City

Water supply called sufficient for fire

By Paul Brown

Fire officials today praised the Iowa City Fire Department's water pressure during a fire that destroyed four businesses in the 18 block of South Dubuque Street last week. "The water was adequate," said Chief Fire Capt. Frank Kron said Tuesday. The leak occurred along the Kron Bos­ tyn Fire District, which was unrelated to the city's water supply.

Man suspected of assault
charged with sexual abuse
By Susan Jo Johnson

A man accused of sexually assaulting a woman in the 800 block of Crescent Drive was arrested last Tuesday with second-degree sexual abuse Monday, according to Johnson County District Court records.

Police say Richard J. Bakker, 23, of 1707 S. E. Sixth St., was arrested about 3:20 a.m. Monday after they were called to the location.

According to a 11-30 complaint, Bakker drove the woman from a Northside home on Wednesday and took her to the location.

Police say Bakker was found after a brief search. He was charged with second-degree sexual abuse.

According to court records, Bakker is a former resident of 1707 S. E. Sixth St. and transferred to the Johnson County Jail in Chariton. It was reported then he was in a secluded wooded area.

The victim identified Bakker later after the assault through a photo lineup of suspects.

Police said the woman was holding Bakker or a stoic while Bakker boarded the woman at a residence.

The charges were dropped after a brief search.

According to court records, Bakker was quoted to confess to the victim.

Audio teleconference system
turns Iowa into a classroom
By Mary Kayler

Iowa's regent universities are experimenting with the use of their educational services through Telebridge, an audio teleconference system that connects different sites around Iowa to an instructor from one of the state Board of Regents, connects

"We're exploring the philosophy of bringing the university's teaching to where the people are without the travel involved for both students and the university," said Travis R. Myers, assistant supervisor of Telebridge.

Telebridge, purchased in the summer of 1980 by the state Board of Regents, allows members of Telebridge at different sites across Iowa to listen to a instructor from one of the state Board of Regents, said Myers.

The system ACTs as an international meeting place, allowing different sites at different times to talk to each other, as well as to the instructor.

If instructors are located in a room with at least five computers, the students, who are located at different sites, can see the instructor on a monitor.

In 1980, the system was introduced at the University of Iowa, and today it is in 10 institutions in the state.

The system has the ability to be used for college courses, and it is expected that it will be expanded.

Ambulance move discussed
By Mark Leonard

The financial planning of Johnson County is a major concern for the county board of supervisors, said a spokesperson for the board.

"We're trying to be as efficient as possible with our money," said the speaker, who did not want to be identified.

The speaker said the board is considering the possibility of moving the ambulance from the hospital to the county medical center.

The board is meeting to discuss the issue, and the board will make a decision on whether to move the ambulance.

The ambulance is currently housed in a separate building on the hospital campus.

The board is expected to make a decision on the matter at its next meeting.

The speaker said the board is considering the possibility of moving the ambulance to a new location, but it is not clear where the ambulance would be moved.

Food service gets good ratings

Intra-University

There is an old belief that college students lead a poor, untidy life. However, a recent survey of UI students showed that the food service at the university is actually quite good. The survey was conducted by random selection of students and included questions about the quality of meals, the variety of options, and the prices.

The results showed that students were most satisfied with the salad bar, while the least satisfied were with the dessert bar. Desserts and salads were next in line, at a 94 percent positive rating. Beverages were rated at 90 percent positive, and entrees at 87 percent positive. Overall, the students said they would recommend the cafeteria to their friends.

According to the survey results, 81 percent of the students said they would be satisfied with the meal quality. Herbert said, "It's not a bad deal. It's a bit more than I'd want, but it's reasonable."

School board ponders development of several co-curricular activities

By Karen Horing

The Iowa City community school district board is strong athletic program, but more school board members say they would like to see a closer tie to academics. When asked which co-curricular activities more closely related to academics, board members support more integration in the high schools.

"We can't wait to start a new school," board member Todd Racin said. "But I want to wait to get the board in a position to fund every club. I don't want to start anywhere, but I have to draw a line somewhere." Another extension of the district's program range potentially may be in the area of vocational education. The line may not be as bright for each school district, but it definitely is laying a kit with school boards, board members say.

Jen Madsen said the board expects adding senior in the district's activities program in the area of sports. The line may not be as bright for each school district, but it definitely is laying a kit with school boards, board members say.

The bleak midterm

This is supposed to be the season to be jolly—but unemployment, reduced welfare benefits and rising utility bills all for many Americans, make this season the worst in years.

Close to 28 million Americans are unemployed or underemployed. The number of people with government assistance has been cut severely, particularly for the so-called underemployed. Welfare benefits from the state and federal governments have been cut severely, particularly for the so-called underemployed. Corporate gifts to colleges rise

NEW YORK (UPI) - The nation’s corporate giving to colleges rose 11 percent in 1981, up nearly 11 percent over the previous year despite a more than 11 percent rise in the cost of living, the nation said Tuesday.

The record $1.14 billion in gifts was the largest percentage of gains ever in the nation’s $1.14 billion of gifts. The real dollar value will be higher.

When the $1.14 billion is adjusted for inflation, the real dollar value will rise by 3.1 percent, the nation said. The real dollar value will be higher.

The nation’s transportation-giving at 1.3 percent, the nation said.

Heavy TV bowl schedule to plaque local grid ants this season

To the season of eggnog, cards and football games...Eastern ladies can expect a record number of holiday contests to come into their homes along with the homemade fudge and the New Year's Eve party. A total of 16 homes along with the homemade fudge and holiday contests will be purchased by one of the local stations. It has been moved up 30 minutes this year to stop NBC from getting a jump in the ratings race. The showdown for the national title, Los Angeles Lakers playing host to the Boston Celtics, will be broadcast on ABC (KCRG-9 at 7 p.m.). The showdown will take place at 9 p.m. on ESPN (KWWL-7) and at 9 p.m. on CBS (KIIN-12) following the game.

The Des Moines Register - 15 Dec 1982
Protest upheld; NBA replay ordered

NEW YORK (AP) - A protest by the Seattle SuperSonics and an appeal by the Los Angeles Clippers were upheld Wednesday by a National Basketball Association official, ensuring a one-game playoff series between the teams.

The protests were over controversial plays in games on Monday that are believed to have affected the final outcome of the series. The protests were filed by the Sonics and the Clippers, who both lost games to the Utah Jazz.

The Sonics lost 111-103 in Salt Lake City, while the Clippers lost 111-107.

The NBA said the protests were upheld because the Sonics and the Clippers had lodged formal complaints after the games.

Christmas wishes for television favorites

By Jeffrey Miller

It's just dawning on me as I sit here, with a cup of hot chocolate and a warm jacket around my shoulders, that I was writing last year's column under the bright lights of a sold-out "All-Star Christmas Carols" from the Iowa City Community Band. The air was crisp and the night was cool, but the music was warm and the spirit of the season was in the air. It was a magical night, and I feel as though I've been transported back to that moment again with this year's Christmas column for our readers.

I've never been much of a "tv hog," but I can't help but wonder what my favorite shows are. Are they the ones that I watch every week, or are they the ones that I only watch once or twice a year? I think it's probably a mix of both. I enjoy watching a variety of shows, from comedy to drama to reality TV, but there are a few shows that I always look forward to.

For me, "The National" is one of those shows. I love the way that they bring together different artists from different genres and have them perform together. It's a great way to see different styles of music side by side, and it's always surprising to see what kind of chemistry will result.

Another show that I always look forward to is "Game of Thrones." I love the way that they bring together different cultures and histories and blend them into one epic story. It's a great way to learn about different cultures and how they interact with each other.

But one show that I've really grown to love over the years is "The Good Place." I love the way that they bring together different philosophical ideas and have them play out in the lives of the characters. It's a great way to think about the nature of reality and the meaning of life.

I'm sure there are many other shows that I could mention, but these are just a few of my favorite shows. I hope that they bring you as much joy as they do for me.

So, what are your favorite shows? Do you have any recommendations for me? I'd love to hear from you. Happy holidays, and happy watching!

At the Bijou
As a going-away party, the Bijou has brought in the Circle, a group who have made up to a million records. They'll screen a new film and then do a free concert. The stars appear to have been written specifically for the stage with songs that ring true. With their enthusiastic, up-and-coming style, the Circle is sure to please.

Records

NEW EVERYTHING was left in 1986, though there is an album for example:

Hall & Oates — The Best of Hall & Oates, Vol. 3 (20 Uses) [Spaghetti With Mushroom Sauce, or Garlic Meatball Sauce].

Clarence Carter — A Christmas Carol (The Ronnie Prophet Project). Full-length album by the New York rhythm and blues artist, with lush vocals and tossing of the leaves.

NOT EVERYTHING was left in 1986, though "Love is a Liar," for example:

Hall & Oates — The Best of Hall & Oates, Vol. 3 (20 Uses) [Spaghetti With Mushroom Sauce, or Garlic Meatball Sauce].

Clarence Carter — A Christmas Carol (The Ronnie Prophet Project). Full-length album by the New York rhythm and blues artist, with lush vocals and tossing of the leaves.
