The Daily Iowan

Friday, November 30, 1984

Required English course urged for foreign T.A.s

By Karen Barra

The survey results show 66 percent of the UI T.A.s would be willing to take a course in English, while 34 percent would not.

The survey was conducted by the UI English Department and is one of the first steps towards establishing an English course for foreign T.A.s.

The survey results show 66 percent of the UI T.A.s would be willing to take a course in English, while 34 percent would not.

The survey was conducted by the UI English Department and is one of the first steps towards establishing an English course for foreign T.A.s.

Regents ask Branstad for $718 million

By Kim Brown

The Iowan Staff

The board of regents will meet in Des Moines on Thursday night to discuss a proposal for an additional $718 million in state funding for the University of Iowa.

The proposal includes an increase in state funding for the University of Iowa to support its academic programs, as well as for research and development.

The proposal includes an increase in state funding for the University of Iowa to support its academic programs, as well as for research and development.

Forum debates UI divestments

By Ivan Smolka

The Iowan Staff

The forum is scheduled to take place on Thursday, November 29, at 7:00 PM in the UI Union Library.

The forum is scheduled to take place on Thursday, November 29, at 7:00 PM in the UI Union Library.

Cyclones tumble

Iowa's men down Nebraska, 84-69, in Blue Jay Center action to take over midwest top spot.

The Daily Iowan

Regents ask Branstad for $718 million

By Kim Brown

The Iowan Staff

The board of regents will meet in Des Moines on Thursday night to discuss a proposal for an additional $718 million in state funding for the University of Iowa.

The proposal includes an increase in state funding for the University of Iowa to support its academic programs, as well as for research and development.

The proposal includes an increase in state funding for the University of Iowa to support its academic programs, as well as for research and development.

Forum debates UI divestments

By Ivan Smolka

The Iowan Staff

The forum is scheduled to take place on Thursday, November 29, at 7:00 PM in the UI Union Library.

The forum is scheduled to take place on Thursday, November 29, at 7:00 PM in the UI Union Library.

Cyclones tumble

Iowa's men down Nebraska, 84-69, in Blue Jay Center action to take over midwest top spot.

The Daily Iowan
Two charged with criminal mischief

By Tamara Nood

Iowa City Press-Citizen

Jeffrey Andrew Arguello, 21, of 312 Barlow Ave. East, and Michael Riggins, 20, of 1145 North Ave., both of Iowa City, have been charged with criminal mischief.

A preliminary hearing on the assault charge was held Tuesday in Johnson County District Court.

A preliminary hearing on the criminal mischief charges for both defendants' cases was held Thursday.

A jury was subsequently selected for both cases.

Honduras seeks equal aid

By looking carefully at the aid the United States gives to other countries, a representative of the American People's Mission to Honduras said the United States is not giving equal aid to Honduras.

"There is not the slightest doubt the military aid is not being matched by the economic aid," said the representative of the American People's Mission to Honduras.

"Honduran officials have said every year about five million dollars to students' rooms.

In the Weck

"Ivndaya.

WASHINGTON - Honduras will be exposed to a storm of criticism and possible sanctions if it does not do what it set out to do in 1981 and is the only squirrel monkey who

Who to call

Correction

The Daily Iowan will correct errors of omission or errors of commission made by its staff or by any contributor to the Daily Iowan. To report an error, call 319-335-5230.

Who to call

Correction

The Daily Iowan will correct errors of omission or errors of commission made by its staff or by any contributor to the Daily Iowan. To report an error, call 319-335-5230.

Who to call

Correction

The Daily Iowan will correct errors of omission or errors of commission made by its staff or by any contributor to the Daily Iowan. To report an error, call 319-335-5230.

Who to call

Correction

The Daily Iowan will correct errors of omission or errors of commission made by its staff or by any contributor to the Daily Iowan. To report an error, call 319-335-5230.
University

Korean exile Kim’s visit shrouded with controversy

By Marilyn Presslo

While most US Korean students are breathing the relief of Ronald Reagan’s alleged upcoming visit to Seoul in the US, the campus seems to be in a state of confusion. Kim-Dong Tae left behind nearly two years ago as the student of a powerful and influential professor in Korea, has been visiting in the US for the summer. His recent arrival brought him to the University of Iowa, room and board for their Chinese counterparts.

Kim-Dong Tae left behind nearly two years ago as the student of a powerful and influential professor in Korea, has been visiting in the US for the summer. His recent arrival brought him to the University of Iowa, room and board for their Chinese counterparts.

Kim-Dong Tae left behind nearly two years ago as the student of a powerful and influential professor in Korea, has been visiting in the US for the summer. His recent arrival brought him to the University of Iowa, room and board for their Chinese counterparts.

Kim-Dong Tae left behind nearly two years ago as the student of a powerful and influential professor in Korea, has been visiting in the US for the summer. His recent arrival brought him to the University of Iowa, room and board for their Chinese counterparts.

Kim-Dong Tae left behind nearly two years ago as the student of a powerful and influential professor in Korea, has been visiting in the US for the summer. His recent arrival brought him to the University of Iowa, room and board for their Chinese counterparts.
Lack of college humanities cited

By Mary Burke

Currently on the state following an announcement by the National Endowment for the Humanities that 17 U.S. colleges and universities are failing to "adequately emphasize" humanities in their curricula, University of Iowa officials are looking for "opportunities to retool" the University's humanities degree programs.

"Most of our college graduates remain unaware that there is a national debate about the philosophy and practice of the humanities," said Donald Duff, director of the UI Humanities Program, said he was "pleased that the university is taking the initiative to assess the success of its humanities core." Duff said that the University of Iowa has definitely not abandoned the requirement that students take at least three humanities courses (billed in Bennett's report) indicate that students can choose from 116 liberal arts and sciences courses, 52 American colleges and humanities courses, 104,500 full-time professors and 10,500 part-time instructors. Duff said that he believed that the number of students taking humanities courses is not important, but that it should be the "national concern of higher education." Duff added that the report also cited figures from the National Center for Education Statistics, showing the percentage of institutions offering humanities courses in a bachelor's degree, down from 85 to 43 percent since 1970.

DUFF OFFICERS said that they believe students are doing the following terms in courses of the Humanities Department. "We are not in the business of producing people who can't produce their own courses," he said. "We want to make our students productively productive." Duff said that the report cited figures from the National Center for Education Statistics, showing the percentage of institutions offering humanities courses in a bachelor's degree, down from 89 to 74 percent since 1970.

"It seems clear that there is a strong philosophical difference between the Humanities Department and the University of Iowa," Duff said. "It's important that we make sure that our students and students' parents, and all of our faculty, recognize that our students need to be exposed to humanities courses in order to graduate without ever having taken any humanities courses." Duff said that the report cited figures from the National Center for Education Statistics, showing the percentage of institutions offering humanities courses in a bachelor's degree, down from 89 to 74 percent since 1970.

"We are not in the business of producing people who can't produce their own courses," he said. "We want to make our students productively productive." Duff said that the report cited figures from the National Center for Education Statistics, showing the percentage of institutions offering humanities courses in a bachelor's degree, down from 89 to 74 percent since 1970.

"We are not in the business of producing people who can't produce their own courses," he said. "We want to make our students productively productive." Duff said that the report cited figures from the National Center for Education Statistics, showing the percentage of institutions offering humanities courses in a bachelor's degree, down from 89 to 74 percent since 1970.

"It seems clear that there is a strong philosophical difference between the Humanities Department and the University of Iowa," Duff said. "It's important that we make sure that our students and students' parents, and all of our faculty, recognize that our students need to be exposed to humanities courses in order to graduate without ever having taken any humanities courses." Duff said that the report cited figures from the National Center for Education Statistics, showing the percentage of institutions offering humanities courses in a bachelor's degree, down from 89 to 74 percent since 1970.

"We are not in the business of producing people who can't produce their own courses," he said. "We want to make our students productively productive." Duff said that the report cited figures from the National Center for Education Statistics, showing the percentage of institutions offering humanities courses in a bachelor's degree, down from 89 to 74 percent since 1970.

"It seems clear that there is a strong philosophical difference between the Humanities Department and the University of Iowa," Duff said. "It's important that we make sure that our students and students' parents, and all of our faculty, recognize that our students need to be exposed to humanities courses in order to graduate without ever having taken any humanities courses." Duff said that the report cited figures from the National Center for Education Statistics, showing the percentage of institutions offering humanities courses in a bachelor's degree, down from 89 to 74 percent since 1970.

"We are not in the business of producing people who can't produce their own courses," he said. "We want to make our students productively productive." Duff said that the report cited figures from the National Center for Education Statistics, showing the percentage of institutions offering humanities courses in a bachelor's degree, down from 89 to 74 percent since 1970.

"It seems clear that there is a strong philosophical difference between the Humanities Department and the University of Iowa," Duff said. "It's important that we make sure that our students and students' parents, and all of our faculty, recognize that our students need to be exposed to humanities courses in order to graduate without ever having taken any humanities courses." Duff said that the report cited figures from the National Center for Education Statistics, showing the percentage of institutions offering humanities courses in a bachelor's degree, down from 89 to 74 percent since 1970.

"We are not in the business of producing people who can't produce their own courses," he said. "We want to make our students productively productive." Duff said that the report cited figures from the National Center for Education Statistics, showing the percentage of institutions offering humanities courses in a bachelor's degree, down from 89 to 74 percent since 1970.

"It seems clear that there is a strong philosophical difference between the Humanities Department and the University of Iowa," Duff said. "It's important that we make sure that our students and students' parents, and all of our faculty, recognize that our students need to be exposed to humanities courses in order to graduate without ever having taken any humanities courses." Duff said that the report cited figures from the National Center for Education Statistics, showing the percentage of institutions offering humanities courses in a bachelor's degree, down from 89 to 74 percent since 1970.

"We are not in the business of producing people who can't produce their own courses," he said. "We want to make our students productively productive." Duff said that the report cited figures from the National Center for Education Statistics, showing the percentage of institutions offering humanities courses in a bachelor's degree, down from 89 to 74 percent since 1970.

"It seems clear that there is a strong philosophical difference between the Humanities Department and the University of Iowa," Duff said. "It's important that we make sure that our students and students' parents, and all of our faculty, recognize that our students need to be exposed to humanities courses in order to graduate without ever having taken any humanities courses." Duff said that the report cited figures from the National Center for Education Statistics, showing the percentage of institutions offering humanities courses in a bachelor's degree, down from 89 to 74 percent since 1970.

"We are not in the business of producing people who can't produce their own courses," he said. "We want to make our students productively productive." Duff said that the report cited figures from the National Center for Education Statistics, showing the percentage of institutions offering humanities courses in a bachelor's degree, down from 89 to 74 percent since 1970.

"It seems clear that there is a strong philosophical difference between the Humanities Department and the University of Iowa," Duff said. "It's important that we make sure that our students and students' parents, and all of our faculty, recognize that our students need to be exposed to humanities courses in order to graduate without ever having taken any humanities courses." Duff said that the report cited figures from the National Center for Education Statistics, showing the percentage of institutions offering humanities courses in a bachelor's degree, down from 89 to 74 percent since 1970.

"We are not in the business of producing people who can't produce their own courses," he said. "We want to make our students productively productive." Duff said that the report cited figures from the National Center for Education Statistics, showing the percentage of institutions offering humanities courses in a bachelor's degree, down from 89 to 74 percent since 1970.

"It seems clear that there is a strong philosophical difference between the Humanities Department and the University of Iowa," Duff said. "It's important that we make sure that our students and students' parents, and all of our faculty, recognize that our students need to be exposed to humanities courses in order to graduate without ever having taken any humanities courses." Duff said that the report cited figures from the National Center for Education Statistics, showing the percentage of institutions offering humanities courses in a bachelor's degree, down from 89 to 74 percent since 1970.

"We are not in the business of producing people who can't produce their own courses," he said. "We want to make our students productively productive." Duff said that the report cited figures from the National Center for Education Statistics, showing the percentage of institutions offering humanities courses in a bachelor's degree, down from 89 to 74 percent since 1970.

"It seems clear that there is a strong philosophical difference between the Humanities Department and the University of Iowa," Duff said. "It's important that we make sure that our students and students' parents, and all of our faculty, recognize that our students need to be exposed to humanities courses in order to graduate without ever having taken any humanities courses." Duff said that the report cited figures from the National Center for Education Statistics, showing the percentage of institutions offering humanities courses in a bachelor's degree, down from 89 to 74 percent since 1970.

"We are not in the business of producing people who can't produce their own courses," he said. "We want to make our students productively productive." Duff said that the report cited figures from the National Center for Education Statistics, showing the percentage of institutions offering humanities courses in a bachelor's degree, down from 89 to 74 percent since 1970.

"It seems clear that there is a strong philosophical difference between the Humanities Department and the University of Iowa," Duff said. "It's important that we make sure that our students and students' parents, and all of our faculty, recognize that our students need to be exposed to humanities courses in order to graduate without ever having taken any humanities courses." Duff said that the report cited figures from the National Center for Education Statistics, showing the percentage of institutions offering humanities courses in a bachelor's degree, down from 89 to 74 percent since 1970.

"We are not in the business of producing people who can't produce their own courses," he said. "We want to make our students productively productive." Duff said that the report cited figures from the National Center for Education Statistics, showing the percentage of institutions offering humanities courses in a bachelor's degree, down from 89 to 74 percent since 1970.

"It seems clear that there is a strong philosophical difference between the Humanities Department and the University of Iowa," Duff said. "It's important that we make sure that our students and students' parents, and all of our faculty, recognize that our students need to be exposed to humanities courses in order to graduate without ever having taken any humanities courses." Duff said that the report cited figures from the National Center for Education Statistics, showing the percentage of institutions offering humanities courses in a bachelor's degree, down from 89 to 74 percent since 1970.

"We are not in the business of producing people who can't produce their own courses," he said. "We want to make our students productively productive." Duff said that the report cited figures from the National Center for Education Statistics, showing the percentage of institutions offering humanities courses in a bachelor's degree, down from 89 to 74 percent since 1970.

"It seems clear that there is a strong philosophical difference between the Humanities Department and the University of Iowa," Duff said. "It's important that we make sure that our students and students' parents, and all of our faculty, recognize that our students need to be exposed to humanities courses in order to graduate without ever having taken any humanities courses." Duff said that the report cited figures from the National Center for Education Statistics, showing the percentage of institutions offering humanities courses in a bachelor's degree, down from 89 to 74 percent since 1970.

"We are not in the business of producing people who can't produce their own courses," he said. "We want to make our students productively productive." Duff said that the report cited figures from the National Center for Education Statistics, showing the percentage of institutions offering humanities courses in a bachelor's degree, down from 89 to 74 percent since 1970.
Students, workers arrested in Peru's general strike

Salvador guerrillas to unveil peace plan

Car bomb kills seven in Druze Moslem town

Great Holiday Gift Buys! During

3 Day Sale Friday, Sat., & Sunday

10% off accessories, includes Joe's Juleps, Scarfs, Furresses
Imported Italian & Outlander Angora Sweaters
15% off, NOW $1.00 to $7.00
Cambridge Sport Linen & Cotton Blouses, Sweaters, Scarfs
20% off
Fell & Winter Merchandise 30%-50% off
Specially Marked Prices on our Round Rack

8.00 to 18.00

Street Foot Shoes. Black."28.00" NEW 30.00

---

University of Iowa Spring Semester
SPRING 1965
CHANGES

University of Iowa Spring Semester
SPRING 1965
CHANGES

Student's work sponsored by Iowa's industrial leader,

DES MOINES, Iowa — Best known for selling its chocolate milk drinks, the infant Laptev Fiolka chocolate milk has been turned into a liquid beverage in Russia, according to a local retailer. The beverage is now available in cans.

The retailer, said to be an aspiring entrepreneur, noted that the Laptev Fiolka product has been turned into a liquid beverage to meet the growing demand for canned products. The retailer added that the new beverage is being marketed as a healthy alternative to the traditional solid chocolate milk drink.

The Laptev Fiolka beverage is said to be made from high-quality chocolate milk, with the addition of natural flavoring to enhance its taste. The new product is being marketed in cans, with the retailer noting that the cans are recyclable and environmentally friendly.

The retailer also highlighted the potential of the Laptev Fiolka beverage as a new revenue stream for the company, with plans to expand its distribution network in the near future.

For more information, interested parties can contact the retailer at [insert contact information].
SAVING DOLLARS AND CENTS - 1985 CALENDARS

The regents plan would fund the $82 million needed to install the new federalist hall features — which are designed to benefit all types of buildings and would be relatively inexpensive — under the assumption that the state would be expected to save the regents $10 million or more in the rest of the century. The savings would be roughly $5 million in operating expenses, and $5 million in financing costs.
A novel idea, but ...

It's a winning scheme for medical, law and business students bought by the IU Writers' Workshop has been added to the curriculum. The program's organizers, lawyers and industry officials claim the techniques of fiction writing.

The idea is an innovative one, but it has now produced one of the fiction writing. Half of ten teenagers and disinterested adolescents. Maladapted adjective, split infinitives, vagueness, overstatement and misstatement. But the experts broadly allow all sorts of other metaphors designed to feel the imagination rather than the literal exploration of their. Furthermore, generally devoid of documentation. It's filled with obscure literary allusions and references that readers unfamiliar with them are unaided by any dictionary.

Journalism, however, endures to put the most important part of the novel is conceived in the first paragraph, strung for clarity and conciseness, and is concerned about quotations, citations and overall accuracy — in the point of journalism, because of little legal. A good journalist in research getting background information and checking sources. Journalists need to be understood by anyone who can read.

The answer is all too clear.

Unfortunately, unlike legal writing courses are exclusively in declared majors and pre-majors. Medical, law and business students can't take them even if they want to — and then they would, they wouldn't be able to, as the number of classes before registration ends every term. Funds are short. So what's left may well be business articles written in the style of Charles Dickens. Derek Maurer

A soiled reputation

Now that the crops are in, Iowa farmers are already thinking about and planning for next year. Unfortunately, many also have problems with the reputation they have earned in the past.

Full plowing involves farmers time in plowing by reducing the number of jobs they must make through the fields in the spring. The idea is to get the land ready for the planting of winter winds and spring runoff, and as such represents perhaps the most important step of the entire farming season. Iowa is losing, an average of 10 ton per trip per year per acre, to the effects of soil erosion. In a century of intensive farming has already reduced the state's original topsoil layer by about 20 inches. Iowa farmers have often previously abused this natural resource by plowing fall returns. It's an incredible example of how much could be gained by the land. For soil conservation measures are based on incentives and voluntary participation by farmers. State cost-sharing programs compensate them for 40% of the cost of certain conservation improvements. Iowa's farmers are doing an outstanding job of planting "no-till" next year, which decreases the need for heavy equipment and saves both time and money.

Local plows the land for the environment. Full plowing entails great time in spring planting. The effect on crop yields is significant. Next year, farmers face no mandating conservation.

It's a fine day for us to go forward. Full plowing, even those in spring planting. Spring, the effect of crop yields. Next year, farmers face no mandate. It has the local soil conservation measures are based on incentives and voluntary participation by farmers. State cost-sharing programs compensate them for 40% of the cost of certain conservation improvements. Iowa's farmers are doing an outstanding job of planting "no-till" next year, which decreases the need for heavy equipment and saves both time and money.

Derek Maurer

A hell of a rumor

It seems Proctor & Gamble has a nagging image problem, one that recurs like some strange, recurring virus. You know, the ones that produce embarrassing symptoms in college students, for example. 1980 was especially bad year for the problem, which has to do with school districts wanting to put the P&G logo — a concept of something less expensive than it looks — into the hands of millions. Application. Another rumor was that Procter & Gamble would go the Chicago Bulls — and that the company provided, natural to be a rumor.

Now, rumors are circulating again, but from a new and unexpected source: Company spokesman William Dobson charge that Proctor & Gamble is being lead by the Chicago Bulls — and that the company provided, natural to be a rumor.

Let's assume that the rumors are false and that Dobson's article is correct. What happened to the rumors? What would you look for in the face of such a statement? Would you look for a reason to believe such a statement? Would you look for any evidence that might suggest the rumored story is true?

Pines, Poe, pigeons and a pundit

For the liberation of Gay Rights, a favorite of mine. He was the only one of his kind in the world. He didn't have a name. He didn't have a face. He was just a name.

Michael Humles

wrote this for his best. Disputes over the Pines-Poe-Pigeons-in-the-Park analogy were settled in court by very different terms. Pines-Poe-Pigeons-in-the-Park analogy was settled in court by very different terms.

Pine's victory over the Pines-Poe-Pigeons-in-the-Park analogy was settled in court by very different terms. Pines-Poe-Pigeons-in-the-Park analogy was settled in court by very different terms. Pines-Poe-Pigeons-in-the-Park analogy was settled in court by very different terms.

JAN. 1980 - Literary circles were in a stir about a new book. "Only glass," William Pines, and a survey of the current literary scene was dominated by the book. People were talking about the book. People were talking about the book.

Numerous shady faces had been spotted in the city recently. A number of people were talking about the book. People were talking about the book.

"Only glass," William Pines, and a survey of the current literary scene was dominated by the book. People were talking about the book. People were talking about the book.

The book is about a young woman who is in love with a poet. The poet is a famous poet. The poet is a famous poet. The poet is a famous poet. The poet is a famous poet. The poet is a famous poet.

The book is about a young woman who is in love with a poet. The poet is a famous poet. The poet is a famous poet. The poet is a famous poet. The poet is a famous poet.

The book is about a young woman who is in love with a poet. The poet is a famous poet. The poet is a famous poet. The poet is a famous poet. The poet is a famous poet.

The book is about a young woman who is in love with a poet. The poet is a famous poet. The poet is a famous poet. The poet is a famous poet.

Michael Humles

As with busing, the reason for the various court decisions regarding prayer has been lost. Truth has been overwhelmed by a lie. And politicians discuss the prayer issue as if the courts, with nothing to do on a slow day, decided to monkey with religion. It's an example of the lowest of low blows — a dead man's name is a deplorable weapon to use against him.

Richard Cohen

Prayer is discussed as if nothing happened after the Supreme Court's decision. It has been a history of bad being made better by good. In its early years, the school's history shows how important the school was to the body of Christians. In its early years, the school's history shows how important the school was to the body of Christians.

Richard Cohen

...and...
HAPPY HOLIDAYS
from the Old Capitol Center

OPEN LATE-
Old Capitol Center will be open till 9 pm each Saturday until Christmas.

SANTA-
Santa’s hours are Mon.-Sat. 2-8 pm
Sundays 1-6 pm

CHILDREN’S MOVIE-
Children’s Web will be shown at Campus Theaters Saturday, Dec. 1, at 10:30 am. Admission is 50¢ with the bell clipped from this ad.
$1.50 without the bell (1 ticket per bell). PAPA SMURF will also make a special appearance.

A Tasty Offer.
20¢ off our New
Tropical Cream Supreme.

It’s a tropical splendor straight from our blender. Our new Tropical Cream Supreme, made with a variety of delicious fruits and real cream, is like no other Julius you’ve ever tasted.

A Regular Purchase Price : $1.20
Savings off Coupon Price : $0.10
 Coupon Good Till Dec. 15, 1984

Gift Ideas!
16 Different colors of Rugby Jerseys!

These are a few of our favorite things...

Winter Boot Apparel
20% off
Selected Styles
thru December 8th

Women’s Fashion Boots
20% off
Selected Styles
thru December 8th

Come In To Arby’s® And Save!

1. ONE REGULAR ROAST BEEF SANDWICH AND ONE REGULAR ORDER FRIES.
   $1.59 $1.20
   $0.39 Save 25¢

2. ONE REGULAR ROAST BEEF SANDWICH.
   $1.20 $1.20
   $0.00

3. ONE CHICKEN SANDWICH AND ONE REGULAR ORDER FRIES.
   $1.88 $1.88
   $0.00

On the second floor in Old Capitol Center, IOWA CITY.

Welcome to Arby’s You’re right where you belong.
Stringer not awed by defending champs

By John Dietz

It can be said the Iowa women's basketball team will be facing a very tough opponent this weekend when it takes on Southern California in the first-round game of the NCAA tournament. The winner of the Iowa-USC match-up will advance to the second round,
Iowa Hawkeyes vs. George Mason Patriots

Strong guard play opens inside game

By Brad Zirkel

Iowa is only three games into the season, but things couldn't be better for the Hawkeyes against the Mustangs of George Mason. The Hawkeyes' 17-5 record is the best in school history, and the team has a 12-game winning streak.

Coach Ed Raveling said: "At this time in the year, the mental and physical toughness we've had this season is really starting to show." The Hawkeyes have played well in both offensively and defensively, but the biggest surprise is the guards.

The Hawkeyes' three guards have all been consistent performers. Scott Fullen, the team's leading scorer, has scored 19 points in two games. He is followed by Charlie Van Horn, who has scored 17 points in two games. Van Horn is the team's second-leading scorer.

The Hawkeyes' guard play was on display in their game against George Mason. Fullen scored 19 points, while Van Horn added 17. The team's third guard, Scott Fullen, scored 11 points.

The Hawkeyes' guard play was key to their win over George Mason. Fullen's 19 points helped the team build a lead early in the game. Van Horn's 17 points helped to maintain the lead throughout the game.

The Hawkeyes' guard play was also key to their victory over George Mason. Fullen's 19 points helped the team build a lead early in the game. Van Horn's 17 points helped to maintain the lead throughout the game.

The Hawkeyes' guard play was key to their win over George Mason. Fullen scored 19 points, while Van Horn added 17. The third guard, Scott Fullen, scored 11 points.

The Hawkeyes' guard play was on display in their game against George Mason. Fullen scored 19 points, while Van Horn added 17. The team's third guard, Scott Fullen, scored 11 points.

The Hawkeyes' guard play was key to their win over George Mason. Fullen's 19 points helped the team build a lead early in the game. Van Horn's 17 points helped to maintain the lead throughout the game.

The Hawkeyes' guard play was also key to their victory over George Mason. Fullen's 19 points helped the team build a lead early in the game. Van Horn's 17 points helped to maintain the lead throughout the game.

The Hawkeyes' guard play was key to their win over George Mason. Fullen scored 19 points, while Van Horn added 17. The team's third guard, Scott Fullen, scored 11 points.

The Hawkeyes' guard play was on display in their game against George Mason. Fullen scored 19 points, while Van Horn added 17. The team's third guard, Scott Fullen, scored 11 points.

The Hawkeyes' guard play was key to their win over George Mason. Fullen's 19 points helped the team build a lead early in the game. Van Horn's 17 points helped to maintain the lead throughout the game.

The Hawkeyes' guard play was also key to their victory over George Mason. Fullen's 19 points helped the team build a lead early in the game. Van Horn's 17 points helped to maintain the lead throughout the game.

The Hawkeyes' guard play was key to their win over George Mason. Fullen scored 19 points, while Van Horn added 17. The team's third guard, Scott Fullen, scored 11 points.

The Hawkeyes' guard play was on display in their game against George Mason. Fullen scored 19 points, while Van Horn added 17. The team's third guard, Scott Fullen, scored 11 points.

The Hawkeyes' guard play was key to their win over George Mason. Fullen's 19 points helped the team build a lead early in the game. Van Horn's 17 points helped to maintain the lead throughout the game.

The Hawkeyes' guard play was also key to their victory over George Mason. Fullen's 19 points helped the team build a lead early in the game. Van Horn's 17 points helped to maintain the lead throughout the game.

The Hawkeyes' guard play was key to their win over George Mason. Fullen scored 19 points, while Van Horn added 17. The team's third guard, Scott Fullen, scored 11 points.

The Hawkeyes' guard play was on display in their game against George Mason. Fullen scored 19 points, while Van Horn added 17. The team's third guard, Scott Fullen, scored 11 points.

The Hawkeyes' guard play was key to their win over George Mason. Fullen's 19 points helped the team build a lead early in the game. Van Horn's 17 points helped to maintain the lead throughout the game.

The Hawkeyes' guard play was also key to their victory over George Mason. Fullen's 19 points helped the team build a lead early in the game. Van Horn's 17 points helped to maintain the lead throughout the game.

The Hawkeyes' guard play was key to their win over George Mason. Fullen scored 19 points, while Van Horn added 17. The team's third guard, Scott Fullen, scored 11 points.

The Hawkeyes' guard play was on display in their game against George Mason. Fullen scored 19 points, while Van Horn added 17. The team's third guard, Scott Fullen, scored 11 points.

The Hawkeyes' guard play was key to their win over George Mason. Fullen's 19 points helped the team build a lead early in the game. Van Horn's 17 points helped to maintain the lead throughout the game.

The Hawkeyes' guard play was also key to their victory over George Mason. Fullen's 19 points helped the team build a lead early in the game. Van Horn's 17 points helped to maintain the lead throughout the game.
Swimming

Hawks out to defend crown at grueling Illinois Invitational

By Mike Carfagno

USA TodaySports

Don't be fooled by the Joel Garber's height. "I wasn't the tallest guy on the team," said the 6-foot-4 Garber. "I was just the tallest guy who played." "It's one of those things," said the 6-foot-4 Garber. "It's one of those things that you just have to accept. If you're going to be successful, you have to accept it." Garber said he was a natural leader and he also works very hard.

Hawks out to defend crown at grueling Illinois Invitational

By Mike Carfagno

USA TodaySports

Don't be fooled by the Joel Garber's height. "I wasn't the tallest guy on the team," said the 6-foot-4 Garber. "I was just the tallest guy who played." "It's one of those things," said the 6-foot-4 Garber. "It's one of those things that you just have to accept. If you're going to be successful, you have to accept it." Garber said he was a natural leader and he also works very hard.

Hawks out to defend crown at grueling Illinois Invitational

By Mike Carfagno

USA TodaySports

Don't be fooled by the Joel Garber's height. "I wasn't the tallest guy on the team," said the 6-foot-4 Garber. "I was just the tallest guy who played." "It's one of those things," said the 6-foot-4 Garber. "It's one of those things that you just have to accept. If you're going to be successful, you have to accept it." Garber said he was a natural leader and he also works very hard.

Hawks out to defend crown at grueling Illinois Invitational

By Mike Carfagno

USA TodaySports

Don't be fooled by the Joel Garber's height. "I wasn't the tallest guy on the team," said the 6-foot-4 Garber. "I was just the tallest guy who played." "It's one of those things," said the 6-foot-4 Garber. "It's one of those things that you just have to accept. If you're going to be successful, you have to accept it." Garber said he was a natural leader and he also works very hard.
Miller's life undergoes big change after winning Olympic gold medal

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — When Cheryl Miller talked of the lecture tour, she no longer was referring to notes she got from her former coach, John Wooden.

It's the wide screen. And where better to go starting in the Olympic Games.

"Next summer I'll take some drama classes just to try and get it on," Miller said recently during a break from basketball practice at the university's sport complex.

"There are a few other old timers there, but I don't think about any more."

Miller looked downcast, for talking is a new task with basketball on its way past.

"It's a lot more international publicity, who knows in any chance they do on the screen," she said with a laugh.

White now back in starting position as Cowboys make their playoff run

The Dallas Cowboys are on the brink of playoff contention as the team makes its playoff run.

The Cowboys' defense, led by quarterback Tony Dorsett and running back Darryl Turner, has been strong enough to keep the team in contention for the NFC East crown.

The Cowboys' offense, led by quarterback Roger Staubach and running back Simpson, has also been strong enough to keep the team in contention for the NFC West crown.

The Cowboys' special teams, led by punter Lou Groza and kicker George Blanda, have also been strong enough to keep the team in contention for the NFC South crown.

The Cowboys' coaching staff, led by head coach Tom Landry and defensive coordinator Chuck Knox, has also been strong enough to keep the team in contention for the NFC North crown.

The Cowboys' roster, led by running back Emmitt Smith and wide receiver Michael Irvin, has also been strong enough to keep the team in contention for the NFC West crown.

The Cowboys' ownership, led by Jerry Jones and Grant Frazier, has also been strong enough to keep the team in contention for the NFC East crown.

The Cowboys' fans, led by the fans who have been following the team since its inception, have also been strong enough to keep the team in contention for the NFC South crown.

The Cowboys' media, led by radio host Stephen Jones and TV host Rondeaux, has also been strong enough to keep the team in contention for the NFC West crown.

The Cowboys' business, led by President and CEO Ray Burris and CFO Tom Landry, has also been strong enough to keep the team in contention for the NFC East crown.

The Cowboys' charitable foundation, led by President and CEO Rondeaux and CFO Ray Burris, has also been strong enough to keep the team in contention for the NFC West crown.

The Cowboys' community, led by the residents of the Dallas-Fort Worth metroplex, has also been strong enough to keep the team in contention for the NFC East crown.

The Cowboys' support, led by the fans who have been supporting the team since its inception, has also been strong enough to keep the team in contention for the NFC West crown.

The Cowboys' legacy, led by the memories of players who have played for the team, has also been strong enough to keep the team in contention for the NFC East crown.

The Cowboys'元 soon will come to a reality, but I don't expect it that to happens. People are a lot more easier.

It makes me feel great. It makes me feel like the things I achieved were worthwhile, but I'll still have to keep trying. The achievement is the trip to the Olympics.

"So far it's gone well, but we've got a lot more work to do. We've got to keep working hard and keep improving."

White, a former All-American and Olympic gold medalist, was named the starter for the game against the Eagles.

"I feel very comfortable, even though this is my first game in the NFL. I don't think I can play all out of the game for a spell."

In SUNDAY GAMES, it's Cincinnati at Cleveland, Indianapolis at Miami, and Miami at Buffalo. The Patriots are on the East Coast playing against the Browns.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Packers are on the West Coast playing against the Bears.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Patriots are on the East Coast playing against the Browns.

The Cowboys are on the East Coast playing against the Rams.

The Packers are on the East Coast playing against the Bears.

The Cowboys are on the East Coast playing against the Rams.

The Patriots are on the East Coast playing against the Browns.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Packers are on the West Coast playing against the Bears.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Patriots are on the West Coast playing against the Bears.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Packers are on the West Coast playing against the Bears.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Patriots are on the East Coast playing against the Browns.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Packers are on the West Coast playing against the Bears.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Patriots are on the East Coast playing against the Browns.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Packers are on the West Coast playing against the Bears.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Patriots are on the East Coast playing against the Browns.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Packers are on the West Coast playing against the Bears.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Patriots are on the East Coast playing against the Browns.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Packers are on the West Coast playing against the Bears.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Patriots are on the East Coast playing against the Browns.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Packers are on the West Coast playing against the Bears.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Patriots are on the East Coast playing against the Browns.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Packers are on the West Coast playing against the Bears.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Patriots are on the East Coast playing against the Browns.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Packers are on the West Coast playing against the Bears.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Patriots are on the East Coast playing against the Browns.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Packers are on the West Coast playing against the Bears.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Patriots are on the East Coast playing against the Browns.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Packers are on the West Coast playing against the Bears.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Patriots are on the East Coast playing against the Browns.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Packers are on the West Coast playing against the Bears.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Patriots are on the East Coast playing against the Browns.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Packers are on the West Coast playing against the Bears.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Patriots are on the East Coast playing against the Browns.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Packers are on the West Coast playing against the Bears.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Patriots are on the East Coast playing against the Browns.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Packers are on the West Coast playing against the Bears.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Patriots are on the East Coast playing against the Browns.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Packers are on the West Coast playing against the Bears.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Patriots are on the East Coast playing against the Browns.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Packers are on the West Coast playing against the Bears.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Patriots are on the East Coast playing against the Browns.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Packers are on the West Coast playing against the Bears.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Patriots are on the East Coast playing against the Browns.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Packers are on the West Coast playing against the Bears.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Patriots are on the East Coast playing against the Browns.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Packers are on the West Coast playing against the Bears.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Patriots are on the East Coast playing against the Browns.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Packers are on the West Coast playing against the Bears.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Patriots are on the East Coast playing against the Browns.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Packers are on the West Coast playing against the Bears.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Patriots are on the East Coast playing against the Browns.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Packers are on the West Coast playing against the Bears.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Patriots are on the East Coast playing against the Browns.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Packers are on the West Coast playing against the Bears.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Patriots are on the East Coast playing against the Browns.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Packers are on the West Coast playing against the Bears.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Patriots are on the East Coast playing against the Browns.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Packers are on the West Coast playing against the Bears.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Patriots are on the East Coast playing against the Browns.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.

The Packers are on the West Coast playing against the Bears.

The Cowboys are on the West Coast playing against the Rams.
Bruce ready to play USC again

Iowa season finale.

The University of Iowa and Georgia Tech face each other Friday for the first time in 1984.

Iowa's last game was in the Alamo Bowl.

Georgia Tech's last outing was in the Rose Bowl.

The two teams are matched by the fact that both have been ranked for the entire season.

Iowa's season record is 12-1.

Georgia Tech's season record is 12-1.

The game is being played in the Rose Bowl.

Iowa's coach, Hayden Fry, said that Iowa has a better team than Georgia Tech.

Georgia Tech's coach, Bill Lavelle, said that Georgia Tech is a better team than Iowa.

The game is being televised on ABC.

The game is being played in the Rose Bowl.

Iowa's coach, Hayden Fry, said that Iowa has a better team than Georgia Tech.

Georgia Tech's coach, Bill Lavelle, said that Georgia Tech is a better team than Iowa.

The game is being played in the Rose Bowl.

Iowa's coach, Hayden Fry, said that Iowa has a better team than Georgia Tech.

Georgia Tech's coach, Bill Lavelle, said that Georgia Tech is a better team than Iowa.

The game is being played in the Rose Bowl.

Iowa's coach, Hayden Fry, said that Iowa has a better team than Georgia Tech.

Georgia Tech's coach, Bill Lavelle, said that Georgia Tech is a better team than Iowa.

The game is being played in the Rose Bowl.

Iowa's coach, Hayden Fry, said that Iowa has a better team than Georgia Tech.

Georgia Tech's coach, Bill Lavelle, said that Georgia Tech is a better team than Iowa.

The game is being played in the Rose Bowl.
The God, Music, and War: "A Soldier's Story" as a Case in Point

By Kathy Ayars

Arts and entertainment

Fiction writer Joy Williams to read witty, ironic work

By Kathy S. Kyle

Readings

Books

The Warch wold

Joy Williams' first novel, State of Grace, was expanded from the short story "State of Grace," which was published in the 1984 summer issue of The Iowa Review. Williams' second novel," Red Hot, Red Tuba," was published in 1985 by Harcourt, Brace, and Company.

Joy Williams is a member of the Iowa Writers' Workshop faculty and a regular contributor to The Iowa Review. Her short stories have appeared in such magazines as Harper's and The New Yorker. She is also the author of several books of poetry and essays.

Joy Williams will read from her new novel, "The Warch wold," at 8 p.m. on Friday, October 28, in the Englert Theater in Iowa City. She will be joined by Joy Williams' husband, Peter Todd, who will read from his latest collection of poetry, "The Clouds.'

Joy Williams is the author of several novels, including "The Warch wold," "State of Grace," and "Red Hot, Red Tuba." She is also the author of several books of poetry and essays.

Joy Williams' novels have been widely praised for their wit, irony, and social commentary. Her short stories have appeared in such magazines as Harper's and The New Yorker. She is also the author of several books of poetry and essays.

Joy Williams' novels have been widely praised for their wit, irony, and social commentary. Her short stories have appeared in such magazines as Harper's and The New Yorker. She is also the author of several books of poetry and essays.

Joy Williams' novels have been widely praised for their wit, irony, and social commentary. Her short stories have appeared in such magazines as Harper's and The New Yorker. She is also the author of several books of poetry and essays.

Joy Williams' novels have been widely praised for their wit, irony, and social commentary. Her short stories have appeared in such magazines as Harper's and The New Yorker. She is also the author of several books of poetry and essays.

Joy Williams' novels have been widely praised for their wit, irony, and social commentary. Her short stories have appeared in such magazines as Harper's and The New Yorker. She is also the author of several books of poetry and essays.

Joy Williams' novels have been widely praised for their wit, irony, and social commentary. Her short stories have appeared in such magazines as Harper's and The New Yorker. She is also the author of several books of poetry and essays.

Joy Williams' novels have been widely praised for their wit, irony, and social commentary. Her short stories have appeared in such magazines as Harper's and The New Yorker. She is also the author of several books of poetry and essays.

Joy Williams' novels have been widely praised for their wit, irony, and social commentary. Her short stories have appeared in such magazines as Harper's and The New Yorker. She is also the author of several books of poetry and essays.

Joy Williams' novels have been widely praised for their wit, irony, and social commentary. Her short stories have appeared in such magazines as Harper's and The New Yorker. She is also the author of several books of poetry and essays.

Joy Williams' novels have been widely praised for their wit, irony, and social commentary. Her short stories have appeared in such magazines as Harper's and The New Yorker. She is also the author of several books of poetry and essays.

Joy Williams' novels have been widely praised for their wit, irony, and social commentary. Her short stories have appeared in such magazines as Harper's and The New Yorker. She is also the author of several books of poetry and essays.

Joy Williams' novels have been widely praised for their wit, irony, and social commentary. Her short stories have appeared in such magazines as Harper's and The New Yorker. She is also the author of several books of poetry and essays.

Joy Williams' novels have been widely praised for their wit, irony, and social commentary. Her short stories have appeared in such magazines as Harper's and The New Yorker. She is also the author of several books of poetry and essays.

Joy Williams' novels have been widely praised for their wit, irony, and social commentary. Her short stories have appeared in such magazines as Harper's and The New Yorker. She is also the author of several books of poetry and essays.

Joy Williams' novels have been widely praised for their wit, irony, and social commentary. Her short stories have appeared in such magazines as Harper's and The New Yorker. She is also the author of several books of poetry and essays.

Joy Williams' novels have been widely praised for their wit, irony, and social commentary. Her short stories have appeared in such magazines as Harper's and The New Yorker. She is also the author of several books of poetry and essays.

Joy Williams' novels have been widely praised for their wit, irony, and social commentary. Her short stories have appeared in such magazines as Harper's and The New Yorker. She is also the author of several books of poetry and essays.

Joy Williams' novels have been widely praised for their wit, irony, and social commentary. Her short stories have appeared in such magazines as Harper's and The New Yorker. She is also the author of several books of poetry and essays.

Joy Williams' novels have been widely praised for their wit, irony, and social commentary. Her short stories have appeared in such magazines as Harper's and The New Yorker. She is also the author of several books of poetry and essays.

Joy Williams' novels have been widely praised for their wit, irony, and social commentary. Her short stories have appeared in such magazines as Harper's and The New Yorker. She is also the author of several books of poetry and essays.

Joy Williams' novels have been widely praised for their wit, irony, and social commentary. Her short stories have appeared in such magazines as Harper's and The New Yorker. She is also the author of several books of poetry and essays.

Joy Williams' novels have been widely praised for their wit, irony, and social commentary. Her short stories have appeared in such magazines as Harper's and The New Yorker. She is also the author of several books of poetry and essays.
Art

Exhibition at Art Building is beyond description

By Neil Simon's Award-winning play, the title character is a manather who assembles a museum of junk and displays it as an art exhibit. His reasoning is that because junk is not art, then it is. This concept is extended to the idea that since junk is not art, it is, therefore, better than art. The play explores the nature of beauty and the value of ordinary objects, as well as the role of the artist in creating meaning from the mundane.

The man, named Joe, is a compulsive collector who sees value in everything, from broken bottles to discarded furniture. He assembles a museum of junk, including a blender, a toaster, and a bicycle, and opens it to the public. As visitors enter the exhibit, they are asked to find the thing that is most ordinary to them. They are encouraged to think about their own lives and to consider the ordinary as extraordinary.

The play is a meditation on the nature of beauty and the value of ordinary objects. It explores the idea that beauty can be found in the mundane, and that the ordinary can be transformed into something extraordinary through the act of creation.

Neil Simon's script is a witty and thought-provoking exploration of the nature of art and the role of the artist in creating meaning from the ordinary.

The play is performed as part of the Iowa City Fringe Festival, and is directed by a local community theatre group. The cast is comprised of local actors, and the production is designed to provoke thought and discussion about the nature of beauty and the value of ordinary objects.

THE MAN WHO KNEW TOO MUCH

Hitchcock keeps you on edge in his 1956 version of this film starring James Stewart and Doris Day, plus introducing the song que Sera 'Sera'.

Presented by Hancher Auditorium.

Saturday, December 1, 8 pm

Hancher Auditorium

The University of Iowa

333-6255

Hancher Auditorium

The University of Iowa

333-6255

“an instant American Classic!”

Neil Simon's Award Winning

BRIGHTON BEACH MEMOIRS

A comedy of hope, ambition, and growing up in the Depression

Monday & Tuesday December 3 & 4

8 PM

Hancher Auditorium

The University of Iowa

333-6255

301 - 574-6255

517 - 580-6255

415 - 974-6255

Lafayette Hotel

517 - 580-6255

501 - 574-6255

Holiday Inn

517 - 580-6255

501 - 574-6255

Fitzgerald Hotel

517 - 580-6255

501 - 574-6255

Holiday Inn

517 - 580-6255

501 - 574-6255

Holiday Inn

517 - 580-6255

501 - 574-6255

Holiday Inn

517 - 580-6255

501 - 574-6255

Holiday Inn

517 - 580-6255

501 - 574-6255

Holiday Inn

517 - 580-6255

501 - 574-6255

Holiday Inn

517 - 580-6255

501 - 574-6255

Holiday Inn

517 - 580-6255

501 - 574-6255

Holiday Inn

517 - 580-6255

501 - 574-6255

Holiday Inn

517 - 580-6255

501 - 574-6255

Holiday Inn

517 - 580-6255

501 - 574-6255

Holiday Inn

517 - 580-6255

501 - 574-6255

Holiday Inn

517 - 580-6255

501 - 574-6255

Holiday Inn

517 - 580-6255

501 - 574-6255

Holiday Inn

517 - 580-6255

501 - 574-6255

Holiday Inn

517 - 580-6255

501 - 574-6255

Holiday Inn

517 - 580-6255

501 - 574-6255

Holiday Inn

517 - 580-6255

501 - 574-6255

Holiday Inn

517 - 580-6255

501 - 574-6255

Holiday Inn

517 - 580-6255

501 - 574-6255

Holiday Inn

517 - 580-6255

501 - 574-6255

Holiday Inn

517 - 580-6255

501 - 574-6255

Holiday Inn

517 - 580-6255

501 - 574-6255

Holiday Inn

517 - 580-6255

501 - 574-6255

Holiday Inn

517 - 580-6255

501 - 574-6255

Holiday Inn

517 - 580-6255

501 - 574-6255

Holiday Inn

517 - 580-6255

501 - 574-6255

Holiday Inn

517 - 580-6255

501 - 574-6255

Holiday Inn

517 - 580-6255

501 - 574-6255

Holiday Inn

517 - 580-6255

501 - 574-6255

Holiday Inn

517 - 580-6255

501 - 574-6255

Holiday Inn

517 - 580-6255

501 - 574-6255

Holiday Inn

517 - 580-6255

501 - 574-6255

Holiday Inn

517 - 580-6255

501 - 574-6255

Holiday Inn

517 - 580-6255

501 - 574-6255

Holiday Inn

517 - 580-6255

501 - 574-6255

Holiday Inn

517 - 580-6255

501 - 574-6255

Holiday Inn

517 - 580-6255

501 - 574-6255

“HOT N QUICK” MISSISSIPPI WHEELS

Free Delivery

517 S. Riverside

Iowa City, Iowa

337-3400

Deliver any time any day

“SAVE 2 BUCKS”

Get a $2.00 discount and 2 FREE PARTY GLASSES when you purchase any LARGE pizza with 2 or more toppings.

CALL 337-3400 for Carry Out or FREE DELIVERY

The Daily Iowan — Iowa City, Iowa — Friday, November 30, 1984 — Page 7B
Soft-rock veterans Chicago bring talents to Carver-Hawkeye Arena

MOULD DESCRIBES "No Title," as a return to his previous rock style, the band's third in as many years. The band, led by singer/guitarist Tom "Mould," plans to release the album in November in Europe and December in the United States. The album will feature Chicago's first single, "No Title," which is scheduled for release in October.

Huskerc Du to rock local art studio

Krans, known to many as "The Brass Band," is a self-titled debut album from the band. It was released in 1992 and has since been covered in international media outlets, including the New York Times and Rolling Stone. The album features a range of musical styles, from jazz and blues to rock and roll, and has received critical acclaim from fans and critics alike.

Crossword puzzle

Clue:

ACROSS

1. A singer/songwriter known for his soulful voice and introspective lyrics, who has sold over 70 million albums worldwide.

2. A type of music that originated in the Deep South of the United States in the early 20th century and is characterized by its use of blues and gospel rhythms.

3. A Canadian singer-songwriter known for his timeless ballads and soulful vocals.

4. A term used in music to describe a particular chord progression or arrangement.

DOWN

1. A three-piece band known for their energetic live shows and powerful guitar riffs.

2. A small group of musicians who collaborate and jam together in a simple, informal setting.

3. A band known for their use of horns and brass instruments in their music.

4. A type of music that combines elements of rock, country, and gospel styles.

---

In the news:

Mould said that the group is planning a tour to support the new album, which is due to be released in November. The tour will take the band to cities across the United States and is expected to feature a variety of performances, including concerts and intimate club shows.

---

Music

"No Title" is the first single from the new album, and it features Mould's signature style of catchy melodies and powerful guitar riffs. The song has received critical acclaim from fans and critics alike, and is expected to be a hit with audiences around the world.

---

Letters and numbers:

ACROSS

1. A singer/songwriter known for his soulful voice and introspective lyrics, who has sold over 70 million albums worldwide.

2. A type of music that originated in the Deep South of the United States in the early 20th century and is characterized by its use of blues and gospel rhythms.

3. A Canadian singer-songwriter known for his timeless ballads and soulful vocals.

4. A term used in music to describe a particular chord progression or arrangement.

DOWN

1. A three-piece band known for their energetic live shows and powerful guitar riffs.

2. A small group of musicians who collaborate and jam together in a simple, informal setting.

3. A band known for their use of horns and brass instruments in their music.

4. A type of music that combines elements of rock, country, and gospel styles.