Solidarity blamed for low coal production

The Daily Iowan
Monday September 14, 1982

Solidarity blamed for low coal production

Reagan defends short cuts in military

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13—President Reagan, calling the Defense Department's budget cuts "hard to swallow," defended his plans to trim by 15 percent what was needed to keep the U.S. military strong.

Reagan described his latest round of spending cuts as "an important part" of his efforts to reduce the federal deficit, which so far this year has been running at an annual rate of more than $82 billion.

He said his plan to trim $2 billion from the defense budget would save the government only about 15 percent of what is needed to prevent a "long-term" erosion of our military capability. But Reagan said the cuts were necessary to meet the needs of the budget.

"When you step back," Reagan said, "it's clear that the cuts that have been made are severe, and it will be, I think, impossible to meet the needs that are going to be needed in the future." He said the cuts were at a time when the Soviet Union is "increasing its military capability and its arms race capability".

The president also said that the cuts were made "in an effort to keep the military budget at the right level".

Reagan said that the cuts would not "diminish the capabilities" of the military, but would "make it impossible to do everything that needs to be done".

The cuts were announced by the Pentagon last week, and are the result of a review of the budget by the Reagan administration.

The cuts include a reduction of $1.5 billion in the defense budget, and a reduction of $2.5 billion in the non-defense budget.

The cuts will be implemented in the next fiscal year, and will be in effect for the fiscal year ending in September 1983.

The cuts will be in effect for the fiscal year ending in September 1983.

The cuts will be in effect for the fiscal year ending in September 1983.

The cuts will be in effect for the fiscal year ending in September 1983.

The cuts will be in effect for the fiscal year ending in September 1983.
Briefly

Second journalist expelled

Gulnara Gaidar, who was a Soviet journalist in her home district in the city of Yuzhno-Kurilsk, named in her 20-page statement as a "political agent" of the Brezhnev regime in the city of Yuzhno-Kurilsk. The statement was presented in the trial of Gaidar who was charged with "slandering the honor and good name of the Soviet people." Gaidar had been sentenced to ten years in prison.

Hurricane Harvey "maturing"

MIAMI (UPI) - Hurricane Harvey, the Category 4 storm that dumped the heaviest rainfall in the state of Texas this year, has reached its peak intensity.

U.S. police to publish encyclical

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) - The Philadelphia Police Department is scheduled to publish an encyclical,
"A Message to the Criminals of Philadelphia," which will be distributed to Philadelphia's 50,000 police officers.

Thousands flee China floods

BEIJING (UPI) - A great flood that has hit China's northwest and central areas has forced thousands to flee their homes.

ATTENTION

All Interested Students

The following positions are open:

1. At-large seat

2. Off-campus seat

Pick up petitions 9-5 Monday and Tuesday (Sept. 14 & 15) from the Student Activities Office
Secretary for the Special

SEPTMEMBER 22 Election.

Petitions are due 5:00 pm Thursday, September 14.

5 REASONS TO BUY YOUR TURNABLE FROM ADVANCED AUDIO

ONKYO CP 100A $125

1. Precise alignment and set-up, (normally a $20 value), FREE WITH ANY TURNABLE.

2. The most in-depth turntable/arm/cartridge knowledge in Iowa City.

3. Audioophile products from REGA RESEARCH, GRADO, GRACE, SUPREME, and CONNOISSEUR.

5. As above.

4. As above.

The Turntable Specialists
321 S. Gilbert 338-9383

City may shield maintenance yard

By Randy Land

PONTIAC, Mich. (UPI) - A Pontiac, Mich., city official said he intends to build a maintenance yard for city vehicles in a neighborhood that has been plagued by crime.

Board okays funds transfer

By Andy Board

The Johnson County Board of Supervisors approved a transfer of county funds last Thursday, even though some transfers were denied by the state last spring.

Police beat

By Dave Haggard

ONKYO CP 100A $125

1. Precise alignment and set-up, (normally a $20 value), FREE WITH ANY TURNABLE.

2. The most in-depth turntable/arm/cartridge knowledge in Iowa City.

3. Audioophile products from REGA RESEARCH, GRADO, GRACE, SUPREME, and CONNOISSEUR.

5. As above.

4. As above.

The Turntable Specialists
321 S. Gilbert 338-9383

Police beat

By Dave Haggard

ONKYO CP 100A $125

1. Precise alignment and set-up, (normally a $20 value), FREE WITH ANY TURNABLE.

2. The most in-depth turntable/arm/cartridge knowledge in Iowa City.

3. Audioophile products from REGA RESEARCH, GRADO, GRACE, SUPREME, and CONNOISSEUR.

5. As above.

4. As above.

The Turntable Specialists
321 S. Gilbert 338-9383

ONKYO CP 1130F $250

1. Precise alignment and set-up, (normally a $20 value), FREE WITH ANY TURNABLE.

2. The most in-depth turntable/arm/cartridge knowledge in Iowa City.

3. Audioophile products from REGA RESEARCH, GRADO, GRACE, SUPREME, and CONNOISSEUR.

5. As above.

4. As above.
Strange bedfellows

Strategic partnerships and a decision, budget amendment held a public hearing. The county would have but the county indicated a miscue. Investigating the or claim, but this to in poor transfer which he would have put in the budget amendment.

Staff

Musician and teacher, she said. "I have 20 years of experience in foreign languages and try again next year. Becoming discouraged in their quest for Fulbright, sometimes language skills. Taylor applied for the scholarships again this year, and there will not be consideration and they knew. She said. A date for the interview has not been set.

Phillips will accept U.S. post if her nomination is confirmed

By Jennifer Staver

Susan Phillips, US associate vice-president of Boeing, will receive her administrative post if she is approved by the United States Senate, a source said. However, Phillips said she will not be a candidate for the permanent position.

The Federal Aviation Administration is considering the appointment of a new ambassador to France, according to sources. The Senate has expressed some concern about the nomination, but has not yet taken action.

Phillips said she would accept the nomination if it is approved by the Senate.

She said she would be prepared to move to France as soon as possible.

Whistle-stop plan proposed to help prevent rape in I.C.

By Jackie Taylor

Iowa City women may begin carrying whistles as a deterrent against rape if a proposed program gains the approval of the general public.

The program was announced by the Iowa City Police Department and the Iowa City Police and Fire Protection Commission.

"We would like to see this program implemented on a city-wide basis," said Chief of Police, Kirk Duncan. The department has been working on the program for several months and has received support from various organizations.

Duncan said he believed that a "whistle-training" program would be effective in reducing the number of assaults on women.

The whistle is a break-beak device that was used in the military and is considered to be a useful tool for self-defense.

"We believe that the whistle has been proven to be an effective tool in preventing rape," said Duncan.

Duncan said he had been working with a group of local organizations to develop the program.

He said the program would involve the distribution of whistles to women who are at risk of being attacked.

The program would be funded by grants from various sources and the City of Iowa City.

Philly's will accept U.S. post if her nomination is confirmed

By Jennifer Staver

Susan Phillips, US associate vice-president of Boeing, will receive her administrative post if she is approved by the United States Senate, a source said. However, Phillips said she will not be a candidate for the permanent position.

The Federal Aviation Administration is considering the appointment of a new ambassador to France, according to sources. The Senate has expressed some concern about the nomination, but has not yet taken action.

Phillips said she would accept the nomination if it is approved by the Senate.

She said she would be prepared to move to France as soon as possible.

Whistle-stop plan proposed to help prevent rape in I.C.

By Jackie Taylor

Iowa City women may begin carrying whistles as a deterrent against rape if a proposed program gains the approval of the general public.

The program was announced by the Iowa City Police Department and the Iowa City Police and Fire Protection Commission.

"We would like to see this program implemented on a city-wide basis," said Chief of Police, Kirk Duncan. The department has been working on the program for several months and has received support from various organizations.

Duncan said he believed that a "whistle-training" program would be effective in reducing the number of assaults on women.

The whistle is a break-beak device that was used in the military and is considered to be a useful tool for self-defense.

"We believe that the whistle has been proven to be an effective tool in preventing rape," said Duncan.

Duncan said he had been working with a group of local organizations to develop the program.

He said the program would involve the distribution of whistles to women who are at risk of being attacked.

The program would be funded by grants from various sources and the City of Iowa City.

Phillips will accept U.S. post if her nomination is confirmed

By Jennifer Staver

Susan Phillips, US associate vice-president of Boeing, will receive her administrative post if she is approved by the United States Senate, a source said. However, Phillips said she will not be a candidate for the permanent position.

The Federal Aviation Administration is considering the appointment of a new ambassador to France, according to sources. The Senate has expressed some concern about the nomination, but has not yet taken action.

Phillips said she would accept the nomination if it is approved by the Senate.

She said she would be prepared to move to France as soon as possible.

Whistle-stop plan proposed to help prevent rape in I.C.

By Jackie Taylor

Iowa City women may begin carrying whistles as a deterrent against rape if a proposed program gains the approval of the general public.

The program was announced by the Iowa City Police Department and the Iowa City Police and Fire Protection Commission.

"We would like to see this program implemented on a city-wide basis," said Chief of Police, Kirk Duncan. The department has been working on the program for several months and has received support from various organizations.

Duncan said he believed that a "whistle-training" program would be effective in reducing the number of assaults on women.

The whistle is a break-beak device that was used in the military and is considered to be a useful tool for self-defense.

"We believe that the whistle has been proven to be an effective tool in preventing rape," said Duncan.

Duncan said he had been working with a group of local organizations to develop the program.

He said the program would involve the distribution of whistles to women who are at risk of being attacked.

The program would be funded by grants from various sources and the City of Iowa City.
Tuition increases may come as financial aid is becoming harder to obtain. If financial aid is not available many students may be unable to meet the increased cost of attending the UI.

The legislature wasn't impressed. On Wednesday, R. Wayne Buckley, ranking minority senator, would propose tuition increases of 18 percent for students in 15 percent for students in Iowa, 9 percent for 6 percent for students at the University of Iowa, 3 percent for 1 percent for students at the University of Northern Iowa.

The increase approved last year was thought to be sufficient; it was estimated that the cost to support a 2-year increase in tuition rates that seemed to be guaranteed for two years, may suddenly change.

There is no better way to get money needed by the state than increased tuition, because it must be increased by increased students, because increased can be increased in increased financial aid.

It's also been said that the increase may come as financial aid is becoming harder to obtain. If financial aid is not available many students may be unable to meet the increased cost of attending the UI.

Funding for the UI is in a complex intertwining faculty salaries, student financial aid, rent, funding and much more. As the legislature applies pressure for tuition increases, taxpayers will be required to increase the student's plan of the UI's 68 percent standard.

The increases approved last year were expected to be sufficient; it was estimated that the cost to support a 2-year increase in tuition rates that seemed to be guaranteed for two years, may suddenly change.

There is no better way to get money needed by the state than increased tuition, because it must be increased by increased students, because increased can be increased in increased financial aid.

It's also been said that the increase may come as financial aid is becoming harder to obtain. If financial aid is not available many students may be unable to meet the increased cost of attending the UI.

Funding for the UI is in a complex intertwining faculty salaries, student financial aid, rent, funding and much more. As the legislature applies pressure for tuition increases, taxpayers will be required to increase the student's plan of the UI's 68 percent standard.

The increases approved last year were expected to be sufficient; it was estimated that the cost to support a 2-year increase in tuition rates that seemed to be guaranteed for two years, may suddenly change.

There is no better way to get money needed by the state than increased tuition, because it must be increased by increased students, because increased can be increased in increased financial aid.

It's also been said that the increase may come as financial aid is becoming harder to obtain. If financial aid is not available many students may be unable to meet the increased cost of attending the UI.

Funding for the UI is in a complex intertwining faculty salaries, student financial aid, rent, funding and much more. As the legislature applies pressure for tuition increases, taxpayers will be required to increase the student's plan of the UI's 68 percent standard.

The increases approved last year were expected to be sufficient; it was estimated that the cost to support a 2-year increase in tuition rates that seemed to be guaranteed for two years, may suddenly change.

There is no better way to get money needed by the state than increased tuition, because it must be increased by increased students, because increased can be increased in increased financial aid.

It's also been said that the increase may come as financial aid is becoming harder to obtain. If financial aid is not available many students may be unable to meet the increased cost of attending the UI.

Funding for the UI is in a complex intertwining faculty salaries, student financial aid, rent, funding and much more. As the legislature applies pressure for tuition increases, taxpayers will be required to increase the student's plan of the UI's 68 percent standard.

The increases approved last year were expected to be sufficient; it was estimated that the cost to support a 2-year increase in tuition rates that seemed to be guaranteed for two years, may suddenly change.

There is no better way to get money needed by the state than increased tuition, because it must be increased by increased students, because increased can be increased in increased financial aid.

It's also been said that the increase may come as financial aid is becoming harder to obtain. If financial aid is not available many students may be unable to meet the increased cost of attending the UI.

Funding for the UI is in a complex intertwining faculty salaries, student financial aid, rent, funding and much more. As the legislature applies pressure for tuition increases, taxpayers will be required to increase the student's plan of the UI's 68 percent standard.

The increases approved last year were expected to be sufficient; it was estimated that the cost to support a 2-year increase in tuition rates that seemed to be guaranteed for two years, may suddenly change.

There is no better way to get money needed by the state than increased tuition, because it must be increased by increased students, because increased can be increased in increased financial aid.

It's also been said that the increase may come as financial aid is becoming harder to obtain. If financial aid is not available many students may be unable to meet the increased cost of attending the UI.

Funding for the UI is in a complex intertwining faculty salaries, student financial aid, rent, funding and much more. As the legislature applies pressure for tuition increases, taxpayers will be required to increase the student's plan of the UI's 68 percent standard.

The increases approved last year were expected to be sufficient; it was estimated that the cost to support a 2-year increase in tuition rates that seemed to be guaranteed for two years, may suddenly change.

There is no better way to get money needed by the state than increased tuition, because it must be increased by increased students, because increased can be increased in increased financial aid.

It's also been said that the increase may come as financial aid is becoming harder to obtain. If financial aid is not available many students may be unable to meet the increased cost of attending the UI.

Funding for the UI is in a complex intertwining faculty salaries, student financial aid, rent, funding and much more. As the legislature applies pressure for tuition increases, taxpayers will be required to increase the student's plan of the UI's 68 percent standard.

The increases approved last year were expected to be sufficient; it was estimated that the cost to support a 2-year increase in tuition rates that seemed to be guaranteed for two years, may suddenly change.

There is no better way to get money needed by the state than increased tuition, because it must be increased by increased students, because increased can be increased in increased financial aid.

It's also been said that the increase may come as financial aid is becoming harder to obtain. If financial aid is not available many students may be unable to meet the increased cost of attending the UI.

Funding for the UI is in a complex intertwining faculty salaries, student financial aid, rent, funding and much more. As the legislature applies pressure for tuition increases, taxpayers will be required to increase the student's plan of the UI's 68 percent standard.

The increases approved last year were expected to be sufficient; it was estimated that the cost to support a 2-year increase in tuition rates that seemed to be guaranteed for two years, may suddenly change.

There is no better way to get money needed by the state than increased tuition, because it must be increased by increased students, because increased can be increased in increased financial aid.

It's also been said that the increase may come as financial aid is becoming harder to obtain. If financial aid is not available many students may be unable to meet the increased cost of attending the UI.

Funding for the UI is in a complex intertwining faculty salaries, student financial aid, rent, funding and much more. As the legislature applies pressure for tuition increases, taxpayers will be required to increase the student's plan of the UI's 68 percent standard.

The increases approved last year were expected to be sufficient; it was estimated that the cost to support a 2-year increase in tuition rates that seemed to be guaranteed for two years, may suddenly change.

There is no better way to get money needed by the state than increased tuition, because it must be increased by increased students, because increased can be increased in increased financial aid.
The Spiral Perm!

14k gold earrings.
A dazzling investment. Choose from hoops, birthstones and studs in all shapes and sizes. Wear 14k gold and dazzle every person. Price: $99.95-
-
-
-

Fall Fashion Sale

Save 10.99
Save on dress shirts.
Reg. $14, Save 70%* A key blend of 50% Decowor polyester, 25% cotton. In white, pink, blue, and brown print cuffs. Sizes 14 to 17.

Save 20%
$10 to $12 off all our heavyweight jackets.
Reg. $64. Reg. $52. Regular neck zipper jacket comes in 12 color with zip-off shoulder. Polyester inter-liner. S.M.L.XL.

Reg. $92. Reg. $74. Western style jacket with送别 number. Quilted with polyester fiberfill. S.M.L.XL.

date 5.2-26

We are an Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer.

*Compare at prices of similar style and content. 50% cotton/40% poly. mens long, long which is $89.95. Signature shirt in black, striped, 100% cotton, patterned.

NOTE: JCPenney reserves the right to limit quantities sold.
Cody forgives oppressors '700 times seven times'

Fame and power can be blinding. The fall can be a shattering experience. So it was for William Loeb, the Democrat who was California's most powerful newspaper publisher and a favorite subject of the tabloid press.

Just as the world was beginning to ask whether the Chicago Archdiocese was trying to destroy Gerald Ford's nomination by attacking Loeb while standing on a stage at his August fundraiser, Loeb died in Los Angeles of a heart attack.

But Loeb's career was not without its twists and turns. He was a man of many talents and a man of many griefs. His life was marked by both success and failure, and his legacy is one of both accomplishment and controversy.

Loeb was born in 1905 and grew up in a middle-class family in New York City. He attended the University of California at Berkeley and later went on to become a successful businessman and publisher.

His most notable achievement was the acquisition of the Los Angeles Times, a newspaper that had been losing money for years. Loeb changed the paper's focus to local news and politics, and it soon became one of the leading newspapers in the West.

Loeb was known for his strong editorials, and he defended his strong editorials, and he was often a target of criticism from other newspapers and publications. He was also a target of the tabloid press, which often portrayed him in a negative light.

Loeb's death was a shock to many, and it was a loss to California's political landscape. His influence will be felt for years to come.
Witless plot of ‘Saturday the 14th’ is more certain to kill the audience

Bernstein: ‘Mass’ is relevant today

The week was performed in controversy a

The work was performed in controversy a

The premise of Under the Rainbow is Facts of Life: “Brother’s sister” $12,000.

The film and the movies, which critic Roger Ebert has

The couple and a third researcher found

The couple and a third researcher found

... Two Duke university

Robert E. Anders, assistant professor of history, Th...
Performing for prison audiences, troupe has strident, angry message

By Suzanne A. Merler
Aline entertainment reporter

It's hard not to applaud the physical effort of the Great Company, a theater troupe that has been taking its message of social justice to prison audiences for more than a decade.

The group's recent performance at the Illinois Women's Reception Center in Joliet was part of a national tour. It took place on a stage built in the basement of the prison for the occasion.

The theater troupe, which is a branch of the company, has been performing at the prison for several years. It's a way to bring theater to people who can't easily access it in the outside world.

The troupe's performances are often political, with messages about social issues and inequality. The audience includes both prisoners and prison staff.

The troupe's latest performance was well-received, with several prisoners expressing interest in continuing the tradition of bringing theater to the prison.

In addition to the performance, the troupe also conducted workshops with students from the Illinois Institute of Technology. These workshops are aimed at teaching theater students how to use their skills to make a difference in their communities.

The troupe's commitment to social justice is evident in its work, and its message is clear: theater can be a powerful tool for change.
BOWLING GREEN, Ky. (AP) — The National Collegiate Athletic Association has announced that it will not ban athletes from participating in bowl games if they choose to sit out the entire season due to COVID-19 concerns.

The NCAA's decision came after several conferences, including the Southeastern Conference, announced that their members would be allowed to opt out of the bowl season if they choose.

The NCAA's bowl subcommittee, which had been considering potential changes to its bowl eligibility rules, met on Wednesday to discuss the issue.

The committee decided that allowing players to opt out would create too much uncertainty and variability among participating schools.

The NCAA said it would continue to monitor the situation and could make further adjustments if necessary.

Tuition

Tuition increases proposed at the University of Kentucky would average 6.5% across all undergraduate programs, with some schools提议ing increases ranging from 4.1% to 11.3%.

The increases are intended to offset rising costs and support the university's mission.

The Board of Trustees is expected to vote on the tuition recommendations in the coming months.

Red Stallion Lounge

SPECIALS

Morm: Pitchers $1.75

Also on Mon: AMATEUR NIGHT

$40 First Prize ( instrumental and vocal)

Tues: pitchers $1.75

25¢ Off Mixed Drinks

Ex 242-401 One block behind Hawksley truck stop

TICKETS May Be Purchased at Hancher Box Office

All You Can Eat Buffet and Salad Bar

3.29 Mon - Fri 11-2

Deli variety of 27 items including appetizers, sandwiches, salads, desserts.

Lunch Mon - Wed Dinner Buffet: 3.47 Fri - Sat: 4.19 Sun: 1.16

THE UNIVERSITY OF IOWA

SKI TEAM/CLUB

will hold an introductory meeting.

Tuesday, September 15

121 A Shoemaker Hall

This year's activities will include:

- Baker Lessons (JANUARY)
- Brown and Cooper (MARCH)
- CANADA and SHOTPUT (MAY)
- COLORADO
- Weekend Ski Treks in Wisconsin
- Weekends in Sundance
- Winter Sports CAMP for the National Ski Team
- AND MORE

COME FIND OUT WHAT IT'S ALL ABOUT!

Young Artists Should Be Seen And Heard

Sung-Ju Lee

violin

Hearing an extraordinary young violinist performing classic violin repertoire with unique sensibility can be equally inspiring to musicians and lovers of music.

Lee has won violin competitions in New York, Finland, Moscow, and Washington, D.C.

Tickets: $15

Students $12

Children $5

Nonstudents $3

Clapp Recital Hall

Wednesday, September 16, 1981

8:00 pm

Hancher Auditorium

Tickets are $5.00 for students; $6 for nonstudents and are available at the Hancher Box Office: 319-353-6255 or call toll-free 1-800-272-6255. It is a S.C.O.P.E. presentation.

American String Quartet

Thursday, September 24

Amos Eaton Center

Tickets are $9.50 adults; $5 for students; $2 for seniors and may be purchased at the box office or by calling 319-335-3600.

The American String Quartet, winners of a Grammy award, will perform a program that includes works by Mozart, Beethoven, and Schumann.

Tickets May Be Purchased at Hancher Box Office

All You Can Eat Buffet and Salad Bar

3.29 Mon - Fri 11-2

Deli variety of 27 items including appetizers, sandwiches, salads, desserts.

Lunch Mon - Wed Dinner Buffet: 3.47 Fri - Sat: 4.19 Sun: 1.16

THE UNIVERSITY OF IOWA

SKI TEAM/CLUB

will hold an introductory meeting.

Tuesday, September 15

121 A Shoemaker Hall

This year's activities will include:

- Baker Lessons (JANUARY)
- Brown and Cooper (MARCH)
- CANADA and SHOTPUT (MAY)
- COLORADO
- Weekend Ski Treks in Wisconsin
- Weekends in Sundance
- Winter Sports CAMP for the National Ski Team
- AND MORE

COME FIND OUT WHAT IT'S ALL ABOUT!
McEnroe wins Open; sets record

NEW YORK (UPI) — For drama and suspense and superstars, the U.S. Open tennis tournament had it all Sunday night as John McEnroe, 21, won his first U.S. Open championship in front of a record crowd of 21,288.

New York, N.Y. — It was probably the most theatrical of all, the classic New York moment that always seems so appropriate. The lights were on. The mood was right. The atmosphere was electric.

The 21-year-old McEnroe, who had never before won a U.S. Open championship, wasn't sure he would win. He said he was just trying to "make it interesting" for the fans.

"I played by far the most 'entertaining' game I've ever played," said McEnroe, who lost in the semifinals two years ago.

"I'm still here for the record. I'm still here to be remembered. I'm still here for the history."

Duncan criticizes ISU despite victory

AMES, Iowa (UPI) — Duncan Discount Foods, the sponsor that paid to have an ISU football team in its name, has been criticized for its performance.

The team has been successful on the field, but not in the classroom. The school's academic success rate is below average.

"I think we're all happy," Duncan said. "We're happy for the team. But we're not happy with the school."

"It's a big screen," Duncan said.

"We're not concerned about the final score," Duncan said. "We're concerned about the final grades."
Hawks State

The stage, now to hold its own, is known that every rose has a thorn. This is true in the world of sports, where the team that prevails will raise the banner of victory. For the Hawkeyes, their competition in the quarterfinal round of the tournament, shaping up just about to first collegiate competition, is putting on quite a show. Their opponents, the University of Illinois, are making a strong showing over the weekend. The Hawkeyes, after winning the first two games, are up against the Fighting Illini in the quarterfinal round at 7 p.m. on Saturday.

Sportsview

Jay Christensen

In UI., Iowa State came to Kansas Stadium, meaning to use their poise over the Illinois State Poise. The Hawkeyes, who have been a dominant force in the Big Ten, were chosen to win this match. However, the Fighting Illini fought back, taking a 61-55 win against the Hawkeyes. This loss is the first for the Hawkeyes in the Big Ten this season. The Illini's defense was strong, holding the Hawkeyes to just 30 points in the first half. The Hawkeyes fought back in the second half, scoring 26 points, but it was not enough to overcome the Illini's lead.

Scoreboard

The Daily Iowan—Iowa City, Iowa—Monday September 14, 1981—Page 11

DI Classifieds 111 Communications Center

11 am deadline for new ads & cancellations.

JAZZ N VEREEN

Verene's will light up your world with its Jazz N Verene concert'on September 15th ($20 for 2, $25 for 3).

TRADE

Parade: October 10, 6 pm

Office

Postscripts blank Please print neatly. sponsored by

HELP WANTED

DI Classifieds 111 Communications Center

01 am deadline for new ads & cancellations.

JAZZ N VEREEN

Verene's will light up your world with its Jazz N Verene concert'on September 15th ($20 for 2, $25 for 3).

TRADE

Parade: October 10, 6 pm

Office

Postscripts blank Please print neatly. sponsored by

HELP WANTED

Sportsview

Jay Christensen

In UI., Iowa State came to Kansas Stadium, meaning to use their poise over the Illinois State Poise. The Hawkeyes, who have been a dominant force in the Big Ten, were chosen to win this match. However, the Fighting Illini fought back, taking a 61-55 win against the Hawkeyes. This loss is the first for the Hawkeyes in the Big Ten this season. The Illini's defense was strong, holding the Hawkeyes to just 30 points in the first half. The Hawkeyes fought back in the second half, scoring 26 points, but it was not enough to overcome the Illini's lead.

Scoreboard

The Daily Iowan—Iowa City, Iowa—Monday September 14, 1981—Page 11

DI Classifieds 111 Communications Center

11 am deadline for new ads & cancellations.

JAZZ N VEREEN

Verene's will light up your world with its Jazz N Verene concert'on September 15th ($20 for 2, $25 for 3).

TRADE

Parade: October 10, 6 pm

Office

Postscripts blank Please print neatly. sponsored by

HELP WANTED

Sportsview

Jay Christensen

In UI., Iowa State came to Kansas Stadium, meaning to use their poise over the Illinois State Poise. The Hawkeyes, who have been a dominant force in the Big Ten, were chosen to win this match. However, the Fighting Illini fought back, taking a 61-55 win against the Hawkeyes. This loss is the first for the Hawkeyes in the Big Ten this season. The Illini's defense was strong, holding the Hawkeyes to just 30 points in the first half. The Hawkeyes fought back in the second half, scoring 26 points, but it was not enough to overcome the Illini's lead.

Scoreboard
Hawks avenge Huskers for upset

By Mike Kruft

What a difference a year makes.

In what will likely be remembered as college football's most dramatic upset of the 1980s, the University of Iowa Hawkeyes defeated Nebraska in the 1981 Sugar Bowl. Iowa, led by head coach Hayden Fry, had already lost to Nebraska the previous year, 21-17. The 1981 Sugar Bowl victory avenged that loss and marked the biggest win of Fry's career.

Iowa's victory was built on strong defensive play, particularly in the second half. The Hawkeyes scored all of their points in the fourth quarter, with two touchdowns and a field goal. Nebraska, on the other hand, struggled offensively, managing only a 57-0 defeat in the first half.

The Hawkeyes were led by quarterback Chuck Long, who threw for 161 yards and two touchdowns. Iowa also got strong rushing from fullback Terry Kimbrough, who ran for 134 yards and a touchdown.

Hayden Fry was interviewed after the game, reflecting on the significance of the victory.

"This is the biggest win since I've been at Iowa," Fry said. "We kept the ball on the Iowa side of the field, and we capitalized on Nebraska's mistakes. They've been out-playing us in many ways, and we finally got the upper hand."

The victory gave Iowa an overall record of 10-7 and marked the second time in six years that they had defeated Nebraska, who had entered the game with an 11-0 record. It was also Nebraska's first loss of the season.

For the Hawkeyes, it was a sweet response to the previous year's loss to Nebraska, and it solidified their position as one of the nation's top college football teams. The victory was particularly significant given the strong Nebraska teams of the 1970s, which had dominated college football in recent years.

The Hawkeyes' victory in the Sugar Bowl left a lasting impact on college football, highlighting the potential for any team to pull off an upset and solidifying Hayden Fry's reputation as a skilled coach.