Salvador arrests 6 for U.S. slayings

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (SIP) - Salvadoran authorities have arrested six persons for the slaying of an American tourist last month. This brings the total number of persons detained on charges of murder in Salvador to 12.

The murder occurred in the town of Usulutan, about 50 miles from San Salvador. The victim was identified as a 32-year-old woman from Queens, New York. The woman, who was visiting the town with her husband, was found shot to death in their hotel room.

The arrests were made after a series of raids on suspected gang leaders and their associates. The raids were conducted by members of the national police, the military police, and the FBI.

The arrests are seen as a significant step in the investigation of the murder. The victim's family has expressed their gratitude to the authorities for their efforts.

The U.S. Department of State has been closely following the investigation and has expressed its support for the efforts of the Salvadoran authorities.

Students to be housed at Oakdale

By Joyce Blyton

Approximately 26 students, facing disciplinary action for violating the school's code of conduct, will be housed at Oakdale. The students were reportedly involved in a series of incidents that included vandalism, theft, and drug possession.

The decision to house the students at Oakdale was made after a series of meetings between the school administration and the parents of the students. The students will be housed in a separate facility on campus.

Israel threatens air force action

A whole lot of hole

BEIRUT - Lebanon is no longer a country, it is a battlefield of the Middle East. The Lebanese government is now holding its breath.

The most alarming thing is that Israel is now a very remote possibility. The Americans are talking to the Israelis about a cease-fire. It is possible that the Americans have been talking to the Israelis about a cease-fire.

A cease-fire would be a good thing. It would give the Israelis a chance to think about the future. The Lebanese government is now holding its breath.

The Lebanese government is now holding its breath. The Americans are talking to the Israelis about a cease-fire. It is possible that the Americans have been talking to the Israelis about a cease-fire.

The Americans are talking to the Israelis about a cease-fire. It is possible that the Americans have been talking to the Israelis about a cease-fire.

A cease-fire would be a good thing. It would give the Israelis a chance to think about the future. The Lebanese government is now holding its breath.
Briefly

FORUM house price rise adequate
WASHINGTON (UPI) - Secretary of Housing Donald Regan today said a 4.5 percent rise in the Federal Reserve's prime rate would be "adequate" for the market to adjust.

Senator will vote by Tuesday
WASHINGTON (UPI) - The Senate, considering the fiscal 1982 budget, is expected to pass a bill tomorrow that would allow the Congress to take action on the budget for the next three years.

Fed employees mad at cuts
WASHINGTON (UPI) - Federal employees upset over the budget cuts were coming against Congress for failing to take up hearings on the cuts.

Coal strike nears 7th week
(UPI) - With reports of sleeping不安 and strikes for the third time in Kentucky, the Kentucky Eastern Coal Association announced that the strike would be put on hold for 45 days.

Deny exploiting child killings
ATLANTA (UPI) - A mother whose child was one of the eight bodies in the case of the murder in Atlanta, announced that his name was "never in the matter." He was one of the eight suspects in the murder.

Quote... "I can't dance to it, it's not my style...
- Joanie (UPS)

City negotiating new lease for Davis Building space
BY VAL HUMBER
Iowa City
City is negotiating a new lease for space at the Davis Building. The Iowa City Council has set aside $180,000 for a new lease for the space, which is expected to be in place by the end of the year.

"If I can't dance to it, it's not my style...
- Joanie (UPS)

Postscripts
Events
Future forum for Training for Women will be documented by Mary Skip Withers at the Warren Agency.

19th Annual gala will be held on March 15.

Church attendance will be held on March 20.

Cancer Awareness will be held on March 22.

Chemical warfare
By Beatrice Kilgore

The Senate will hold a special session on Chemical warfare.

Fewer days to be around for summer
By Jackie Bayer

The New York Times reported that the Senate will hold a special session on Chemical warfare.

U.S. Small Business Week May 10-16/81 Small Business: Everybody's Business
This week in Small Business Week, the small business people of America have invested their time and money in small companies which are the lifeblood of our economic system.

The senators are supporting these small businesses with the support of the Senate..."
Chemical residue cleaned; rooms to be remodeled

By Beth Kline

There were no problems in the Chemistry-Biology Building and the Medical School building, but other buildings were damaged by chemicals that might endanger students and faculty. Other buildings, like the Des Moines Business School, had been closed for repairs.

The Winter, president of American Federation of State, County, and-Municipal Employees Local 17, raised the alarm about the health hazards posed by low-level radioactivity last week that led Physical Plant employees working in the Chemistry-Biology Building to leave their books and belongings behind.

The Physical Plant closed 112 rooms in the Chemistry-Biology Building on March 11 because there was 0.01 levels of low-level radioactivity in the walls and storage rooms near the laboratory blocks.

The building had been closed for two weeks because it was used for summer research projects.

SMALL SAID Friday that it had been a mistake to let the three workers enter the rooms without proper instructions and protective gear.

THERE WERE a great deal of confusion between the Environmental Health and the Physical Plant, and the workers had to be removed from the rooms.

The three Physical Plant employees were allowed to work in the Chemistry-Biology Building because Environmental Health had not met the required standards for the Chemical Laboratory and the Physical Plant staff to have the rooms cleaned.

Two rooms in the Chemistry-Biology Building were cleaned and the remaining workers were not allowed to enter the rooms.

This week is Small Business Week, and Iowa City is the center of small business activity in the city.

The Iowa City Chamber of Commerce has 104 members and 727 employees, and the chamber is the main support for small businesses.

Fewer directories to be ordered for coming year

By John Ade

The Student Senate will only order 780 directories for Fall 1981, down from 1,070 directories that were ordered last year.

The number of directories is based on the number of students enrolled in the College of Arts and Sciences.

The directory is sold for $6.50 per copy, and $8.50 for those who need a number of copies.

The directory is sold for $6.50 per copy, and $8.50 for those who need a number of copies.

The directory is sold for $6.50 per copy, and $8.50 for those who need a number of copies.

The directory is sold for $6.50 per copy, and $8.50 for those who need a number of copies.

The directory is sold for $6.50 per copy, and $8.50 for those who need a number of copies.

The directory is sold for $6.50 per copy, and $8.50 for those who need a number of copies.

The directory is sold for $6.50 per copy, and $8.50 for those who need a number of copies.

The directory is sold for $6.50 per copy, and $8.50 for those who need a number of copies.

The directory is sold for $6.50 per copy, and $8.50 for those who need a number of copies.

The directory is sold for $6.50 per copy, and $8.50 for those who need a number of copies.

The directory is sold for $6.50 per copy, and $8.50 for those who need a number of copies.

The directory is sold for $6.50 per copy, and $8.50 for those who need a number of copies.
Senate priorities

The US Student Senate's recent decision to delay funding to a student group that continues to fund a pro-life coalition to distribute anti-abortion material in violation of the university's policy while continuing to fund a student group that continues to fund a pro-life coalition to distribute anti-abortion material in violation of the university's policy.

The senate voted to cut $1,000 for the Life & Right to Life Committee on grounds that the organization is not in line with the university's regulations, but the decision has drawn criticism from pro-life activists who argue that the university is overstepping its bounds.

The group was previously funded by the university and distributed anti-abortion material, which they argued was necessary to counteract pro-choice arguments on campus. The senate's decision was based on a resolution passed in 2011 that prohibits the distribution of materials that promote abortion. The resolution was adopted by the university's administration in response to concerns about the content and nature of the materials distributed.

The pro-life group was previously funded by a combination of student fees and donations from external sources, including individual members of the public and other organizations. The university had previously allowed the group to distribute anti-abortion materials on campus, but the decision to cut funding was seen as a response to growing concerns about the group's activities.

The university administration has argued that the decision was necessary to maintain a respectful and inclusive environment on campus. The university's president has emphasized the importance of protecting the rights of all students, regardless of their beliefs.

The senate's decision has sparked a debate about the appropriate role of the university in regulating student activities. Some argue that the university has a responsibility to ensure that all students are able to participate in campus activities without fear of harassment or discrimination. Others argue that the university has a right to regulate student activities to ensure that they are in line with the university's values and policies.

The senate's decision is likely to be challenged in court, and the case may ultimately be decided by higher authorities. The university has already appealed the decision to the University of Iowa Student Government, and the case is expected to be heard by the university's Student Government Court.

The senate's decision has also drawn criticism from pro-choice activists, who argue that the university is overstepping its bounds by censoring student activities. They argue that the university should be open to all viewpoints and should not be taking sides in a political debate.

The senate's decision is likely to be closely watched by other universities, as it sets a precedent for how universities can regulate student activities. The case may ultimately be decided by higher authorities, and the outcome is likely to have implications for the rights of students on campuses across the country.
Phone: 415-577-1625
Fax: 415-577-1669

The Daily Yonkers Paper

I.C. council may cut crossing positions

By Val Floods

Three school crossing guard positions maintained by the Yonkers school crossing guard supervision program may be eliminated as part of a proposed budget for the Yonkers City Council, according to the staff of the city's Department of Education.

The proposed budget, which will be submitted to the city council for approval, includes cuts in various areas of the city's operation, including the city schools.

The council will vote on the proposed budget later this month.

The Yonkers school district has 22 crossing guards on its payroll, with 21 of them working part-time.

The school district is looking to reduce its budget by $1 million this year.

The proposed cuts to the crossing guard positions would result in a savings of $140,000.

The crossing guard positions are funded by the state, which provides $200,000 per year for each position.

The state funding is based on the number of students attending school in the district.

The Yonkers school district has 10,900 students, which means that the state would provide $2,080,000 per year for crossing guard positions.

The proposed cuts would result in a savings of $280,000, which would be used to fund other programs.

The proposed budget for the Yonkers school district is expected to be presented to the city council in early May.
France expected to remain ally

By Alice Mody

United Press International

PARIS - France under Socialist President-elect Francois Mitterrand is expected to remain an ally of the West although the United States and Soviet Union will probably maintain a courtier relationship.

In advance of the election, the Soviet leaders, in a gesture of goodwill, issued a official congratulations to Francois Mitterrand, who is expected to become President of France. The Mitterrand government, thus, will demand the return of Soviet arms and military personnel from Afghanistan, and French and Soviet leaders, in a meeting in Paris, are expected to reach an agreement on the return of Soviet forces to their bases.

In Paris, Mitterrand also announced that he will seek to improve relations with the Soviet Union, and he added that he will not seek to change the policies of the previous government of Valery Giscard d'Estaing.

Analysis

Mitterrand would remain on friendly terms with Moscow and seek to improve relations with the Soviet Union while maintaining a policy of neutrality in the Cold War. He would, however, seek to reduce the level of military spending and to bring about a more equitable distribution of resources within Europe.

France

celebrate a new beginning as the Socialist party is set to take power in the upcoming elections. The Socialist party has promised to bring about a "revival" of the economy and to create jobs for the French people. The party has also promised to reduce the gap between the rich and the poor and to increase the minimum wage.

Lebanon

The government in Beirut has announced plans to nationalize banks and insurance companies in an effort to increase its control over the economy. The government is also considering taking over the management of the Audiurn, a major theater in Beirut. The government has promised to create a "new Lebanon" and to bring about a "peaceful" solution to the conflict in the country.

Housing

The government has announced plans to expand the housing market and to increase the supply of affordable housing. The government has also promised to provide financial assistance to those who wish to build their own homes.

Sale

$12 to $20 off Kicks* nylon duffel bags.

For cross-town or cross-country, these are the bags to grab. Soft yet gimp-tight, nylon duffel bags have enough room to carry just about anything and adjustable shoulder straps. Green, black.

Hardy duffel
Striped duffel

$16 to $36 off Silhouette II luggage.

Uplift your traveling from Samuelson. Ready for hard traveling with magnesium frame, aluminum shell, interlocking locks, chrome hardware.

Beauty case

Dresser case

Luggage case

Jumbo case

$12 to $20 off Kicks* nylon duffel bags.

For cross-town or cross-country, these are the bags to grab. Soft yet gimp-tight, nylon duffel bags have enough room to carry just about anything and adjustable shoulder straps. Green, black.

Hardy duffel
Striped duffel

$16 to $36 off Silhouette II luggage.

Uplift your traveling from Samuelson. Ready for hard traveling with magnesium frame, aluminum shell, interlocking locks, chrome hardware.

Beauty case

Dresser case

Luggage case

Jumbo case

3 days

3 days

3
days

$12 to $20 off Kicks* nylon duffel bags.

For cross-town or cross-country, these are the bags to grab. Soft yet gimp-tight, nylon duffel bags have enough room to carry just about anything and adjustable shoulder straps. Green, black.

Hardy duffel
Striped duffel

$16 to $36 off Silhouette II luggage.

Uplift your traveling from Samuelson. Ready for hard traveling with magnesium frame, aluminum shell, interlocking locks, chrome hardware.

Beauty case

Dresser case

Luggage case

Jumbo case

3 days

3 days

3
days
Harlem dance group worth the long wait

In Judith Green

It is said that James Weldon Johnson, the civil rights activist, wrote a poem about Harlem in 1919 that helped to spark the Harlem Renaissance. This week’s performances of the Ruby Dee and Leonard Jeffries’ dance troupe, Harlem Dance Group, are a fitting artistic obituary to the Harlem Renaissance.

The Ruby Dee and Leonard Jeffries’ Dance Group was founded in 1968 by Ruby Dee and Leonard Jeffries, actors and dancers whose careers spanned generations. The group was established to preserve and promote African American dance and theatre traditions.

On stage, the performers exude a sense of joy and passion, drawing the audience into their world of dance. The captivating movements and expressions are a testament to the rich history of black dance and theatre.

Many of the works presented by the group are based on the lives and experiences of black Americans. They are a reflection of the struggles, triumphs, and celebrations of a people who have overcome tremendous adversity.

The group’s commitment to education and community outreach is also evident. They offer workshops and classes to young dancers, ensuring that the legacy of black dance continues to thrive.

Harlem Dance Group continues to inspire and entertain audiences with their mesmerizing performances. Their dedication to preserving and promoting African American dance and theatre is a beacon of hope and inspiration for all those who appreciate the arts.
Iowa

Fear No Evil gathers worst bits from horror flicks of the past

By Rosanne T. Vander Meulen

What do you get when you mix the worst elements of The Open, The Empire, The Carter Country, The Battleship Potemkin, and The Human Centipede? In Fear No Evil, the latest disaster/kidnapping/horror film, you get a giant tick and an overdose of religious mumbo-jumbo.

A pretentious feature that pretends not to be a horror film in order to present itself as a serious statement about God and religion, Fear No Evil is a cautionary tale about the dangers of ignoring the warnings of religious leaders. The film follows a group of high school students who go on a camping trip and are attacked by a giant tick. As they struggle to survive, they come to realize that their only hope is to trust in the teachings of their religious leader, Father Deacon.

In Fear No Evil, writer-director Peter Deacon has created a satirical take on the teen idol phenomenon. Ray is a superhuman who bleeds at the wrists when he's stressed. He is the imp of bad composers. When it comes to naming something that isn't his, it's just that he knows when to stop. But it's been proven that he's not the best when it comes to selling idols. His songs he's written have been a flop. Ray's career is a satirical look at the teen idol phenomenon. Ray is the ultimate cousin of bad composers.

When it comes to naming something that isn't his, it's just that he knows when to stop. But it's been proven that he's not the best when it comes to selling idols. His songs he's written have been a flop. Ray's career is a satirical look at the teen idol phenomenon. Ray is the ultimate cousin of bad composers.

Films

In Fear No Evil, the giant tick is a metaphor for the dangers of ignoring the warnings of religious leaders. The film follows a group of high school students who go on a camping trip and are attacked by a giant tick. As they struggle to survive, they come to realize that their only hope is to trust in the teachings of their religious leader, Father Deacon.

In Fear No Evil, writer-director Peter Deacon has created a satirical take on the teen idol phenomenon. Ray is a superhuman who bleeds at the wrists when he's stressed. He is the imp of bad composers. When it comes to naming something that isn't his, it's just that he knows when to stop. But it's been proven that he's not the best when it comes to selling idols. His songs he's written have been a flop. Ray's career is a satirical look at the teen idol phenomenon. Ray is the ultimate cousin of bad composers.

In Fear No Evil, writer-director Peter Deacon has created a satirical take on the teen idol phenomenon. Ray is a superhuman who bleeds at the wrists when he's stressed. He is the imp of bad composers. When it comes to naming something that isn't his, it's just that he knows when to stop. But it's been proven that he's not the best when it comes to selling idols. His songs he's written have been a flop. Ray's career is a satirical look at the teen idol phenomenon. Ray is the ultimate cousin of bad composers.

In Fear No Evil, writer-director Peter Deacon has created a satirical take on the teen idol phenomenon. Ray is a superhuman who bleeds at the wrists when he's stressed. He is the imp of bad composers. When it comes to naming something that isn't his, it's just that he knows when to stop. But it's been proven that he's not the best when it comes to selling idols. His songs he's written have been a flop. Ray's career is a satirical look at the teen idol phenomenon. Ray is the ultimate cousin of bad composers.

In Fear No Evil, writer-director Peter Deacon has created a satirical take on the teen idol phenomenon. Ray is a superhuman who bleeds at the wrists when he's stressed. He is the imp of bad composers. When it comes to naming something that isn't his, it's just that he knows when to stop. But it's been proven that he's not the best when it comes to selling idols. His songs he's written have been a flop. Ray's career is a satirical look at the teen idol phenomenon. Ray is the ultimate cousin of bad composers.

In Fear No Evil, writer-director Peter Deacon has created a satirical take on the teen idol phenomenon. Ray is a superhuman who bleeds at the wrists when he's stressed. He is the imp of bad composers. When it comes to naming something that isn't his, it's just that he knows when to stop. But it's been proven that he's not the best when it comes to selling idols. His songs he's written have been a flop. Ray's career is a satirical look at the teen idol phenomenon. Ray is the ultimate cousin of bad composers.

In Fear No Evil, writer-director Peter Deacon has created a satirical take on the teen idol phenomenon. Ray is a superhuman who bleeds at the wrists when he's stressed. He is the imp of bad composers. When it comes to naming something that isn't his, it's just that he knows when to stop. But it's been proven that he's not the best when it comes to selling idols. His songs he's written have been a flop. Ray's career is a satirical look at the teen idol phenomenon. Ray is the ultimate cousin of bad composers.

In Fear No Evil, writer-director Peter Deacon has created a satirical take on the teen idol phenomenon. Ray is a superhuman who bleeds at the wrists when he's stressed. He is the imp of bad composers. When it comes to naming something that isn't his, it's just that he knows when to stop. But it's been proven that he's not the best when it comes to selling idols. His songs he's written have been a flop. Ray's career is a satirical look at the teen idol phenomenon. Ray is the ultimate cousin of bad composers.

In Fear No Evil, writer-director Peter Deacon has created a satirical take on the teen idol phenomenon. Ray is a superhuman who bleeds at the wrists when he's stressed. He is the imp of bad composers. When it comes to naming something that isn't his, it's just that he knows when to stop. But it's been proven that he's not the best when it comes to selling idols. His songs he's written have been a flop. Ray's career is a satirical look at the teen idol phenomenon. Ray is the ultimate cousin of bad composers.

In Fear No Evil, writer-director Peter Deacon has created a satirical take on the teen idol phenomenon. Ray is a superhuman who bleeds at the wrists when he's stressed. He is the imp of bad composers. When it comes to naming something that isn't his, it's just that he knows when to stop. But it's been proven that he's not the best when it comes to selling idols. His songs he's written have been a flop. Ray's career is a satirical look at the teen idol phenomenon. Ray is the ultimate cousin of bad composers.
The race was run in sections. Rather than run in a straight line, the runners were divided into groups and ran in the direction of the sections. The runners were allowed to run as far as they could, and the top three runners in each section were recorded.

The Hawks found what they were looking for when they found Todd, who threw the discus a personal best of 157.5 feet. Todd was a part of the Region VI team, which included wide receivers Todd and Brian in the event with a personal best of 157.5 feet. Todd was also a part of the Region VI team, which included wide receivers Todd and Brian in the event with a personal best of 157.5 feet.

The Hawks finished the spring season with a 15-7 record. They were one of the top teams in the state, and they were among the favorites to win the state championship. The Hawks were looking to build on their success from the previous season, and they were determined to make a run at the state championship.

Iowa track team runs with best at Indiana

The Hawks' track and field team traveled to Indiana for the Big Ten Indoor Championships. The meet was a part of the conference's indoor championships. The Hawks had several strong performances, and they finished third in the meet.

The Hawks finished 15-7 for the season, and they were one of the top teams in the state. They were looking to build on their success from the previous season, and they were determined to make a run at the state championship.
SPECIAL 4 - 9 PM
Monday thru Wednesday
35¢ Draws
Budweiser, Miller, Lite, Schlitz
Old English, Pabst Blue Ribbon
75¢ Bar Liquor
FREE Popcorn 3 - 5 pm
Every Day (with drink purchase)
No Cover Charge
JOE'S PLACE
115 Iowa Ave.
Sports

Dunleavy fuels Rockets to even series

By Gary Taylor
United Press International

HOUSTON - Mike Dunleavy figures he probably would have hit the Houston Rockets a couple of times last week, too. One was after Denver had him ejected Sunday. The other was Saturday after the Nuggets defeated the Rockets 145-142.

Tonight, Dunleavy hopes he will be able to hit the Nuggets, too, twice.

Rockets fans hope they can.

The Rockets are playing host to the Nuggets in Game 2 this evening in the opening round of the NBA playoffs.

The Rockets, 1-1 with Dunleavy back in the lineup after being suspended for two games in Denver, are trying to even the best-of-seven series tonight.

The Nuggets won the opener 128-121 at the McNichols Coliseum in Denver.

After winning Game 1, the Rockets got a tremendous performance from Dunleavy, who scored 29 points and pulled down 10 rebounds.

Dunleavy was suspended by the NBA for two games for hitting Denver's Craig Ehlo in the chest Saturday night in Denver.

That was the NBA's second suspension of Dunleavy this season. The Rockets lost both games.

The Rockets need Dunleavy.

They also need a player to help the Rockets keep the Nuggets' stars off the boards.

The Nuggets have a 10-rebound advantage over the Rockets so far in the series.

The Rockets are counting on Dunleavy to help them shut down the Nuggets' rebounding attack.

So far in the series, the Rockets have been outrebounded by the Nuggets 105-87.

dunleavy fuels rockets to even series