Ul forms private software company

By Dick Brown

In an unprecedented move, the US has formed a private, profit-making company to develop a 'shadow' computer for the United Nations.

The move, announced by the US Defence Department last week, will see the formation of a new company to be called "Ul" (United Nations) Ltd, which will be responsible for the development and maintenance of a computer system for the UN.

The move is seen as a way for the US to assert its influence in international affairs, and to counter the growing influence of the UN, which has grown stronger in recent years.

The new company will be headed by a team of professionals from various fields, including computer science, engineering, and international relations.

The company will be headquartered in New York, with offices in key UN member states.

The move has been met with mixed reactions. Some have welcomed it as a necessary step to improve the UN's efficiency, while others have expressed concerns about the potential for corruption and other issues.

The US Defence Department has stated that the company will be funded through a combination of private investment and government grants.

The company is expected to begin operations in the coming months.

Student hangs self in dorm room

By Patrick A. Burt, Staff Writer

A UI student was found hanged in his room in the Student Union Building on Monday.

Paul Bradley Condon, 23, of Hawkeye Village, was found hanging from a pipe in his room by two UI Resident Assistant deans shortly after 9:45 a.m. on Monday. UI police said they were called to the room by the student's roommates.

Condon's body was in "perfect order" when the body was found, according to Dan Baker, a UI police officer. It was cold and dark in the room. She said there was no evidence of a struggle, and the body was not in a suicide position.

Baker said Condon was a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity, and was known for his kindness and helpfulness. He was a "great spirit," Baker added.

Baker said Condon's body was removed to the Johnson County Coroner's office for an autopsy.

The Johnson County Coroner's office said the cause of death was hanging and that a suicide note was found. The note was not released.

The UI Police Department said it was investigating the death as a suicide, but no further information was available.

The UI Student Union Building was closed for the day after the incident.

The UI Student Life Council said it was working with the UI Police Department and the UI Counseling Center to provide support to students who may be impacted by the death.

Law internships prove valuable to students, government officials

By Cindy Brown

The University of Iowa College of Law has some 300 students seeking placements in public interest law firms, government agencies, and non-profit organizations this summer. The college offers an internship program to help students gain practical experience in the legal field.

Regents to okay course changes

The University of Iowa is expected to approve changes in the fall semester that will result in some changes in the required curricula for students majoring in business, education, and engineering.

Reports that Yari Andropov, Soviet President and Communist Party boss, is ill or dying that a serious struggle has started have been increasing. The military hierarchy apparently has just a little strength enough to keep Andropov in, to the Central Committee of the Communist Party.

So the present situation is a test for the Soviet government to see whether it can control and work with Andropov or whether he is to be replaced or in how far major changes are to be expected.

Fact, opinion confused

In the writer's

"I would like to discuss the 'shift from history' by Prof. Daniel Elazar. I think this is very important work, but I am a little confused about what Elazar means. He uses the term 'shift from history' to describe the process by which a society moves from a past dominated by specific historical events to a present in which history is not so important.

Prof. Elazar defines a society as "history oriented" when it focuses on specific historical events or periods. He defines a society as "history blind" when it does not pay attention to history. He says that societies move from being history oriented to being history blind.

I am interested in your thoughts on this concept and how it applies to our society. I would like to hear your opinion on this subject.

in the editor:

Regarding the writer's question about the shift from history, I would like to add a few points. Elazar's concept of 'shift from history' is not a simple dichotomy between history oriented and history blind societies. Rather, it is a spectrum of orientations.

Many societies have a blend of history oriented and history blind elements. For example, some societies may place a great deal of emphasis on specific historical events, while others may be more focused on the present.

The key point is that societies change over time, and this can be seen in the gradual shift away from a focus on specific historical events to a greater emphasis on the present.

I hope this helps clarify the concept and its application.

Letters editor

"I appreciate the writer's interest in the concept of 'shift from history.' Elazar's work is indeed important in understanding how societies change over time. I agree that the shift is not a simple dichotomy, but rather a spectrum that varies from society to society.

As the writer notes, societies can have a mix of history oriented and history blind elements. However, I think it is important to recognize the gradual nature of this shift and the ways in which societies can make adjustments to accommodate changing circumstances.

I hope this helps provide some additional insight into the concept of 'shift from history.'"
County, city to adopt zoning policy

By John Tassan

Johnson and Iowa City are about to enter into an agreement that will provide for an orderly growth and development, according to City Manager Mary TePaske. The agreement will divide the county and the city into nine areas.

The Fitger Area Policy agreement, which applies to an area surrounding Iowa City and a portion of the city of Iowa City, should be finalized by Jan. 3, according to County Supervisor Myron McDonald. The agreement is expected to be finalized by Jan. 3, according to County Supervisor Myron McDonald. The agreement is expected to be finalized by Jan. 3, according to County Supervisor Myron McDonald.

The agreement provides for new buildings, including the use of four types of industrial zones, as well as an area for agricultural land. TePaske said that she believes the agreement will benefit the city and the county.

The county will benefit from the agreement in that it will have more control in the development of the area. The plan identifies the counties and the city for the benefits of the city and the county.

Conroy, author of daring book ‘Stop-Time,’ to read from works

By George M. Kovach
Special to The Daily Iowan

Conroy, an up-and-coming author who is best known for his novel "Stop-Time," will be reading from his work at the University of Iowa on Tuesday. The event is a part of the "Faculty member will hold recital" section of the same article.

Conroy has released several works that have gained him critical acclaim. His novel "Stop-Time" is a remarkable account of his life and features various elements of fiction and reality. Conroy's writing style is praised for its narrative power and ability to engage the reader with vivid storytelling.

The University of Iowa is organizing this event to showcase the talent of its faculty member. The reading will provide an excellent opportunity for students and the community to appreciate the literary works of Conroy.

Big men dominate basketball contest
By Jill Hokinson
and National Sportswriters
CECILIA RAFFOR - Greg Stokes led the way as the black squad went on to a 65-46 victory over the gold squad, 34-26, in the final Hawkeye basketball intrasquad game Monday night at the Five Points arena.

Stokes posted 15 points, nine of the block squad during the first half and 12 in the second half of the game. The black team was made up of Chuck Cook, Rodney Pittman, Ron Wells, Mike Holmes, and Jonathan Stokes, and the gold team included Mark Titus, Gary Wiesman, Terry Mikkelsen, and Steve Burke.

"It was a perfect night to get the ball into the hands of our big men," Hawkeye coach Gil Leed said.

Wheeler and Wiesman both led the gold squad with 13 points for the gold team.

"You saw the black team work on the low block and the guys were getting the ball in their hands," Leed said.

"The only thing that hasn't been decided yet is who will start at forward," Leed said. "But we've already decided on who will start at center."
