Governor recommends $6.8 million for regents

By Kirk Brown

Despite dire forecasts that state spending might be trimmed by 90 million next year, Gov. Terry Branstad's "Conditions of the Budget Message" contained primarily good news for officials from Iowa's three state universities.

Branstad highlighted "educational excellence" and "economic competitiveness" as two of the legislative priorities for the upcoming session of the Iowa Legislature. Branstad recommended increased funding for each university by more than 90 million during the next two years.

Branstad also supported increased funding for the Board of Regents to replace two faculty-funded chairs at Iowa State University and the University of Iowa. According to a spokeswoman for the Board of Regents, the recommendation does not specifically address the funding for the chairs, but the Board of Regents has already announced its intention to replace them.

NOW holds women's clinic vigil

75 participate in 'protective' weekend watch

By Mary Reese

In an effort to reestablish abortion services, approximately 75 people gathered outside the NOW Women's Clinic for a "protective weekend watch." The vigil took place at the NOW Women's Clinic in Iowa City, 1107 Marion Highway.

The vigil was held in response to a recent decision by the Board of Regents to reduce funding for the clinic. Participants said the decision was a threat to the clinic's ability to continue providing services.

For more details on abortion clinics across the country, see page 35.

Cold weather stops inaugural festivities

Washington (AP) - In a soggy start to Joe Biden's term in the Oval Office, seemingly everyone in attendance at the inauguration Friday took cover from the rain.

Biden's inaugural address, delivered from the steps of the US Capitol, was interrupted by downpours throughout the day. Additionally, powerful wind gusts were recorded in the nation's capital, with winds reaching up to 30 mph in some areas.

According to the National Weather Service, the precipitation was expected to continue through the weekend, with the possibility of snowfall on Sunday.

"Just a moment," Biden said into the microphone, as lightning struck the ground nearby.

"Thank you, God," the president said, before continuing his remarks.

"I'm just giving you a heads-up that we're going to have a little bit of a cold front coming in," Biden added.

Despite the weather, thousands of people gathered on the National Mall to witness the inauguration ceremony.

"It's a great day for democracy," Biden said after his speech, as a chorus of "Yes we can!" rang out from the crowd.

Biden is the first Catholic president in US history, and he delivered his inaugural address to a cheering crowd of more than 1 million people.

"I never thought I'd see this day," Biden said. "But it's true, and I'm grateful to be here today."

Writer chronic Iowa’s expectation to County Board of Supervisors support from city and county uniformed deputies.

"In the past, state offices would not agree to put our staff in a position in Linn County. I hope that will change this year."

Rakel said, "I believe it could be planned by three years or so."

Edmonds, however, explained the need for the additional deputies. "Three of the eight deputies would be regular uniformed patrol officers and be sent to conduct the vacation details, time as needed, to county courts."

"We need a sixth deputy is needed because of internal reallocation within the department."

IOWA VS. MICHIGAN
SEPTEMBER 10, 1984

MICHIGAN 47, IOWA 10

About 1,800 People personified Benjy Fairley. Few, if any, others on the field were aware of the massive sea of humanity that was swarming throughout the stadium. It's a large crowd; it's a large crush, and it's a large effort to keep the stadium safe and to make sure everyone enjoys the game. The effort starts with the Police Department, which has a large and well-trained force. From the game's start, the crowd was kept in check by a series of police officers who patrolled the stands. The officers were there to maintain order, but they were also there to make sure the game was enjoyed by everyone. The officers were polite and professional, and they did a great job keeping the crowd under control. The result was a game that was enjoyed by everyone present. It was a great day for football and for the University of Iowa. The Hawkeyes proved that they are a strong team, and the fans came out to support them. The game was a big hit, and everyone had a great time. It was a day to remember, and it was one that the fans will always cherish. The Hawkeyes won the game, but the most important thing was that the fans had a great time. The Hawkeyes are a great team, and the fans are proud of them. The game was a great success, and it was one that everyone will remember. It was a day to remember, and it was one that the fans will always cherish.
Union renovation proposal delayed; faculty council requests more input

By Ryan Barnes

Union renovation plans were set to be unveiled at a Monday meeting of the University of Iowa Faculty Senate by Facilities and Administration Vice President Steve Eckholt. However, the council decision was put on hold after a vote to delay the presentation to allow additional input from faculty members.

"We're holding off on an upcoming report from the renovation team in order to have more time to discuss with the faculty at large," said Professor Mike Walker, the faculty council representative to the renovation planning process. "The faculty council feels the campus has been waiting long enough for this project to take off, and we have received feedback from our colleagues that they want to have a chance to provide input before proceeding with any decisions."

Amtrak is too egalitarian to last.

It seems that Amtrak's policies are too progressive and egalitarian for it to survive in the current market. While it provides transportation to those who may not have access to other means, it is unable to compete with private companies that offer faster and more convenient services. The government subsidies that keep Amtrak running are unsustainable in the long term, and the company is at risk of becoming a financial burden.

Penny O'Brien, a member of the Iowa women's track team, got a taste of world-class competition in her last regular season meet in which Mary Decker set a new world record at the Sunburst Invitational in Los Angeles on Saturday.

O'Brien placed fifth out of six athletes invited to compete in the race. "I'm really excited that I ran in a race where the world record was broken," O'Brien said Tuesday. "I think it's really a good thing for me to try to run in a race like that and see where my level is."

The race was a highly anticipated event in the world of track and field, with Decker setting a new world record of 4:12.33 in the 1,500-meter run. "I'm very impressed with Mary Decker," O'Brien said. "I look up to her and hope to be able to run like she does."

The race was the last meet for O'Brien before the NCAA championships, which take place on May 12-14. "I'm really looking forward to the championships," O'Brien said. "I want to do the best I can and hope to place in the top seven."

Hawkeyes, Illinois State warm up for season with nonscoring meet

By Jeff Stratton

Iowa City, Iowa

The Iowa and the Illinois State women's track teams both got warmed up for the 1985 indoor season Saturday at the Illinois State Warm-up at the Recreation Building.

"We are very happy that several of our people will make the top of our depth chart," Iowa coach Brad Wheeler said.

"Overall, I thought the meet was at an appropriate level of competition for our team and I think that the Illinois State meet was a unique one for us," Wheeler said. "I think the girls that we have here do work and a little bit harder," Wheeler said. "I think we are coming along. We know what we have to work on."

One of the highlights of the meet was that the Hawkeyes captured all nine points in the 200-yard dash as Illinois State standard explorers Hamilton and Morton led the 1-2.

Davey took the lead from the start and had a good lead on the North Bay, Ontario, native. But with two laps to go in the eighth lap, the Illinois State standard explorers gained on Davey. With less than a half lap to go it still appeared that Davey would hold on for the win. But Cavanty passed her at the last yard to win by a second. Cavanty won winning in 2:06 seconds and 18.19 seconds while Davey was second in 2:07.1.

"It was just one of those races," Wheeler said. "I think that several of our people still have to work on their distance."

"Rosalind Cassidy in the mile," Morton said. "I think that the Illinois State standard explorers I have read about had a good race as a distance runner," Morton said.

"It was very exciting for everyone to see the Illinois State standard explorers doing so well."

"The Illinois State standard explorers are right behind our depth chart," Morton said.

"It was a very good start."

Middle, long distance runners key

Hawk win over Notre Dame, 74-57

By Don Miller

In its second meeting of the indoor season, Iowa's men's track team overwhelmed Notre Dame, 74-57, at Capitol Gym Saturday.

Iowa's middle and long distance runners scored 17 points in the meet as Coach Test Wheeler, who pointed out that "I think we are definitely working for their distance runners."

"We have five people in the seconds of Iowa's distance runners," he said. "On the men's side, the 4x400 relay, the 880 and the mile which we have done in the past with our team before."

Wheeler called Danny Waters' win in the mile as one of the highlights of the night.

"We felt this meet was just a stepping stone in the mile. Wheeler said. "The pace finished with a closing of four seconds."

Iowa freestyle team finishes third

By Jeff Stratton

The Iowa men's swimming team scored the highest out of all the Big Eight Conference teams Saturday at the Big Eight Conference meet at the University of Minnesota.

"I think that several of our people who have been here have been really good," Iowa Coach Chip Thelen said.

"It was just one of those races."

Hawkeyes finished behind Arkansas, which won the race in an American record time of 3:13.86, and the 160 team.

IOWA ASSISTANT Coach Bill Wedley was pleased with the Big Eight Conference meet. "It was the most outstanding thing about the meet was that we beat both the Romans and East German relay teams," Wedley said.

"I think that several of our people who have been here have been really good."

THE MEMORIAL Recital of Tetraphonic Interpretations. We try and make the music sound like us. That's most important. We're trying to promote other bands," he said.

THOUGH THE GROUP has only been together for three and a half months, they have big hopes for the future. "We've made great strides since our first gig," Eckert said. "We've played at local bars and clubs, and our audience has grown. We've been invited to play at other venues, and this is our first gig in a while."
Films

This story seems to be a bit down, but actually going through an entire film can be surprisingly engaging. Filmmakers often use various techniques and special effects to create memorable scenes that resonate with the audience. In the case of The Terminator, it is the sense of control and authority that Schwarzenegger portrays. He is a robot, a machine, a being that has been programmed to kill. The plot and action sequences of the film are designed to build tension and suspense, making the viewer anticipate what will happen next.

FATHER/Daughter relationships seem to be the most important theme in this novel.

Despite the fact that the story is set in the future, it deals with themes that are relevant to our own time. The relationship between the father and daughter is a symbol of the parent-child bond, which is a universal theme that resonates with viewers of all ages. The story explores the idea of a father figure who is not always present, and the daughter must learn to navigate her world without him. This theme is echoed in the film, where the daughter must rely on her own instincts and abilities to survive.

Teenage years are a time of exploration and self-countering.

During this time, young people are experimenting with their identities and trying to figure out who they are. This is a critical period in their development, as they learn to express themselves and make decisions that will shape their future. In the film, the protagonist must confront the challenges of the real world and make choices that will determine her fate.

Despite the fact that the film is set in the future, it deals with themes that are relevant to our own time. The relationship between the father and daughter is a symbol of the parent-child bond, which is a universal theme that resonates with viewers of all ages. The story explores the idea of a father figure who is not always present, and the daughter must learn to navigate her world without him. This theme is echoed in the film, where the daughter must rely on her own instincts and abilities to survive.

Iowa's Long still hedging on decision

By Steve Batterson

ANAHEIM, Calif. - Will he or won't he? Iowa's Chuck Long is characteristically reticent about making an announcement.

"I have had discussions today with Chuck Long's representatives to earn a spot for the Hawkeye quarterback in the NFL draft," said NFL Draft Director George Davidson. "We'll see what happens in the coming days." The NFL Draft will be held April 25-26.

Long has not made a decision. And Iowa coach Hayden Fry said "most likely no one will know until the draft." The game in Anaheim, Calif., on Dec. 21, was the only one of the five Big Ten bowl games in which Long did not start.

"Chuck Long is a special guy," said Fry. "He's been inspirational as the Chuck Long eligiblity saga isn't over yet." Iowa's ineligibility saga started when Long's performance in the Texas Longhorns' 50-10 victory over Iowa on Sept. 26, was questioned. Because of the NCAA rules, the Iowa quarterback could not have been declared eligible.

Long's efforts against Texas were "unbelievable," said Fry. "We've got a guy who has thrown for over 2,000 yards in his last five games. We've got a guy who has thrown for over 400 yards in his last four games. We've got a guy who has thrown for over 500 yards in his last two games. He's been throwing for over 400 yards every game. And he's been throwing for over 2,000 yards every game.

But for the last week, Long said he was leaning towards remaining a Hawkeye. "I really like Iowa," he said. "I really like the Maroon and Gold. I really like the fans. The band. I really like the band members. The people of Iowa. The people of Iowa have been inspirational as the Chuck Long eligiblity saga isn't over yet.

"I don't know what Long will do," said Fry. "I don't know what Long will do.""

Freedom Bowl showing disgusts Longhorn players and coaches

The Longhorns expected to give the Longhorns a chance to redeem themselves after losing four games in one season.

The Freedom Bowl was supposed to be this season's New Year's Day Bowl, defensive back Jerry Gray said.

"We've never been on a team that lost its last two games," he said. "So long as I've been in football, I don't think I've ever been on a team that lost its last four games," Gray said.

"This was NFP, the type of team I wanted out with this season," the senior American said. "It seemed like we really couldn't get things together. We were kind of down towards the end of the season.

Most Valuable Player.

William Harris, never dreamed of the season would turn out to be such a long nightmare to the Longhorns. "I don't expect to get wasted on life as a Longhorn," he said.

Longhorn quarterback Chuck Long said, "I'd rather take a third place bowl than a losing record.

"Ideally thought we were in the game (at halftime)," he said. "But we moved the ball well, the first half, Dodge said. "Texas just kept coming.

"We never had a team that had a quarterback from Texas. Coach Fred Akers also thought games was his team ever for the Longhorns at halftime.

"The game that got the big play in the third quarter was going to take a toll," he said. "We felt the players in the third quarter, we would have won the ball game. We didn't, they did and won.

"We were trying, they just did a great job," he said.

Long opened the game for Iowa in the third quarter with a 3-yard pass to Brian Snell in the quarter. But the third quarter was going to be very frustrating for the Texas defense, Harris said.

"The first loss this season," the Longhorn coach said. "We also have some really young defensive backs who have to go through it. But that's okay, it's part of the game.

"Lose is playing in front of bigger crowds," Harris said. "You can say it was a letdown."
Longhorn Coach Mike Yurcich said it all when he said, "Winning is a habit."

The weather was a nightmare for the two teams as the night's rain fell and then turned into a steady drizzle. The Longhorns took the lead after Texas defensive back Delanie Franklin intercepted a pass from Oklahoma quarterback Billy Sims and returned it 30 yards for a touchdown.

"I don't think I've ever seen a more difficult place to play," said Oklahoma Coach Barry Switzer. "We had to come down here and get a win and that's what we did."
Bowl was a 'gift' for Hawkeye fans

By Dr. Hakenstein

Iowa City, Calif. — For many Iowa fans, there is no better Christmas present than to see the Freedom Bowl, and the present is even better if you get to see Iowa play in sunny California.

The usual attendance of 34,000 spectators for the Freedom Bowl off a late start but for many Iowa fans, including myself, the most special attribute of the Freedom Bowl was its happy ending.

For Jan Smith of Des Moines, the Freedom Bowl was a unique present for her, two kids and himself. "The Freedom Bowl was a Christmas gift for us," said Smith.

The FREEDOM BOWL was not only the first bowl game for the Hawkeye football team, it was also the first one for Jan Smith and her children. Smith said she had never seen the Hawkeye play in person before, although she watched them all the time on television, he said.

"I was very excited about the game," Smith said after the Iowa victory. "I've been a Hawkeye fan for a long time, so it was exciting to see them win and be able to attend the game."

While many Hawkeye fans may not have attended the Freedom Bowl, they were still able to experience the thrill of watching their team play. Smith said she and her family were able to attend the game thanks to the generosity of a friend who offered to take them.

"I'm very grateful to the friend who took us to the game," Smith said. "It was a wonderful experience and one I'll never forget."
