Old Capitol Center frees retail space downtown

The center that will come in downtown Iowa City when the Old Capitol Center shopping mall square is diagrammed on these maps. The two maps in the left box where streets will be located in the Old Capitol Center. The top map in each box shows the Iowa City area as it was in 1976 when the city first bought the 26 acres of land that will be part of the future mall. The bottom map shows Iowa City as it is now. The map at lower left shows the first floor of the mall, with named spaces marked. The map at lower right shows the second floor of the mall, with named spaces marked.

The Iowa City administration estimates the mall will cost $70 million to build and open. The mall opened in 1982 and the Iowa City administration plans to add a third floor in 1990.

Musical chairs in downtown Iowa City

The board that will come in downtown Iowa City when the Old Capitol Center shopping mall square is diagrammed on these maps. The two maps in the left box are the Iowa City area as it was in 1976 when the city first bought the 26 acres of land that will be part of the future mall. The bottom map shows Iowa City as it is now. The map at lower left shows the first floor of the mall, with named spaces marked. The map at lower right shows the second floor of the mall, with named spaces marked.

The Iowa City administration estimates the mall will cost $70 million to build and open. The mall opened in 1982 and the Iowa City administration plans to add a third floor in 1990.

Ist District candidates debate issues at UI

By Halla Brown

Francesca Ellis

The candidates for Iowa's 1st District congressional seat squared off Thursday in a campaign debate to determine how new America can get through the 1980s. The candidates for the 1st District seat are Democratic incumbent Richard, Republican Joan Chittick, and Libertarian party nominee. The debate was sponsored by the League of Women Voters and a taped debate will be shown on television.

The candidates for Iowa's 1st District congressional seat squared off Thursday in a campaign debate to determine how new America can get through the 1980s. The candidates for the 1st District seat are Democratic incumbent Richard, Republican Joan Chittick, and Libertarian party nominee. The debate was sponsored by the League of Women Voters and a taped debate will be shown on television.

Ist District candidates debate issues at UI

By Halla Brown

Francesca Ellis

The candidates for Iowa's 1st District congressional seat squared off Thursday in a campaign debate to determine how new America can get through the 1980s. The candidates for the 1st District seat are Democratic incumbent Richard, Republican Joan Chittick, and Libertarian party nominee. The debate was sponsored by the League of Women Voters and a taped debate will be shown on television.

The candidates for Iowa's 1st District congressional seat squared off Thursday in a campaign debate to determine how new America can get through the 1980s. The candidates for the 1st District seat are Democratic incumbent Richard, Republican Joan Chittick, and Libertarian party nominee. The debate was sponsored by the League of Women Voters and a taped debate will be shown on television.

The candidates for Iowa's 1st District congressional seat squared off Thursday in a campaign debate to determine how new America can get through the 1980s. The candidates for the 1st District seat are Democratic incumbent Richard, Republican Joan Chittick, and Libertarian party nominee. The debate was sponsored by the League of Women Voters and a taped debate will be shown on television.

The candidates for Iowa's 1st District congressional seat squared off Thursday in a campaign debate to determine how new America can get through the 1980s. The candidates for the 1st District seat are Democratic incumbent Richard, Republican Joan Chittick, and Libertarian party nominee. The debate was sponsored by the League of Women Voters and a taped debate will be shown on television.
Briefly

Israel hits guerrillas near Beirut, Lebanon

TEL AVIV, Israel (UPI) - Israeli fighter jets struck guerrilla camps near Beirut Wednesday in what Prime Minister Menachem Begin said was the first Israeli air raids against guerrilla bases. The Israeli air force pilot reported direct hits on the guerrilla camps near Beirut, near the village of Shemali, according to reports of casualties only.

Leonard, a former American soldier, was wounded in the American-bombed Phnom Penh area near Vietnam in an ambush Wednesday. He was shot in the leg and was reported to be in stable condition.

Lebanon officials closed the country's air bases to all military flight traffic Wednesday, the day after the Israeli raids.

Ex-CIA covert agent to face spy charges

WASHINGTON (UPI) - A former CIA agent who worked as the agency's covert intelligence section is suspended without pay after U.S. officials discovered he sold classified information to a Russian agent.

The American, who was employed as a Soviet agent, was later caught by U.S. agents and was arrested.

The man, identified as the suspect, was David Lee, 32, a former CIA agent who had been involved in the case and was under surveillance at the time of the arrest. He was among the first to be arrested.

Russell was convicted of espionage, a federal crime punishable by up to 10 years in prison.

'Similar handwriting' on extortion: detective

STATELINE, Nev. (UPI) - The handwriting on the water; the extortion note, was so similar to the handwriting from the letter to the Army.

Griffiths, the man who had sold classified information to a Soviet agent, was later caught by U.S. agents and was arrested.

China-U.S. grain deal: $1 billion to farmers

PONDS RAISED IN U.S. - A large U.S. wheat farmer is expected to sell one million tons of wheat to China, with the estimated value of more than $1 billion, according to sources in Washington, D.C.

China is expected to purchase wheat from the United States, with the possibility of increasing the purchase to as much as three million tons.

Quoted...

I stated real guilty complaining about it, but the story was just too much to bear. The words were being used in a way that was not fair. I do not feel comfortable with the situation, page 3.
Sign controversy may drive Osco out of new Old Capitol mall lease

Amendment to lower police pay

By Karl Cannon

A proposal by Des Moines police union president, agreed with local and state labor leaders to lower police pay is being fought by a local police union, and the local union president, President David T. Stuckey, leading a group of local leaders, is seeking a contractual agreement for a raise in local union dues.

We're going to show the prisoners how it's not like a commercial, said Johnson, a senior theater department student, who originally got the idea for the sign.

For the mall's developer, Old Capitol Associates — owned by the Des Moines-based company that might open the store at the mall — the sign could be a major marketing advantage.

"Don't know what we're going to do with Osco," Johnson said. "I've been in touch with them to let them know we might not approve their sign.

Johnson and Old Capitol Associates and review the group's requests before issuing it. If the sign is approved, Johnson said, the group will let Osco know when it's ready.

The sign is the first of four planned for Old Capitol Associates, which owns the mall, and is the first of its kind for the mall.

We've never had an issue like this before," Johnson said.

"Our goal is to have Osco approved for the sign," he said. "We're still working with them to make sure they understand the issue.

We don't want them to think we're trying to stop them from opening, Johnson said. "We just want them to understand that we're not going to approve it unless they meet our conditions.

We've got a lot of concerns about the sign, Johnson said. "We're not going to let them do it if we don't think it's right.

We're going to review the sign and make sure it's in line with what we want," Johnson said. "We want to make sure it's not going to be a problem.

We're not going to let them do it if we don't think it's right," Johnson said. "We're going to make sure it's in line with what we want."
Illusion of Arab unity is casualty of gulf war

By Thomas L. Friedman

United Press International

The old adage that the first casualty of war is truth is now truer than ever. The second casualties, then, are Arab unity and the Arab role in the Middle East. As in the Lebanese civil war, an international conflict that preserved the Arab world, the gulf war has demonstrated the divisions between Arab countries.

UPU analysis

Moderate regimes and those sworn in agree that their much-cherished deal of Arab unity was broken. Thanks in part to RDZ’s help in the Persian Gulf

... all research articles of Arab unity circles that have been published. The research output of greater or lesser degrees are Jordan, Saudi Arabia, and the United Arab Emirates. Some Pearl Gulf States that feel they

... not act in a vacuum — in part they are also involved in the u.s. “war” in the world, widening the strategic options. Some share their American and British security interests.

... the Yasir Arafat has not warred on the world since those political events that brings him to prominence among the local Alabard, and above all the Arab world.

... the idea that the Arab world would unite in the gulf war is one of the greater myths of the war.

... the political myth of modern Arab leaders has been the illusion that Arab unity would result from a common enemy, the Jewish state. But mon

... but the dream of a nation that draws on the linguistic, religious and ethnic minorities that has been the Arab world to the outside.

... the French are absurd! And Fry could be likened to King Albert does not suggest

... the regent that the absurdity of the existential un

... the universe no more of the Fry could be likened to King

... the universe no more.

... the universe. The Fry could be likened to King

... the absurdity of the existential un

... and the Fry could be likened to King.

... the universe no more.

... the Fry could be likened to King.

... the absurdity of the existential un

... the Fry could be likened to King.

... the absurdity of the existential un

... the universe no more.

... the Fry could be likened to King.

... the absurdity of the existential un

... the Fry could be likened to King.

... the absurdity of the existential un

... the Fry could be likened to King.

... the absurdity of the existential un

... the Fry could be likened to King.

... the absurdity of the existential un

... the Fry could be likened to King.

... the absurdity of the existential un

... the Fry could be likened to King.

... the absurdity of the existential un

... the Fry could be likened to King.

... the absurdity of the existential un

... the Fry could be likened to King.

... the absurdity of the existential un

... the Fry could be likened to King.

... the absurdity of the existential un

... the Fry could be likened to King.

... the absurdity of the existential un

... the Fry could be likened to King.

... the absurdity of the existential un

... the Fry could be likened to King.

... the absurdity of the existential un

... the Fry could be likened to King.

... the absurdity of the existential un

... the Fry could be likened to King.

... the absurdity of the existential un

... the Fry could be likened to King.

... the absurdity of the existential un

... the Fry could be likened to King.

... the absurdity of the existential un

... the Fry could be likened to King.

... the absurdity of the existential un

... the Fry could be likened to King.

... the absurdity of the existential un

... the Fry could be likened to King.

... the absurdity of the existential un

... the Fry could be likened to King.

... the absurdity of the existential un

... the Fry could be likened to King.

... the absurdity of the existential un

... the Fry could be likened to King.

... the absurdity of the existential un

... the Fry could be likened to King.

... the absurdity of the existential un

... the Fry could be likened to King.

... the absurdity of the existential un

... the Fry could be likened to King.

... the absurdity of the existential un

... the Fry could be likened to King.

... the absurdity of the existential un

... the Fry could be likened to King.

... the absurdity of the existential un

... the Fry could be likened to King.

... the absurdity of the existential un

... the Fry could be likened to King.
Williams appointed civil rights activist

By Liz Wheeler

Phyllis A. Williams of Iowa City has been appointed the new Iowa City civil rights specialist, effective Oct. 1, according to Assistant City Manager Neal Williams.

Williams, 28, will replace Sophie Swords, who resigned Aug. 15, after 2 1/2 years with the city. Swords was named civil rights specialist in May 1980.

"I'm pleased," City Manager Neal Williams said of the appointment. "He's in the ballpark of relevant professional experience."

"He's in the community for one thing, so he's familiar with the city and the long tradition of the city staff," Williams continued. "I've met him, and we'll be pleased that he has someone walk the talk of Almquist Business Enterprises and will support the department in that area."

Williams moved to Iowa City two years ago from Chicago, and currently works in the Legal Research Clinic at the University of Iowa College of Law.

"We're excited to have him," said Assistant Professor Mark Honzel, President of the Iowa State Bar Foundation.

"I have known him for a long time, and he's got the kind of experience that we need," Williams continued. "He's got a great deal of relevant professional experience."
Barfuss wants to control in the policies that affect his life

By Cindy Schwind

"I'm not sure if I want to be mayor anymore," said Barfuss. "I feel like I don't have control over the policies that affect my life."

The candidates for the Johnson County Board of Supervisors are vying to be the ones who can make the biggest impact in the county. Barfuss, who is running for a second term, said he doesn't have much say in the decisions that are made.

"I don't think anyone, not even my close friends, wanted to be mayor," said Barfuss. "I've been running for three terms and I never really had the time to do anything."
View of the War, photographer unknown.

Image 1: War Scene

A panoramic view of a war scene, possibly a battlefield or a city under siege. The image captures the chaos and intensity of war, with soldiers in action and destruction in the background.

---

Image 2: Nexus Needed

A diagram or flowchart illustrating the concept of "Nexus Needed," likely related to a strategic or operational plan, showing connections and pathways between different elements.

---

Image 3: The DCM Time Wins

A chart or graph showing the "The DCM Time Wins" concept, possibly related to time management or productivity improvements.

---

Image 4: I.C. Airport Gets Hangar Bids

A visual representation of an airport hangar bid process, showing the bidding process and the selection criteria.

---

Image 5: Re-elect Lloyd-Jones

A poster or banner for re-electing Lloyd Jones, likely featuring his campaign logo and slogan.

---

Image 6: BIVOUAC'S 10th Anniversary

A commemorative image celebrating BIVOUAC's 10th anniversary, possibly showing a beach scene with celebratory elements.

---

Image 7: Zephyr Copies

A poster for Zephyr Copies, showcasing their services and features, possibly with contact information and special offers.

---

Image 8: Images for the '80s

A collection of images representative of the 1980s, possibly including fashion, music, technology, and cultural icons from that era.
Downtown

City Manager Rob Kelly forecasted downtown's robust growth.

"The city will continue to attract businesses that serve the public," he said. "It is a 12-month plan, and we're working toward it."

Donald Scully, the city's zoning administrator, said permits for new businesses are up by 200 percent, compared to the same period last year. Other newcomers include a law firm of Phelan, Tucker, Boyle and Anderson.

New Businesses in Downtown

- Phelan, Tucker, Boyle and Anderson: A prominent law firm relocated to the Old City Center, occupying units 2 through 7 of the building.
- Lenox: A clothing store opened in the plaza, occupying units 1 through 4.
- State Bank of Dubuque: A new branch opened in the Old City Center.

Changes in Downtown Business

- Sumu: A clothing store relocated to the Old City Center.
- Dubuque Flower Shop: A florist relocated to the Old City Center.
- Osco Drug: A pharmacy relocated to the Old City Center.

Vacancy in Downtown

- Tennant: A local business vacated its space in the Old City Center. The store's owner, Donald Summ, reported that the store will consider relocating to the Old City Center.

---

The Daily Iowaan

EARN $800 A MONTH

During Your Junior and Senior Years

You can earn a scholarship of up to $800 per month if you meet our qualifications:
- GPA 3.0 or above
- One year of calculus and physics
- Less than 28 years old and a U.S. citizen

Send resume and transcript to:
ENGINEERING DIVISION DEPARTMENT OF THE NAVY OR CALL (COLLECT)
ROB HANSEN
400 S. Clinton
General Delivery
Iowa City, Iowa
(319) 336-9358

---

Deposit $500 now and in 30 months we'll give you $665.69

Invest in a 5000 DC-20 month Certificate of Deposit during the period of Oct. 16 - Oct. 23 and we'll give you $565.69 as a bonus. This investment will earn an annualized return of 11.50%

This new certificate offers you the opportunity to receive a higher return than ever before on a 20 month time deposit! The rate is based on the money market rate of 2.5% Year 11 security. You will receive the yield during the period in which you purchase the certificate and will earn the same throughout the 20 month investment period. Interest is compounded daily. This certificate requires a 2000 minimum deposit and is not automatically renewed.

Early withdrawal may result in a substantial penalty.
UI Art Museum gains De Kooning’s ‘Labyrinth’

By Judith Green
Automation Editor

The UI Museum of Art’s central exhibition space has been reinstalled and rehung this month, with De Kooning’s sculpture “Labyrinth” (1944-45) in one of its spots. The 40-foot-high, 11-foot-wide sculpture, which had been loaned to the museum by the artist, has returned to its permanent space at the museum. The exhibition, which opened Oct. 26, is part of the museum’s ongoing series of exhibitions featuring major works by living artists.

De Kooning, who was born in 1904 and died in 1997, was one of the leading figures of abstract expressionism. His work is characterized by its dynamic, improvisational style and its exploration of themes such as energy, chaos, and the human psyche. “Labyrinth,” which is one of De Kooning’s best-known works, is a large, abstract composition that features bold shapes and bright colors. It was created during the later part of De Kooning’s career, when he lived and worked in the United States.

The museum’s exhibition of De Kooning’s work is part of a larger effort to showcase the diversity and strength of the museum’s collection. It also highlights the museum’s commitment to presenting major works by living artists.

In addition to “Labyrinth,” the exhibition includes other works by De Kooning, such as “Maiden’s Dance” (1955), which features a large, abstract composition that features bold shapes and bright colors. It was created during the later part of De Kooning’s career, when he lived and worked in the United States.

The exhibition is open to the public through Dec. 15, and it is free to all visitors. It is part of the museum’s ongoing series of exhibitions featuring major works by living artists. The museum is open Tuesday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., and on Sunday from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.
Chinese group to perform at UI

Traditional Chinese song and dance comes to G.U. bill when the Youth Goodwill Museum of China will present its program at Mac-

This performance is part of the Illinois-Zhejiang Cultural Exchange that began last year. A Chinese film and a concert of Chinese music and dance have previously been presented at the University.

Adventures in Chinese Songs and Dances is a dynamic presentation of traditional Chinese songs and dances, and the national pride in the early Chinese settlers of the United States is still alive today.

McQueen is responding to cancer therapy

SAN FRANCISCO - A 3-year-old who said Wednesday was a victim of leukaemia, a form of cancer that affects the bone marrow, is now receiving in hospital.

Budapest Holocaust Museum

The Budapest Holocaust Museum and Research Center was opened on July 27, 1975, in Budapest, Hungary. It is a museum dedicated to the history of the Holocaust in Hungary and the experiences of its Jewish community during World War II.

The museum features permanent exhibitions, interactive displays, and educational programs. It is housed in the former Palace of the Hungarian Academy of Sciences, which was occupied by the Nazis during the war. The building served as a concentration camp and Jewish ghetto for most of the war.

The museum's mission is to preserve the memory of the Holocaust, promote tolerance, and educate visitors about the importance of remembering and preventing such atrocities from happening again.

The museum is located at 54 Andrássy Avenue, 1068 Budapest, Hungary. It is open daily from 10 am to 6 pm. Admission is free, but donations are encouraged.

The museum is a place of healing, reflection, and remembrance, and it serves as a reminder of the atrocities committed during the Holocaust and the importance of never letting such events happen again.

Visit the museum's website for more information on exhibitions, hours, and accessibility.

The museum is also home to the Budapest Holocaust Memorial, which honors the memory of the Jews who perished in Hungary during the Holocaust.

Remembering the past, honoring the present, and safeguarding the future, the Budapest Holocaust Museum is a powerful reminder of the past and a call for action in the present.
Sportsclubs

Runners: to your mark, get set for I.C. marathon

By Candace Reynolds

The annual Iowa City Marathon will be held Sat. 5:30 a.m. at the Iowa City Recreation Center. There are three races for runners of different skill levels: 6.2 miles, 13.1 miles and the full 26.2-mile marathon. There will be both a men’s and women’s division for each category.

The top three finishers in each age division will receive medals. Bibs for those who enter by Sept. 15 are guaranteed. Registration will be held at the Recreation Center from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. until Sept. 16. For more information, call (319) 351-3330.

IU Soccer Club

The Iowa City Athletic Club and IU Recreational Services will sponsor an adult soccer Saturday, noon. Registrations are due by 10 a.m. Saturday.

IU Rugby Club

The IU Rugby Club defended Newton, 14-13 , giving the club a 6-2 record for the season. The 14-13 win ended Newton’s 13-1 season record. The next game is scheduled for Oct. 12 against Indiana University.

League meeting frustrating for soccer owners

TORONTO (UPI) — North American Soccer league owners, frustrated at an inability to control the league’s mediator in labor disputes, have voted to dissolve the league with immediate effect.

A mediator in the last five years has been chosen to help control the league’s mediators and allows the owners to vote on whether or not they want to dissolve the league.

The league has been in existence since 1934 and is controlled by owners who are members of the league’s management committee.

It is not known if the league will try to dissolve itself in any other way.

In the proposed changes, the owners would be given greater control over the league’s operations and would be able to control the league’s future.

The owners would also be able to control the league’s message and set the rules for the league.

The league has been struggling for years to keep going and owners have been discussing the possibility of dissolving the league.

Soccer owners, frustrated at an inability to control the league’s mediators in labor disputes, have voted to dissolve the league with immediate effect.

The league has been in existence since 1934 and is controlled by owners who are members of the league’s management committee.

It is not known if the league will try to dissolve itself in any other way.
Novice lacrosse players gain fall experience

By Claude Raymond

Staff Writer

The 1977-78 fall semester marks the first time in three years the Pagans, women's flag football team, has failed to make the championship game. As the Hawkeyes' first loss this season and marks the first time in three years they beat Phi Pi, the Pagans ended the fall season to get a little steam up for pilot training. No. 2 Carroll Hawkeyes were knocked out of the spring of 1977 with 14 members. By that time, the group had 12 players remaining and a 4-1 record.

The Pagans start the season in an enclosed building at the farm, the group is within a 300-mile radius. Most team members hail from the Great Plains Lacrosse Association. The new players made many of the group are within a 300-mile radius. Most team members hail from the Great Plains Lacrosse Association.
DeWane picks Iowa despite expert advice from former coach

By Forrest伍尔考德

Iowa's Wendy DeWane was a prodigal hockey player at Purdue before deciding to return to her home state to play for the Iowa Hawkeyes. Her selection was a surprise to many, especially the hockey experts who had predicted she would choose a more established program.

"When I HAVE a high school coach who is a former player in the college game, I know you have the most advanced knowledge of the young player in the role of the coaching," said the Hawkeyes' head coach, Dave Donavan. "I knew this program had the creativity, the coaching and the experience the young player needs to succeed in the game." DeWane had previously played for Donavan at Cornell University.

In the end, DeWane chose Iowa because she liked the academic and athletic environment. She and her family were excited about the opportunity to live in the heart of the Hawkeye country.

"I wanted to try living in the heart of the nation," said DeWane. "I am very grateful for the opportunity to return to Iowa and contribute to the team's success."
City wild about new baseball champs

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Thousands of fans in Philadelphia Tuesday night, the World Series champion the biggest reception the club has had since it won the 1915 World Series during a championship parade sponsored by the Fourth of July and the New Year's Day's all-weather championships of Philadelphia, the World Series champions.

The huge parade, which included 15 floats, a band, the team's fans, a drill team and other special groups made its way through the streets of Philadelphia, with the players riding on the back of a large truck.

The players, all dressed in their uniforms, were greeted by hundreds of fans who lined the streets to see them. The parade lasted for about an hour, and the fans were visibly happy and excited.

The Phillies, who beat the Kansas City Royals to win the World Series, were celebrated by a huge crowd of fans who lined the streets to see them. The players rode on a large truck, and the fans cheered and applauded them.

The Philadelphia front office believes this is the most important event since the team won the World Series in 1980. The team has been rebuilding for several years, and this victory was a huge boost for the franchise.

The victory parade was filled with excitement and joy, and the fans were grateful for the team's hard work and dedication. The Phillies have been a competitive team for several years, and this victory was a huge reward for their efforts.

The team's victory parade was a huge event, and the fans were thrilled to see their team celebrated in this way. The parade was filled with music, cheerleaders, and special guests, and it was a truly unforgettable experience for everyone involved.