Draft ruling expected soon
WASHINGTON (UPI) - President Reagan is expected to sign a bill soon to extend the draft registration program, but for the first time, an official said Wednesday, to "at least some" women.

A statement by Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger that women might be drafted if the number of men eligible for the draft were reduced has not been confirmed, the official said.

Hit squads threat still felt
WASHINGTON (UPI) - Self-Republican House leaders are still wary of the threat of President Reagan and other top U.S. officials to declare the draft registration program -- which covers both men and women -- obsolete.

A member of the House of Representatives, an official said Wednesday, said the threat had not been withdrawn.

Housing starts show gains
WASHINGTON (UPI) -- The construction industry enjoyed a strong growth spurt in November, as housing starts reached an annual rate of 1.78 million units, 19 percent higher than the previous month.

The biggest gain, said an official, was in the construction of one-family houses, which reached 1.03 million units, a 21.5 percent increase.

Burglar asks prison reform
LAS VEGAS (UPI) -- The Nevada prison system should be "reformed with Forrest Gump," said a prisoner Wednesday, referring to the popular movie about a man with Down's syndrome.

The prisoner, who had served time in the Nevada State Prison, said he was "overjoyed" to hear that a film about a man with Down's syndrome had been released.

Deadly autumn storms hit
(UP) -- The latest in a series of autumn storms has left a trail of death and destruction across the state, including the deaths of three people in the Las Vegas area.

The storms, which have hit the state since last month, have caused widespread damage, including the closure of some roads and the loss of power to thousands of homes.

Cutting interrupted medications
Ft. MCMURRAY, Alta. (UPI) -- The Canadian government has announced that it will delay the delivery of essential medications to those in need, including patients with diabetes and those with heart conditions.

The government has been criticized for its response to the cuts, which have caused widespread concern among health care providers.

Correction
The story should read "corrector or incorrector detent or detention," not "corrector or incorrector detention," as it was initially reported.

Evans appeals commission ruling that upheld his August demotion

By Richard Jones

Former Iowa City Post-Citizen reporter Freda Evans is appealing a decision by the Iowa Register's Office that upheld an August decision to demote Evans.

"We're hoping to overturn the decision," said Evans, who has worked for the Register's Office for 25 years.

The Register's Office decided that Evans should be demoted from his position as a reporter to the position of a staff writer.

Evans says he was 'wrongly' demoted

"I don't think I was wrongfully demoted," Evans said. "I think the Register's Office made a mistake in removing me from my position as a reporter.

"I was told that I was being demoted because I had been working too hard and had been taking too many breaks.

"But I don't think that's true. I was just doing my job and trying to get the job done.

"I've been working at the Register's Office for 25 years and I've never had any problems with my job performance.

"I'm taking this to the Iowa Register's Office and I'm hoping they'll see that this was a mistake."
College may set T.A. requirements in preparation for council tasks

By Clarence Davidsen Editor

Both Dr. J. Michael Old and Dr. John McDonald, who are each members of the Iowa City Council, are doing their homework in preparation for attending the council meetings. Both have set their major tasks to be accomplished at the next council meeting.

Dr. Old, who is a member of the City Council, said he would set his major tasks to be accomplished at the next council meeting. He said he would be ready to present his proposal for the establishment of a new library in the city, and that he would also be ready to present his proposal for the establishment of a new park in the city.

Dr. McDonald, who is also a member of the City Council, said he would set his major tasks to be accomplished at the next council meeting. He said he would be ready to present his proposal for the establishment of a new hospital in the city, and that he would also be ready to present his proposal for the establishment of a new school in the city.

The council will be meeting with leaders in all city departments and discuss the council’s role in decision making. It is also expected that the council will discuss the council’s role in the city’s budget. It is expected that the council will discuss the council’s role in the city’s budget.

Early retirement

The State Board of Regents decided this week on an experiment: full phased retirement plan for UI employees. The plan would go into effect July 1, 1981, and would involve 25 percent with more than 30 years experience. At the age of 65, they would be able to negotiate work no more than 80 percent of full-time for the first year, scaling down to half-time in five years. Although they would still receive their full pension, they would receive a bonus of 10 percent of their full-time salary, with fringe benefits based on salary.

The regents and the UI have worked out many of their disagreements. They agreed to eliminate some of the part-time positions, and to provide for the remaining state retirement. The phased retirement plan could be beneficial in several respects. The state would save money by not paying for full-time salaries. This would enable experienced employees to work down gradually to retirement. It would also mean better training academically with much to contribute to stay on part-time instead of leaving academic circles.

Especially important, it would help open up opportunities for young scholars. Budget cuts are forcing many universities to cut not only faculty but also post-doctoral level, but recent departures. Cornell College in Mount Vernon. Ia., plans to lose 12 faculty members this fall, while the University of Michigan is cutting entire academic departments. The number of qualified scholars for research supply of teaching jobs, and the gap is growing.

A Christmas tale

A critique of the best seller, A Christmas Carol, 1981.
The plot: with the most recent national Santa Claus election, the Ghost of Christmas Past has defeated the incumbent. Upon assumption, he makes sweeping changes. As he resides in the same White House, he lives frugal from before his departure from the White House, where he lives frugal to his former self.

Surely there are more than five percent of the people who would be willing to donate a bonus 10 percent of their full-time salary, with fringe benefits away some of the surplus to the Food and Nutrition Service, which is trying to prohibit the Agriculture Department from giving surplus dairy to waste, thereby creating a mammoth storage problem for the USDA. I am encouraged by the fact that I have received many letters from people who, like me, are concerned about the surplus dairy problem. The higher you go, the bigger is the bonus. In fact, if I were to go to the UI, I would definitely consider renting a room, even one that costs $200 per month. The UI has about 20 percent of its dormitory housing facilities, which has been criticized by some. The UI is a very popular university, but it is not necessarily the best for everyone. I have received many letters from people who, like me, are concerned about the surplus dairy problem.

Killing time: poorly trained practitioners need more support

In the latest issue, we have noticed a disturbing trend in the field of nutrition. More and more people are relying on nutritionists for guidance, but they are not necessarily receiving the best advice. This is especially true in the area of school lunches.

College students can make a major difference in the battle against junk food. Instead of buying junk food from vending machines, they can choose nutritious options when they have the opportunity. The university can play a crucial role in ensuring that students have access to healthy food options.

Congress approves major bills

WASHINGTON (11/17) — The 95th Congress reached an impasse late last night, but the Joint Committee on Taxation and the Senate Finance Committee reached an agreement on a major bill that completes part of the 1970 tax program.

The bill, which was passed by both houses of Congress last night, would extend the 1970 tax cuts by three years and add some new provisions. It would also make a number of changes in the tax laws, including the elimination of the estate tax, the introduction of a graduated income tax, and the establishment of a national sales tax.

The bill would also include a provision to increase the standard deduction for married couples from $2,000 to $3,000, and to increase the personal exemption for children from $250 to $500.

The bill also includes provisions to encourage savings and investment, and to provide tax breaks for individuals and businesses.

The bill was supported by both Republicans and Democrats, and was passed by a vote of 310 to 110 in the House and by a vote of 71 to 23 in the Senate.

The bill now goes to President Reagan for his signature, and it is expected to be signed into law within the next few days.

Hawkie hold fast practice

Yesterday was the first day of formal workouts for Iowa's football team. All 113 players in the program were given new warmup jerseys in preparation for the season opener Sept. 6.

Coach Hayden Fry said the players were off the public and he plans three public practices before the opener.

New receiver Jason Keller and return man Pete Balgaard turned out for the Hawkeyes.

To accommodate the players during drills, 1976 national champions were given parking passes for the time.

The players spent 4.5 hours on the field.

Allen named UPI's Player of the Year

LOUISIANA (UPI) — Marvin "Mouse" Allen, the brain in the wing and backfield for the Southern Cal Trojans, is the 1980 United Press International Player of the Year in voting made Tuesday.

Allen, who won the Heisman Trophy two weeks ago in a runaway vote, announced Wednesday.

International Player of the Year.

"I would love to think all my coaches, Art Schlichter of Ohio State and Marcus Allen of Nebraska, had something to do with that," Allen said. "There is not one guy that has been more consistent than me this season. I've been watching my technique the last two weeks and that's something that I've been working on."
