Reagan supports hog producers

VIOLENT, Iowa (UPI) - Presi dent Reagan today urged im
ternational support for Iowa hog producers who have been hit hard by a drop in hog prices following the news that the Chinese government has decided to continue the import ban on U.S. pork products.

Reagan said he had called China's Premier Zhao Ziyang to express his concern about the impact of the ban on Iowa's hog producers.

"I am aptly pleased to see that the Chinese government is moving in this direction," Reagan said. "And I am sure that the Chinese people will appreciate the efforts that we are making to help them.

Harkin returned aid to avoid 'set-up'

By Jim Brown

Iowa candidate Tom Harkin's campaign told The Daily Iowan Monday it is sending a letter to return campaign money said to be spent on 'set-up' to the state Republican Party. The letter is sent in response to Iowa City Police Department's request for information about a possible campaign violation.

The Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate in Iowa said he heard Wednesday that the state Republican Party was going to ask the state Auditor's Office to investigate the money in a letter from Republican state Party chairman Mike Frew. Harkin said he heard the information from a 'third party' who gave him the information.

Although Frew said he had not yet decided if he would make a formal request, Harkin said he did not want to see the situation 'escalate' and therefore decided to return the funds. The letter is to be sent to the state Auditor's Office.

Harkin said he did not know if the money would be 'set-up' money to be returned. He did not know if the letter would be sent to the state Auditor's Office or to the State Republican Party.

Local NOW members deny claims of being 'partisan political group'

BY DON URENT

Responding to charges that the National Organization for Women (NOW) is a partisan political group,蒙特雷尔的NOW(西北)成员否认这些指控。

"The charges are baseless," said NOW member Sarah Johnson. "We are a national women's rights organization that works to achieve equality for all women."

NOW is a volunteer organization with chapters in cities across the country. The Iowa City chapter has about 25 members.

The local chapter was formed in 1976 and has been active in a number of issues, including women's rights, civil rights, and environmental causes.

"We are not a political party," said Johnson. "We are a group of women who come together to work for change."

NOW has chapters in most major cities in the United States and in many countries around the world. It was founded in 1966 and has been involved in many important women's rights issues, such as equal pay, reproductive rights, and violence against women.

Johnson said that the charges against NOW are part of a larger effort to discredit women's rights organizations.

"These charges are not new," she said. "They have been made by right-wing groups for years. But we are not going to be intimidated. We will continue to work for change."

NOW has been involved in many important victories, such as the passage of the Equal Rights Amendment and the recognition of same-sex marriage. It has also been involved in many controversies, such as the debate over Planned Parenthood funding.

"We are not perfect," said Johnson. "But we are committed to working for change."

NOW is a non-profit organization and relies on donations from members and supporters. It has a small staff and uses volunteers in many of its activities.

"We are a grassroots organization," said Johnson. "We are not afraid of controversy. We are not afraid of change."

NOW is a member of the National Women's Political Caucus and the National Organization for Women's Political Action Committee. It is affiliated with the National Women's Political Caucus and the National Organization for Women's Political Action Committee.

Clerical workers to unionize

By Claudine Lee

After last month’s election failed to yield a clear majority winner, the state’s clerical employees — including those at the UI — voted to unionize. The majority of clerical workers — most of whom are female — chose the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME) over the state’s clerical employees Association (SCA) to represent them. The AFSCME will represent the state’s clerical employees.

4-1 mark. The first doubled Iowa's overall record to 3-4. Iowa Coach Mike Sauer said his team played very strong and needed better luck. Iowa outshot Wisconsin 30 shots to 19, but the Badgers played their best game of the season.

Iowa's first ball into the cage at 2:45 on a short penalty corner. "It's a really funny thing," Stoops, a senior, said. "This team played tough defense and we really had it to the teeth for our first loss of the season."

STROOPS DOREN may have been a bit overexcited when the game began, "We were really pumped up for it," said Dolan. "After we got off to the early goal we kind of settled down and played hard."

In fact, the Hawkeyes held the lead for 11 minutes before Wisconsin tied the game. With 59 seconds left in the first half, Iowa's goal was disallowed for having gone off a penalty corner. The Hawkeyes, who had the best record in the conference, were playing their first game of the season.

Iowa's first goal was an easy one. The Hawkeyes were playing their first game of the season and the Badgers hadn't played since the last weekend. Iowa's first goal was a result of a shot by Brickey. The Hawkeyes were also assisted by Brickey. The Badgers were leading 45-10 at the half.

Iowa Coach Hayden Fry said the Badgers won the first half and were the second half of the game. The Badgers had scored 10 points, 10 points, 10 points, and 10 points in the first half. Iowa's second half was empty of shots.

Iowa Coach Mike Sauer said his team had the best record in the conference. "They played with a lot of heart and we were outplayed."

The Badgers moved on to 7-8 after two goals in the third quarter. Iowa's defensive back went one-on-one with the ball and was stopped at the goal line early in the game. The Badgers then scored on a short penalty corner.

"We still have to work on some things to get the points," said Dolan. "Our defense played hard and we had a lot of opportunities."

McEnroe reaches limit in win

Iowa Hawkeye coach Mark McEnroe felt limited in his team's 2-0 loss to the University of Florida on Monday. He said he was satisfied with the Hawkeyes' performance in the first half, but that the Hawkeyes were unable to sustain their momentum in the second half.

Winners of the Orange Bowl, the Hawkeyes will next face the Ohio State Buckeyes in the Rose Bowl on January 2, 1984.

Criner: Iowa State needs a fresh start

Iowa State football coach John Criner said that his team needs a fresh start for the 1984 season. He stated that the team is looking forward to a new beginning and is ready to take on the challenges that lie ahead.

The Hawkeyes will open the 1984 season against the Missouri Tigers on September 1, 1984.

On the line

As the race for the Big Ten championship nears, the pressure is mounting on the Hawkeyes to perform. The team is currently in third place in the Big Ten standings, just a half-game behind Ohio State and Penn State.

The Hawkeyes' next game is against the Iowa State Cyclones on November 2, 1983.

Women swim to sweep in duals

The Iowa women's swimming team ranked No. 8 in the nation after winning five straight meets, including over Illinois and Wisconsin at the Field House Pool. The Hawkeyes have now won 13 straight duals dating back to the 1980-81 season.

But the Bulldogs wouldn't quit. Behind senior captain Kari Johansson and a strong diving team, Wisconsin closed the gap but fell to the Hawkeyes on a sweep of freestyles just ahead of teammate Jennifer Petty, giving the Hawkeyes key butterfly races.

STEILICH TOOK THE IH SH and IH SH plus breaststroke dual meet against Nebraska and Northern Illinois appears to be the turning point in the season for Iowa.

Swimming

"Personally, I'm real happy with the way it went," Steilich said. "We have a lot of young people this year. We're not a lot lower and so we're not that far away from winning.

The turning point in the meet, in the eyes of Steilich, came in the breaststroke races.

"I think that the breaststroke races were the most important races in the meet," Steilich said. "We had one more set of breaststrokes before the freestyles and another set of breaststrokes at the end of the meet."

The third third of the breaststroke might only make up a portion of the breaststroke race, but they were the races that would help the team.

"I think that the breaststroke races were the most important races in the meet," Steilich said. "We had one more set of breaststrokes before the freestyles and another set of breaststrokes at the end of the meet."

Hawks open with strong showing

Ten days after returning to Iowa City following a 1984 National YMCA Track Meet in Minneapolis, the Hawkeye track team has returned to the original 1984 Minnesota track meet. The team is looking to improve its season-best in the second-place 1100-yard race.

"We have a couple of problems this year," Steilich said. "We have 16 people on our team, but we don't have some of these guys in a competitive climate.

"Didn't want to be too positive about it because I know we have some problems to work on," Steilich said. "But we're not a lot lower and so we're not that far away from winning."

NOT A CREEK SHEAR - Horse racing is going full throttle and the sport is great. Good stories abound, but the usual repetition of tales about horses, losing, and the variety of ways to make money on the sport seems to be the rule. One of these stories is that of Australian gelding who somehow manages to win slowly. Wincer always insists on coming from behind? Like cut to a slow-motion shot which neatly sets up the moment of his great speed. There is a lot of actual race footage and other reaction shots of Phar Lap's owner, Harry Telford, the trainer, is determined and hard-headed. When he wins, all the talk is about how he can't win. When he loses, they've handicapped him with too much weight.

David Williamson's screenplay tried to make for some suspense and drama, but in the end it was all about the horse, and that as the audience, we're left a bit distant.

The acting is consistently good, and the horse is suitably suited to his role. Daniel Vigne offers a true story.
