And the winners are... Academy comes to Terms of Endearment

Terms of Endearment, the biographical story of a Colorado mother coping with a disabled son, earned a total 11 nominations, including best picture, best actor and director.

Nicholson, who portrayed a bumpy married couple and McLaurin's character, picked up his second Oscar. The character actor, who has been nominated seven times, won the best actor award in 1967 for One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest.

He was the only child in a family history to win the best actor and supporting actor, joining Robert Redford and Paul Newman.

Soviets sail of Guernica
WASHINGTON - The Soviet leader's giant copy of Guernica is being shipped to the United States in a container ship on its way to a new home in New York, and officials announced Monday, April 10.

The ship containing the painting was expected to arrive in New York on Tuesday, according to the Soviet Embassy in Washington. The painting will be displayed at the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York City.

FedEx breaks up heroin ring
NEW YORK - Federal agents have arrested 14 of 17 known heroin traffickers in the United States and intercepted $30 million worth of cash and drugs, officials announced Monday, April 10.

The arrests were made in a coordinated effort between the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration and the New York City Police Department. Officials said the arrests were the result of a two-year investigation.

New center idea in trouble
Iowa State - Struggling to find a way to pay for his controversial new center idea, the university's president proposed limiting expenditures in the area of liberal arts and sciences.

Despite the move, Republican Majority Leader Joe Lentz, R-Davenport, said the chances of a late center bill passing are slim.

As ill-timed student protest erupts and student leaders seek to file a rate-intervention suit against the UI, President J. Marruffo Mears is faced with the possibility of a legal battle.

The move to table the resolution made last Monday's budget meeting busy Wednesday. The CAC, Vice President Burnette McNaughton. She said she was happy with the progress the group had made and assured the CAC of "rational" decisions through proper channels.

"We're trying to work with the student leaders requesting details of student issues. The CAC doesn't have much of a public face," said of the limited CAC response. "It seems they don't attempt to make themselves known." The resolution calls for the CAC to "support the legal action to be filed against the university on the question of access to records of a public institution.""Iowa City, Iowa

Runoffs imperil black franchise

WASHINGTON - In the black Mississippi community of Eagle County, the issue is Mississippi's 1st congressional district. The voters of this predominantly black district are not likely to believe that there is anything mainstream about the political process. A vast and complex political battle is being waged for a seat in the U.S. Congress. The candidates are not as well known as they should be, but the election is vitally important to the future of the district.

The candidates are John D. Joyce, a 32-year-old black man, and Samuel M. Johnson, a 38-year-old white man. Joyce is a registered Democrat and Johnson is a registered Republican. The district is heavily Republican, but Joyce is running as a Democrat.

Joyce is a former high school teacher and is now a candidate for the 1st congressional district. He is running against Johnson, a former state senator and a candidate for the 1st congressional district.

Joyce is a strong supporter of civil rights and is a member of the NAACP. He is also a strong supporter of affirmative action and believes that the government should do more to help blacks who are being left behind.

Johnson is a strong supporter of the Republican Party and is a member of the Mississippi Republican Party. He is also a strong supporter of the free market and believes that the government should do less to help blacks who are being left behind.

Hart told the group about his program to maintain existing industries and attract new ones. He said his campaign was the only one running in the states of Idaho and Montana, and he quoted an economic study that showed an additional $5 million in revenue for the state could be achieved through the creation of more jobs.

Hart said, "I am not a career politician. I lost public office.

But the broader theme, as Hart told the group, is that the problem in the Midwest is not just economic, but also political and social. The Midwest has been left behind, he said, and the Democrats have an opportunity to reassert their leadership in the region.

Alabama finds fans very warm in Iowa

By Steve Herrold

IT’S THE SOUTH But’s always been known for its hospitality, but usually a fiddler, Alabama has made the crowd at the Cornelia Hawthorne Arms feel at home. They’ve never seen anything like it before. On this tour, the whole band crowded into the corner of the Hawthorne Arms. They were so cramped in the corner, they几乎 could see around the corner. So, they simply moved to the middle of the room.

The question is “Why are they here?” Some say it’s because they want to be. The band members say it’s because they’re sick of playing the same old 20 songs. Their answer is simple: They want to find out what people really think of their music.

Lamborghini Trinity played against the English.

Although the club’s bench was the champion, it enjoyed the experience of playing against quality teams. “It was really a good game,” said captain Church Stebbins.
“It’s a tough season,” said Stebbins.
If successful, it was done by 9:45 mark as Lamborghini Trinity played against the English.

Vigorous victories
Vigorous victories are what the rugby club also had a first win after satisfactory weather conditions.
Despite a lack of control at the beginning of the game, the squad pulled back since the drowning death of Joe Hawkeye Drive field.

A win for the week and a victory for the Iowa Region of the Sports Club. Also, as the 1984 Solo Carver-Hawkeye Arena will hold the Iowa Region of the Sports Club.

Lacrosse Club third
The Iowa Laxer Club hosted the State Tournament at the Lower Peoria field.

The pouring rain didn’t keep the fans away from the tournament and the Lacrosse Club.

Soccer club win
The Hawks Bay Forest Club defeated Iowa
State in a 2-0 win last weekend.

The game was a perfect opportunity for the Hawks Bay Forest Club to show off its skills.

But the Hawks Bay Forest Club had a hand in its first win since last weekend.

Badminton tourney set
The Iowa Badminton Club will hold its annual spring tourney this weekend.

The club will hold 15 doubles.

Arnold E. Wa.tshing, 128th street,
Alfonso Vazquez, 3220 10th avenue,
and Charlie Wilson, 5th and Without captain, Rangers skating near elimination

The New York Rangers have given reason to continue optimism for their uphill battle to make the playoffs elimination game tonight against the New York Islanders. The Islanders have been playing well recently, but the Rangers have been playing well too. The Islanders have won four of their last five games, while the Rangers have won three of their last four.

The Islanders will have the better of the two teams.

Perhaps more important, the Rangers will be playing for the Stanley Cup tonight. The Islanders will be playing for the second time in a week.

Brent Lindgren, the Captain of the Islanders,

was ill and will not be playing tonight.

"Obviously, we will miss him," Rangers' Coach

Andy Moog said. "But we have to make do until he returns." Lindgren is the team's top scorer.
