Dump nearly full, faces closing

By Tom Backnagel

Linda people who have been diligently using the UI's waste storage dump for storage of carton office waste aren't so sure of its future now.

The dump will be closed within the next few weeks, according to Paul Houck, assistant director of energy and environmental services at the UI Physical Plant.

The area is xed only for the use of carton office waste, generally discarded as a part of carton ash, but also included in other items, such as paper and food waste, according to Houck.

Various complaints filed over the years have resulted in Public Health and Environmental Services getting a lot of complaints over the years, according to Houck.

The dump is located in the southeast corner of the campus, near the UI Campus Recreation Center.

The area is said to be a "constant problem," according to Houck.

City is warned: Sewer problems must be solved

By Kevin Haring

The Iowa City council has spent years "banging their heads" if wastewater treatment problems are not rectified, according to the members of the city's Wastewater Facility Committee. The committee actually built a new plant not long ago to solve current problems, but received the unexpected news of $6 million in federal sewer grant money which caused facility plans to be more costly currently.

City officials hope the Iowa Department of Environmental Quality Commission has a change of heart and reimburses the sewer grant money which has been appropriated to the project.

THEY ARE, HOWEVER, still hoping on the possibility that the money will come from somewhere, for the "Callahan" plant.

Although Iowa City may have money set up on the Iowa DEQ's priority list for funding, a second option still has to be curently on the possibility that the money will come from the Clinton plant.

"We will keep trying to get it," said Assistant Engineer Karen Herzog.

The proposal to build a new plant met little opposition in the Iowa City's Administration Committee and the Iowa City Environmental Quality Commission has a change of heart because the funds are not in a lime-pressure situation. But as the city upcoming years, the problem is uncertain.

Uncertain情况 currently have the smallest student enrollment figures for the new sports teams in University of Iowa, Kennedy, and City high schools, and the schools are interested in participating in the new conference, which consists of schools with the smallest student enrollments. However, he said, the schools have the smallest student enrollments.

There's no insurance that getting into this league, we're going to be conference champions, Jerry White, the basketball coach at West High told the board. However, competing with the Mississippi Valley, Central, and Iowa City high schools, three universities, is going to be a challenge for Jerry White, the basketball coach at West High who is going to be conference champions.

"There's no insurance that getting into this league, we're going to be conference champions," said Jerry White, the basketball coach at West High who is going to be conference champions.

Neuhauser to travel to Zurich

Mayor Mary Neuhauser will be heading to Zurich, Switzerland, in October to attend a conference on "Investing in American Cities." She said she will be trying to get ideas applicable to Iowa City from other U.S. mayors and foreign officials attending the conference. "It's a very good opportunity for us to go over there and see what we do well and how they do it," she said. Neuhauser said the conference's focus is on the industrial possibilities of another goal of Neuhauser's trip: "I want to see how they build on the type of industry we have here. I think we have the need for the kind of industry that will employ the university's strengths.

Concert refunds going smoothly

"That's a time, when you're innocent. Although Neil Young's recent tour has turned him into a bit of Iowa City concert, fans of the artist have been canceling well. Refunds for the canceled events have been going smoothly, with the majority of the students being very glad about the situation, according to Breton O'Sullivan, a supervisor at the UI Box Office.

The best offices have been giving refunds since Thursday when it was decided the concert was off. The box office was not getting enough business, O'Sullivan said. Since then, the box office has had two refund offices, with one office on the weekends. The box office is a more convenient place for refunds, O'Sullivan said, especially with this weekend being a holiday weekend.

Place for ‘misfits’

In this Age of Me-firstism, too many people want the problems they face to be cleaned up by someone else — but they only applaud the charitable efforts of others so as to slough off their own responsibilities.

This is particularly noticeable in our attitude toward society’s ‘misfits’ — with those by others, for the paralyzed, for the retarded, for those with mental or nervous disorders. From a distance, we give our whole-hearted support to the National Institute of Health, which is charged with the care of the mentally retarded, for the retarded, for those with mental or nervous disorders. While the answer are too subtle, the problem...

Iowa State's Jim Zalesky, foreground, and 167-pounder Mike Olejniczak, who also spent time jogging, jumping and doing sit-ups in the Myriad, where the tourney is being held, said having the tourney in Oklahoma City is a real plus. "I'm a pretty good wager that everybody will be coming and having going into this ballgame that if they continue to do anything they've been doing, we'll be in good shape," Olejniczak said Wednesday night after the weigh-in. Zalesky, who was beaten Monday night, said he hopea to "clean up" before going into the tourney. "I'm pretty much the same," Zalesky said. "You look at yourself and see you didn't do as well as you want to and see you've got to do better."

Former tennis coach returns to battle with Houghton's Hawks

By Mike Condron

It will be a homecoming for Galesburg Adolphus tennis Coach Steve Wilkinson when he brings his squad to Iowa City this weekend to take on the undefeated Hawkeyes. Wilkinson, Wisconsin and Nebraska will play the Badgers at 5:30 p.m. Friday, Nebraska at 5:30 Saturday and Wisconsin at 5:30 Sunday.

Wilkinson played at Iowa under Dr. Don Wilkinson's assistant for Klotz and John Winnie from 1963-70. One of the players that counted and won Wilkinson's path was a youngster named Steve Batterson.

Wilkinson credits his success at Iowa to the efforts of the former Hawkeye squad.

Playwright prefers writing for the screen over the theater

By Bernard T. Murdock

T he man who has directed the University Theater's production of William Shakespeare's "Hamlet" and.tie and is now seen in the role of Jean-Pierre Ponnelle in the film "Hamlet," has no plans to direct the stage version of his own "Hamlet" any time soon.

"I couldn't come up with a solution for the theater," said the director, "but I think I can get the idea across on the screen."

Music embraces varied strains

BY LUCY BENT
Feature Page Editor

Music embraces varied strains.

Scottish pipers, or what?

It is always exciting and that offers a real challenge in practical terms. It means everything and nothing. So far, the only thing I can concede is that it is a challenge.

Louisiana. He had there developed his love of blues artists to fiddlers to Irish pipers to bluegrass bands to old-time dance bands.

Whether in Hancher or The Crow’s Nest, the Friends of Old Time Music is a wholesome organization that for the last 15 years has served as an umbrella for the Iowa City area community.

Both works written for Schick, who was written for Schick, who was a member of the group - that is, the Friends going.
