weiskopf couldn't win. Last week each of them did something special. To shoot 63 on a single hole, and only one week ago, Nicklaus failed to survive the cut at Atlanta.

The U.S. Open has gathered national attention due to the recent domination of Jack Nicklaus. The 1977 Open winner is the only player to win the USGA event more than once.

In the home run category, the Philadelphia Ford was scheduled to run on "turning".

Lester sees Steelers’ color, same No. 12

By HOVIND WILLIAMS

CHICAGO—Lester will be wearing the familiar number 12 this season. But the reasons are different this time around.

The first reason is simple: Lester had his number 12 jersey which he was wearing when he was traded to the Chicago Bears. The number 12 jersey has been retired by the Bears and is no longer available.

The second reason is Lester's new football team. The Steelers have a number 12 player who Lester admires. The Steelers' quarterback, Terry Bradshaw, wears number 12. Lester is a big fan of Bradshaw and has modeled his own play on Bradshaw's.

Lester was asked if he was excited about wearing number 12 this season.

"It's a great honor," he said. "I'm looking forward to playing with Terry Bradshaw. He's one of the best quarterbacks in the league."

Lester was also asked if he was concerned about the number 12 jersey being retired by the Bears.

"I'm not too worried about that," he said. "I understand that the Bears have retired number 12 for the future. But I'm still happy to wear number 12 for the Steelers."

Lester was also asked if he was looking forward to playing against Terry Bradshaw.

"I think it will be a great game," he said. "I'm sure Terry and I will be able to give each other a tough time.

Lester's excitement about wearing number 12 this season is evident. He is looking forward to the challenge of the new season and the opportunity to play for the Pittsburgh Steelers.
