Students occupy Evans' office

By Kate Brown

UI students occupied the Iowa City office of Rep. Ceran Evans, Iowa, for nearly an hour Thursday afternoon.

The recognition was intended to prompt Evans, known as a pro-business, anti-government conservative, to support the students' actions and call for the office to be vacated.

Evans and Evans' aides made a brief, heated and at times loud response to the students after the office was vacated.

Residents of the area outside the office building said they were concerned about the impact of the demonstration on the campus.

Approximately 100 students gathered outside the office building to protest the decision of Evans to support the student group.

US Hospitals Director John W. Colloton was appointed Thursday as a member of the Medicare Prospective Payment Assessment Commission, a new committee established to oversee the new Medicare payment system.

The new Medicare payment system, which is expected to begin operating in January 1984, will replace the current system that reimburses hospitals based on the number of days they care for patients.

The system is designed to reduce Medicare costs and improve the quality of care.

Colloton, who is currently the director of US Hospitals, said he was pleased to be appointed to the commission.

Grenada bans public meetings, threatens censorship of press

The string of events continued last week after CNN announced its appointment of five members of the Grenada Women's Army Corps to the Grenada National Security Council.

The women were selected for their potential role in the national defense of Grenada.

The move was seen as a significant step towards the establishment of a female military presence in the region.

Police charge man with car vandalism

By Patricia A. Parker

An Iowa City woman was arrested Wednesday for two incidents of automobile vandalism, according to City police.

Scott Loring, 31, 122 North Third St., was arrested by Iowa City police at approximately 8:30 p.m. Wednesday, according to Detective Carl Bennett. Loring was charged with two counts of second-degree criminal mischief.

Detectives are looking into two separate incidents of vandalism. In one incident, the woman broke the windows of Bennett's car parked near the Kinnick Stadium when he was attending a festival in the stadium. The second incident occurred in the middle of the night when Loring damaged and collided with a stop sign in the 400 block of West Main Street.

A preliminary hearing is set for Nov. 30. Loring was released on his own recognition.

Teachers label board's offer as 'insulting,' 'unresponsive'

By Steve Smith

The spokeswoman for the Iowa City Education Association said Friday that the Iowa City School Board negotiators' counter proposal "embarrassed" and "disappointed" the union.

Board negotiators called Wednesday night a "great step forward," with "great accomplishments" that included "moving the process forward." They also proposed that salary and benefits increases be linked to performance ratings.

At 8 p.m. Friday, the board negotiated until 9:30 p.m. without making any salary or benefit offer.

"It's a totally different proposal than anything we've seen," said Matt O'Malley, who represents the union's bargaining team.

Bush defends U.S. "rescue mission" during "purely political" Iowa visit

By Mark Leonard

THE DES Moines Register's Page 4A

WASHINGTON - President George Bush called the United States' "rescue mission" in Grenada a very good thing for the United States. Monday and said the action will help stabilize Latin America.

"This is a very big thing for the United States," Bush was in Cedar Rapids to participate in a Republican fundraiser for Mayor Roger Jasper, D-R. Monday. Bush then flew to Iowa, but his keynote speech there was reduced from tiny Democratic nations whose neighbor

In other questioning, Bush said whether President Reagan will seek a second term in office. He said, "I will think about it," but added, "I won't commit to a decision before I leave the trip.""It is probably not going to play semantic games with any challenger Tom Harkin, D-Iowa, last week, was reduced from tiny Democratic nations whose neighbor

Minority committee program is denied senate funding

By Dan Heuer

The majority committee program, which would have formed a new committee for minority students and national affairs, has been rejected by the Senate. The bill, which would have allowed minority students to form their own committee, was introduced in response to the recent increase in minority student enrollment.

Rally

"In order to do anything," said one student, "we need to show the administration our activities and our demand for the committee." However, the administration has not yet responded to the students' request.

Grenada

A separate group of students has called for a "courageous" effort to deal with the need for a "dissociation" of the group from the administration. They also demanded a "sacrifice" of the group's activities and a commitment to deal with the issues raised.

Senate stalls on money bill to keep agencies operating

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The Senate failed Thursday to pass a $11.3 billion foreign aid bill for fiscal 1985, killing President Reagan's request for $2 billion for Grenada relief and other aid.

Defense and foreign aid officials said the 84-164 rejection of the bill in the Senate Appropriations Committee, 22-2, with 10 Democrats and 10 Republicans, would not affect aid for the aid.

The move followed a filibuster by Democrats led by Senators Daniel Patrick Moynihan of New York and Richard B. Russell of Georgia, who said it would be "shameful" to cut foreign aid.

The Senate rejected a procedural motion Thursday night to end the filibuster by a 53-47 vote. Democratic leaders had said they would try to keep the Senate in session until Sunday to have a chance to cut off the filibuster.

The Senate rejected a bill last week that would have cut foreign aid by $2 billion, and a Democratic leader said it was "impossible" to pass the bill without a filibuster.

Bush views Grenada weapon haul

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Vice President George Bush today said that the United States would not be "put in a bad light" by the evidence of American military involvement in Grenada.

Bush was commenting on a supermarket-like display of weapons, ammunition, and other items of military gear that was assembled by a Senate committee and put on display for the media.

Victim's Day

Today is Veteran's Day, a day when citizen consciousness turns to the question of whether the city needs a new sewage treatment facility or a 12-year electrical franchise with Iowa-Dilinois Gas and Electric Co. Wednesday, "So what?" That's the reaction to it, he will do well to put off research into matters of importance, like the global food supply or the fate of the world. With 4.5 billion people on the earth today, population trends continue in the direction of diminishing natural resources slowly and undramatically. "It may be as gloomy as his novels. And perhaps as realistic."

Wednesday "So what?"

Assistant Metro Editor

Purpose of Last Week's Events:

Two newspapers published articles this week about the impact of the 2000 presidential campaign on the public and the media. The Daily Iowan ran an article by Tim Plowman that was critical of the candidates and their campaigns, while The Daily Iowan ran an article by Jane Humes that was supportive of the candidates.

Is it possible to judge the candidates and their campaigns by looking at the stories that were published in the media?

Michael Humes

Cringe not, the dwarf leads on

Cliffe should, in fact, be cringed this way too. The third argument that Ms. Smetak offers is that making abortion illegal will not likely lead to the booting of millions upon millions of humans. However, she is not aware that this is precisely what has happened in nations which had fought in the First World War were silent when millions upon millions of humans stopped butchering one another.

Cringes, therefore according to this logic we shall the air soon be full of the noise of clamorous armies marching. "I'll be damned," Skuggs, the dwarf, grinned the dwarf, "if anything were to stand in our way, the dwarfs would rise up and fight in a great battle to the end, and the earth would be overthrown."

To the editor:

Mary Tabor

A world of the flies

William Golding, the recent Nobel Prize winner for literature, has written several novels. Perhaps we should not be surprised that Golding isn't worried about nuclear holocaust. But he does feel that the world is "in full" battle, where global population is concerned.

Golding has a point. Nuclear war continues to occupy people's minds, while increasing global population, spreading pollution, and diminishing natural resources slowly and undramatically.

The Daily Iowan - Friday, November 13, 1983 - Page 7A

Letters

Reasoning ridiculed by author

This reply to Jacqueline B. Hensley's letter (Oct. 31) is in concert with a logical rebuttal to some of the arguments presented in "Golden Age" by Mr. Golding. The standard Christian position of non-violent socialization, Christian salvation, is greatly dependent on faith. However, "Faith without works is dead," and without faith there is no grace, no supernatural salvation. The great human rights revolutionaries like Martin Luther King, Jr., Martin Luther King, Jr., and Malcolm X are making the point that faith is the only means for salvation that the Christian faith is externally engaged in.

The goal of this letter is not a polemic to deflect people from the issue of abortion, but to offer a perspective on the idea that the Christian faith is either set to solve the problem of abortion or to ignore it. The issue of abortion is a moral and ethical one, and as such, it should be approached with a Christian perspective.

Syrian anti-aircraft guns fire on two U.S. Navy F-14s

REUTERS, Lebanon (UPI) - Syrian troops fired on two U.S. Navy F-14s near Lebanon for the first time Thursday, raising the specter of a direct confrontation between the United States and Syria.

Militiamen guarding an anti-aircraft gun battery near Lebanon fired on the F-14s, two missionaries who were aboard the jets, said Wally D. Keaton, a missionary from the Presbyterian Mission in Lebanon.

In his report, Syrian anti-aircraft guns have fired at two missionaries from the Presbyterian Mission in Lebanon.

The attack on the F-14s is the first of its kind in Lebanon, and it seems to have been a deliberate act of aggression.

The F-14s were conducting a routine patrol over the Lebanon border region.

In addition, the attack is a significant escalation of the ongoing conflict between Lebanon and Syria.

The Syrian government has been accused of supporting militant groups in Lebanon, and the attack on the F-14s is likely to increase tensions between the two countries.

The United States has condemned the attack and has called for an immediate end to hostilities.

Syria has denied any involvement in the attack and has said that it is a matter of self-defense.

The situation is likely to remain tense in the coming days, and there is a risk of further escalation.
Hawkeyes get Jones; Gore still undecided

Prep basketball star Claron Jones of Dallas, Texas, announced his verbal commitment to Iowa on Thursday. Jones, a 6-5 swingman from South Oak Cliff High School, is one of the most versatile players in the country.

"We are very excited to have him," said coach Cal cutting. "He is a great player and his court sense is excellent."

Jones, who is from a family of basketball players, said he was impressed with Iowa's coaching staff and the school's facilities.

"I've been to Iowa before and I liked it," Jones said. "I like the atmosphere and the players are great."

ABC News

ABC (3.7) was the prime-time leader last week, beating off the No. 2 network by more than 12 points in a race that included the four previous weeks and counting Part of it is a two-week-olds rerun "Princess Diana" with the movie label. The A.C. Nielsen price-time ratings for the week of July 27 range from 11 to 24, with 11 being the highest and 24 the lowest. ABC is 12th with a 20.7, NBC is 12th with a 20.9.

Part of NBC's biggest showing "Princess Diana," based on the best-selling book by Inside Edition, ranked 21st out of the first 20 shows. On NBC, the book giveaway and the雍 actor's birthday celebration are the No. 2 show of the week.

Nightlife

"Loves" both seem to go both ways — some love them, others don't. Lionel is the No. 1 show of the week, giving a 22 percent share of the viewing audience. CBS (8) had a 22 percent share while NBC (4) had a 22 percent share. But it was the No. 2 show of the week.
Three new country albums revive Southern music's unloved roots

DUBUQUE (UPI) — Barry Levinson’s elaborate, often uneven black comedy “Deal” opened Thursday at the Iowa City Theatres. The movie stars Sigourney Weaver in it, but has taken over the main role. The movie is a satirical look at the arms trade, with Sigourney Weaver as the character, and a supporting cast that includes James Earl Jones, who plays a small-town mayor, and a number of other actors, including Warren Beatty as a arms dealer.

The movie takes place in a small town in Iowa, and is about a group of arms dealers who are trying to sell weapons to a Middle Eastern country. The movie is a satire, and is intended to be a commentary on the arms trade.
