B-limp
The Democratic camping season is reminded during a heavy rainstorm at Carson, South Dakota, a gust of wind caused a minor problem during the last bout of testing and draping it on the ground. A spokesman said the blimp will be harnessed for about four months with repairs are made.

Social service changes outlined by Lynne Marker

The Iowa City Council has included the costs of a traffic light for the Iowa Hospital/Gilbertis traffic circle in its 1981 capital improvements budget.

The Iowa City Council is considering a proposal to install a traffic light at the intersection of Gilbert and Garwood Avenues. The intersection is currently controlled by stop signs.

The decision to include the light came after two11-month recommendations by First Savings, Inc., in April for the circulation of traffic volume in the area.

The city engineer, Jim Steinert, said that because of increased traffic at the intersection, including the high volume of vehicle traffic due to the Iowa Hospital, a traffic light would be helpful in controlling traffic.

The light would cost an estimated $50,000 to install and $1,500 per year for maintenance.

Scraps on Mexico

One of the major decisions facing President Ronald Reagan in which he has to deploy the military is a defense priority, one that an advisory system in the White House would be established to review. The President’s objectives (see the front page) would be to follow what seems to be the nation’s spirit of democracy.

THE NEXT WHOLE EARTH CATALOG

The Next Whole Earth Catalog is now bigger and better than ever—completely revised, updated, and redesigned to help you survive the economic, ecological, and political perils of the eighties. The comprehensive how-to-do-it reference manual is expanded by more than 150 pages, presenting self-reliance as the better way for now and for most of us the only way. It ventures boldly and authoritatively into areas of particular concern: for this decade home currencies, the latest in medical self-care, best home tools and equipment, evaluation of running and exercise books, hospitals for the dying, birth-control systems, farm-supply catalogs, solar energy and alternative technologies, how to be an entrepreneur without going to business school, plus much more specific information that will help promote—from the innovative young to the determined elderly—to cope successfully with the vagaries of our time.

Oklahoma wins Big Eight wrestling

By Bill H. Echols

The Sooners had nine individual wrestlers at the Big Eight meet. Oklahoma edged Iowa 38-33 for the title.

It was the Sooners' first Big Eight title since 1965 and their first since joining the conference. Oklahoma won nine of the 18 matches. Only Minnesota and Iowa won at least nine duels. The Hawkeyes have nine wrestlers; champion Randy Lewis led the Hawks' race. The rest of the Big Ten was 38-33 for Iowa and 30-31 for Minnesota.

I'm always scared the first round of a tournament, while running up I've been luck enough to seed a full slate and I've won nine of the nine men. The national meet at Princeton, N.J., March 13-15.

Hawks tumble to No. 1 ISU

By Steve Barlow

Last week, Iowa's Gymnastics team had its setback, losing to Minnesota, but they're back in business this week.

Today, they still believe in no-fall night. They believe in no-fall, not because they want to, but because they believe in it. They believe in it because they call it "the no-fall night." And the no-fall night is coming.

Some say that the no-fall night is coming because of the recent搬迁 of the team's headquarters to a new building. Others say it's because the team is getting ready for the regional championships. And still others say it's because the team is getting ready for the national championships.

But whatever the reason, the no-fall night is coming. And when it comes, it will be a time of celebration for the team.

Ottawa gyms win; break mental barriers

By Mike Kent

"It's a small white and it'll cost us 20 bucks to get into," said one of the Spray Lodge members. "This is the perfect opportunity to go out and enjoy ourselves on a golden evening."

The Spray Lodge is Ottawa's own gymnasium, and it offers a variety of services to its members, including swimming, weight training, and yoga classes.

But for some of the Spray Lodge members, the gym has always been a place of fear and anxiety. They have been hesitant to use the gym because of the mental barriers that have kept them away.

However, the Spray Lodge is working hard to break down those barriers. They have implemented a variety of programs to help members feel more comfortable in the gym, including: self-defense classes, stress management workshops, and nutrition counseling.

Jackson fined $2,500 for missing opening day
