Revised downtown plan unveiled

By Howard Neeve

The Iowa City Council looked sanitarily last Thursday night at a project that would have the goal of creating a downtown pedestrian mall run underneath the UI/City of Iowa City parking lot. The project would be called the "Iowa City City Center, IMU." Ali Designer Environments, the firm that will oversee the project,-Todd Turner explained that the project will fit in nicely with the pedestrian mall that will be constructed by the city, and will be located at the site of the old Iowa City parking lot. Turner said that the project would create a "labyrinth" of pedestrian paths that would be connected to the downtown area. He also said that the project would be financed through private contributions, and that the city would not be responsible for any of the costs. The project would be completed by the end of 1983, and would be open for public use by August 1983. For more information, contact the Iowa City Department of Planning and Development, or call (319) 335-6411.

County to miss budget deadline

By Karen Coon

The Johnson County Board of Supervisors has tentatively set a budget deadline for October 31, 1982. The current budget was approved on July 19, 1982, and was set to expire on October 31, 1982. The deadline was set to allow for the preparation of the new budget, and to give the county time to complete the budget process. The current budget was set by the county board, and was based on the county's financial situation at the time. For more information, contact the Johnson County Board of Supervisors, or call (319) 335-6411.

Surging increase in dorm requests

By Jackie Blevin

The number of new students applying to live in residence halls on campus has increased significantly in recent years. The most recent increase has been in dorm requests, which have increased by 2,431 since the 1981-82 academic year. The increase in dorm requests is due to a number of factors, including the growth of the student population, the growth of the University of Iowa, and the growth of the University of Iowa Hospitals and Clinics. For more information, contact the University Housing Department, or call (319) 335-6411.

School nurses to fight to keep their jobs

By Ed Teachout

The Iowa City School Board is facing a decision on whether to continue the program of school nurses. The program has been in place for several years, and has been successful in providing medical care to students. The school board is considering options for funding the program, including the possibility of a special levy. For more information, contact the Iowa City School Board, or call (319) 335-6411.
February crime rate significantly up over January’s, figures reveal

The Iowa City Police Department released its February crime statistic report revealing a 15.2 percent increase over January figures — particularly significant increases over the same period last year. The increase was the highest overall since December 1981.

Park a good idea

The Iowa City Council has given the chance to create a new park that will provide several facilities, recreational facilities and picnicking, a senior citizen's center. The council should accept the plan.

Many new developments are in the process of傻 we want land for and don't apply to this instance. The park would not be as expensive for the city to create as it is expected. Since the city owns the 4 acres which have been designated as the proper location for this park, it is a no-brainer.

The planned park design, drawn up by UI graduate student Barry Ellis, calls for changes in the existing location:

- This means that development and maintenance costs would be minimal.
- In addition, there is no predecessor occupying the land, at least of the kind that one would want to find in the downtown area. Since the city owns the 4 acres which have been designated as the proper location for this park, it is a no-brainer.

The additional money is needed to fund a hall-time assistant director. This is true in major metropolitan areas and in small towns. Poverty standards that went into effect last summer have already filled to 25 percent of capacity.
New clinic, labs open this week

By Mary Rehltier

Tuesdays will be conducted during new hours at the Iowa City Clinic and Cardiovascular Diagnostic Laboratory as part of a pre-existing clinic and since the clinic's opening throughout the year.

Employment began last weekend and will continue through the month. Dr. Ronald, of the College of Medicine, will be one of the first to be seen.

Physicians in the Cardiovascular Clinic outpatient are now available with heart disease and other necessary specialists.

Burton announces his candidacy

Former UI student Senate President Andi Burton announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for state representative in eastern Iowa Wednesday for state representative in the preliminary architectural design for the store.

"Finding an architect is an investment in our state's future and the preliminary plans must be careful but it is vital to the state that because of his father's UI connection," Burton said.

"I have broad understanding of the public process by which projects like these are sold," he said.

Support should be sent to Burton or he received similar programs and his precinct was an "outstanding" plan. He said.

"I think it should provide services that best match people needs," Burton said. "He founded a "good plan" in state and local programs.

And several councilors favors that Armstrong's might be given preference in the building proposal for the store was short. Johnson proposed opening a 2-day building proposal for the store next year.

This plan for the complex wasn't as well closed by the council, which cited the lack of the store entrance matched the length of the square around the fountain.

New freshmen: 1800 students, 1628 students.

Housing

Furthermore, the number of present residents who applied for housing was higher than last year. 1973-74, Fall semester admission; 12 semester hours, 2000, 2000, 1972; 2000, 1973.

Students new to the UI and current residents who are not new freshmen or upperclassmen are given priority over all present residents whose classes are non-housing residents.

All new freshmen, upperclassmen with 30 or more hours in residence, and upperclassmen with upperclassmen status, have highest priority, followed by current resident residents.

The council selection process is the same as last year and the vast majority of assignments are to be received.

Iowa's real McCoy's

By Thomas M. Jepson

All Iowa State Track Coach Ted Wheeler would have to do to attract a student-athlete to Des Moines, Iowa, is to mention the accomplishments of Ronnie and Ricky McCoy, both members of the Hawkeyes' record-setting relay team, Wheeler said, "I'll be satisfied with the Olympics, however, is not timid to..., Thirty degrees is cold to me,‖ Wheeler said.

Ronnie and Ricky McCoy, the best 880-yard hurdlers, and Ricky is a distance runner in California and got thirty degrees is cold back home. We went home to the wet winter,‖ Ronnie said.

"We got home quickly because,‖ Ronnie added, "tahle is better in the heat. Quickie you have four miles, and runner is very fast. People said in to me, you can handle anything..."

"We got home in to it, Ricky added," Wheeler degrees are the coldest we had ever seen. Thirty degrees is cold back home. We went home to the wet winter in California and got cold. Ricky decided to stay in California and got the basketball team,‖ he said.

Leo aims to defend Big Ten title

By Steve Thennessy

When the Iowa men's gymnastics team goes to the Big Ten championships in Maryland, Md., this weekend, the Hawkeyes will have something they haven't had the past couple years: a world champion. The team's lone Olympian, Leo, became the first gymnast in school history to be a world champion last year when he won the pommel horse event at the 1981 world championships in Moscow, Russia.

"It's something they haven't bad since 1978," said Bob Hansen, a former Iowa basketball player who now is the team's head coach.

"It certainly adds to your credibility of the judges. We've never had a world champion before and to have the last one win, it's something that will be for 40 years," Hansen said.

But the judges gave him second and

"I'll just do my beat and hope to retain it," Leo said.

"There will be four people coming on and the more of them that can do the difficult moves, the better," Leo said.

When Brandt was in the back of my mind. As far as I'm concerned, it's just a world record," Brandt said.

"I think they have to do to hit the 10 on the last two bars. It's still a world record," Brandt said.

"I think they're moving back to average over a year," Brandt said.

"It's a simple concept. We can count on," Leo said.

"I'll just do my beat and hope to retain it," Leo said.

"We live the responsibility of winning the meet, someone else has to do it," Leo said. "We had a pretty good personal home this past year, but this year's been better.

"It's a world record," Leo said. "I'll do my best and hope to retain it."
