Plans for Union renovation still in 'rough stage'

Neighbors in the area have had their sights set on the corner of Tabor and Sherman streets for years. Now, after a year of meetings and discussions, plans for Union renovation are moving forward.

The $9.1 million project, which was advertised to the community, has been in the works for over a year. The project includes the renovation of Union and Arts and Crafts centers, as well as the addition of a new recreation area.

"It's a big deal," said a neighbor of the area. "It's been long overdue." But, there are still many questions about the project, such as the exact location of the new recreation area and the future of the existing buildings.

"I'm worried about the impact of the new project on the community," said one resident. "I'm afraid it will change the character of the area." But, others are more optimistic about the project, saying it will bring new opportunities for the neighborhood.

"I'm excited about the possibilities," said another resident. "I think it will bring a lot of new life to the area." But, there are still many questions to be answered, and the project is far from complete.

"We're still in the planning stages," said a spokesperson for the project. "We have a long way to go." But, the community is hopeful that the project will be completed in the near future.

The project is expected to take several years, and the community is encouraged to participate in the planning process. "We want to make sure the project meets the needs of the community," said the spokesperson. "We need your input and advice."

Chrisy speaks on Soviet Union

By Andrew Larson

The Soviet Union’s economic and agricultural system is still suffering from the neglect and mismanagement of the present system. The situation is most acute in agriculture, where efforts to improve production have been minimal and where the failure to improve the economy is felt keenly.

The Soviet Union has been hit by a severe drought and there is serious concern about crop failure. The government has ordered the mobilization of masses of manpower to work on greenhouses and irrigation projects. A great deal distilling and exporting vodka to the rest of the world.

In the past, the Soviet Union was able to sell its excess agricultural production to other countries, but this is no longer possible due to the reduction in foreign demand.

The Khrushchev government has promised to increase crop yields in the near future, but this has not been achieved.

From a moral standpoint, it seems that some serious problems were caused by the Soviet Union’s agricultural policies.

The Soviet Union has a lot of potential for agricultural development, but it needs to make significant changes in its agricultural policy to improve its economic situation.

Finally, the Soviet Union must address the problem of population growth. The nation is facing a demographic crisis and needs to develop policies to stabilize its population.

In conclusion, the Soviet Union faces many challenges in its agricultural sector. It needs to improve its production capacity, increase its exports, and address its demographic issues to ensure long-term economic stability.

Mapmaker projects true view of world

By Nicole Tarpey

Special to The Daily Iowan

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) — A New York City man has more than doubled in size. In fact, that's what a new world map will do, says Burton H. Peter, a former United Nations official.

Peter, a former UN human rights officer, has returned to work on a world map that he plans to complete in 2022. The map will be printed on a million copies and distributed worldwide.

When asked why he chose to work on a world map, Peter said, "Because the world is a complex and beautiful place. I want to share my love for it with others." He added, "I believe that a world map could help people understand the world better and work together towards a common goal."

Hijackers seek the release of 21 terrorists held in Kuwaiti prisons

KUWAIT (UPI) — Five gunmen who hijacked a Kuwaiti airliner to Tehran threatened Wednesday to blow up the plane if they were not set free. They were estimated to be armed with a submachine gun, two shotguns and four rifles.

IRNA, Iran's official news agency, in a statement issued late Wednesday by Khomeini Maarefi, said, "We are asking for free energy for the people of Kuwait. We need it."

STATE DEPARTMENT officials said three Americans employed by the Agency for International Development were among the hostages aboard the plane. Eight hours earlier armed hijackers seized a French-built Airbus carrying 166 people on a flight from Kuwait to Karachi, Pakistan.

Iran's official Islamic Republic News Agency said it persuaded the hijackers to allow a doctor to board the plane, which was blown up and its passengers dumped on the tarmac at Tehran's Mehrabad airport. A woman's place ...

One would think that being an elected by almost 30,000 voters would be enough for defeated candidates Walter Mondale and Geraldine Ferraro. But a recent action by the House Ethics committee — citing Ferraro, an outgoing Congresswoman from New York, for failing to disclose her husband's finances fully; — just to prove the lengths to which the allegedly Democratic victors will go to to sell the poorest women. A woman is, regardless of her skill, the less chance she has to be more than an underling or ornament.
Budget

As part of its proclaimed commitment to cut government expenditure, the administration has decided to eliminate the U.S. Customs Service's trade diversion program. This move is expected to save approximately $100 million annually, which could be reallocated to other critical areas such as homeland security or intellectual property protection.

Yankees agree on Henderson deal
HOBART (UPI) - The New York Yankees granted the largest signing bonus ever to an amateur Wednesday, agreeing on a trade that would send catcher Dave Henderson to Boston.

The trade is subject to the Yankees reaching a contract with Henderson and is contingent on the Boston team's signing agreement.

The Yankees have lined up to meet any demands that Henderson, 22, a catcher at Hobart College, might make. Henderson is eligible to become a free agent after the 1981 season and the Yankees are only too willing to sign him in order to keep him out of the hands of the Red Sox. The trade is contingent on Boston's reaching agreement with Henderson.

Neither the Yankees nor the Red Sox comment on any player involved in the trade. The New York team has been trying to acquire Henderson from the New York team in New York. Henderson has been pursued by the Los Angeles Dodgers and Kansas City, and he was the subject of the longest trading rumors of the meetings.

Hawkeyes take top spot in mat poll
AMES, Iowa (UPI) - Defending NCAA champion Iowa bolted into first place in the latest collegiate rankings released by Amateur Wrestling News Wednesday.

The Hawkeyes, who were ranked second for the second straight week, leapfrogged three spots, into the top spot ahead of Oklahoma State and Louisiana State.

Iowa State gained two spots, into third, and Louisiana State also moved up two spots into fifth place.

Oklahoma State, ranked third last week, fell two spots to the fifth spot.

Owners back Ueberroth's TV position
WASHINGTON (UPI) - An overwhelming mandate, the baseball owners voted Monday in Cincinnati to back Commissioner Peter Ueberroth's effort to sell the league's television rights.

Ueberroth has said repeatedly that superstations represent one of the most promising opportunities for the game.

It was a close one at the winter meetings, the owners agreed with him, and a late vote on Wednesday afternoon ensured the game the most lucrative TV deal in sport.

The identity of the dissenting team could not be established.

Other signs observed by the commissioners indicated that the Texas Rangers, the new Houston Oilers and the Minnesota Twins were the three most interested in TV rights.

The result was the strongest endorsement of the league since the Super Bowl era, when the commissioner was in charge of a legal and strategic assault against the pricing of syndicated games.

Rangers sign free agent Johnson; Braves get Cerone from Yankees

HOUSTON (AP) - Trading was light but the market for sought-after free agents took a big step forward Wednesday at the winter meetings.

Cub Johnson became the second free agent designated hitter within 11 hours to sign a contract, hooking up with the Texas Rangers.

The New York Yankees also made their first move Wednesday, landing another free agent, third baseman Jack Clark, from the Atlanta Braves.

Johnson, 33, has had a tumultuous career in the major leagues, playing for six teams in 12 seasons. He hit .297 with 27 home runs and 82 RBI in 117 games this past season.

"I'm not going to say it's going to be easy or anything and any chance to get a spot up there you can't turn it down," Johnson said. "I'm not saying it's going to be easy but I'm not saying it's going to be hard, either."

The tone of the meetings has been positive, helped by the mood created by union head Lee Smith, who met with both sides Wednesday hoping to avoid a repeat of the 1981 strike.

"The need to get back to work," the Texas Rangers' McGraw said, "is the most important priority of the players.""We're looking to get an agreement with the players' association so that the players will be able to sign their contracts. In the meantime, we're focusing on the players' needs.

The only major trade to transpire so far is the one between the Diamondbacks and the Texas Rangers, who are hoping to avoid a repeat of the 1981 strike.

"The only thing I've seen is that it's going to be a long winter," said Giants general manager A. P. Smith. "It's going to be a long winter.""The need to get back to work, the players' association," Smith said, "is the most important priority of the players. In the meantime, we're focusing on the players' needs.

Injury-riddled Chicago signs Landry to back-up young quarterback Lisch

CHICAGO (AP) - The injury-plagued Chicago Bears Wednesday signed veteran quarterback Jim Landry to a one-year deal, according to the starting quarterback for next season.

Landry, 33, who lost both legs in a stop in his 15th season, was one of the Bears' mainstays under center for the past 11 years.

"I heard about the Bears," Landry said. "I'm going to get some rest and get ready for next year."

Landry's signing was announced 10 hours after the Bears announced they had signed Audry Thomas.

In another signing, the Bears said they have signed free agent Brian Clark, 34, a quarterback.

"We're happy to have him," said Smith. "It's a good move for us."

In the pursuit of free agents, the Chicago Bears have already acquired two other quarterbacks, Jim Bronner and Bob Gaffney.

"We're happy to have him," said Smith. "It's a good move for us."

Cardinals minority owner Jim McDonell, Gray Blum and Lon Lankau met with Smith's representatives, Jim Bronner and Bob Gaffney.

Our seven-page movie magazine, theCenario, is a monthly publication with a unique format: instead of the usual articles, the magazine presents a detailed analysis of a particular film. This month, we focus on our review of "The Shining," a classic horror film directed by Stanley Kubrick. Our review delves into the film's themes, characters, and technical aspects, providing readers with a deeper understanding of its impact on the horror genre.

A CONTINUOUS PROBLEM with this town is that when we get a good start in something, we suddenly seem to lose interest. This year, we had a number of unsold subscriptions, but we don't have any addresses or names to work from. If anyone knows of a reader who is interested, there is no other way for us to notify them, than to return the publication and let them know.

This was the problem David Duer faced when he left his hometown of West Branch, Iowa, to pursue a career in Hollywood. In his hometown of West Branch, Iowa, as well as many other local communities, the magazine is a valuable resource for local writers, offering them an opportunity to share their work with a wider audience.

NEIL SIMON rarely lets you down. If you go to a play, sometimes sentimental, you know it's going to be good. Whether the characters will be charming or droll, the dialogue will be witty, the acting will be well-paced, and the plot will be an engaging romp. Indeed, so has it been in "The New Bishop," now being presented at the Circle in the Square theater. The play is a vehicle for Simon himself, who stars as the bishop in question.

Simon explores family ties

By John Simon

THE New Bishop is Simon's seventh play, and his first since "The Good Companion," which opened in 1983. It is a story of a bishop who is also a family man, trying to juggle the demands of his Ecclesiastical duties with the demands of his family. The bishop is Dr. Simon, who is also the father of two children, a daughter and a son.

The touring production company of Neil Simon's award-winning comedy, Brighton Beach Memoirs, is known locally as a top-notch company staging a fine family comedy during the Depression. The play was presented in Cupertino on Dec. 3 and 4.

The production, which has been previewed by members of the audience, includes an all-staffer cast.

Books

Iowa City, Iowa and a teenager, all have the author's previous literature, The England-born, New Zealand-raised author, Tilt Lilt, is celebrating the publication of his new book, which takes the story of men, women, and children from the battle between mothers and women. The book is a beautiful tale of women's lives. Each of the women's lives, she's sleeping around, she's sleeping with her family, and she's sleeping with her very special friends and lovers during the summer. But in the life and loves of a She-Devil:

In considering earning capacity, women must consider the balance of power need and more revealing creativity. Balancing the power need and the woman's need is necessary. Women's need is the same as men's, so no matter how boys, or girls, or both boys and girls, feel about women's need, it's worth $200. And so a burning woman's need for logic.

To have an affair in one thing, but to have some kind of affairs to your advantage is more important. To have affairs is more important. Ruth has finally had enough—that's strong language and quite dangerous. Ruth decides to become a She-Devil.
