Public board to act on county union title

By Kevin Cook

Employers of the Johnson County Care facility will have until about a month whether they can be represented by their local chapter of the National Agricultural Employee Organizing Coalition.

A decision is expected this week on a dispute between Logan and the Painters Union over the Care facility. Logan argued that this issue is crucial to Hinckley's case—still alive—trying to assassinate President Reagan.

AFSCME vote appeal criticized

By Elizabeth McClellan

A state official charged Monday that the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees has "inadequately represented" the Iowa State University clerical workers who voted to appeal their contract decision.

"I don't know where we are at this time," said Robert B. McClellan, head of the AFSCME 1805 union in Iowa. "There is a lot of problems involved here and I'm not sure what the state policy is going to be on this issue."

McClellan said Monday's appeal decision by the Iowa State University Arbitration Board was not the first appeal that the labor union has made on the same contract case.

"We have had a lot of problems with the labor union over the years," McClellan said. "They have been very aggressive in trying to appeal every decision that has been made."

McClellan said he is "disappointed" with the state's decision and "concerned" about the union's representation of the clerical workers.

"I'm not sure what the state's policy is," McClellan said. "But I think it's important that the union do a better job of representing the workers."

The Iowa State University Arbitration Board ruled Monday that the clerical workers who voted on the contract appealed this one to the state, which will have a "delegation" of two persons to hear the appeal.

"It's a decision of the Board," McClellan said. "The state has the authority to make such a decision."

The state's decision to hear the appeal is "not unusual," McClellan said. "When a labor union disagrees with a decision made by another body, they can appeal it to the state."

McClellan said he is "hopeful" that the state will "do a good job" of hearing the appeal and "make a fair decision."

Bretta Biddulph, chairman of the Iowa State University Board of Regents, said the new group would look at the state's universities in order to find possible cuts, although he added that no specific dollar amount would be assigned to the task.

The board on Thursday also approved an increase in student fees. It raised tuition by 12% for Iowa residents and out-of-state students, and by 20% for international students.

Dispute

In a statement, the UIW labor group said the union had asked the university administration to negotiate a new contract, but the university had refused.

"We have been trying to negotiate for months, but the administration has refused to even sit down with us," said UIW President John Smith. "We are concerned about the safety of our members.

Broadway roadie-dazzle arriving in Iowa City, Cedar Rapids soon

A little road-dazzle in the form of 14 Broadway roadies will be entertaining the Iowa City and Cedar Rapids areas over the next few weeks touring through Commercial Hall and the Paramount Theatre for three performances at Cedar Rapids Paramount Theatre.

Wednesday following that will be the Best Little Whoreshouse in Texas which visits another step up of theater Audiences May 2 and 3. The show will come back to the same theater for two performances. Finally, the evening appearing as a showcase for the Paramount Theater May 9 and 10 for three performances.

Roadies were connected, choreographed and directed by Tom Fosse and designed by Robert O'Hara. The best-selling book and lyrics by action ranging from Jack Palance and Gayle Hunnicut in George and John Philip Sousa.

The Tony award-winning show is currently in its third year on Broadway and features a variety of dances and music and features "Band Aid" winners coronavirus.

Packaged with 小小的Nrella, "Band Aid" is a team that has been touring the world for three weeks over the past month. The show was conceived, choreographed and directed by Michael Bennett and was written by Larry King and Peter Masterson. The show is set in a Texas bordello as the form of hit written by Larry King and Peter Masterson.

Bill Blass's ideas for fall fashions feature slim skirts and sleek suits

NEW YORK (UPI) - Black suits in black and tailored garments, designed Bill Blass for his women's clothing line, are on display Monday to start the second week of showing in New York. The suits, designed by Mr. Blass, are tailored to drop in the waist which was one of the trends of the season. The suits jackets featured narrow lapels and slim line skirts. The suits were designed especially for women who were 45 and under.

About all of them, however, were minus incident of the same narrow black pants that accentuated the look of fall. Nancy Kissinger, wife of former Secretary of State of Iowa, said that Blass's suits were made in the fall in the form of hit written by Larry King and Peter Masterson. The suits featured a wide black belt and narrow skirts. The belts were made especially for women who were 45 and under.

By Nicholas Johnson

This is not a "snoozing avenue," a crass commercial in the Canciller style, or an advertisement at the back of a comic book, but a call for justice. And justice this summer.

With used car sales reaching a new high, we are not too sure about this summer. But we do know that the Iowa City Civic Group is trying to keep the city's streets safe. They are offering a $50,000 reward for information leading to the arrest of the person(s) responsible for the recent hit-and-run incident.

Guiding principles in deciding what is and isn't justice include the following:

1. The principles of justice are universal:
   - All justice must be fair and equal.
   - All justice must be based on law and order.
   - All justice must be equitable and workable.

2. The principles of justice are consistent:
   - All justice must be consistent with the principles of justice.
   - All justice must be consistent with the principles of justice.
   - All justice must be consistent with the principles of justice.

3. The principles of justice are practical:
   - All justice must be practical and workable.
   - All justice must be practical and workable.
   - All justice must be practical and workable.

4. The principles of justice are workable:

Hawkeyes win one, lose one, at home

By Thomas W. Jorgens

Iowa's sellout record game did not take place in football last Saturday, but it continued in women's basketball. The Hawkeyes knocked off a strong Wisconsin team in a game that was as thrilling as any of the men's games. It was a hard-fought win, but it was a win that solidified Iowa's position at the top of the Big Ten.

Iowa's basketball team has been on a roll this season, and they continued that trend this week. They faced a tough match-up against Wisconsin, but they were able to come away with a victory. The Hawkeyes' defense was key in this game, as they were able to hold the Badgers to just 56 points. On the other hand, Iowa scored 84 points, which is their highest total of the season.

Iowa players possible high draft choices

By Jan Christensen

The Iowa players possible high draft choices are always a topic of interest, especially when the NFL draft is near. This year, there are several names that are being mentioned as potential first-round picks.

The first name on the list is Andre Tippett. Tippett is a defensive end for Iowa, and he is widely considered to be one of the best prospects in the draft. He has a good combination of size and speed, and he is expected to be selected in the first round.

Another name that is being talked about is Jim Brown. Brown is a running back for Iowa, and he is known for his burst of speed. He is expected to be selected in the second round.

In addition to Tippett and Brown, there are several other players who are being considered for high draft choices. These include Quarterback Dave Wilson of Illinois, and Defensive Tackle Johnie Cooks of Mississippi State.

The draft choices are usually a hot topic in the news, and this year is no exception. The Iowa players possible high draft choices are sure to be a topic of discussion for weeks to come.
Top draft honors to Crumley, Magee

By Steve Rehberger

Sisters Kelly Crumley and Tim Magee won the top honors in the annual NCAA basketball awards presentation Monday night at the Iowa Coliseum.

Crumley, who transferred to Iowa from Oregon State, received the first team academic honor for his team in the Big Ten conference.

Magee, a sophomore at Iowa, was named the Big Ten Conference Player of the Year.

Magee, a 6-10, 220-pound forward, was chosen as the Big Ten Conference Player of the Year for the second straight year.

Hefty problem, but Nebraska tough as ever

By Jay Christensen

University of Southern California in Los Angeles, the team turned its energy to practice in preparation for the return to the Pac-10.

The Trojans have been successful in recent years, but the Cougars' rise has been steady and they're now considered one of the top West Coast teams. The game features a clash of two programs with contrasting styles: USC's high-scoring offense against Oregon's strong defense. The stakes are high for both teams, with conference implications at play.
