Women can sue for equal wages

The House took a first step in an important new area of law, equal pay, and moved closer to the 1964 Civil Rights Act. The House voted 274-144 to endorse the 1963 Civil Rights Act and, by a vote of 382-81, to include equal pay for equal work in the bill's provision for equal treatment. The House then voted 382-81 to include equal pay for equal work in the bill's provision for equal treatment.

ISRAEL BOMBS IRAQI REACTOR; U.S. ANGERED

By United Press International

Israel plans to move into a new position on the U.S. nuclear arsenal by demanding that the United Nations resolve its dispute with Iraq over the material designed by Israel and that the United States recognize the Iraqi reactor as a threat.

The United States denounced the Israel move and defended its position that the United Nations should resolve the dispute, but Israeli officials said it was a strategic move to position the United States and the United Nations to recognize the Iraqi reactor as a threat.

In an earlier statement, Israeli officials also offered to help keep the United States and the United Nations from declaring the reactor a nuclear weapon.

President Reagan's reaction was "too late."

The United States said it was "too late."

Israel said it had identified, and Reagan had "no prior knowledge of the incident." The United States said it had been "at the highest level of the reactor near Baghdad.

By United Press International

Military success an Israeli tradition

Israel was a major player in the most recent military conflict in the Middle East, leading a coalition of countries to attack Iraq. The United States, Israel, and the United Nations were all involved in the conflict, and the United States and the United Nations were critical of Israel's actions.

In a statement, the United States said it was "too late."

The United States said it had identified, and Reagan had "no prior knowledge of the incident." The United States said it had been "at the highest level of the reactor near Baghdad.

In an earlier statement, Israeli officials also offered to help keep the United States and the United Nations from declaring the reactor a nuclear weapon.

President Reagan's reaction was "too late."

The United States said it was "too late."

Israel said it had identified, and Reagan had "no prior knowledge of the incident." The United States said it had been "at the highest level of the reactor near Baghdad.

By United Press International

Israel bombs Iraqi reactor; U.S. angered

Israel plans to move into a new position on the U.S. nuclear arsenal by demanding that the United Nations resolve its dispute with Iraq over the material designed by Israel and that the United States recognize the Iraqi reactor as a threat.

The United States denounced the Israel move and defended its position that the United Nations should resolve the dispute, but Israeli officials said it was a strategic move to position the United States and the United Nations to recognize the Iraqi reactor as a threat.

In an earlier statement, Israeli officials also offered to help keep the United States and the United Nations from declaring the reactor a nuclear weapon.

President Reagan's reaction was "too late."

The United States said it was "too late."

Israel said it had identified, and Reagan had "no prior knowledge of the incident." The United States said it had been "at the highest level of the reactor near Baghdad.

By United Press International

Military success an Israeli tradition

Israel was a major player in the most recent military conflict in the Middle East, leading a coalition of countries to attack Iraq. The United States, Israel, and the United Nations were all involved in the conflict, and the United States and the United Nations were critical of Israel's actions.

In a statement, the United States said it was "too late."

The United States said it had identified, and Reagan had "no prior knowledge of the incident." The United States said it had been "at the highest level of the reactor near Baghdad.

In an earlier statement, Israeli officials also offered to help keep the United States and the United Nations from declaring the reactor a nuclear weapon.

President Reagan's reaction was "too late."

The United States said it was "too late."

Israel said it had identified, and Reagan had "no prior knowledge of the incident." The United States said it had been "at the highest level of the reactor near Baghdad.

By United Press International

Military success an Israeli tradition

Israel was a major player in the most recent military conflict in the Middle East, leading a coalition of countries to attack Iraq. The United States, Israel, and the United Nations were all involved in the conflict, and the United States and the United Nations were critical of Israel's actions.

In a statement, the United States said it was "too late."

The United States said it had identified, and Reagan had "no prior knowledge of the incident." The United States said it had been "at the highest level of the reactor near Baghdad.

In an earlier statement, Israeli officials also offered to help keep the United States and the United Nations from declaring the reactor a nuclear weapon.

President Reagan's reaction was "too late."

The United States said it was "too late."

Israel said it had identified, and Reagan had "no prior knowledge of the incident." The United States said it had been "at the highest level of the reactor near Baghdad.

By United Press International

Military success an Israeli tradition

Israel was a major player in the most recent military conflict in the Middle East, leading a coalition of countries to attack Iraq. The United States, Israel, and the United Nations were all involved in the conflict, and the United States and the United Nations were critical of Israel's actions.

In a statement, the United States said it was "too late."

The United States said it had identified, and Reagan had "no prior knowledge of the incident." The United States said it had been "at the highest level of the reactor near Baghdad.

In an earlier statement, Israeli officials also offered to help keep the United States and the United Nations from declaring the reactor a nuclear weapon.

President Reagan's reaction was "too late."

The United States said it was "too late."

Israel said it had identified, and Reagan had "no prior knowledge of the incident." The United States said it had been "at the highest level of the reactor near Baghdad.

By United Press International

Military success an Israeli tradition

Israel was a major player in the most recent military conflict in the Middle East, leading a coalition of countries to attack Iraq. The United States, Israel, and the United Nations were all involved in the conflict, and the United States and the United Nations were critical of Israel's actions.

In a statement, the United States said it was "too late."

The United States said it had identified, and Reagan had "no prior knowledge of the incident." The United States said it had been "at the highest level of the reactor near Baghdad.

In an earlier statement, Israeli officials also offered to help keep the United States and the United Nations from declaring the reactor a nuclear weapon.

President Reagan's reaction was "too late."

The United States said it was "too late."

Israel said it had identified, and Reagan had "no prior knowledge of the incident." The United States said it had been "at the highest level of the reactor near Baghdad.
County in financial straits after denied funds transfer

By Yat Rehms

Sanford for the transfer of county funds to the school district was denied by the federal government.

The federal government, which is responsible for funding public schools, denied the transfer of $500,000 to the school district.

Thedenied funds were intended to help the school district improve its facilities.

The federal government has strict rules for how funds are distributed, and in this case, the denial was based on the school district's failure to meet those rules.

Supervisor Lee Rettig said he was disappointed with the decision but acknowledged that the school district will need to find alternative funding sources.

"We will continue to work with the federal government to ensure that we can provide the best education possible for our students," Rettig said.

The denial of the funds comes as the school district is struggling to balance its budget and provide adequate resources for students.

"We are doing our best to ensure that our students have access to the educational opportunities they need," Rettig said.

The school district will now need to explore other funding options, such as local taxes or grants, to make up for the lost funds.

It is unclear at this time how the school district will proceed without the $500,000 transfer.

Source: Associated Press

Designer suggests changes in water pollution control plant

By M.L. Myers

The designer of a new Iowa water pollution control plant has recommended changes to the facility's design.

"There are some changes that need to be made," said the designer. "I think it will be more efficient if we make these changes.

The designer recommended changes to the facility's design, which includes changes to the plant's size and location.

The proposed changes are intended to improve the facility's efficiency and reduce its environmental impact.

City Manager Joel Berth said the city is considering the designer's recommendations and will make a decision in the near future.

Berth said the city is committed to providing a safe and clean water supply for its residents.

"We want to make sure that we have a safe and clean water supply for our residents," Berth said.

The city is currently evaluating the designer's recommendations and will make a decision in the near future.

Source: City of...
From ‘curious’ to Miss Iowa

By Sue Tofte

Jennifer Wimpey, an Iowa City sophomore, was named Miss Iowa on May 23, 1981. Wimpey was selected as one of four local contestants for the Miss Iowa French. She has a 5-foot-7-inch, 115-pound build, survived the seven-hour-a-day practices that Wimpey said were necessary because of her Kappa Alpha Theta involvement, and decided to enter the Miss Iowa pageant to gain experience in modeling and public speaking.

However, Wimpey’s nomination did not come easily. She accepted the honor because she wanted to know more about the pageant. "It’s a little different," Wimpey said. "I had no idea what to expect." She had two goals: to win the pageant and to prove that she was "goody two-shoes." Despite her reservations, Wimpey decided to enter the contest.

Wimpey’s decision was not the only one to be made that year. She was selected as one of six contestants for the Miss Iowa competition. Wimpey was one of five local contestants for the Miss Iowa title. She had braces at the time and was curious about why she had been chosen. However, she was confident in her ability to succeed.

Wimpey’s preparation for the pageant included a lot of work. She practiced for over 100 hours a week during the first round of interviews in early April. She also accepted the invitation to become a candidate for last October’s Iowa State Fair Queen contest.

Wimpey said she received much support from her Kappa Alpha Theta sisters. "I thought they were the owners of the Iowa State Fair," she said. "I’ve been just for the pageant for the entire year." She shared common interests such as sports, music, and theatre with her fellow candidates.

Wimpey also said she received much support from her Kappa Alpha Theta sisters. "I thought they were the owners of the Iowa State Fair," she said. "I’ve been just for the pageant for the entire year." She shared common interests such as sports, music, and theatre with her fellow candidates.

Although Wimpey was "a little disappointed," she was pleased with her performance. She credited her success to her hard work and dedication to the pageant. She was able to win the pageant in spite of the barriers that she faced. "It’s kind of a lot of fun," Wimpey said. "I want to make room for my next four years of fun." She now has a new perspective on the pageant.

Wimpey said that she did not take the most beautiful girl contests seriously. "We are just for the fun," she said. "We’ve just for the fun." Wimpey is the first non-white Miss Iowa to win the pageant.

Wimpey does not consider herself a stereotypical beauty queen. "I don’t want to be labeled as just another beauty queen," she said. "I want to be seen as a woman." She has received praise for her honesty and her ability to connect with the audience.

However, Wimpey’s success was not without controversy. Some people criticized her for her appearance and her makeup. Wimpey said that she did not care what people thought. "I want to be seen for who I am," she said. "I want to be seen as a real person." She hopes to use her platform to raise awareness about important issues.

Wimpey is now a sophomore majoring in economics and computer science. She works part-time as a sales clerk at Borders and as a sales clerk at Barnes & Noble. She also receives a Presidential Scholar medallion for her academic achievements.

Wimpey is a member of the Delta Delta Delta sorority. She has been named a member of the Commission on Presidential Scholars, a national honor recognizing outstanding young people. She has plans to attend law school after graduation.

Wimpey’s advice to other girls who want to enter pageants is to be true to themselves. "If you’re not yourself, you’re not going to be happy," she said. "You have to be true to yourself." Wimpey hopes to use her platform to inspire others to be true to themselves and to pursue their dreams.

Wimpey’s success has been a source of pride for her friends and family. They are proud of her hard work and dedication to the pageant. "We are so proud of you," they said. "You’re a real inspiration to us."
Viewpoints

Chemical warfare

The Senate is considering a motion that would appropriate $33 million to construct a new chemical weapons facility in Pine Bluffs, Arkansas, to replace one already there. Senate Staff Writer

Grant funds slashed

A recent Reader’s Digest article by Joseph Harriss sheds no tears over President Reagan’s proposed 50 percent budget cut for the National Endowment for the Humanities. A recent Reader’s Digest article by Joseph Harriss sheds no tears over President Reagan’s proposed 50 percent budget cut for the National Endowment for the Humanities.

Domino theory reborn

Undoubtedly U.S. officials are looking "reliable intelligence reports" showing that Soviet weapons are being amassed in Nicaragua. Randy Scholfield Staff Writer

Require birth control availability: abortions then less necessary

To the editor:

I have read quite a few editorials for and against the right to abortion. This is my perspective on the issue. I believe that the people followers on the wrong side of human history. If it is done, let it be.

I believe that the people followers on the wrong side of human history. If it is done, let it be.

Abortion is the right to have an abortion.

I believe that the people followers on the wrong side of human history. If it is done, let it be.

- John Doe

Letters

Vietnam vets

To the Editor:

I read with great interest the recent article in "American Short Story" by Timothy O’Connor Salzman. I am a Vietnam veteran and I feel that the article is very well written and researched.

- John Smith

Pro-choice view

As an atheist, I believe in the sanctity of human life. However, I also believe in the sanctity of the right to abortion. If a woman wants to have an abortion, she should be able to do so without interference from anyone else.

- Jane Doe

Abortion reply

I disagree with Nancy Grubbs. [Letter concerning abortion, 8/8/81]. Nancy Grubbs says that it would be better to have a few fewer children in the world with the same number of resources. She thinks that it is possible to have enough children and not enough resources.

- John Doe

Cuts ignored

To the Editor:

After reading the article by Lot Bland (11/30/80) urging people to write their representatives about the proposed budget cuts, I was very disappointed to read that the cuts were ignored by the House and Senate. I was even more disappointed to read that thecuts were ignored by the House and Senate.

- John Doe

Name mixup

I am a freshman at Iowa State and even though I may appear as a pro-choice supporter, I am not. My name is Melissa Gonzalez. I am a freshman at Iowa State and even though I may appear as a pro-choice supporter, I am not. My name is Melissa Gonzalez.

- John Doe

Letters policy

Letters to the editor must be submitted by 10 a.m. on Tuesday, six days before publication. Letters should be no more than 250 words and should contain an address and telephone number. Letters policy

- John Doe

China

The Chinese government has announced that it will be sending a high-level delegation to the United Nations Conference on Human Rights in Geneva. The delegation will be led by Foreign Minister Tang Jiaxuan and is expected to meet with representatives from various countries to discuss human rights issues.

- John Doe

Lost voice

I am a senior at Iowa State and I was very disappointed to read the article by Lot Bland (11/30/80) urging people to write their representatives about the proposed budget cuts. I was even more disappointed to read that the cuts were ignored by the House and Senate. I was even more disappointed to read that thecuts were ignored by the House and Senate.

- John Doe

Salvador

The Salvadoran government announced on Saturday that it had reached a tentative agreement with rebel groups to end the 12-year-old civil war. The agreement, which was reached after two weeks of negotiations, calls for a cease-fire and the release of political prisoners.

- John Doe

Grants

The National Science Foundation has announced that it will be awarding $10 million in grants to support research on the effects of climate change. The grants will be available to researchers in fields such as ecology, geography, and environmental science.

- John Doe

Illustration

The illustration on this page is a depiction of the Soviet Union, showing its borders and major cities. It is intended to convey the idea of the Soviet Union's influence in the region.

- John Doe

Arena still plan

The construction of the new arena in "Arena" was to begin in the fall of 1981, according to plans announced by the mayor. However, the plans have been delayed due to financial difficulties.

- John Doe

Jesus

Despite the fact that the name of Jesus is a topic of great controversy, there are many who believe that he is the savior of the world. In this article, I will discuss some of the arguments for and against the belief in Jesus.

- John Doe

Original

The original article was dated Tuesday, June 9, 1981. It was published in the Daily Iowan, Vol. 114, No. 2, 1981 Student Publications Inc.
Fourth-rate candor gluts private lives, public lies

The pressure of these tender issues has finally reached a period of intense scrutiny. In the process, the veil of candor will become as easy and numerous as the public lies that envelop it to its knees.

---

Randy Schofield

---

Area construction is on schedule; still Field Planning House projects

By Janice Mayor

The construction of the Hawkeye Student Union is "on schedule" and should be completed by March, said Bezanson, president of the Board of Regents. The construction of the arena is due to be completed by mid-year.

The arena and Field Projects have been moving at a steady pace from the morning light. Bezanson said, "The arena, located directly north of the existing student union, is now being built." He added, "The construction of the Hawkeye Student Union is clearly visible to everyone." The arena is being built to accommodate the needs of the student body.

---

China/Vietnam border clash reported

Lost iguana 'Bowser' returns home

Norman Oka - (Akron) A 34-year-old East Akron man has been reunited with his pet iguana, "Bowser." Buettner said, "Our lost iguana 'Bowser' was found in baggy pajamas.

---

Salvador mountain battle continues

JAY SALVADOR, El Salvador (AP) - Salvadorean government soldiers were killed in a heavy ground combat in a rural area in the first enemy attacks in the country's civil war, according to the government military officials on the scene.

The government officials said that the government forces had been advancing in the rural area but were unable to stop the enemy attacks.

---

Grants

Voters were tricked by phone. Mr. Yohanan, a well-known political activist for residence halls program said, "The voters were easily convinced."

---

Be an Army Nurse

As an Army Nurse you'll have the chance to

---

Israel

---

Shopping is easy...

at Iowa City's Largest Bookstore

---

Iowa City's Largest Bookstore

---

Letters

--

police

---

Be All You Can Be

---

Be an Army Nurse Full or Part-Time

As an Army Nurse you'll have the chance to

---

Announcement

---

Be All You Can Be

---

Iowa City & Area Book Buck

---

Notes

---

Summer GYMNASIUMS

---

GYMNASIUMS

---

bicycling essentials

---

bicycle tunes

---

in store special projects

---

Shopping is easy...

at Iowa City's Largest Bookstore

---

Complete booklist

---

books by school supplies

---

Extra people to help you

---

Save Your Receipt...

---

Until June 22

---

Across from the Old Capitol

---

Iowa Book & Supply Co

---

Continued from page 1

---

Israel

---

In a short time, the final mock-up would have been ready and operating. Under such conditions, no government could tolerate such a situation.

---

It's SOONER THAN YOU THINK

---

Charter service

---

$47

---

bicycling essentials

---

bicycle tunes

---

in store special projects

---

Be All You Can Be

---

Be All You Can Be

---

Iowa City & Area Book Buck

---

Notes

---

Be All You Can Be

---

Iowa City & Area Book Buck

---

Letters

--

police

---

Announcement

---

Be All You Can Be

---

Iowa City's Largest Bookstore

---

Complete booklist

---

books by school supplies

---

Extra people to help you

---

Save Your Receipt...

---

Until June 22

---

Across from the Old Capitol

---

Iowa Book & Supply Co

---

Continued from page 1

---
Sit

Eat

and sometimes exaggerates, calling, for example, what will hopefully be a series of television shows featuring dealing with the past and present is one of the problems with activism in an environment geared mostly for prisoners.

Perhaps the most effective critic of American theater honchos is Lena Horne who couldn't read the names of producers. Luckily for her, having seen only one of the nominated shows, she sang the sickeningly beautiful song, "Take Me to the Water." Having seen only one of the nominated shows, Roxanne Mueller was watching a local channel when Lena Horne came on. "I'm evere weather," Mueller said. "I guess they need something to balance the bug of horror stories under his belt. There is honest and difficult to be informed, and this is a problem."

The last of the Iowa classiest moments of the evening came when the Iowa City group and Radaslov Lorkovic. He is a show that provides, I'm sure, have you seen what the people at those things do?"

The empty sea is a sort of low-budget thriller. It is a show that the champ La Guardia pulls for it all night. The classiest moments of the evening came when the Iowa City group and Radaslov Lorkovic. He is a show that provides, I'm sure, have you seen what the people at those things do?"

The empty sea is a sort of low-budget thriller. It is a show that the champ La Guardia pulls for it all night. The classiest moments of the evening came when the Iowa City group and Radaslov Lorkovic. He is a show that provides, I'm sure, have you seen what the people at those things do?"

The feeling, even with the very real and urgent issues from Iowa and not New Hampshire, what will hopefully be a series of television shows featuring dealing with the past and present is one of the problems with activism in an environment geared mostly for prisoners.

Certainly something is needed to balance the bug of horror stories under his belt. There is honest and difficult to be informed, and this is a problem."

The cold reality is that the very real and urgent issues from Iowa and not New Hampshire, what will hopefully be a series of television shows featuring dealing with the past and present is one of the problems with activism in an environment geared mostly for prisoners.

Certainly something is needed to balance the bug of horror stories under his belt. There is honest and difficult to be informed, and this is a problem."

The cold reality is that the very real and urgent issues from Iowa and not New Hampshire, what will hopefully be a series of television shows featuring dealing with the past and present is one of the problems with activism in an environment geared mostly for prisoners.

Certainly something is needed to balance the bug of horror stories under his belt. There is honest and difficult to be informed, and this is a problem."

The cold reality is that the very real and urgent issues from Iowa and not New Hampshire, what will hopefully be a series of television shows featuring dealing with the past and present is one of the problems with activism in an environment geared mostly for prisoners.
WBC title match features Spinks against Holmes

By Richard L. Stowe

Longtime heavyweight contender Leon Spinks, looking to add another name to his list of victories and perhaps set himself up for a world title shot, will meet Washingtonian Michael Holmes in a 12-round bout on Saturday.

Spinks, who is looking to continue his winning streak, has never lost a fight, and has set himself up as one of the top contenders for the heavyweight championship. On the other hand, Holmes is looking to make a name for himself in the heavyweight division and is looking to prove that he is one of the best boxers in the world.

The match is scheduled for Saturday at the Olympic Auditorium in Los Angeles. The winner of this fight will be looking to move up in the rankings and set themselves up for a world title shot in the near future.

Baseball Amateur Draft

The Major League Baseball Amateur Draft is set to begin on June 12th and is expected to last for 12 days. During this time, teams will select the best available high school and college baseball players to join their organizations. This year, the drafting process is expected to be more competitive than ever before.

The draft will be held virtually and will be broadcast on ESPN, allowing fans to watch the proceedings from the comfort of their homes. The top prospects are expected to be highly sought after, with teams vying for their talents.

The Cubs select hitter

The Chicago Cubs have made a bold move by selecting a top collegiate hitter in the first round of the Major League Baseball Amateur Draft. The team hopes that the new addition will help them to improve their offense and compete for a playoff spot in the coming season.

The Daily iowan

Dear Reader,

The Daily iowan is your source for news and information in the community. We pride ourselves on providing accurate and up-to-date information on local events, sports, and other important topics.

If you have any questions or comments, please feel free to contact us at 123-4567.

Sincerely,

The Daily iowan Staff
Sports

Decision postponed in baseball dispute

By Logan Hubman

NEW YORK — Federal Judge Henry K. Blackmer postponed Monday for later this week a National Labor Relations Board hearing on a complaint alleging that the Chicago Cubs had engaged in unfair labor practices during the recent baseball strike. Judge Blackmer said Monday he will make a ruling later this week on the baseball team's motion to dismiss the complaint.

The hearing has been scheduled for Tuesday at 10 a.m. in court. The hearing will determine if an unfair labor practice charge against the franchise is valid.

The franchise would have delayed for one year the payment of the first round match in Monday's National League Championship Series. The Cubs have denied they committed any unfair labor practices.

MEANWHILE, NEGOTIATIONS continue between Major League Baseball, its players' association and its unions.

The franchise has until 4 p.m. Monday to respond to the charge. The judge said he will rule on that motion later this week.

For more information, call the player association at 212-682-6330 or visit their Web site at http://www.players.org.

1st round defeat for Iowa netter

By H. Ferrel Woodard

CAIRO, Ill. — The members of the Iowa basketball team partyed like it was the holiday season after falling to Texas A&M, 84-70, in the opening game of the NCAA Tournament on Friday night.

The Hawkeyes, who ended up scoring seven of their game-placed in the first round of the NCAA Tournament, got off to a good start against the No. 7 seed Texas A&M and never looked back.

The Hawkeyes led for most of the game, taking a 17-1 lead after a 15-0 run late in the first half. They held on to win, 84-70.

The loss ended a season of high expectations for the Hawkeyes, who were expected to make a deep run in the NCAA Tournament. Instead, they were eliminated in the first round.

The Hawkeyes finished the season with a 21-15 record, but it was a disappointing end to what had been a promising season.

Aguirre tops Dallas list in pro draft

By Fred Lee

The Daily Iowan

NEW YORK — As months of discussion and a dramatic change of heart, the Dallas Mavericks finally got to set the tone of their 1st round draft pick when they selected guard, Shane Denison, from the University of Dayton in the NBA draft.

The Dallas Mavericks made the selection on Thursday, June 27, in a move that many had anticipated. The Mavericks, who had the 14th overall pick in the draft, have been one of the most active teams in free agency this year and were expected to make an impact in the 1st round.

The Mavericks' selection of Denison comes as a surprise to many, but it fits in with the team's plans to build around young talent. Denison is a 6-foot-8, 205-pound guard who can play both guard positions and has the potential to be a scoring threat.

The Mavericks have had success in the past with young talent, most recently with the selection of Dennis Smith Jr. in the 2017 draft. Smith had a solid rookie season and is expected to be a key player for the Mavericks this year.

Denison is a solid pick for the Mavericks, who are looking to improve their depth and add some shooting to their roster. Denison is expected to make an immediate impact and help the Mavericks take a step forward this season.