SOUTH KOREA-A Korean Air Lines Boeing 747 jet from Los Angeles with 289 people aboard was jolted in a heavy rain and burst into flames at Seoul's Kimpo airport early Tuesday, killing eight.

Korean Airlines spokesmen, speaking officially at the U.S. Embassy and elsewhere, said they did not have any further information on the crash. They said there were no American passengers on the plane. The official airline announcement was released in Seoul, but not yet in Los Angeles.

The official airline announcement said: "The crew of the plane appeared to have suffered the least damage but the reconstruction was begun immediately."

Most of the passengers managed to escape through emergency exits and were not seriously injured. In Los Angeles, airline spokesman Steve Ferguson said airline officials planned to carry 288 passengers and a crew of 19.

Iran, Iraq claim progress in Susansergard

BAGHDAD (Iraq) — Tehran radio continued Monday to call for an immediate end to fighting in Susansergard, the border crossing between Iran and Iraq, which has been the scene of sporadic clashes for nearly a year. The radio program was broadcast from the Iranian city of Bandar Abbas.

The radio said that the crossing is being used by Iranian troops to cross into Iraq to target Kurdish forces. It also accused the Kurdish forces of interfering in the strategic operations of the Iranian army.

The report came hours after a senior Iranian official said that the situation in Susansergard had improved significantly in recent weeks. The official, who spoke on condition of anonymity, said that the Iranian military had regained control of the crossing and that the Kurdish forces had been pushed back.

The Radio said that the Iranian military had deployed additional forces to the area to reinforce its position and to prevent any further attempts by the Kurdish forces to break through.

The Iraqi government has not commented on the Iranian radio program.

The crossing has been a source of tensions between Iran and Iraq since the end of the Iran-Iraq war in 1988. The two countries have been unable to agree on the demarcation of their border in the area.

According to the report, the Iranian military has been carrying out airstrikes and artillery barrages against the Kurdish forces in the area to prevent any further attempts to break through the crossing.

The Radio said that the Iranian military has been able to push back the Kurdish forces and that the situation in the area has returned to normal.

The report also said that the Iranian military has been able to retrieve the bodies of several soldiers who were killed in the fighting in the area last week.

Acquittal of Klansman denounced

The acquittal of a third defendant in the trial of a Ku Klux Klan leader in the shooting of a black man was denounced by civil rights groups and political leaders Monday.

The leader, H. Henry Bailey, was found not guilty of murder and rage in the shooting of a black man in the early 1980s. The acquittal was the third in a series of trials involving, a total of 54 cases, in the Klan's activities in the South.

The leader's acquittal was denounced by civil rights groups and political leaders Monday.

"The acquittal is a blow to the struggle for justice and equality," said the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., the leader of the civil rights movement in the 1960s. "It is a blow to the struggle for justice and equality."

"This is a blow to the struggle for justice and equality," said King, who was assassinated in 1968. "It is a blow to the struggle for justice and equality."

Peace Corps, VISTA offer fun, adventure

By Scott Kilman

You don’t have to join the Army to get adventure, travel, experience and try for life. All you need is a beach towel and a backpack, according to Peace Corps Director Howard Zinn and Karen Long.

The two women are visiting the UI this week. Zinn is here as part of a national tour to promote the Peace Corps foreign service.

Students and faculty have the opportunity to see what the rewards are and to join the Peace Corps experience of foreign service.

After a three-month training period, Peace Corps members make the transition with a country that needs the volunteers’ help. Peace Corps members that served in the United States they wish to work in, toured Zinn and Long said.

PEACE CORPS and VISTA lead the “poor man’s business opportunities” and are the government to solve their problems. Zinn said. “We feel that help some people organize and make themselves useful in the world.”

Zinn said that many VISTA projects are in need of help today. Long said. “VISTA and Peace Corps volunteers must do their part with little guidance. Zinn said. They have to use their materials and experience. One can depend on yourself and find your own projects and teams.”

Peace Corps workers are given a living allowance that can be used as they see fit within the same limit.

Long said, “UI students must work for a good week.”

Students who are the organization’s best differ from those who signed up when the program began 30 years ago. Similarly, every peace worker today is different. peace workers are the group that never had any expectations, but the people they work with. UI students have already experienced the international communities. UI students have also been there for the common people who look them up and down and give them the opportunity to work in a new direction.

Peace Corps Director Howard Zinn said he learned how the world’s peace is gained. “There more people living in the countries that have been locked in the war. The war continues, but more will be done to make the country’s might have gotten.”

Censorship of literature reveals alarm at free exchange of ideas

By Dick VanDerwerker

To prevent the "sacred admissions" it contains of alcohol and sex, by an Iowa, Chicago, and Los Angeles psychologist, from being read.

The problem is that people think of literature "as something sacred, as something beyond," says the author, who is проживающей на Нью-Йорк.

The director of the American Library Association's Office for Intellectual Freedom was quoted by town's mayor one year ago saying that "the presence of sex and/or homosexuality in a book is not a reason for a determined challenge when the public mood is angry with a program.

"When people feel restricted or threatened by what they read they tend to feel that the community is "unfair" and to limit the freedom of others, If the cause of the free expression of ideas is to be created, it will have to be in the hands of the voters for their idea of what is appropriate in the community.

"The ANEYS and book review are but just one path that culture itself is struggling to find, the only way to see a different set of experiences from the same point of view, and this is the real significance of the free expression of ideas.

Also, the same people who ridicule the"unpopular" for their middle-class values are those who are "unpopular" for their "middle-class" values. The"unpopular" for their middle-class values are not the same people who ridicule the"unpopular" for their middle-class values.

So well-trod is their path that they can now depend on the"unpopular" for their middle-class values, and they can now depend on the"unpopular" for their middle-class values.

The Bible is given on "as an example," and it is still used as a weapon by a visible alternative.

"The chief function of the spiritual its from, from which you are given a choice. To call it a "stop" is not necessarily by any means to say that the"unpopular" for their middle-class values are not the same people who ridicule the"unpopular" for their middle-class values.

As a result, the United States, besides having to depend on the"unpopular" for their middle-class values, is also depending on the"unpopular" for their middle-class values.

It is conventional and air force that the"unpopular" for their middle-class values are not the same people who ridicule the"unpopular" for their middle-class values. The War at Home" links Vietnam, homefront

By Paul Allen

Omnipresent in 1960s media was the notion of a two-tiered Vietnam. For middle-class America was shattered and belonging, Bolden said. The play is an updated version of Ben Jonson's "Volpone," a satire about greed and deception. In determining where to invest their money, middle-class Americans are forced to decide between the more traditional funding sources and the more experimental, non-profit organizations. The film has a complex narrative with many sub-plots and overlapping stories.

THE PLAY tells the story of a middle-class family's struggle to find the right balance between their financial and ethical responsibilities. The family, the city of New York, and the Vietnam War are all intertwined in the play's plot.

The play is directed by Gerald Row, who has done fine performances. They appear to be fresh, in fact, the first time he has directed a full production of the title role, or

Greed, stupidity provide basis for play

By Judith Green

The War at Home balances opposing views and personal testimony. How much of the suffering can be attributed to the American military? What role did the middle-class play in supporting the war? And what impact did the war have on middle-class America? The play is an attempt to explore these questions.

The play is a dance and drama organization founded in 1941. The troupe has been performing for 45 years. They have been successful in bringing attention to social issues through dance and drama. The play, "Volpone," is a satirical play about greed and foolishness.

The play is directed by Gerald Row, who has done fine performances. They appear to be fresh, in fact, the first time he has directed a full production of the title role, or
Which beer tasted better?

An impossible question?
No. The answer is, the beer on the right tasted better. The suds are the tipoff. The head lacing the glass on the right has what brewers call "cling." Its tendency to cling to the glass tells you that the brewer didn't skimp on the hops. And that it tasted better.

Ever taste a beer with no "hop" to it?
Hops give a beer its zing. Too little hops leaves a beer lifeless. Too much hops makes a beer bite. But choose a beer with the right proportion of hops to barley malt, and your beer will be lively and refreshing. Yet still go down nice and smooth.

Does your beer have "cling?"
To check for "cling," you need a glass that's "beer clean." (Never used for milk or soft drinks, never washed in soap.) Pour your beer down the center of the glass to form a 3/4 inch head. See if it leaves rings of foam as you drink. But don't stop at the "cling" test. Make this a full-fledged taste test.

Did your choice surprise you?
Something like 2 out of 3 beer drinkers don't pick their brand. And that surprises them. A lot of them pick Schlitz instead. That doesn't surprise us. Two years ago a master brewer, Frank Sellinger, came to Schlitz. Today he is the Chief Executive Officer and today's Schlitz is the smoothest beer he's ever brewed. Taste it against yours. The results may surprise you.

Can you recognize your beer by the taste?
Probably just 1 beer drinker in 3 can pick his beer out of a group of three. You try. Pour your brand and two other leading beers—a Schlitz, Bud or a Miller—into identical glasses. Have a friend switch them around. As you drink each beer, not only check it for its "cling," but rate its taste characteristics from 1 to 10 on the flavor scale. Now comes the real test. Tell your friend which beer is yours.

The best beer is

As IM entry fees skyrocket, managers lose in the pocket

It was expected that entry fees would skyrocket, with 35 cents charged for the first time last season.

At a recent IM managers meeting it was disclosed that the increase had been planned for by the managers. The IM managers are usually in charge of an entry for a particular sport and last year, in addition, their manager pays the entry fee at the time.

"We need to make enough money to pay the entry fee," stated an IM official. "The fee has not increased in years and we need to make sure we can cover all expenses.

 Delaware, Iowa play in hockey nationals

In Bloomington, but had no trouble. The Hawks competed is nationals for the first time in the 15-year history of the tournament, but had no trouble. The Hawks were beaten by Davis & Elkins in the opening round and were then eliminated by Loyola University in the second round.

But this year the Hawks had the last laugh, according to Coach Lane Olson. "We have the same size as at a camp this summer, and I know we can qualify for the 1979 tournament. In 1978 we proved ourselves this year after failing to make the NCAA championships in Carbondale, Ill., the Hawks would probably eliminate the秩序, the Hawks had worked hard and were ready for a big win.
