Council to consider preservation of target areas

"Environmentally sen- sitive" areas in Iowa City have been tagged for special consideration by the city's Environmental Quality Task Force. The recommendation to the City Council will be made during tonight's meeting, but some areas, such as Iowa City's City Park, will not be included in the list of target areas because they are too large and too diverse to maintain in their entirety.

In its report, the task force has identified 15 areas that it considers sensitive to development. The areas range from small, undeveloped areas along the Iowa River to larger, more complex areas such as the Iowa River bottoms and the Wooded area south of West Avenue.

The task force has recommended that the city council consider these areas for preservation. The council will consider the recommendation during tonight's meeting and may take action to purchase the land or to establish a trust fund to finance the preservation of the areas.

The task force's report was compiled after a series of public hearings and meetings with residents and environmental groups.

Pro-life protesters picket Emma Goldman Clinic

By Dawn Universal

For decades, the Emma Goldman Clinic has been a source of controversy in Iowa City. The clinic provides abortions to women who seek the procedure for a variety of reasons.

On Sunday, a group of pro-life protesters gathered outside the clinic to demonstrate against the clinic's operations. The protesters carried signs and shouted slogans, including "Abortion is murder!" and "Save the babies!"

The clinic's director, Dr. Jean Hagen, said the protesters were not a threat to the clinic's operations.

"They are a small, vocal group of people who are opposed to abortion," she said. "We are concerned about their presence, but we are not afraid."

Hagen said the clinic would continue to provide services to its patients, regardless of the protesters' presence.

The clinic has been the target of similar protests in the past, and Hagen said she was prepared to deal with any incidents that may arise.

City urged to buy land in clear zone

The Iowa City Council has been urged to purchase land in a clear zone in the city's airport area. The clear zone is a strip of land that is cleared of development and is used as a safety margin around the airport.

The city has been asked to purchase the land in order to ensure the continued safety of the airport and to protect the area from development.

The request comes as the city is considering a comprehensive plan for the airport, which includes the purchase of additional land.

The city council is expected to vote on the request during its next meeting.

Pro-life protesters continued to demonstrate outside the Emma Goldman Clinic on Monday, even after the clinic closed for the weekend.

The protesters gathered outside the clinic early in the morning, carrying signs and shouting slogans. The clinic's director, Dr. Jean Hagen, said the protesters were not a threat to the clinic's operations.

"They are a small, vocal group of people who are opposed to abortion," she said. "We are concerned about their presence, but we are not afraid."

Supporters observe death of Silkwood

In New Mexico, Saturday.

CINDY RAPID - More than 75 Iowans, including some 18 students, piled into a rented school bus and followed lead Van Kirk, a supporter of J. Edward Undeen, to remember the death of Oklahoma woman Karen Silkwood before driving them to an afternoon rally.

Silkwood, a 38-year-old laboratory technician at Kerr-McGee Corporation's Oklo nuclear plant, was killed when the salt-water well into which had been poured an inert fuel-rod solution leaked. The leak resulted from an exothermic reaction which continued to burn for 10 minutes after the container was apparently sealed. The salt-water well at the Oklahoma Federal Reactor Plant May 28, 1977.

“EARLY REPORTS estimated the number of people who attended the rally to be 1000, but some estimates place the total at 1500,” said Mark Hassel, who was the only reporter at the event. “The rally was already underway when the bus arrived, and the crowd had already dispersed. The majority of the people present were young and passionate about the issue. Many of them wore black berets and carried signs that read “Free Karen Silkwood.”

Despite the large number of attendees, the rally was relatively peaceful. There were no arrests or incidents reported. However, some members of the crowd became agitated and began to chant “Down with the Nuke Industry!”

A small group of police officers responded to the chanting, but they did not use force or make any arrests. The rally ended peacefully, and the crowd dispersed as it began.

In addition to the rally, a group of about 100 people participated in a march through downtown Oklahoma City. The marchers were led by a group of student protesters who carried signs and shouted slogans. The marchers were met by a small group of police officers, who attempted to break up the procession. However, the protesters remained calm and continued marching.

The day was marked by a sense of unity and solidarity among the protesters. Many of them were students, and they were backed by a wide range of organizations, including the Students for a Democratic Society, the American Indian Movement, and the National Union ofminers and Agricultural Workers.

The rally and march were part of a larger movement that was calling for nuclear disarmament and an end to nuclear testing. The movement had gathered strength in the wake of the nuclear accidents at Three Mile Island and Chernobyl, and it was gaining momentum throughout the United States.

The death of Karen Silkwood was a significant event in the movement, and it focused attention on the dangers of nuclear power. The rally and march were a powerful reminder of the importance of the issue and the need for continued action.

In conclusion, the day was a powerful demonstration of the power of peaceful protest and the importance of nuclear disarmament. The protesters were met with active resistance, but they remained steadfast in their commitment to the cause. The day ended with a sense of hope and renewed determination to continue the fight for a world free of nuclear weapons.
Opposition leader Kim Dae Jung to discuss Korea with UI students

By Wendy RoscheCAPA

In one of the many university students who were arrested before his latest political campaign, the Korean President has announced he would rement and teach at Harvard University. The Department has issued a statement expressing regret that applications for will be excluded. The student body, who became acquainted with Kim through his work with the American Congress for Human Rights.

Kim recently said, "Korean announcement it would reof democracy" in his country, but the present Do­- would exclude applications for public employment from public records is a major issue in the United States.

According to the preliminary report, the Board is considering adopting this position because their current employer may have other job opportunities," he said. "Individuals may well feel they do not want that information kept secret," she added.

Indefensible actions
President Ronald Reagan has never been a friend of the Legal Services Corporation, an agency of the federal government. The LSC was created by Congress in 1966 to distribute funds to legal aid organizations providing legal assistance to disadvantaged clients. But the LSC recently announced grants totaling more than $32 million to groups more likely to promote the president's policies than legal services to the poor.

In 1981, California Governor Reagan was one of the most bitter critics of the LSC. Shortly before he was elected governor by the Legal Services of California. Only a few months after his election to the presidency is the LSC giving two million dollars to the Legal Services of California, which supports the Reagan plan to cut off all but legal services for the poor.

Under the Congress' direction to spend up to $32 million for legal aid, the Ministry of Legal Services of California, which supports the Reagan plan to cut off all but legal services for the poor, is expected to be cut off all but legal services for the poor, too.

But the Reagan administration said that the contests in cattle at the state fair is both outrageous and embarrassing .

"It's just silly, really, that we have to have a winner and a Loser ." The contest was sponsored by the State Fair of California, which supports the Reagan plan to cut off all but legal services for the poor.

Beauty and the beasts

The British Broadcasting Company announced last week that it will be launching a new television series about Britain's beauty pageants. The series, titled "The British Pageants," will be broadcast in the fall. It is expected to air on the BBC, which is a public service broadcaster.

The series will explore the history and culture of beauty pageants in Britain, and look at how they have evolved over time. It will feature interviews with pageant winners, judges, and organizers, as well as archival footage and photographs.

The British Pageants series is the latest in a series of programmes on beauty pageants that the BBC has produced in recent years. These have included "The Beauty Pageant Fiasco," which aired in 2019, and "The Beauty Pageant Scandal," which aired in 2020.

The series is being produced by the BBC's award-winning current affairs team, and will be directed by award-winning director Mary Smith.

"Beauty and the beasts" is a phrase that has been used to describe the relationship between men and women in many cultures. It is a way of looking at the world that is often associated with sexism and gender inequality.

The manufacture in question is an achievement. Old Dominion is a close to begin.

The Lady Monarchs fell short of their championship hopes but the team has been on the rise. Last week, they defeated Unc in the semifinals and lost to Minnesota in the final.

"I'm real proud of them," said Coach Holtz. "They didn't do anything outstanding, but they still managed to play well."

Minneapolis - DAVIDSON: The Lady Monarchs were not expecting to finish on the podium but they did.

"We're not really a team that's going to be a dark horse," said Coach Holtz. "We're not going to have that kind of success."

The Lady Monarchs had a lot of potential but they didn't quite make it.

"It's just frustrating," said Coach Holtz. "I thought we'd have a better finish.

Bulls waive on-Iowa star Laster

The Chicago Bulls announced one roster move last Friday to make room for a player signed last week. The Bulls confirmed that they had moved guard Rose Laster from the reserve list to the inactive list.

It is not known at this time what Landseer intends to do for the basketball season.

Canadiens deal winger to Shulls

The Toronto Maple Leafs have acquired winger from the Chicago Bulls in exchange for a player to be named.

The deal was announced Friday by Leafs general manager John Ferguson.

Ferguson said the Leafs were able to acquire Landseer because of the interest in the wing around the league.

Fleming is a 24-year-old forward who has been with the Leafs for two seasons.

He was selected in the first round of the 1976 NHL draft by the Boston Bruins, but was traded to the Toronto Maple Leafs in 1977.

Fleming has played in 124 games for the Leafs, scoring 74 goals and 132 assists.

He has also played in 17 games for the Mighty Ducks of Anaheim, scoring 11 goals and 15 assists.

The trade is the fourth this season between the Leafs and the Maple Leafs.

The Leafs have also acquired forwards George Brust and Peter Deboer from the Maple Leafs in separate deals.

The Maple Leafs have also signed defenceman Kevin Bieksa to a one-year contract.

The deal is the latest in a series of moves made by the Maple Leafs in an attempt to improve their roster.

The Maple Leafs are currently in fourth place in the Eastern Conference, a point behind the New York Islanders.

On the line

Well now, the Hawkeyes had this difficult game against the Michigan State Spartans on Saturday.

They were coming off a win against the Minnesota Golden Gophers on Friday, but the Spartans were a tough opponent.

Head coach Kirk Ferentz said, "It's been a tough week of preparation. We're facing a very good team that has a lot of experience."

The Hawkeyes were looking to build on their winning streak, but the Spartans had other ideas.

"We knew this was going to be a tough game," said Michigan State head coach Mike Dantonio.

Despite the loss, Ferentz was pleased with the performance of his team.

"The guys fought hard and we had a chance to win," he said.

The game was a tale of two halves, with the Spartans dominating the first half and the Hawkeyes taking control in the second.

Despite the loss, Ferentz was confident that his team could bounce back.

"We'll use this as a learning experience," he said.

Ohio State women's cagers favored

The Ohio State women's basketball team is favored to win the Big Ten Conference this season, according to sources.

"They have a lot of experience and talent," said one source.

The Buckeyes are led by senior centre Jocelyn Miller, who averaged 13.2 points and 10.5 rebounds per game last season.

"She's the key to our success," said coach Kevin McGugin.

The Buckeyes also have a strong supporting cast, including junior guard Sarah O'Keefe, who averaged 12.2 points per game.

"She's going to be a key player for us," said McGugin.

The Buckeyes are looking to win their first Big Ten title since 1988.

"We're ready to make some noise this season," said Miller.

The Buckeyes open the season on Friday against the University of Iowa.

Hawks win lottery, get No. 1 pick

The Hawks have won the NBA lottery and will select the No. 1 overall pick in the upcoming draft.

"It's been a long time coming," said Hawks owner Mike Budinger.

The Hawks were one of three teams to win the lottery, joining the Los Angeles Lakers and the Charlotte Hornets.

"We're excited to add a young talent to our roster," said Budinger.

The Hawks have been rebuilding for several years and are hoping to take the next step with a top pick.

"It's a great opportunity for our franchise," said Budinger.

Chargers hand Miami first loss

United Press International

The Miami Dolphins, owners of an unblemished NFL record, were brought down to earth Saturday night as they lost a 19-7 decision to the Los Angeles Chargers in a battle of strong-armed quarterbacks.

The Chargers, 6-4, scored on the first of three consecutive scoring drives in the opening quarter to take a 13-0 lead. The Miami offense was held to one first down in the period.

Chargers quarterback Dan Fouts again showed he is the complete passer and his team the balanced attack which has won all 9 games this season.

Miami quarterback Bob Griese led the Dolphins' first two scoring drives into the period but Griese was unable to keep the ball on the field for long periods of time, and the Dolphins had no field goals.

-> NFL roundup

At Chicago, Bob Thomas kicked his first field goal of the game—a 16-yarder—with two seconds remaining to give the Bears their victory. The Bears scored five touchdowns and one field goal, and led throughout.

At San Diego, Dave King scored two touchdowns and the San Diego Chargers defeated the Cincinnati Bengals 28-28 and forced an overtime.

At Dallas, the New Orleans Saints defeated the Dallas Cowboys 23-7, but the Saints didn't have as many scoring opportunities as the Cowboys.

At Los Angeles, the Rams defeated the Los Angeles Raiders 27-17. The Rams took the lead in the second quarter on a 3-yard touchdown pass to Brown, who had 11 completions in 17 attempts.

At Atlanta, the Browns recorded a 20-14 victory over the Atlanta Falcons.

At Philadelphia, rookie Andre Ditaranto returned a kickoff 99 yards for a touchdown in the second quarter to cut the Giants' lead to 8-6.

At Washington, the Reds beat the Seahawks 28-8 victory with an interception.

Buckeyes dispose of Michigan for Big Ten title

United Press International

The Buckeyes have just begun a run at Big Ten schools that the Ohio State players themselves believe will help them win the league.

"We're all excited about the Big Ten," said senior end Bob McClain. "It's a chance to make some names and some history for the Buckeyes.""}

Rash of upsets may leave No. 1 to 11-0 Cougars

United Press International

The host has long been the long and the yardage goes, but Michigan just can't make the top ones.

While five different teams have ousted No. 1 to 11-0 Utah and TCU, the Cougars have continued on an unswerving course to the top.

"They look to be No. 1 now," said Coach Lavelle Edwards, who was idle, No. 18 Florida State crushed Tennessee last week, and No. 11 Oregon looks to be king of the hill.

"I hate to be No. 1 now," Edwards said. "I hate to be No. 1 now." But the first movement of Edwards was his 10-0 win over Utah. He passed for 367 yards and four touchdowns, giving him a .500 record and a .500 record for the season.

"We were playing with a freshman quarterback who made critical mistakes," Edwards said. "He didn't have to be there. He didn't have to be there."}

GENESIS TROUPE MINES DRAMATIC; DANCE TO RENDER BLACK EXPERIENCE

By Karen Hamton

In celebration of its 15th anniversary, the Black Genesis Troupe presented a fascinating evening at the Christian Center. The company, led by a diverse and creative cast, performed a series of dance and drama pieces that explored the complexities and richness of African-American culture and history.

The evening began with a powerful dance piece that depicted the struggles and triumphs of the Civil Rights Movement. The dancers, dressed in vibrant costumes, moved in unison, Their movements were both graceful and forceful, reflecting the energy and passion of the era.

The next piece, a dramatic monologue, was acted out by a skilled actor who portrayed a freedom fighter. The actor's performance was intense and powerful, capturing the heroism and sacrifice of those who fought for equality.

A dance piece followed, showcasing the beauty and rhythm of African dance. The dancers, dressed in traditional attire, moved with grace and agility, their bodies synchronized in perfect harmony.

The evening concluded with a vibrant and energetic musical number that brought the audience to its feet. The performers, dressed in colorful costumes, sang and danced with enthusiasm, their energy infectious.

Overall, the performance was a rich and rewarding experience, offering a glimpse into the rich cultural history of the African-American community.

Unlike Elvis ... Springsteen has had the foresight to cope with his success. Mass fame has not brought isolation, rather isolated efforts to stay in touch with his audience.

The party set. He opened with a rendition of "Born to Run" and a brief performance of "Dreamtime." The audience was touched by the song's lyric of the American dream--"all your dreams and all your dreams." The crowd responded with a burst of cheering and lots of shouting of the line, "It was all the best of politics of all--human politics." Springsteen brought the audience to its feet in admiration of the song. "We don't know where we're going, yet we turn to the man we think we might find."
