Balmer: Housing service is coping

By Carla Traina

Although Mike Benckendorf, director of the Iowa City Housing Inspection Service, believes the city is far from meeting all the demands on its personnel, he believes that the city is making some progress.

But Benckendorf noted that the department is under a great deal of pressure to maintain consistent levels of inspection and compliance. He said that the department is working to maintain standards and that the goal is to provide a good quality of life for everyone in the city.

The department has initiated several initiatives to improve the level of service, one of which involves the inclusion of more residents in the housing inspection process. Benckendorf said that the department is working to make sure that residents have a voice in the decision-making process and that they are involved in the planning and implementation of the department's goals.

Reagan: Grenada goals fulfilled

ET GEORGE'S, Grenada (UPI) - Almost 300 American civilians and nearly 100 U.S. military personnel were evacuated from Grenada Friday night by the U.S. Air Force and U.S. Navy. The evacuation began at 1 P.M. local time and continued until 5 P.M. local time.

A total of 120 civilians and 180 military personnel were evacuated. The evacuation was carried out by two C-17 cargo planes and a U.S. Navy amphibious transport dock ship. The planes flew directly to the U.S. Navy base in Diego Garcia, about 900 miles west of the coast of Africa. The ship sailed directly to the U.S. Navy base in Diego Garcia.

The evacuation was prompted by the military and government in Grenada, which announced earlier in the week that they would begin the evacuation process. The announcement was made in response to the situation in Grenada, which has been described as dangerous and unstable.

Small considers challenging Evans in 1984

By Mark Leonard

Although the political scene is clear, John Small has not yet made up his mind about whether or not to challenge U.S. Rep. John L. Evans, D-Colo., for the 2nd congressional district seat.

Last week, Small revealed in an interview with The Daily Iowan that he is considering running for Evans' seat, but he hasn't made up his mind yet. Small said that he is planning to make a decision in the next few weeks, and that he will announce his decision in the near future.

Small said that he is not yet sure whether he will run for the seat, but he is considering it. He said that he is planning to make a decision in the next few weeks, and that he will announce his decision in the near future.

Reagan workers strike over contract

A strike by Greyhound Lines bus drivers in Phoenix, Ariz., on Monday, Jan. 31, forced the company to offer a wage and benefit package.

Greyhound Lines, which operates a fleet of over 3,000 buses in the United States, is owned by the Union Pacific Corporation. The company has a history of conflicts with its drivers, who have been demanding higher wages and better benefits.

The drivers went on strike to demand a new contract that would provide job security, better wages, and improved benefits. The company offered a new contract that included a pay raise and improved benefits, but the drivers rejected it.

Greyhound Lines' offer included a pay raise of 3 percent and an additional $20 per month for each year of service. The drivers rejected the offer, saying it was not good enough.

The drivers went on strike on Monday, Jan. 31, and the company responded by offering a new contract that included a pay raise of 3 percent and an additional $20 per month for each year of service. The drivers rejected the offer, saying it was not good enough.

Greyhound Lines' offer included a pay raise of 3 percent and an additional $20 per month for each year of service. The drivers rejected the offer, saying it was not good enough.

Greyhound Lines' offer included a pay raise of 3 percent and an additional $20 per month for each year of service. The drivers rejected the offer, saying it was not good enough.

Greyhound Lines' offer included a pay raise of 3 percent and an additional $20 per month for each year of service. The drivers rejected the offer, saying it was not good enough.

Greyhound Lines' offer included a pay raise of 3 percent and an additional $20 per month for each year of service. The drivers rejected the offer, saying it was not good enough.

Greyhound Lines' offer included a pay raise of 3 percent and an additional $20 per month for each year of service. The drivers rejected the offer, saying it was not good enough.

Greyhound Lines' offer included a pay raise of 3 percent and an additional $20 per month for each year of service. The drivers rejected the offer, saying it was not good enough.

Greyhound Lines' offer included a pay raise of 3 percent and an additional $20 per month for each year of service. The drivers rejected the offer, saying it was not good enough.

Greyhound Lines' offer included a pay raise of 3 percent and an additional $20 per month for each year of service. The drivers rejected the offer, saying it was not good enough.

Greyhound Lines' offer included a pay raise of 3 percent and an additional $20 per month for each year of service. The drivers rejected the offer, saying it was not good enough.

Greyhound Lines' offer included a pay raise of 3 percent and an additional $20 per month for each year of service. The drivers rejected the offer, saying it was not good enough.
Lebanon talks make progress

(Report by Tass, Moscow) — Lebanon’s political parties reached an agreement on Tuesday on the formation of a new government. The agreement will include a five-year mandate, which is a significant step forward. The new government will be composed of representatives from all political factions and will work towards a national consensus.

Polls close in Iowa

A final tally of the votes cast in the Iowa primary elections showed a close race between the candidates. The state will now move on to the caucuses, where candidates will compete for the support of the party delegates.

Police: Man tried to kill self

A man who allegedly tried to kill himself was taken into custody by police on Wednesday. He was found with a loaded gun and was subsequently arrested. The investigation is ongoing.

UI student writes book

A University of Iowa student has published a book that explores the history of the university. The book, titled "The History of the University," covers the university’s founding and its development over the years.

U.S. in discussions with Lebanon

The United States is engaged in discussions with Lebanon to improve relations and enhance cooperation. The discussions will focus on economic, security, and political issues.

UI president invites students

The University of Iowa president has invited students to participate in a special program that will provide them with opportunities to engage in research and innovative projects.

UI student writes book

A University of Iowa student has published a book that explores the history of the university. The book, titled "The History of the University," covers the university’s founding and its development over the years.

UI student writes book

A University of Iowa student has published a book that explores the history of the university. The book, titled "The History of the University," covers the university’s founding and its development over the years.

UI student writes book

A University of Iowa student has published a book that explores the history of the university. The book, titled "The History of the University," covers the university’s founding and its development over the years.

IMMIGRATION

The U.S. government is working on a new immigration reform bill. The bill aims to address the current immigration crisis and promote economic growth.

UI student writes book

A University of Iowa student has published a book that explores the history of the university. The book, titled "The History of the University," covers the university’s founding and its development over the years.

UI student writes book

A University of Iowa student has published a book that explores the history of the university. The book, titled "The History of the University," covers the university’s founding and its development over the years.

UI student writes book

A University of Iowa student has published a book that explores the history of the university. The book, titled "The History of the University," covers the university’s founding and its development over the years.

UI student writes book

A University of Iowa student has published a book that explores the history of the university. The book, titled "The History of the University," covers the university’s founding and its development over the years.

UI student writes book

A University of Iowa student has published a book that explores the history of the university. The book, titled "The History of the University," covers the university’s founding and its development over the years.

UI student writes book

A University of Iowa student has published a book that explores the history of the university. The book, titled "The History of the University," covers the university’s founding and its development over the years.

UI student writes book

A University of Iowa student has published a book that explores the history of the university. The book, titled "The History of the University," covers the university’s founding and its development over the years.
Iowa City, Iowa

...at-large council seat... turned out for the primary elections on...

...and "The" end of a relatively quiet campaign because he is backed by the City's... win the seat.

...Panel/OnlC... "Iu. bt...t erger... In... 20 "an, 1ft, PO" Inln p/IIVIOIJI p,clur....

...the University... Council in Tuesday's election, according to political analyst Balmer...Balmer and Ross agreed certainly voted the strongest in the primary...
Rh factor pregnancy risks told

By Jill Humes

A woman with Rh-negative blood must be aware that if she becomes pregnant, her baby could suffer severe health risks during the pregnancy. Carol Newton, IS associate professor of obstetrics and gynecology, speaks at length on the subject of Rh-negative blood during, "Talking to the Student," which is titled "Rh-Negative Blood." The program is sponsored by the ISU Research Board. According to Johnson County Division of Vital Records, there is an increased risk for abortion or stillbirth among women who are Rh-negative and who become pregnant with an Rh-positive child. "If one of the parents is Rh-negative and the other Rh-positive, the first child may be Rh-positive. If the first child is Rh-positive and the condition is not controlled, Rh-negative mothers have a chance of suffering from the disease. If it comes into contact with the mother's bloodstream at the time of birth, the mother may develop antibodies to the Rh-positive cells in the baby's blood. These antibodies will then attack the Rh-positive cells in the baby's body, causing hemolytic disease of the newborn. This can lead to severe anemia, brain damage, and even death. The antibodies may also cause serious problems in future pregnancies. Rh-negative women who become pregnant with an Rh-positive child should take steps to prevent the antibodies from attacking the baby's red blood cells. This can be done by giving the mother Rh-immune globulin (RhG) immediately after delivery. RhG will help prevent the antibodies from attacking the baby's red blood cells. If the mother has been given RhG within 72 hours of delivery, she will not develop antibodies to the Rh-positive cells in the baby's blood. If the mother has not been given RhG, antibodies to the Rh-positive cells will be produced. These antibodies will then attack the Rh-positive cells in the baby's body, causing hemolytic disease of the newborn. This can lead to severe anemia, brain damage, and even death. The antibodies may also cause serious problems in future pregnancies. Rh-negative women who become pregnant with an Rh-positive child should take steps to prevent the antibodies from attacking the baby's red blood cells. This can be done by giving the mother Rh-immune globulin (RhG) immediately after delivery. RhG will help prevent the antibodies from attacking the baby's red blood cells. If the mother has been given RhG within 72 hours of delivery, she will not develop antibodies to the Rh-positive cells in the baby's blood. If the mother has not been given RhG, antibodies to the Rh-positive cells will be produced. These antibodies will then attack the Rh-positive cells in the baby's body, causing hemolytic disease of the newborn. This can lead to severe anemia, brain damage, and even death. The antibodies may also cause serious problems in future pregnancies. Rh-negative women who become pregnant with an Rh-positive child should take steps to prevent the antibodies from attacking the baby's red blood cells. This can be done by giving the mother Rh-immune globulin (RhG) immediately after delivery. RhG will help prevent the antibodies from attacking the baby's red blood cells. If the mother has been given RhG within 72 hours of delivery, she will not develop antibodies to the Rh-positive cells in the baby's blood. If the mother has not been given RhG, antibodies to the Rh-positive cells will be produced. These antibodies will then attack the Rh-positive cells in the baby's body, causing hemolytic disease of the newborn. This can lead to severe anemia, brain damage, and even death. The antibodies may also cause serious problems in future pregnancies. Rh-negative women who become pregnant with an Rh-positive child should take steps to prevent the antibodies from attacking the baby's red blood cells. This can be done by giving the mother Rh-immune globulin (RhG) immediately after delivery. RhG will help prevent the antibodies from attacking the baby's red blood cells. If the mother has been given RhG within 72 hours of delivery, she will not develop antibodies to the Rh-positive cells in the baby's blood. If the mother has not been given RhG, antibodies to the Rh-positive cells will be produced. These antibodies will then attack the Rh-positive cells in the baby's body, causing hemolytic disease of the newborn. This can lead to severe anemia, brain damage, and even death. The antibodies may also cause serious problems in future pregnancies. Rh-negative women who become pregnant with an Rh-positive child should take steps to prevent the antibodies from attacking the baby's red blood cells. This can be done by giving the mother Rh-immune globulin (RhG) immediately after delivery. RhG will help prevent the antibodies from attacking the baby's red blood cells. If the mother has been given RhG within 72 hours of delivery, she will not develop antibodies to the Rh-positive cells in the baby's blood. If the mother has not been given RhG, antibodies to the Rh-positive cells will be produced. These antibodies will then attack the Rh-positive cells in the baby's body, causing hemolytic disease of the newborn. This can lead to severe anemia, brain damage, and even death. The antibodies may also cause serious problems in future pregnancies. Rh-negative women who become pregnant with an Rh-positive child should take steps to prevent the antibodies from attacking the baby's red blood cells. This can be done by giving the mother Rh-immune globulin (RhG) immediately after delivery. RhG will help prevent the antibodies from attacking the baby's red blood cells. If the mother has been given RhG within 72 hours of delivery, she will not develop antibodies to the Rh-positive cells in the baby's blood. If the mother has not been given RhG, antibodies to the Rh-positive cells will be produced. These antibodies will then attack the Rh-positive cells in the baby's body, causing hemolytic disease of the newborn. This can lead to severe anemia, brain damage, and even death. The antibodies may also cause serious problems in future pregnancies. Rh-negative women who become pregnant with an Rh-positive child should take steps to prevent the antibodies from attacking the baby's red blood cells. This can be done by giving the mother Rh-immune globulin (RhG) immediately after delivery. RhG will help prevent the antibodies from attacking the baby's red blood cells. If the mother has been given RhG within 72 hours of delivery, she will not develop antibodies to the Rh-positive cells in the baby's blood. If the mother has not been given RhG, antibodies to the Rh-positive cells will be produced. These antibodies will then attack the Rh-positive cells in the baby's body, causing hemolytic disease of the newborn. This can lead to severe anemia, brain damage, and even death. The antibodies may also cause serious problems in future pregnancies.
Metro

New plan okayed for PAT

By Dan Hunter

The US Justice Department Thursday night unanimously approved a new plan to operate con-

The State Senator by line: Tom E. Mall and PAC coordinator Elmer Guder developed the new

The new plan sets up a new structure including

The new plan is in effect immediately and is

---

Former DI bookkeeper dies

Leontia Wilson, a former bookkeeper for The

The $60,000 fund was set up decades ago. The

By Patricia A. Fowler

By Dan Hau ..r

---

Police beat

A passerby in one of the cars, Raymond

An Iowa City man was charged with public in-

When Wilson first appeared before her

James Troy of St. Charles, Minn., was charged with

The man, Gary Cameron, of Cedar Rapids, was

---

Deputies on hunt for assailant

Deputies on the scene were pushed back by a

The deputy shot the man, who was later

By Dan Hau ..r

---

JCPenney

Pre-Holiday Night Sale
Friday November 4, 1983
From 5 P.M. To 10 P.M.
10% off All Purchases in any 3 departments

For yourout customers, we are offering a special 15% Bonus Discount Card For you on your next JCPenney, just select on any three items you wish from any three departments. You may choose for any department, and receive a 15% discount on the total purchase price when the items are regularly priced in all departments.

You will also find special Night Sale savings throughout the store for your family and your home, your Bonus Discount Card may be used on these items, too, to gain an additional 15% off the already special prices.

Use your 15% savings Discount Card on regular JCPenney plus National Brands in small appliances, sporting goods, etc.

Savings included to stock on hand to be have at 11 p.m. for the best selection.

---

Hill has posted the showing of the White Rose in honor of the showing of Bill II on nationwide TV.

---

ALL BLOUSES & SKIRTS

20% OFF

Friday, Saturday & Sunday

---

Malcolm Jewelers

Selling Quality Diamonds, Watches, and Fine Jewelry For Over Half a Century

---

The ERSTONE

---

The Daily Iowan — Iowa City, Iowa — Friday, November 4, 1983 — Page 5A
Council questions new city agriculture zoning

By Carla Tyrone

Iowa City Register

Mary Niekro, questioning the need to pay the city’s attorneys’ fees for the city’s brief, asked the council members not to spend the money to defend a lawsuit against the city over the question of granting zoning relief to a farmer. Niekro said the city had to pay for the legal fees because the council had not adequately investigated the matter.

Niekro also said the city’s zoning ordinance was not clear enough to determine whether a particular property was zoned for agriculture. She asked the council to consider amending the ordinance to make it more clear.

The council agreed to consider Niekro’s suggestion and directed the city manager to prepare a report on the matter.

---

Inspector

never really talked with it. We knew, however, that inspecting was going to be different, and we would like to see a professional staff of inspectors.

The inspectors are generally very highly trained and experienced. Our inspector was a former police officer and firefighter, and had a great deal of experience in law enforcement.

The inspector is responsible for making sure that businesses are following the city’s regulations. He or she is also responsible for enforcing the city’sordinance, which includes all aspects of business operations.

The inspector is also responsible for responding to complaints from the public. They are the first point of contact for the public when they have a problem with a business.

---

District

most readily and a little more smoothly than a single inspector. Even though I am not a professional, I think we need to have several inspectors in the city.

The inspector who was hired last year did not seem to have enough experience. If we had more inspectors, we could have some redundancy built into the system to ensure that the work gets done.

The inspector who was hired last year did not seem to have enough experience. If we had more inspectors, we could have some redundancy built into the system to ensure that the work gets done.

---

P R O T E C T I O N

... If you’re a politician...
A key election

Any time local elections are held, voters have the opportunity to choose, through the candidates they support, the types of answers the issues they care about will receive from their elected government. It is a chance for Iowa City. Who we are, on the whole, are educated and progressive, and that is exactly the people we are. We need to be thinking about what we need in this city, and how we can best support it. The...
Jackson announces his candidacy, denounces Reagan as 'anti-black'

WASHINGTON (CNS) -- Black civil rights activist Jesse Jackson, pledging to lead a 'nonviolent revolution,' was formally named Thursday as the Democratic presidential candidate for the 1984 election.

Jackson announced his candidacy at what became a times of a rally and revival meeting, with the religious leaders using almost any excuse to attract and to call on a full house for Jackson. The Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. was among those who spoke in support of Jackson. But Jackson, who is running as a black candidate, is urging a 'rainbow coalition of the entire nation that will include whites, blacks, Hispanics, Indians, Asians, women, young people, poor people, old people, gay people, lesbians, small farmers, small businesspersons, peace activists and businesspeople.'

'As we seek the presidency because I want to affirm my belief that leadership in America, a leadership that we need, a leadership that is needed because the presidency is a dream that is still to be fulfilled. And I want to affirm that leadership is a dream that is still to be fulfilled.'

Jackson said Jackson is not to be confused with his presence in New Hampshire, Maine, and South Carolina for the nomination. Jackson said Jackson is not to be confused with the presence of black leaders who are remaining neutral or whose presence is not being reflected by black leaders in the campaign. Jackson said Jackson is not to be confused with the presence of black leaders who are remaining neutral or whose presence is not being reflected by black leaders in the campaign.

Jackson said Jackson is not to be confused with the presence of black leaders who are remaining neutral or whose presence is not being reflected by black leaders in the campaign. Jackson said Jackson is not to be confused with the presence of black leaders who are remaining neutral or whose presence is not being reflected by black leaders in the campaign.

Jackson saidJackson is not to be confused with the presence of black leaders who are remaining neutral or whose presence is not being reflected by black leaders in the campaign. Jackson said Jackson is not to be confused with the presence of black leaders who are remaining neutral or whose presence is not being reflected by black leaders in the campaign.

Jackson said Jackson is not to be confused with the presence of black leaders who are remaining neutral or whose presence is not being reflected by black leaders in the campaign. Jackson said Jackson is not to be confused with the presence of black leaders who are remaining neutral or whose presence is not being reflected by black leaders in the campaign.

Jackson said Jackson is not to be confused with the presence of black leaders who are remaining neutral or whose presence is not being reflected by black leaders in the campaign. Jackson said Jackson is not to be confused with the presence of black leaders who are remaining neutral or whose presence is not being reflected by black leaders in the campaign.
Midwest stars compete for MS Marathon title

By Derek Zondervan

Slofkosky, who won both the 10K and half-marathon this year, has a good chance at a course record. He set the previous record of 1:15:40 two years ago.

Robertson, who won the half-marathon last year, is also a possibility. He holds the course record of 1:16:09.

There are also some good runners in the half-marathon division, including some from other states. Iowa's own Steve Fennimore, who set the state record of 1:13:34 last year, is expected to run in the top ten.

In the women's division, Iowa's Kay Stephens is currently the leader. She has a personal best of 1:17:00 and is a strong contender for the title.

The marathon match-up is between the Hawkeye Devil and the Purdue Boilermaker. Both teams are powerhouse programs, and this year's showdown promises to be a exciting battle.

The marathon takes place on Saturday, April 8, at 7:00 AM. The course starts at the Iowa State Capitol and follows the scenic route through the city. The finish line is at the University of Iowa's Kinnick Stadium.

Be sure to check out the pre-race festivities and the after-party activities. The race is a great way to support local charities and meet new people.

Good luck to all the runners and enjoy the beautiful spring weather!
Swimmers get off the ground with a pair of ‘ideal’ opponents

By Dave Batterson

Most coaches would prefer to open their seasons with an easy opponent to pick up some confidence for their young athletes, but Iowa men’s head coach Tom Dunn hopes that’s not the case for the Hawkeyes this weekend.

The Hawkeyes open this weekend with a pair of `ideal’ opponents for them as they begin their season at the Big Eight Invitational at Lincoln, Neb. While the three teams that the Hawkeyes will face there are not the same caliber as those they beat in the Big Ten Invitational last season, they are expected to be much better.

“We wanted to give our younger guys a chance to test themselves on Saturday,” said Dunn.

Dunn said the ideal scenario would be for the Hawkeyes to finish first at the Big Eight Invitational.

“There’s no reason why we can’t be the best of those three teams,” Dunn said. “This is the best team I’ve had headed into the season.”

The Hawkeyes will face off against the University of Missouri and Bradley University, both of which are considered to be strong programs in the Big Eight.

The meet will be held on Saturday in the Field House at the University of Nebraska. The Hawkeyes will be looking to continue their tradition of starting off the season with a strong performance.

“We’ve had such a strong season that we want to keep that momentum going,” Dunn said.

The Hawkeyes are looking forward to a great start to the season as they prepare to take on some tough competition. They are confident in their ability to perform well at the Big Eight Invitational and hope to secure a strong finish.

“We’re excited to be going into this weekend’s competition. We’ve been working hard all season and we’re ready to show what we can do,” Dunn said.

The Hawkeyes hope to use the meet as a springboard for a successful season, and they are determined to give it their all on Saturday.

“We’re going to give it our all, and we’re confident that we can achieve our goals,” Dunn said.

The Big Eight Invitational is the first major test for the Hawkeyes as they begin their season, and they are ready to face the challenge head-on.

“We’re excited to face some tough competition and we’re ready to see what we can do,” Dunn said.

The Hawkeyes are looking forward to a successful season and they are determined to give it their all on Saturday.

“We’re excited to be going into this weekend’s competition. We’ve been working hard all season and we’re ready to show what we can do,” Dunn said.
Sports

Rose Bowl-bound Illini preparing to put icing on championship cake

At the Lake County 140 Eastgate before the start of the college (football) season, Illinois Sports Director Alan Campbell - The Daily Iowan's guest ... & 17 West Michigan St. 844-1001, 2401 N. Michigan St. 240-3141, at 24 Northwestern.

Michigan Coach Mike White notes he is 0-0 in two of his six Big Ten contests, but he is determined to find a way to win in the Big Ten.

"We've got to go out and win the conference," White said. "If we can win one game, we can win all six."

White is optimistic about the Illini's chances of winning the conference.

"They're already thinking about the Michigan-Ohio State game in Columbus," White said. "They'll be ready to go on the road."

"THE NORTHWESTERN-MICHIGAN game in Evanston is the only conference matchup Saturday between two teams with losing records.

Spartan Coach George Perich got the first big game this week by the young Illini (6-0) against Minnesota last week.

"We have to get ready for Michigan," Perich said Thursday. "That's all it is. We'll work hard through the next week and play well Saturday."
The only Big Ten Bottlings

National Football League

...And the arrival of the local people... People are wondering what's going on and the people here are......Is still on my list. Scott Anderson, like his teammate, is... Scott did not return a call for this story.

The Big Ten Bottlings

AFL's first two<...and then work with the......I'm afraid of the local kids......I'm not interested in Columbia and Montana......Morris from Madison, Wis., in 1976 by a score of 35-17......Those three schools are Columbia, Montana, and Morris from Madison, Wis., in 1976 by a score of 35-17......The defense has yielded an average of 349.7 yards and tied for the division lead and......Regardless of whether or not Woods is back to the Big Ten Bottlings...

Recreats

Jim has made an official visit to Colorado, Montana, and Northern Iowa...

High School Preps

...And Morris from Madison, Wis., in 1976 by a score of 35-17...
Too few bizarre moments in "Strange Behavior" plot

By Craig Myrick

PALACE CREEK John Rohde (Michael Bowen) is the film's villain, a young, brilliant, and charismatic boy who is the leader of a high school social group known as the Dr. Evil Gang. The Dr. Evil Gang consists of his best friend, Timmy (played by Ben Stiller), his girlfriend, Beverley (played by Julia Sweeney), and several other members of the high school who are attracted to the eccentric and dangerous Rohde. Together, they embark on a series of bizarre and disturbing acts, including prank calls, vandalism, and theft.

The film opens with Rohde's monologue, in which he explains his motivations for such activities. He is disillusioned with the social norms of his community and feels that he is being held back by the constraints of conformity. Rohde's speech is both charming and disturbing, as he describes his desire to create chaos and confusion in the lives of those around him.

Throughout the film, Rohde and his gang engage in a variety of bizarre and unpredictable acts, each of which is designed to challenge the social order and create a sense of chaos. These acts range from simple pranks, like writing threatening messages on the walls of the school, to more serious crimes, like setting fires in the town's public buildings.

The film's climax comes when Rohde and his gang pull off a daring heist of a valuable piece of art from the local museum. The heist is executed with precision and style, and it is a moment of pure cinematic brilliance, as the gang members slip through the museum's security system and make their way to the treasure they have targeted.

"Strange Behavior" is a film that is both entertaining and thought-provoking. It explores themes of rebellion, conformity, and the nature of evil, and it does so with a playful and irreverent tone that makes it a pleasure to watch. However, the film also deals with serious issues, and it is a reminder that the human capacity for cruelty and depravity is a constant threat to the social order.

Films

Strange Behavior (1989) is a dark comedy film that explores the darker aspects of youth culture. It is a film that is both amusing and disturbing, and it is a film that is sure to leave a lasting impression on those who see it.
When it comes to duo-pianists, Paratores have right combination

By John Vriend Assistant Editor

THERE HAVE BEEN brothers working together in the past in various fields of endeavor, but the musical arena is one that has never operated on a regular basis with duo-pianists. The Paratores Brothers (Louis and Anthony) have been playing in Europe for years, and now the brothers Paratores (Anthony and Joseph) are becoming one of the few known teams in this country. The brothers have recently returned from Europe where they performed for 10 years, and now are back in the United States as the Paratores Duo Piano Revival, a new two-piano arrangement. Anthony, the "brother" of Joseph, is the most active half, while Joseph, naturally, takes a more passive role. They have, however, added something to further the proliferation of duo-pianists in this country, given many before, better known and more effective in bringing music to the masses. The Paratores Brothers were interviewed by Joseph, recently, about the Paratores in Iowa. The brothers have been, directly and indirectly, added to the earlier duo-piano repertoire to dispense uplifting piano music to the masses. They use two pianos and two players, one of whom is Joseph, the other, Anthony. The Paratores Brothers were interviewed by Joseph, recently, about the Paratores in Iowa.

Music:

"We've been around each other a long time," says Anthony Paratore. "We've always used to communicating with a minimum of words." After appearing with the late Arthur Rubinstein and with Benno Ploshu, the Paratores went on to make records, and then began their performance in Iowa. It was so that they were breaking together. "It's a lot more fun," says Anthony.

James Brown sued for support

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) - R&B singer James Brown has been ordered by a Los Angeles court to pay $9,000 a month in child support to his ex-wife, Alphonza Scott. Brown was blacklist by the court for failing to pay funds to his ex-wife, who has maintained a child support order against him for the past six years. The court found that Brown had willfully disobeyed the order and ordered him to pay $9,000 a month in support. Brown was ordered to pay $9,000 a month in child support to his ex-wife, Alphonza Scott. Brown was blacklist by the court for failing to pay funds to his ex-wife, who has maintained a child support order against him for the past six years. The court found that Brown had willfully disobeyed the order and ordered him to pay $9,000 a month in support.

Get a Lift.

Come to the Coors Ski Team Party.

Watch for Details.

DI Classifieds

PERSONAL

HELP WANTED

PERSONAL

TRAVEL/ADVENTURE

HELP WANTED

- TOphies: Hons & Shirts
- Raffle every half hour
- FREE Samples of Shell Brands

THE DAILY IOWAN

Business Express The DAILY IOWAN, located at 1260 Washington St., is 800-849-2333.

THE DAILY IOWAN is looking for insert officers. Board members, good pay. Must have transportation to Colonnade. Call 335-6203 to apply.

THE DAILY IOWAN

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) - R&B singer James Brown has been ordered by a Los Angeles court to pay $9,000 a month in child support to his ex-wife, Alphonza Scott. Brown was blacklist by the court for failing to pay funds to his ex-wife, who has maintained a child support order against him for the past six years. The court found that Brown had willfully disobeyed the order and ordered him to pay $9,000 a month in support. Brown was ordered to pay $9,000 a month in child support to his ex-wife, Alphonza Scott. Brown was blacklist by the court for failing to pay funds to his ex-wife, who has maintained a child support order against him for the past six years. The court found that Brown had willfully disobeyed the order and ordered him to pay $9,000 a month in support.
Phone fix available to soap addicts

By Kevin Parka

Los Angeles CA 4/27 - For soap opera addicts reluctant to stray from daytime soap operas, there is a recurring feature, and it's a ditty.

"I bowers, a 31-year-old, self-taught boy from Cedar Rapids, is now a voice on the phone, quickly into a pool of guitar and sound effects that seems out of place in such a setting.

"I bowers, a 31-year-old, self-taught boy from Cedar Rapids, is now a voice on the phone, quickly into a pool of guitar and sound effects that seems out of place in such a setting.

A ditty.

By Kevin Parka

Los Angeles CA 4/27 - For soap opera addicts reluctant to stray from daytime soap operas, there is a recurring feature, and it's a ditty.

"I bowers, a 31-year-old, self-taught boy from Cedar Rapids, is now a voice on the phone, quickly into a pool of guitar and sound effects that seems out of place in such a setting.

A ditty.

By Kevin Parka

Los Angeles CA 4/27 - For soap opera addicts reluctant to stray from daytime soap operas, there is a recurring feature, and it's a ditty.

"I bowers, a 31-year-old, self-taught boy from Cedar Rapids, is now a voice on the phone, quickly into a pool of guitar and sound effects that seems out of place in such a setting.

A ditty.

By Kevin Parka

Los Angeles CA 4/27 - For soap opera addicts reluctant to stray from daytime soap operas, there is a recurring feature, and it's a ditty.

"I bowers, a 31-year-old, self-taught boy from Cedar Rapids, is now a voice on the phone, quickly into a pool of guitar and sound effects that seems out of place in such a setting.

A ditty.

By Kevin Parka

Los Angeles CA 4/27 - For soap opera addicts reluctant to stray from daytime soap operas, there is a recurring feature, and it's a ditty.

"I bowers, a 31-year-old, self-taught boy from Cedar Rapids, is now a voice on the phone, quickly into a pool of guitar and sound effects that seems out of place in such a setting.

A ditty.

By Kevin Parka

Los Angeles CA 4/27 - For soap opera addicts reluctant to stray from daytime soap operas, there is a recurring feature, and it's a ditty.

"I bowers, a 31-year-old, self-taught boy from Cedar Rapids, is now a voice on the phone, quickly into a pool of guitar and sound effects that seems out of place in such a setting.

A ditty.

By Kevin Parka

Los Angeles CA 4/27 - For soap opera addicts reluctant to stray from daytime soap operas, there is a recurring feature, and it's a ditty.

"I bowers, a 31-year-old, self-taught boy from Cedar Rapids, is now a voice on the phone, quickly into a pool of guitar and sound effects that seems out of place in such a setting.

A ditty.