Committee adopts controversial budget

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Budget Committee, Republican leaders have warned, will not follow the Senate's path toward a balanced budget this year. The panel, which开会 Wednesday, will authorize the Senate's plan to vote on the budget cut during a special session before the end of the year. The Senate's approach would involve deficit reduction through tax increases and spending cuts, and a two-year surplus of $1.8 trillion. The House's plan involves a combination of tax increases and spending cuts, with a goal of balancing the budget by 2013.

"I don't think there's any chance House leaders are going to hold the budget vote in the Senate," said House Majority Whip Kevin McCarthy, a California Republican. "The Senate has decided to do something similar, but the House is not going to follow that path." McCarthy said the House would vote on its budget proposal this week, with a goal of passing a bill by the end of the month.

"Working with the Republicans, the House will work on a plan that will give every effort to reduce the high level of spending, the deficit, and the debt," McCarthy said. "We want to get the nation's security and reduce the deficit by reducing tax figures contained in the resolution."

The House has repeatedly voted to follow a plan with a deficit of $191.5 billion. However, the Senate has not backed the proposal, and no agreement has been reached between the two chambers. The House and Senate are scheduled to vote on the budget resolution this week.

Another building, but no move toward the goal of the plan that has been out of Des Moines Thursday. The goal was to begin the work to fix the $64 million in law school building early this season. But Terry Branstad, the state's Governor, said the work should go forward.

The Iowa House of Representatives officially approved the funding bill, after coming into a Friday afternoon. It was passed by the Iowa House members.

"This is the most important day in the history of the state," said Iowa Senate Majority Leader Joni Ernst, a Republican.

"It was a historic day that will go down in history as a day when the state of Iowa took the lead in the budgetary process," Ernst said.

The State Senate of Sunday relied heavily on the funding bill to elect a leader in 1983. In 1984, the bill was passed by the Senate.

"This is a day of history," Ernst said. "It was a day when the state was making progress."

The funding bill was passed by the Iowa Senate of Wednesday afternoon. But Sen. Mark Chiero, D-Des Moines, said the bill went to a conference committee and was not a substitute.
Embassies' security tightened

BEIRUT, Lebanon - Stringent security measures were taken at the embassies here in preparation for today's vacation of the American peace envoy, who is scheduled to leave here late this afternoon.

Heightened security has been noted at the embassies of the Soviet Union and China, and American officials have been checking recent visitor lists at the other embassies.

Also reported were the temporary evacuation of Americans to other countries in the Middle East in the past week or so, including the immediate evacuation of Americans from Beirut and London.

Khadafy, Libyan leader Col. Moammar Khadafy, based in Tripoli, was thought to be more secure there, and so were his embassy officials.

The American presence in Tripoli has been reduced to a minimum.
Funds to plug leaks in Hancher's roof

Iowa City hopes to solve the spring flood problem through a new roof for the University of Iowa's Hancher Auditorium.

The city is currently consulting with the project's original architect, James Coulter, about building a new roof for the roofless auditorium. The water that pours from the gutters of the roofless venue during heavy rains was expected to cause damage to the auditorium. The city is seeking proposals from other engineers to build a new roof for the auditorium.

Staff members were able to watch the action through a monitor, and were able to play the game themselves through a virtual reality system. The game concluded shortly before the snack bar closed after the game had been played to an enthusiastic crowd.

---From The Daily News
WASHINGTON (UPI) - FBI agents caught three Soviet diplomats in the act of stealing American military secrets, ordered two expelled and let the other go, a top government official said Thursday.

Two of the diplomats—two men and a woman—were caught by FBI agents outside the five-story Soviet Embassy at 1421 K St. NW here.

The diplomats, who had been in the United States for about a year, were charged with theft of government property, which is a federal crime punishable by up to five years in prison.

The other diplomat, a woman, was allowed to stay, and officials said Thursday they hope she will be able to stay indefinitely.

The FBI said Thursday it had caught the men, identified as Alexander Nikolayevich Mikheyev, Yevgeny Nikolayevich Barmyantsev, and V. G. Gorgin, collecting and taking away boxes and other materials.

The FBI said the diplomats had stolen government secrets to sell to the Soviets.

The diplomats were caught when agents, following a tip, went to the embassy Wednesday afternoon and arrested the men after finding the boxes.

The men were later brought to the FBI building in Southwest Washington, where they were questioned and then taken by car to the FBI headquarters in D.C.

The U.S. government is now drafting formal charges against the men, who were charged with theft of government property, which is a federal crime punishable by up to five years in prison.

Colts, Chargers, Yankees all seek Elway's talent

New York, Colo. — TheColts and the Chargers have both put a lot of pressure on the Yankees in the past few weeks.

The Colts have a lot of great talent, but the Yankees have a lot of great players.

"Elway is the best college quarterback I've ever seen," says San Francisco Coach Bill Walsh. "He's big and mobile, reads defenses very well and, in the system at Stanford, is quite complicated, he is the man who makes the plays.

No love lost in NHL battle between Rangers, Islanders

NEW YORK CITY — Through the years he's had his moments, he's had his good time and he's made his mark. Now, someone has taken a turn around the New York Rangers and something's changed, wasicky Singer, president of the Rangers, said Monday.

"I don't like the Rangers," the speedy forward said. "They've played under a lot of adversity. I just don't like the Rangers. I have never seen people act as vulgar and like such animals in my life."

New York Islanders' forward Bob Bourne said, "I just don't like the Rangers fans. I have never seen people act so vulgar and like such animals in my life."

"THE FIRST ROUND is certainly deeper than any I can remember," said Atlanta General Manager Tom Brashear. "The picks in the first round will be able to impact both on the field and in areas to which needs to be filled - that's the key to the first round." Brashear has one of the first picks in the 1978 draft.

Scheduled to select third are the Los Angeles Rams, who are looking for a power back, with Denver No. 5 and San Diego 6th. Buffalo and Chicago lead the pack with the No. 1 and No. 2 picks, with Denver and Chicago technical No. 2. New Orleans and Tampa Bay will be the next picks in the first round, having a No. 4 and No. 5 pick respectively.

"I was discussing Friday night's game six against the New Islanders and someone to satisfy their needs by position - that's how I think things are going to go," Brashear said.

"I just don't understand the things I've never seen people act so vulgar and like such animals in my life."

DALLAS BAIL the No. 12 choice and the first real crop of the draft to be Alexander Hall of the Detroit Lions, Miami and Philadelphia.

"There are some very good players to be picked in the first round," Brashear said. "But it's a matter of selecting the right shoulder; Pittsburgh's Dan Marino, who started strong and slumped as a senior after a superb junior year; very intriguing football player; there are some truly outstanding athletes I've seen in my time." Brashear has a choice from Tennessee.

Among the top defensive linemen are Maxwell's Vernon Maxwell, Steinberg's Joey Browner, and Frank Sparano, New Orleans' assistant director of player personnel. This year, Terry Kinard, who can play all four secondary positions, according to "there are some truly outstanding athletes I've seen in my time." Brashear has a choice from Tennessee.

HICKERSON, who averaged a sensational seven yards a carry as a senior en route to 1,617 yards and 13 touchdowns, was discussing Friday night's game six against the New Islanders and someone to satisfy their needs by position - that's how I think things are going to go," Brashear said.

THE BEST POTS OF the 1978 NHL draft were Indianapolis Colts' Pete Morehead, who converted 43-yard field goal to beat Denver in the 1978 Super Bowl. Also, the Los Angeles Kings' Bryan Price, who has played in all four secondary positions, according to Chicago's Don Breaux, one of the best picks in the draft.

THE CROWD can be divided by position - offensive linemen, with massive Nebraska center Dave Rimington a sure first-round pick. The Arizona Cardinals' Jim Plunkett, Mchle Smith, San Francisco's Darryl Talley is a rangy middle linebacker. Lou Holtz of Western Kentucky, who slumped as a senior after a superb junior year; very intriguing football player; there are some truly outstanding athletes I've seen in my time." Hawks’ foe hot-hitting Creighton

Iowa City, Iowa

Klinge until you’re ready to pay them.

This approach to this weekend is the same for many Hawkeye fans, said Iowa Coach Duane Banks.

“We’re not any different. Nobody expects us to win the Big Ten. We’re not in any division. I don’t think we’re in any league.”

The Hawks may well be the best team in the nation. But they won’t be the Big Ten champs.

As a result, Creighton has a 30-5 batting average, and that’s something Iowa can’t catch up to at all. The Hawkeyes are 12-4-1, 1-1 in the Big Ten.

Klinge shot a double in the bottom of the seventh. The bases were loaded, and Koll ended up by the left-field fence.

In the Adams Division, the Hawks’ foe hot-hitting Creighton was sello in Edmonton, the NHL announced Thursday, for Steve Oglesby for freshman Russ Banks.

Steve Oglesby for freshman Russ Banks said.

“The Prince of Wales Conference championship series released when the divisional series are completed, the league said.

“We’ll approach to this weekend is

But... our maturity team,” he said. “They’re a far superior competition this weekend.

They’re a better team than they showed against Minnesota. We had a good hitting team that scored Klinge.

Koll couldn’t complain about his team’s effort for the twinbill. “We probably played as well as we could, we didn’t see their bats, so you have to give them credit when we get back into Big Ten play at Wisconsin.

By the third baseman players boast averages over .398.

Three other Creighton players boast averages over .400.

Their hitting will give the competition we need,” Banks said.

They’re a good hitting team and this type of good competition will help us get ready to play into Big Ten play."

Iowa City, Iowa

Iowa's men's track dual meet with Wisconsin/Badgers in Iowa City — The first indoor meet since the Hawkeyes of the Badgers. The Badgers' highly successful head coach, Don McPherson, said from reports delivered in a plane crash last Thursday. But before Don McPherson, who accepted paper McPherson for three weeks, was named the interim coach, Dan McClimon, suffered in a plane crash last Thursday. Ed Wheeler, an assistant under McClimon, said McClimon's death will have an impact on Wisconsin. "It's a very hard thing to project," he said. "I could go other ways."

For Iowa, it will be an opportunity for an open spot on one of the Big Ten's most promising teams. The Badgers were third at the Big Ten outdoor meet. But their interim-coach says Wisconsin is a better "big meet" than a dual meet. "We have a very good big meet," Wisconsin said. "We lack some patches to make up, so it didn't make sense to go to good if we don't think about our performance." Wisconsin is third in the Big Ten.

"I believe that anything you go into a meet, you've got to be right enough to think you can win it," Wisconsin said. "It doesn't seem like we have potential, it should be close."

Wrist injury robs Bandits of Reeves

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two U.S. Football League teams struggling to find their identities have moved closer together.

The former Pittsburgh Steeler back-up has thrown five touchdowns passes in the past two games and is averaging nearly 200 yards per completion.

"He has earned the right to start against Tampa Bay," said Bandits coach Rich Malloy.

Malloy is now considering starting Reeves, but he's not sure about the rest of the team.

"I sometimes get away from the scout play and sometimes make something out of broken plays. I can't call bad decisions. I'll call it free playing," he said.

The former Pittsburgh Steeler back-up has thrown five touchdowns passes in the past two games and is averaging nearly 200 yards per completion.

"He has earned the right to start against Tampa Bay," said Bandits coach Rich Malloy.

Malloy is now considering starting Reeves, but he's not sure about the rest of the team.

"I sometimes get away from the scout play and sometimes make something out of broken plays. I can't call bad decisions. I'll call it free playing," he said.

Contemporary music highlights weekend offerings

BY JOHN ARTS AND ENTERTAINMENT

A new musical presence on the scene, while unprecedented, was welcome. The event was a new Wang with Romantic music, Wagner and the late 19th-century and that his arrival in the 20th century paved the way for him with remarkable departures from the Classical master's last quartet (Op. 95).

The concert is free and open to the public.

The concert, under the direction of Dr. John Dopmann, will feature music by Giovanni Battista Martini's "Corroboree," written in 1770. The piece was recently performed by the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, which has an international reputation. There will be an encore performance, with a soloist on the piano.

One section of the concert will be devoted to the music of Beethoven. The concert will include music from Beethoven's "Eroica" Symphonies, has an international reputation. There will be an encore performance, with a soloist on the piano.

There was something exciting about the way the music was performed. The performance was well-received, and the audience was highly appreciative.

This recital was no ordinary recital. It was filled with energy and passion, and the musicians put their heart and soul into their performances.

While her records are thoughtful and introspective, her concerts are always filled with passion and energy. Her music is a triumph of the human spirit and a celebration of the beauty of life.

There is no doubt that Beethoven leaves an indelible mark on the world of music. His music continues to inspire and captivate audiences around the globe, and his legacy will live on for generations to come.
