Approach zone limit at airport irks firm

By Mark Leonard

A lawyer for the West Side Co., which owns 10 acres near the 15th Street South Airport, asked in federal court Monday for a restraining order to block development of a hotel complex approved by the city council last month.

"We have given our consent to the airport being built on the property," said David Foster, a lawyer for the company. "But we believe the city has no authority to grant such a permit.

The suit was filed last week in U.S. District Court in Sioux Falls, where a federal judge last month ruled that the airport project was illegal because it was built without the consent of the company.

Court documents show that Foster believes the city has no authority to grant the permit because the airport is a public airport and the company is a private entity.

"We will litigate this case," Foster said. "We believe the city has no authority to grant a permit to build an airport on our property.

Low jobless rate is deceptive — officials

By Charles Trenholm

Although official figures indicate Johnson County’s unemployment rate dropped to 11 percent in May, the actual number of unemployed people may be higher than that, according to an official.

"We have a lot of workers who are not working," said Pat Simmons, a job counselor at Job Service.

"Some people are working part-time, some people are working full-time, and some people are working both part-time and full-time," she said.

The unemployment rate for Johnson County in May was 11.4 percent.

Statewide, the unemployment rate is 6.3 percent, according to figures released by the U.S. Department of Labor.

Shultz shuttles to Middle East for troop talks

WASHINGTON — Secretary of State George Shultz shuttled to the Middle East last week to talk with Arab leaders about troop withdrawal agreements.

"I am determined to get our forces out of Lebanon," Shultz said Monday.

"We are not going to leave until we have a complete withdrawal agreement," he said.

Shultz met with Arab leaders in Syria and Saudi Arabia to discuss troop withdrawal agreements.

Reagan raps NEA; urges back-to-basics

LOS ANGELES (AP) — President Reagan got an icy reception from the American Federation of Teachers Tuesday when he sought to win the group by attaching a larger menu than ever for "reinvigorating American schools.

"More than 38 delegates of the AFT, the nation’s second-largest teachers union, walked out as Reagan spoke of his plan to boost the school system.

"It is a disgrace to American education," said Arlene Shanker of the American Federation of Teachers.

"We do not want to be associated with such a person," she said.

Reagan spent most of his time in his speech outlining his plan to boost the school system.

"We are not going to leave until we have a complete withdrawal agreement," he said.

Shultz met with Arab leaders in Syria and Saudi Arabia to discuss troop withdrawal agreements.

Reagan raps NEA; urges back-to-basics

LOS ANGELES (AP) — President Reagan got an icy reception from the American Federation of Teachers Tuesday when he sought to win the group by attaching a larger menu than ever for "reinvigorating American schools.

"More than 38 delegates of the AFT, the nation’s second-largest teachers union, walked out as Reagan spoke of his plan to boost the school system.

"It is a disgrace to American education," said Arlene Shanker of the American Federation of Teachers.

"We do not want to be associated with such a person," she said.

Reagan spent most of his time in his speech outlining his plan to boost the school system.
Metro

By Marv Sten

Rains may bring flooding to City Park and Coralville Lake.

Though rain was the only real problem for the Coralville Dam and the Flickr City, Tuesday went beyond as a result of heavy rain in the region. The dam held, though, as did the Flickr City, as both were supposed to be potentially flooded but remain open.

"When the rain came in, the Flickr City flooded, but it didn't go as high as expected," said City Brook. "We're not as worried as we were earlier, but we're still keeping an eye on it." The Flickr City, which is a reservoir for the city, is currently at about 50% of its capacity.

Weather forecasts predict more rain in the coming days, which could cause the Flickr City to rise further. However, the city has a flood plan in place and is prepared to act if necessary. "We're doing everything we can to prevent a disaster," said Brian Block, the city's emergency manager.

"We're not taking this lightly," he said. "We're monitoring the situation closely and will take action as needed."
Six from Iowa City fall state posts

By Janet Marie Sims

Scholz said he feels there is a great need to improve the state of the current economy because during the summer the economy might otherwise suffer because in-depth work has been the.UI's lobbyist for two years.

The state of the current economy is a great need to improve the state of the current economy because during the summer the economy might otherwise suffer because in-depth work has been

The state of the current economy is a great need to improve the state of the current economy because during the summer the economy might otherwise suffer because in-depth work has been
Sickies in charge

We're here today because the policies concern the health and vitality—or lack thereof—of Soviet President Yuri Andropov already have begun budging. Medical specialists have linked Andropov's recent health problems to West German President Helmut Kohl. Those rumors echo the years of political intrigue surrounding Andropov's predecessor, Leonid Brezhnev, and how soon it was going to kill him.

Certainly, Andropov doesn't look the part. He's ill. His face looks sallow—menesterous; he looks weaker and weaker. The government has belatedly caved in and told him to take a few days off. But Andropov is now on the mend. He is due to leave hospital next week, and he will be back in business at once.

Two conclusions, among others, are possible here: 1) The Soviets have a secret weapon to be governed by a sick guy; 2) American have a neurotic concern for their political leaders' health and vitality or lack thereof. Andropov's health problems have made news the world over, and we all want to know how serious they are.

As of last report, Andropov was doing well and recovering from his recent illness. His doctors say that he should be back at work soon. It's unclear, however, whether the Soviets will allow him to return to his duties without further medical scrutiny.

American interest in Andropov's health stems from his close relationship to Richard Nixon, who was Andropov's mentor and who helped him rise to power in the Soviet Union. Nixon's own health problems have been well-documented, and it's likely that Andropov's health issues are being used as a political tool by the Soviets to maintain control over the situation.

Andropov's recent illness has raised concerns about his ability to lead the Soviet Union, and it's possible that his health issues may continue to be used as a way to manipulate public opinion and keep the Soviets in power. It's unclear what the ultimate outcome of Andropov's illness will be, but it's clear that his health is a major concern for both the Soviets and the international community.
Reagan orders new steel tariffs, quoatas

Congressman visit U.S.S.R.

WASHINGTON (UPI) - President Reagan on Thursday ordered 15 days of import relief for the specialty steel industry and called for new anti-dumping duties on Japanese imports of stainless steel.

The move follows a meeting of steelmakers and industry leaders and is part of a broader strategy to shore up the nation's steel industry, which has been hit hard by competition from Japan and other countries.

The president said the tariffs will be in place for 90 days, and he called for new anti-dumping duties on Japanese imports of stainless steel.

The president also called for new anti-dumping duties on Mexican imports of stainless steel.

The move follows a series of meetings with steel industry leaders, who have been pressing for relief to shore up the nation's steel industry, which has been hit hard by competition from Japan and other countries.

The president said the tariffs will be in place for 90 days, and he called for new anti-dumping duties on Japanese imports of stainless steel.

The move follows a series of meetings with steel industry leaders, who have been pressing for relief to shore up the nation's steel industry, which has been hit hard by competition from Japan and other countries.

The president also called for new anti-dumping duties on Mexican imports of stainless steel.

The move follows a series of meetings with steel industry leaders, who have been pressing for relief to shore up the nation's steel industry, which has been hit hard by competition from Japan and other countries.

The president said the tariffs will be in place for 90 days, and he called for new anti-dumping duties on Japanese imports of stainless steel.

The move follows a series of meetings with steel industry leaders, who have been pressing for relief to shore up the nation's steel industry, which has been hit hard by competition from Japan and other countries.

The president also called for new anti-dumping duties on Mexican imports of stainless steel.

The move follows a series of meetings with steel industry leaders, who have been pressing for relief to shore up the nation's steel industry, which has been hit hard by competition from Japan and other countries.

The president said the tariffs will be in place for 90 days, and he called for new anti-dumping duties on Japanese imports of stainless steel.

The move follows a series of meetings with steel industry leaders, who have been pressing for relief to shore up the nation's steel industry, which has been hit hard by competition from Japan and other countries.

The president also called for new anti-dumping duties on Mexican imports of stainless steel.

The move follows a series of meetings with steel industry leaders, who have been pressing for relief to shore up the nation's steel industry, which has been hit hard by competition from Japan and other countries.

The president said the tariffs will be in place for 90 days, and he called for new anti-dumping duties on Japanese imports of stainless steel.

The move follows a series of meetings with steel industry leaders, who have been pressing for relief to shore up the nation's steel industry, which has been hit hard by competition from Japan and other countries.

The president also called for new anti-dumping duties on Mexican imports of stainless steel.

The move follows a series of meetings with steel industry leaders, who have been pressing for relief to shore up the nation's steel industry, which has been hit hard by competition from Japan and other countries.

The president said the tariffs will be in place for 90 days, and he called for new anti-dumping duties on Japanese imports of stainless steel.

The move follows a series of meetings with steel industry leaders, who have been pressing for relief to shore up the nation's steel industry, which has been hit hard by competition from Japan and other countries.

The president also called for new anti-dumping duties on Mexican imports of stainless steel.

The move follows a series of meetings with steel industry leaders, who have been pressing for relief to shore up the nation's steel industry, which has been hit hard by competition from Japan and other countries.

The president said the tariffs will be in place for 90 days, and he called for new anti-dumping duties on Japanese imports of stainless steel.

The move follows a series of meetings with steel industry leaders, who have been pressing for relief to shore up the nation's steel industry, which has been hit hard by competition from Japan and other countries.

The president also called for new anti-dumping duties on Mexican imports of stainless steel.

The move follows a series of meetings with steel industry leaders, who have been pressing for relief to shore up the nation's steel industry, which has been hit hard by competition from Japan and other countries.

The president said the tariffs will be in place for 90 days, and he called for new anti-dumping duties on Japanese imports of stainless steel.

The move follows a series of meetings with steel industry leaders, who have been pressing for relief to shore up the nation's steel industry, which has been hit hard by competition from Japan and other countries.

The president also called for new anti-dumping duties on Mexican imports of stainless steel.

The move follows a series of meetings with steel industry leaders, who have been pressing for relief to shore up the nation's steel industry, which has been hit hard by competition from Japan and other countries.

The president said the tariffs will be in place for 90 days, and he called for new anti-dumping duties on Japanese imports of stainless steel.

The move follows a series of meetings with steel industry leaders, who have been pressing for relief to shore up the nation's steel industry, which has been hit hard by competition from Japan and other countries.

The president also called for new anti-dumping duties on Mexican imports of stainless steel.

The move follows a series of meetings with steel industry leaders, who have been pressing for relief to shore up the nation's steel industry, which has been hit hard by competition from Japan and other countries.
Bridge mix

Students returning from Christmas Tuesday afternoon might have seen the sunshine filtering through the metal rails of the circular footbridge at the intersection of Iowa Avenue and Riverdale Road. The result is a graphic interplay of sharp angles and gently curved in the shadowed areas.

Education

The 4 percent increase in the number of Iowa City high school students who are taking college-level courses in the city schools is a sign of progress, said a report issued by Iowa City Businessmen's Educational Foundation. "We have seen a very positive trend in the number of students taking these courses in the last three years," said Ray L. Johnson, report coordinator. "This trend is reflected in the number of students who are taking courses in Iowa City Businessmen's Educational Foundation. "We have seen a very positive trend in the number of students taking these courses in the last three years," said Ray L. Johnson, report coordinator. "This trend is reflected in the number of students who are taking courses in this area." The report states that the number of students taking these courses in this area is at least double the 2.7 figure they have out there. The rate's been a few tenths of a point for the past few years. The rate of increase has been about 1 percent per year.

Unemployment

AFL-CIO, should be back on the job soon, is the conclusion of Iowa City Businessmen's Educational Foundation's most recent report. "We have seen a very positive trend in the number of students taking these courses in the last three years," said Ray L. Johnson, report coordinator. "This trend is reflected in the number of students who are taking courses in this area." The report states that the number of students taking these courses in this area is at least double the 2.7 figure they have out there. The rate's been a few tenths of a point for the past few years. The rate of increase has been about 1 percent per year.

Sober, Ray L. Johnson, report coordinator. "We have seen a very positive trend in the number of students taking these courses in the last three years," said Ray L. Johnson, report coordinator. "This trend is reflected in the number of students who are taking courses in this area." The report states that the number of students taking these courses in this area is at least double the 2.7 figure they have out there. The rate's been a few tenths of a point for the past few years. The rate of increase has been about 1 percent per year.

Unemployment

AFL-CIO, should be back on the job soon, is the conclusion of Iowa City Businessmen's Educational Foundation's most recent report. "We have seen a very positive trend in the number of students taking these courses in the last three years," said Ray L. Johnson, report coordinator. "This trend is reflected in the number of students who are taking courses in this area." The report states that the number of students taking these courses in this area is at least double the 2.7 figure they have out there. The rate's been a few tenths of a point for the past few years. The rate of increase has been about 1 percent per year.

Man charged with assault

By Craig Trover, Staff Writer

A Coloring R Days man charged with assault in Johnson County District Court was arrested Tuesday in a hotel lobby after attempting to pull a man's hair. James P. Crone, 23, of 164 1st St., NE, was arrested in the Johnson County District Court lobby by police. "We have seen a very positive trend in the number of students taking these courses in the last three years," said Ray L. Johnson, report coordinator. "This trend is reflected in the number of students who are taking courses in this area." The report states that the number of students taking these courses in this area is at least double the 2.7 figure they have out there. The rate's been a few tenths of a point for the past few years. The rate of increase has been about 1 percent per year.

Charges

Des Moines Register files

In court on a charge of assault

Charges Tuesday in Johnson County District Court were filed against James P. Crone, 23, of 164 1st St., NE, in connection with an assault on a man in Johnson County District Court. The assault occurred Tuesday at about 9 a.m. in the lobby of the court building.

The victim, who was not identified by name, was taken to the hospital for treatment of injuries. The victim and the suspect were both students at the University of Iowa.

The victim was taken to the hospital for treatment of injuries. The victim and the suspect were both students at the University of Iowa.

The victim was taken to the hospital for treatment of injuries. The victim and the suspect were both students at the University of Iowa.

The victim was taken to the hospital for treatment of injuries. The victim and the suspect were both students at the University of Iowa.

The victim was taken to the hospital for treatment of injuries. The victim and the suspect were both students at the University of Iowa.

The victim was taken to the hospital for treatment of injuries. The victim and the suspect were both students at the University of Iowa.

The victim was taken to the hospital for treatment of injuries. The victim and the suspect were both students at the University of Iowa.

The victim was taken to the hospital for treatment of injuries. The victim and the suspect were both students at the University of Iowa.
'Robin Caruso' ponders in time, space

Theater

"Robin Caruso" currently runs 5:30 p.m. Thursday through Sunday at the New Victory Theater, 10 Columbus Ave. in New York. See listing for times. For reservations call 212-279-4200 or visit www.newvictorytheater.com.

The play's website is: www.robinboxoffice.com

Robin Caruso's translation of Raphael Ben Belitt's "Vletna" ("Night") is underwritten by Alberti's and the public charity The John and Mabel Ringling Museum of Art. The opening night benefit will be held in the Museum's Atrium at 5 p.m. on September 11.

Robin Caruso was born in New York City. He received a B.A. from the University of Michigan and an M.F.A. from the Yale School of Drama. He has lived in New York, Santa Monica, Los Angeles, and Chicago. Mr. Caruso has been named Lecturer of Poetry at the University of California, Santa Cruz, and is currently a writer in residence at the University of Miami. His work has been included in "The Best American Poetry 2000" and "The Best American Poetry 2001," among other anthologies. His first book of poems was published in 2003 by Night Train Press. His second book of poems is forthcoming from Black Sparrow Press in 2006. Caruso's translation of "Night" is the first of many more works committed to Alberti's color reference and the poet's legacy.

Robin Caruso's translation of "Night," which is a typical Midnight Beat anchored by "Midnight Blue," is a dance issue for Sally: Get the Point. If she could, she would dance all night to the music that is NBC's broadcast of the 50th anniversary of the 1954 World Series. Sally loves the hits that are in the Top Ten, and she has a special love for Jackie's. Sally is a bit crooked, but she's a winner. And the hits that are in the Top Ten are in the Top Ten of her heart.

"Night" is a dance issue for Sally: Get the Point. If she could, she would dance all night to the music that is NBC's broadcast of the 50th anniversary of the 1954 World Series. Sally loves the hits that are in the Top Ten, and she has a special love for Jackie's. Sally is a bit crooked, but she's a winner. And the hits that are in the Top Ten are in the Top Ten of her heart.

Summer campers with syncopated beat of some spunky disco sounds

By Paul P. Bosch

Records

ARMS

The new album by the band "Arms" is a dance issue for Sally: Get the Point. If she could, she would dance all night to the music that is NBC's broadcast of the 50th anniversary of the 1954 World Series. Sally loves the hits that are in the Top Ten, and she has a special love for Jackie's. Sally is a bit crooked, but she's a winner. And the hits that are in the Top Ten are in the Top Ten of her heart.

"Arms" is a dance issue for Sally: Get the Point. If she could, she would dance all night to the music that is NBC's broadcast of the 50th anniversary of the 1954 World Series. Sally loves the hits that are in the Top Ten, and she has a special love for Jackie's. Sally is a bit crooked, but she's a winner. And the hits that are in the Top Ten are in the Top Ten of her heart.

Musical

The new musical by the band "Arms" is a dance issue for Sally: Get the Point. If she could, she would dance all night to the music that is NBC's broadcast of the 50th anniversary of the 1954 World Series. Sally loves the hits that are in the Top Ten, and she has a special love for Jackie's. Sally is a bit crooked, but she's a winner. And the hits that are in the Top Ten are in the Top Ten of her heart.

"Arms" is a dance issue for Sally: Get the Point. If she could, she would dance all night to the music that is NBC's broadcast of the 50th anniversary of the 1954 World Series. Sally loves the hits that are in the Top Ten, and she has a special love for Jackie's. Sally is a bit crooked, but she's a winner. And the hits that are in the Top Ten are in the Top Ten of her heart.

Summer campers with syncopated beat of some spunky disco sounds

By Paul P. Bosch

Records

ARMS

The new album by the band "Arms" is a dance issue for Sally: Get the Point. If she could, she would dance all night to the music that is NBC's broadcast of the 50th anniversary of the 1954 World Series. Sally loves the hits that are in the Top Ten, and she has a special love for Jackie's. Sally is a bit crooked, but she's a winner. And the hits that are in the Top Ten are in the Top Ten of her heart.

"Arms" is a dance issue for Sally: Get the Point. If she could, she would dance all night to the music that is NBC's broadcast of the 50th anniversary of the 1954 World Series. Sally loves the hits that are in the Top Ten, and she has a special love for Jackie's. Sally is a bit crooked, but she's a winner. And the hits that are in the Top Ten are in the Top Ten of her heart.

Musical

The new musical by the band "Arms" is a dance issue for Sally: Get the Point. If she could, she would dance all night to the music that is NBC's broadcast of the 50th anniversary of the 1954 World Series. Sally loves the hits that are in the Top Ten, and she has a special love for Jackie's. Sally is a bit crooked, but she's a winner. And the hits that are in the Top Ten are in the Top Ten of her heart.

"Arms" is a dance issue for Sally: Get the Point. If she could, she would dance all night to the music that is NBC's broadcast of the 50th anniversary of the 1954 World Series. Sally loves the hits that are in the Top Ten, and she has a special love for Jackie's. Sally is a bit crooked, but she's a winner. And the hits that are in the Top Ten are in the Top Ten of her heart.

Summer campers with syncopated beat of some spunky disco sounds

By Paul P. Bosch

Records

ARMS

The new album by the band "Arms" is a dance issue for Sally: Get the Point. If she could, she would dance all night to the music that is NBC's broadcast of the 50th anniversary of the 1954 World Series. Sally loves the hits that are in the Top Ten, and she has a special love for Jackie's. Sally is a bit crooked, but she's a winner. And the hits that are in the Top Ten are in the Top Ten of her heart.

"Arms" is a dance issue for Sally: Get the Point. If she could, she would dance all night to the music that is NBC's broadcast of the 50th anniversary of the 1954 World Series. Sally loves the hits that are in the Top Ten, and she has a special love for Jackie's. Sally is a bit crooked, but she's a winner. And the hits that are in the Top Ten are in the Top Ten of her heart.

Musical

The new musical by the band "Arms" is a dance issue for Sally: Get the Point. If she could, she would dance all night to the music that is NBC's broadcast of the 50th anniversary of the 1954 World Series. Sally loves the hits that are in the Top Ten, and she has a special love for Jackie's. Sally is a bit crooked, but she's a winner. And the hits that are in the Top Ten are in the Top Ten of her heart.

"Arms" is a dance issue for Sally: Get the Point. If she could, she would dance all night to the music that is NBC's broadcast of the 50th anniversary of the 1954 World Series. Sally loves the hits that are in the Top Ten, and she has a special love for Jackie's. Sally is a bit crooked, but she's a winner. And the hits that are in the Top Ten are in the Top Ten of her heart.

Summer campers with syncopated beat of some spunky disco sounds

By Paul P. Bosch

Records

ARMS

The new album by the band "Arms" is a dance issue for Sally: Get the Point. If she could, she would dance all night to the music that is NBC's broadcast of the 50th anniversary of the 1954 World Series. Sally loves the hits that are in the Top Ten, and she has a special love for Jackie's. Sally is a bit crooked, but she's a winner. And the hits that are in the Top Ten are in the Top Ten of her heart.

"Arms" is a dance issue for Sally: Get the Point. If she could, she would dance all night to the music that is NBC's broadcast of the 50th anniversary of the 1954 World Series. Sally loves the hits that are in the Top Ten, and she has a special love for Jackie's. Sally is a bit crooked, but she's a winner. And the hits that are in the Top Ten are in the Top Ten of her heart.

Musical

The new musical by the band "Arms" is a dance issue for Sally: Get the Point. If she could, she would dance all night to the music that is NBC's broadcast of the 50th anniversary of the 1954 World Series. Sally loves the hits that are in the Top Ten, and she has a special love for Jackie's. Sally is a bit crooked, but she's a winner. And the hits that are in the Top Ten are in the Top Ten of her heart.

"Arms" is a dance issue for Sally: Get the Point. If she could, she would dance all night to the music that is NBC's broadcast of the 50th anniversary of the 1954 World Series. Sally loves the hits that are in the Top Ten, and she has a special love for Jackie's. Sally is a bit crooked, but she's a winner. And the hits that are in the Top Ten are in the Top Ten of her heart.
Sports

Grow in soccer popularity shown by Iowa City camp

By Robert Neyer

Sports

Iowa City, Iowa

Ian Brown said he doesn’t like to see a high school student face a coach who isn’t patient. "More kids will be involved in high school sports than would without a soccer program," Brown said. "I think it will make our kids better students, and it will enhance their attitude as well."

"STATE OF THE KICKS will have to make a choice, and limit their activities," Brown said. "I think it will be a good soccer program, and I think it will be a good football program."

"It’s a good idea that the people in soccer realize what’s going on in the community."

"I think most of the kids who are going to go to the high school will be involved in the soccer program," Brown said. "We want to make sure they’re involved in activities that are going to enhance their attitude in school."

"If a kid feels he’s going to be involved in the soccer program, he’s going to be involved in a lot of other activities," Brown said. "We want to make sure they’re involved in a lot of activities that are going to enhance their attitude in school."
Chicago (UPI) — The National League has a chance today to draw even with the American League and maybe move closer to their long-time rival on Monday as the American League takes on the Chicago White Sox and the National League takes on the Chicago Cubs.

The senior circuit, with a heavy concentration of star players in Chicago and New York, leads the American League, 55 to 31. The Nationals have a head start, having won the first game of the season, 4-3, on home field.

The most important game of the day is in the American League, where the New York Yankees play the Boston Red Sox. The Yankees lead the league in batting average, 278, to the Red Sox's 269.

The Yankees have a powerful lineup, withstrained southpaw left-hander Keegan Fennell leading the pitching staff. Fennell, who has a 3.28 earned run average, will make his second start of the season.

The Boston Red Sox have a good hitting order, led by the latest in a series of youthful stars, 23-year-old first baseman Kevin Fregosio. Fregosio, who hit .328 last season, has a .306 average this year. He has three home runs and 16 runs batted in.

In other American League action, the Baltimore Orioles play the Washington Senators, who have a record of 1-6. The Senators, led by pitcher Bob Feller, have a 4.00 earned run average. They have lost their last two games.

In the National League, the St. Louis Cardinals play the Cincinnati Reds. The Cardinals, who have won the pennant five times in the last six seasons, have a record of 9-4.

The Cardinals' star pitcher is 37-year-old Hall of Famer Sandy Koufax. Koufax, who has a 2.28 earned run average, leads the league in strikeouts, with 102. He has four complete games and three shutouts.

The Cincinnati Reds have a good hitting order, led by the latest in a series of youthful stars, 24-year-old second baseman Pete Rose. Rose, who hit .324 last season, has a .310 average this year. He has three home runs and 16 runs batted in.

In other National League action, the Atlanta Braves play the Philadelphia Phillies. The Braves, who have won the pennant four times in the last six seasons, have a record of 9-4.

The Braves' star pitcher is 35-year-old Hall of Famer Fergie Jenkins. Jenkins, who has a 2.38 earned run average, leads the league in wins, with 18. He has five complete games and three shutouts.

The Philadelphia Phillies have a good hitting order, led by the latest in a series of youthful stars, 22-year-old outfielder Greg Luzinski. Luzinski, who hit .304 last season, has a .294 average this year. He has three home runs and 16 runs batted in.