City

Ockenfeldt announces plans to seek re-election to board

By Robert Griga

"I am confident I can make a substantial more satisfying people need," Betty Ockenfeldt, a member of the Johnson County Magistrate Court, said after the board’s hearing on the petition for her bail today. Ockenfeldt seeks another term on the board, to be elected next year.

Bail hearing on the petition for Ockenfeldt’s bail was held today in the Johnson County Magistrate Court. The hearing was held to determine whether Ockenfeldt, who was arrested for a second-degree assault charge on April 8, should be released from jail on bond.

The hearing was held to determine whether Ockenfeldt, who was arrested for a second-degree assault charge on April 8, should be released from jail on bond.

"I believe I can make a substantial more satisfying people need," Betty Ockenfeldt, a member of the Johnson County Magistrate Court, said after the board’s hearing on the petition for her bail today. Ockenfeldt seeks another term on the board, to be elected next year.

"I believe I can make a substantial more satisfying people need," Betty Ockenfeldt, a member of the Johnson County Magistrate Court, said after the board’s hearing on the petition for her bail today. Ockenfeldt seeks another term on the board, to be elected next year.
Bill on licensing of social workers called ‘superficial’ credibility attempt

By Robert Camp

Make workers able to add some place in their titles if they wanted to, print different labels from the Social Workers Practice Act that local counselors say their

Last Thursday, the Iowa Senate passed a bill to give them the title of “licensed social worker,” but that’s pretty hard to make it that’s okay without a sign that reads “social worker.” She said .

The idea of licensing social workers is to prevent anyone from calling themselves a social worker if they don’t have a license, but local counselors say it’s pretty hard to make it okay without a sign that reads “social worker.”

If the bill becomes law, social workers will be able to add some place in their titles if they wanted to, print different labels from the Social Workers Practice Act that local counselors say their

The idea of licensing social workers is to prevent anyone from calling themselves a social worker if they don’t have a license, but local counselors say it’s pretty hard to make it okay without a sign that reads “social worker.”
Election plan blows skeptical away

By Tom Hankey

THERE ARE PERFECTLY sound reasons for the Reaganites to worry about the election plan that the government of the US will announce tomorrow, if the US politicians get their way. But there are also a surprising number of reasons for the Reaganites to worry about an election plan that the government of the US will announce tomorrow, if the US politicians get their way. The concern is that the government's plan will address the problem of the open nature of our society. The concern is that the government's plan will address the problem of the open nature of our society.

Brewers court the college campus

By Glen & Sheran

The representatives' job is to stimulate campus beer companies to consider the idea of a national college program for beer companies. The representatives' job is to stimulate campus beer companies to consider the idea of a national college program for beer companies.

Nomination pending

The Sandia department plans to nominate Nury Aristegui as Novogratz's assistant, the Sandia department plans to nominate Nury Aristegui as Novogratz's assistant. The Sandia department plans to nominate Nury Aristegui as Novogratz's assistant.

Letters

Open housing

To the editor,

The proposal of the United States government to open housing for all residents of the United States is a positive step toward racial equality. The proposal of the United States government to open housing for all residents of the United States is a positive step toward racial equality.

Metro

'Smokeless'

By Jeff Eichenbaum

This week, however, some never thought that it would be enough. For some, the problem is how to stop smoking, on average, one pack per day. For others, it is how to stop smoking, on average, one pack per day.

The smokeless cigarettes of the future may be the answer. The smokeless cigarettes of the future may be the answer.

Grants boost opportunities

Every dollar counts. The United States government has a strong commitment to funding research and development. Every dollar counts. The United States government has a strong commitment to funding research and development.

Branstad denounced

SES MINORS—Lauderhose has few promising lines that thinking about it will help. The financial pressures of the state are such that thinking about it will help. The financial pressures of the state are such that thinking about it will help.

STOP STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

Have you been re-recognized for 1984-'85? If not, don't delay! Pick up your application from the Office of Government Affairs, GOVERNMENT OFFICE, Forma must be returned by April 6th.

Metro

'Smokeless'

By Jeff Eichenbaum

This week, however, some never thought that it would be enough. For some, the problem is how to stop smoking, on average, one pack per day. For others, it is how to stop smoking, on average, one pack per day.

The smokeless cigarettes of the future may be the answer. The smokeless cigarettes of the future may be the answer.

Grants boost opportunities

Every dollar counts. The United States government has a strong commitment to funding research and development. Every dollar counts. The United States government has a strong commitment to funding research and development.

Branstad denounced

SES MINORS—Lauderhose has few promising lines that thinking about it will help. The financial pressures of the state are such that thinking about it will help. The financial pressures of the state are such that thinking about it will help.

STOP STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

Have you been re-recognized for 1984-'85? If not, don't delay! Pick up your application from the Office of Government Affairs, GOVERNMENT OFFICE, Forma must be returned by April 6th.
"Smokeless" plan breezes quitters

By Jeff Stinnett

Mary Bailey, 34, of Marion, didn't feel very confident when she walked into the first of four nights of "Smokeless" class full-time, Hugh D. Hughs, associate professor in the UI Department of Preventive Medicine - discussing how to quit smoking.

"In the beginning, it was difficult. I thought I hadn't made the right decision," Bailey said, and another one of the participants observed that "It was hard to quit, but important to do it for your health."

The program was designed to assist research assistants and travel to conduct a "Smokeless" program, designed with a different smoking cessation program. The theme was "Smokers who paid the fee and took the class were able to quit smoking."

"I'm going to use this as a money maker," said one of the participants who was a smoker.

The gum's manufacturers suggested that the program begin March 5 and 6, to conduct a "Smokeless" program, designed to help smokers who paid the fee and took the class were able to quit smoking.

"I'm going to use this as a money maker," said one of the participants who was a smoker.

The gum's manufacturers suggested that the program begin March 5 and 6, to conduct a "Smokeless" program, designed to help smokers who paid the fee and took the class were able to quit smoking.

"I'm going to use this as a money maker," said one of the participants who was a smoker.

The gum's manufacturers suggested that the program begin March 5 and 6, to conduct a "Smokeless" program, designed to help smokers who paid the fee and took the class were able to quit smoking.

"I'm going to use this as a money maker," said one of the participants who was a smoker.

The gum's manufacturers suggested that the program begin March 5 and 6, to conduct a "Smokeless" program, designed to help smokers who paid the fee and took the class were able to quit smoking.

"I'm going to use this as a money maker," said one of the participants who was a smoker.

The gum's manufacturers suggested that the program begin March 5 and 6, to conduct a "Smokeless" program, designed to help smokers who paid the fee and took the class were able to quit smoking.
Campagne

The Dally Iowan

voting booth and consider who would nuclear arms control.

Freedman by

of peace groups and local peace city where most of the state's black vote is located.

"Tomorrow, when you go to the

At a senior citizens' center in a

Just contend that in Jerusalem's main

"If it could be several weeks before

President

It doesn't take a genius to

But it isn't enough to Aguinal response," Score also

"I inadequate response," Score also measures that the UN

" unimportant response," Score also the difference.

"Unless

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If

"If
Music

Shostakovitch

Shostakovitch, who was the Soviet Union's most famous composer, played on a Schickel and Steiner Metropolitan Grand piano. The composer plays three movements of the Second Piano Sonata, among other works. The program begins with a recitative and then leads into a bumptious, lightly sarcastic aria, "The Demon in the Belly of the Earth." This movement is followed by a more serious and heartfelt piece, "The Demon's Dream," which ends with a triumphant fanfare. The second movement, "The Demon's Dream Again," is a more lyrical and reflective piece that contrasts with the first movement's intensity. The third movement, "The Demon's Dream Final," is a powerful and emotive piece that closes the sonata with a sense of resolution and closure.

Burgard, Palisade, Sir Ham

The Burgard, Palisade, Sir Ham trio is a highly regarded jazz ensemble that has been performing together for over ten years. Their music is a blend of swing, bebop, and modern jazz, and they have a reputation for their dynamic and engaging performances. The group is known for their improvisational skills and their ability to engage with the audience. The trio will be performing at 8 p.m. at the Downtown Jazz Club.

Thursday Special

1.50 Pitchers

Open till close

21 W. Market Next to McDonald's

PAGLIARO'S PIZZA

Something New at PAGLIARO'S!

FRIDAY FIZZIES

Available at 122, 125, 127, 129 Beer, Pop, Pringles, or Corners (all day)

351-5073

Las Vegas Shakespeare Festival

Mable Theatre

---

Entertainment today

Theatre: Come From Away

In the spirit of the true story of the 1981 Icelandic volcano eruption, "Come From Away" tells the story of how a small community in Newfoundland, Canada, came together to welcome and care for the thousands of passengers stranded there due to the volcanic ash cloud. The show, which has won numerous awards, including a Tony Award for Best Musical, is a heartwarming and moving tale of resilience and human connection.

Theatre: A Doll's House

Henrik Ibsen's classic play explores the themes of marriage, gender roles, and societal expectations. Nora Helmer, the main character, is a woman who is trapped in a loveless marriage and is forced to confront the reality of her own desires and values. The play challenges traditional notions of femininity and responsibility, and it continues to be relevant and powerful today.

Television:

- CBS
  - 60 Minutes
  - The Nightly Show
- ABC
  - Dancing With The Stars
- Fox
  - The Simpsons
- NBC
  - Law & Order: Special Victims Unit
Th. Dally of Westerly, R.I., is the 1984 winner of the Henry Miller Award presented by the UI School of Letters in conjunction with the Writers' Workshop.

Joe's Place: Evening Specials
Everynight 5-10 pm & All Day Saturday

- BREADED PORK LOIN
  $1.00 cup $1.25
- 2 HAMBURGERS
  $1.00 cup $1.25
- 2 CHEESEBURGERS
  $1.25 cup $1.75
- FISH SANDWICHES
  $1.00 cup $1.50

ALL ON OUR OWN
HOMEMADE BUNS

FRENCH FRIES
Homemade Sour Cream $0.95
Onion Rings $1.75

MIXED VEGETABLES

Hot Beef Sandwich
$3.75

Beef Soup
$1.00 cup $1.50

Soup of the Day
$1.00 cup $1.50

THURSDAYS
B-B-Q Ribs, hush-fries, baked beans & homemade roll
$4.25

FRIDAYS
Batter Dipped Fish, hush-fries, cole slaw & homemade roll
$3.50

Joe's Place
2 E. Water St., Westerly, R.I.
(401) 273-1949

Every Night
5-10 PM

Sponsored by Toma's Food & Supply
Toma's most complete book section
Downtown across from the Old Capitol.
Sports

Gymnasts seeded 4th in region

By Steve Harsman
Sports

According to Coach Tom Dix, the Iowa women's gymnastics team is "very, very good" in its effort to qualify for the NCAA Championships.

On Monday, the NCAA Midwest regional selection was released, with the Hawkeyes finishing fourth in the region, behind Minnesota, Iowa State and Michigan State, despite having the third-best team score overall.

The only two teams that could be considered for the NCAA, Iowa City, 195.250; Minnesota, 199.550; Iowa State, 199.500; Michigan State, 199.300.

Drake 5

Iowa 4

Bulldogs serve Hawkeyes a loss

By Mike Gordon
Sports

It's beginning to sound like a broken record for the Iowa women's tennis team against the Drake Bulldogs. For the third time this season, the Bulldogs out-scored the Hawkeyes, this time 6-2.

Monday afternoon's match in Moline, Ill., followed the Bulldogs and the Bulldogs' bowl selection from Jan. 1.

The men's team scored $3.35 in its effort to make the NCAA tournament. The women's team scored $3.50.

"I don't know how we'll come down at the end, but with Monday's loss, I feel pretty confident," Dunn said.

Overall, we played really well on a team basis," senior captain Vanessa Gardner said. "Despite the losses, we got real good play from our two singles. It's tough to come away with a win."

"We will have a lot of confidence going into the Big Ten meet at Northwestern next weekend," Dunn said. "We could have won..."
Arts and entertainment

Stories of despair and alienation win short fiction award for Dodd

By Robert Many

ARTS & ENTERTAINMENT

Th. Dally Iowan

Tuesday, April 28

The University of Iowa in the USA has announced its selection of the best new short story writer of the year. The award, which is given to an American writer under the age of 30, is sponsored by the University of Iowa Writers' Workshop, in cooperation with the Iowa Writers' Workshop.

The award, which is given to an American writer under the age of 30, is sponsored by the University of Iowa Writers' Workshop, in cooperation with the Iowa Writers' Workshop.

The award, which is given to an American writer under the age of 30, is sponsored by the University of Iowa Writers' Workshop, in cooperation with the Iowa Writers' Workshop.

Books

text continues...
Hawks carrying big cats to UNI

By Greg Anderson

A better-built advantage is shown in important women's basketball during recent outings. But Iowa women's basketball will be unable to capitalize on the local support that has been a key to the UNI boost against Northern Iowa.

The Hawkeyes have been outstanding outside to plug in the Panthers if the weather cooperates, but they need to win this game.

The Panthers (6-2) are not in the same category as the Hawkeyes (12-0) and they definitely have the homecourt advantage.

"That's strongest in that the crowd is behind them," said Bob Driesler, head coach of the Hawkeyes. "And the Panthers have more people in the stands. It will be a very tough situation for the Panthers to win because people bring their fans. It will be a very tough situation for that reason."

Iowa went 3-1 during its recent run against Northern Iowa. Many of the Hawkeye fans thought the Hawkeyes were in the lineup for the game.

"I think the Hawkeyes may be ready for the Panther," said Driesler. "They had a lot more fans than we will have against our next opponent and they can use the fans to their advantage and create a lot of pressure."