Another UI prof to leave this year
By Rachelle Boon Newte
The University of Iowa has reached an agreement in principle with June H. Thomas, Iowa’s head women’s tennis coach, that will result in her leaving the university next spring. Her coaching responsibilities will be split between the women’s baseball and women’s tennis programs.

Sherry Smith has been the head women’s tennis coach at the University for the past four years. Because of the university’s agreement with the NCAA, she is not eligible to sign professional tennis players.

Linda Schuppenhet's comments are as follows:

Office supplies

Office supplies are necessary additional to any office. There are a few, however, that are used more often than others. The ULI Liberal Arts Student Association, which represents the interests of artists and students, recently went on a spending spree, buying 2,500 staples, 1,000 paper reamers, 200 ink pens and 100 yards of cotton, according to a tally presented by the club president. Some other members of student government are understandably upset.

"Their attitude was to spend money, and they went out and did it," said Davis Jones, president of the Collegian Association Council, which allocated $400 to LAA last year for material expenses.

The group had $28 left before making the recent purchases. However, it was not clear how much of the group's spending was deliberate or minimal, or how much of the materials were used to replace old supplies. Some of the students who attended the meeting expressed concern about the large amount of money spent on the supplies.

"It's just a waste of money," said one student. "I don't see how we can justify spending that much on office supplies."

FBI men pardoned for break-in cases

By Susan Eisenhower

United Press International

WASHINGTON — President Reagan Wednesday pardoned W. Mark Felt and a former FBI agent.

The pardon was lifted in response to the request of FBI director William Webster, who said the pardon was in the interest of national security.

The two men had been sentenced in 1972 to 10 years in jail for their roles in the Watergate conspiracy.

The pardon was officially signed by Reagan Wednesday, and for the Felt, the pardon was submitted to the Justice Department for review and recommendation in 1979.

The pardon was in the interest of national security, according to the FBI director.

The Iowa Press Association's 1981 'Newspaper of the Year'

The Iowa Press Association's "Newspaper of the Year" award — its most prestigious honor — is given each year to one of its 41 member dailies or 341 member weeklies. This year it was awarded to The Daily Iowan.

Our congratulations to all the reporters, editors and photographers who made it possible. We're particularly pleased that every part of the newspaper was cited for excellence — the city and university staffs for their coverage of education, local government, and the environment; Arts/Entertainment Editor Judith Green for her "Footnotes" column; the editorial page staff for the quality of locally written editorials, for the overall editorial page; and columnist Eric Grevstad for his weekly musings; the sports staff for its overall section; and the photography staff for its work on sports and features. And we are especially proud of former City Editor Tom Drury, Marianne Sacco, Elisa Maire and Don Lewis for their story on the scoring of the Texas basic skills tests, judged the year's best news story.

We're proud of these awards, all part of a 113-year tradition of excellence. In the past 10 years alone, DI staff members have moved on to such prestigious newspapers as The New York Times, The Wall Street Journal, The Miami Herald, The Dallas Morning News, and The Des Moines Register and Tribune. This year's award also marks the second time the DI has been named Newspaper of the Year — 1976 was the first. And it comes on top of being named outstanding college newspaper in the Midwest region two years in a row by Sigma Delta Chi, the Society of Professional Journalists. There are 11 regional winners in the nation.

So we take these results as a sign that we are on the right track — at least in the eyes of the professionals who judge the contests. We will continue to work hard at what we've set out to do: report what is happening at the UI and in Iowa City, explain why, and help readers understand what the impact will be on their lives.

And all this for just a dime.
New surgery care unit unveiled at UI Hospitals

By Elizabeth Flaherty

A new 2-story surgery care unit has been opened at the University of Iowa Hospitals & Clinics, providing a different level of care for patients needing surgery.

The unit includes an operating room, two post-anesthesia care units, a critical care unit, a recovery area, and a family waiting area.

"This is a significant step forward in our ability to provide high-quality care for our patients," said Dr. John Borland, chief of surgery.

The unit is designed to meet the needs of patients requiring complex surgical procedures, including those involving the heart, lungs, and kidneys.

"We are excited to offer this level of care to our patients," said Dr. Susan Heeren, chief of the department of surgery.

The unit also features state-of-the-art technology, including cardiac monitoring and advanced imaging devices.

"We are committed to providing the best possible care for our patients," said Dr. Heeren.

The unit is the result of a $5 million gift from the John and Mary Pappajohn foundation.

"We are grateful for the support of the Pappajohn family," said Dr. Borland.

The unit is located on the third floor of the Main Clinic Building.

"This is a major milestone in our efforts to provide the best possible care for our patients," said Dr. Heeren.
Five decapitated in El Salvador

By John Washington
United Press International

ALBA SALDARIA, El Salvador - Authorities Wednesday identified three heads that were severed from the bodies of three unknown men and pan fried to a tortilla over a fire in rural El Salvador, where the men had been shot to death.

The men were identified as Edmundo Osorio, 28, Idabel Osorio, 28, and Lucio Antonio Gomez, 26, all members of the Christian Democratic movement.

The heads were identified by theosmos. Christ was not displeased with the progress of the negotiations mediated by Tehran Radio gave no details of the location of underground facilities. Bani-5adr's supporters retaliated with the agreement in a charge that Iran had enough gold reserves and the wrath of Iran, which warned its government will continue to press for the release of the 52 American hostages. Bani-5adr's supporters retaliated with the agreement in a charge that Iran had enough gold reserves and the wrath of Iran, which warned its government will continue to press for the release of the 52 American hostages.

Michael Hestner and Mark David Fischer, representatives of the Iranian government, and John Paul Vincent of El Salvador's national finance and the United Nations, said Thursday they had reached an agreement in a charge that Iran had enough gold reserves and the wrath of Iran, which warned its government will continue to press for the release of the 52 American hostages.

Fischer said the government of El Salvador supplied information about Christ that led to his current arrest. A Defense Ministry spokesman said, "It is not advisable to comment on the investigation of the murder of the three men."

El Salvador, which has a strong military and police force, arrested 165 suspects late Tuesday in the case of the three men. The investigation is being carried out "on the assumption of the most extreme hypothesis of the possibility that the three men were decapitated in a ritual or ritual-like ceremony," spokesman said.

The security ministry said it had received a report that the men had been decapitated and that the heads had been placed on a metal rail in the street. The bodies were found in the city of San Salvador, where the men had been shot to death.

A Defense Ministry spokesman said, "It is not advisable to comment on the investigation of the murder of the three men."

In El Salvador, the men had been shot to death in a single apartment in a noisy, crowded, crime-ridden area of the city.

Clustering

Harper added that the "natural" concern is that the Northeast Fron tozone will not move as much because "the grant was originally made to the College of Liberal Arts." The Southeast Fron tozone, on the other hand, has a higher grant program score and is expected to move more. The study will continue to monitor the clusters and provide updates on their performance.

Fire

BUT Carroll said, "The role was defined in the past, and doesn't comprise specific terms for the fireman. The city Civil Service Com-mision has held meetings since April, but the role has not been clarified."

Because of this uncertainty, a firefighter's role has not been completed since August 1979. The commission is considering whether to extend the role's life or clarify the duties of a firefighter.

Alaska

A firefighter's role was not defined until recently. The role has since been clarified and is now active.

Stricter parking rules requested

By David Lewis

The city is proposing stricter parking regulations in an effort to reduce congestion and improve traffic flow.

Many of the proposed changes are in response to complaints from citizens and business owners. The rules would be enforced by a new parking enforcement officer, and penalties for violations would increase.

One of the proposed changes is to extend the hours of no-parking during peak traffic periods. Additionally, residents would be required to register their vehicles with the city.

Poet Pack's familiar images lead to uncommon insights

By Danny Heidtman

Among poets who celebrate the common virtues of love, simplicity, openness and wit, Robert Pack is unexcelled. Pack's poetry shows a rare and refreshing freedom from the illustrative, the didactic, the anecdotal, the moralistic. In his work people find a fresh face, and a new language for everyday thought and experience. Pack's poetry is a poetry of the world, for the world. It is a language of the people, speaking to the people, and speaking from the people.

Pack's poetry is a poetry of the world, for the world. It is a language of the people, speaking to the people, and speaking from the people.

"The key to Pack's poetry is a language of the world, for the world. It is a language of the people, speaking to the people, and speaking from the people."

Basketball recruits to aid in rebounding

By Mike Kent

While most attention was directed at Luke Chueh's historic recruiting week, another important basketball recruit was being announced in Ankeny.

Nelson Andersen had committed to the University of Iowa basketball program last week, which is a major victory for the Hawkeyes in their quest to fill several key positions.

"Nelson is a great addition to our team," said Coach Mike Herock. "He brings a lot of energy and intensity to our program."

Andersen, a 6-5 forward from Niles West High School in Chicago, averaged 12 points and 8 rebounds per game last season. He is expected to contribute his first season will look very promising.

"We're excited about having Nelson join us," said Herock. "He will definitely be a key player for us this year."

Closed practice benefits Hawks

According to Head Coach Tommy Pry, the Iowa Hawkeyes women's basketball team made a significant improvement in their closed practices this season.

"We've been working on our defense, which has been a weakness for us," said Pry. "We're also focusing on our rebounding and ball-handling."

Pry said the team worked hard in practice, with some of the biggest improvements coming in the areas of defense and rebounding.

"The players are really putting in the effort," said Pry. "They're working hard to improve their skills and get better on the court."

Will be the by-the-numbers type. The Detroit Red Wings and St. Louis Blues will be trying to do something never done before. They'll be trying to be the only two teams to win three straight championships in the NHL.

The Detroit Red Wings, with a 3-1 victory over the Boston Bruins, took a 3-2 Game 7 lead in the Eastern Conference quarterfinals. The Blues, with a 5-0 victory over the New York Islanders, took a 3-2 lead in the Western Conference quarterfinals.

The Red Wings will play the New York Rangers in the Eastern Conference semifinals, while the Blues will play the Pittsburgh Penguins in the Western Conference semifinals.

The Eastern and Western Conference semifinals will be played in best-of-seven series, with the first team to win four games advancing to the conference final.

The conference finals will be played in best-of-seven series, with the first team to win four games advancing to the Stanley Cup finals.

Iowa tennis player Holtmann stops worrying, starts playing at ease

By Steve Bathen

"I'm really not much of a boaster," Iowa tennis player Fritz Elliot, 22, said. "I just want to prove that I can be a factor." Elliot, a senior, has been a key member of the Iowa men's tennis team for the past four years. He has helped the Hawkeyes reach the NCAA tournament each year, and he feels that he is ready to make a name for himself at the national level.

Elliot, who was born in Iowa City, has been playing tennis since he was a child. He attended Iowa High School and then went on to play tennis at the University of Iowa. He has been a consistent performer throughout his career, and he feels that he is ready to take his game to the next level.

Elliot said that he has been working hard to improve his game during the off-season. He has been practicing regularly, and he feels that he is ready to take on the challenges that come with the NCAA tournament.

Elliot said that he has been working with his coach, Todd Grant, to improve his game. Grant has been a key figure in Elliot's development as a tennis player, and he has been working hard to help Elliot reach his full potential.

Elliot said that he is looking forward to the NCAA tournament, and he is excited to see what he can do against some of the top players in the country. He feels that he is ready to compete at the highest level, and he is ready to prove that he is a force to be reckoned with.
