Reagan budget freezes spending, cuts programs

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Ronald Reagan will offer Congress a $27.5 billion budget that promotes several federal spending, cuts many social programs and shows a big reduction in the estimated federal deficit.

The fiscal 1986 budget proposes a $3 billion deficit and $445 billion in federal outlays, compared with $283 billion last year.

In a statement accompanying the proposed budget, Reagan said the cuts would ensure that "future generations" would "get a fair return on the sacrifices their ancestors made.

The administration asked Congress to enact legislation that would freeze the budget in fiscal 1986, and said it would not be desirable to freeze the budget for the next two years. Further, such an approach would assure that all programs are of equal importance.

The administration asked Congress to enact legislation that would freeze the budget in fiscal 1986, and said it would not be desirable to freeze the budget for the next two years. Further, such an approach would assure that all programs are of equal importance.

The administration asked Congress to enact legislation that would freeze the budget in fiscal 1986, and said it would not be desirable to freeze the budget for the next two years. Further, such an approach would assure that all programs are of equal importance.

The administration asked Congress to enact legislation that would freeze the budget in fiscal 1986, and said it would not be desirable to freeze the budget for the next two years. Further, such an approach would assure that all programs are of equal importance.

The administration asked Congress to enact legislation that would freeze the budget in fiscal 1986, and said it would not be desirable to freeze the budget for the next two years. Further, such an approach would assure that all programs are of equal importance.

The administration asked Congress to enact legislation that would freeze the budget in fiscal 1986, and said it would not be desirable to freeze the budget for the next two years. Further, such an approach would assure that all programs are of equal importance.

The administration asked Congress to enact legislation that would freeze the budget in fiscal 1986, and said it would not be desirable to freeze the budget for the next two years. Further, such an approach would assure that all programs are of equal importance.

The administration asked Congress to enact legislation that would freeze the budget in fiscal 1986, and said it would not be desirable to freeze the budget for the next two years. Further, such an approach would assure that all programs are of equal importance.

The administration asked Congress to enact legislation that would freeze the budget in fiscal 1986, and said it would not be desirable to freeze the budget for the next two years. Further, such an approach would assure that all programs are of equal importance.

The administration asked Congress to enact legislation that would freeze the budget in fiscal 1986, and said it would not be desirable to freeze the budget for the next two years. Further, such an approach would assure that all programs are of equal importance.

The administration asked Congress to enact legislation that would freeze the budget in fiscal 1986, and said it would not be desirable to freeze the budget for the next two years. Further, such an approach would assure that all programs are of equal importance.

The administration asked Congress to enact legislation that would freeze the budget in fiscal 1986, and said it would not be desirable to freeze the budget for the next two years. Further, such an approach would assure that all programs are of equal importance.

The administration asked Congress to enact legislation that would freeze the budget in fiscal 1986, and said it would not be desirable to freeze the budget for the next two years. Further, such an approach would assure that all programs are of equal importance.

The administration asked Congress to enact legislation that would freeze the budget in fiscal 1986, and said it would not be desirable to freeze the budget for the next two years. Further, such an approach would assure that all programs are of equal importance.

The administration asked Congress to enact legislation that would freeze the budget in fiscal 1986, and said it would not be desirable to freeze the budget for the next two years. Further, such an approach would assure that all programs are of equal importance.

The administration asked Congress to enact legislation that would freeze the budget in fiscal 1986, and said it would not be desirable to freeze the budget for the next two years. Further, such an approach would assure that all programs are of equal importance.

The administration asked Congress to enact legislation that would freeze the budget in fiscal 1986, and said it would not be desirable to freeze the budget for the next two years. Further, such an approach would assure that all programs are of equal importance.

The administration asked Congress to enact legislation that would freeze the budget in fiscal 1986, and said it would not be desirable to freeze the budget for the next two years. Further, such an approach would assure that all programs are of equal importance.

The administration asked Congress to enact legislation that would freeze the budget in fiscal 1986, and said it would not be desirable to freeze the budget for the next two years. Further, such an approach would assure that all programs are of equal importance.

The administration asked Congress to enact legislation that would freeze the budget in fiscal 1986, and said it would not be desirable to freeze the budget for the next two years. Further, such an approach would assure that all programs are of equal importance.

The administration asked Congress to enact legislation that would freeze the budget in fiscal 1986, and said it would not be desirable to freeze the budget for the next two years. Further, such an approach would assure that all programs are of equal importance.

The administration asked Congress to enact legislation that would freeze the budget in fiscal 1986, and said it would not be desirable to freeze the budget for the next two years. Further, such an approach would assure that all programs are of equal importance.

The administration asked Congress to enact legislation that would freeze the budget in fiscal 1986, and said it would not be desirable to freeze the budget for the next two years. Further, such an approach would assure that all programs are of equal importance.

The administration asked Congress to enact legislation that would freeze the budget in fiscal 1986, and said it would not be desirable to freeze the budget for the next two years. Further, such an approach would assure that all programs are of equal importance.

The administration asked Congress to enact legislation that would freeze the budget in fiscal 1986, and said it would not be desirable to freeze the budget for the next two years. Further, such an approach would assure that all programs are of equal importance.

The administration asked Congress to enact legislation that would freeze the budget in fiscal 1986, and said it would not be desirable to freeze the budget for the next two years. Further, such an approach would assure that all programs are of equal importance.

The administration asked Congress to enact legislation that would freeze the budget in fiscal 1986, and said it would not be desirable to freeze the budget for the next two years. Further, such an approach would assure that all programs are of equal importance.

The administration asked Congress to enact legislation that would freeze the budget in fiscal 1986, and said it would not be desirable to freeze the budget for the next two years. Further, such an approach would assure that all programs are of equal importance.
Radicals end hunger strike
BONN, West Germany - All but three of 13 imprisoned members of the Red Army Faction atation.

The hunger strike began Friday and was called after a few days of tense negotiations between West German officials and the group. The three remaining strikers are expected to end their fast soon.

The protesters were arrested last September in Berlin. They are being held as political prisoners in a West German prison.

Bomb attacks in Ireland
BELFAST, Northern Ireland - An explosion rocked a northern Belfast neighborhood today, killing one man and injuring at least 15 people, including several children.

Local authorities said the explosion may have been caused by a gasoline tank. They said the bomb was set off by a group of masked men.

Refugee deportations
A newspaper in neighboring Qirkarzin region, which is home to some of the largest refugee camps in the world, reported today that over 200,000 refugees have been deported from the country in the past two months.

The deportations are part of a larger crackdown on refugees in the region, which has been hit hard by the recent influx of refugees from neighboring countries.

Sports agreement with Soviet Union
The United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees has signed an agreement with the Soviet Union to provide assistance to refugees in the region.

The agreement will allow the UNHCR to distribute food, clothing, and medical supplies to refugees in the affected area.

War pauses for children
Sudan - The Sudanese War has been paused for six weeks, over the weekend.

The pause was ordered by the Sudanese government to allow children to attend school and to rest.

Nations High Commissioner for Refugees
For the past six weeks, over 1,000,000 refugees have been forced to flee their homes due to the war. The Nations High Commissioner for Refugees has been working to provide assistance to these refugees.

The commissioner has been working closely with local officials to ensure that refugees have access to food, water, and medical care.

IRS offers free booklet
IRS offers a free booklet that outlines the tax tips and forms that can be obtained from the IRS.

Publication 104 contains descriptions of IRS services available to help taxpayers prepare their returns or to receive assistance with their returns. It also explains questions asked on forms, letters and notices from the IRS that can help with questions about taxpayers accounts and the status of refund requests.

WRAC sponsors film on women and advertising
Women and Advertising: Theatrical and Public Service Announcements, is a 16 mm film made by the Women's National Radio Advertising Cooperative (WRAC).

The film features an interview with an advertising executive who discusses the role of women in advertising and how she has worked to increase the representation of women in the industry.

Postscripts
Events
The United Department of Physics and Astronomy will present a seminar on "Opportunity Physics: A Statistical Test of Quantum Mechanics" by Prof. James M. Gilchrist at 10 a.m. in the Physics Department's 105 Inglis Hall.

The seminar will be followed by a reception in the Social Science Building's 106 Inglis Hall.

Doonesbury

Who to call
1-800-999-1234

The daily news can varry at extreme times or conditions. It is a guide to warning or warnings, especially weather conditions or natural disasters. It is a daily logbook of the day's events. If you are interested in more information or need help, contact your local news station or the National Weather Service.
The Iowa House on Tuesday approved a $3.5 billion bond issue for construction and repairs at Iowa’s prisons, including several dedicated to the elderly and low-risk offenders.

The bond proposal, which will be considered in the Senate, is expected to be debated in the House next week.

The bond proposal includes $465 million for the construction or rehabilitation of 14 new prison units, including four dedicated to elderly inmates and two for low-risk offenders. The funds will also be used to build new housing units for inmates with the highest risk levels.

The proposal also includes $187 million for state buildings and $109 million for local government projects.

The bond would be funded through a 4-cent per gallon gasoline tax, which would generate about $187 million annually. The bond would also be backed by a 2-cent per gallon tax on motor vehicles.

The House approved the bond proposal by a vote of 90-1, with one representative absent.

The Senate is expected to debate the bond proposal on Thursday.

The bond proposal is part of a broader strategy to improve the state’s prison system, which has been under criticism in recent years for overcrowding and conditions that are considered inhumane.

The proposal includes a plan to convert existing prison units into facilities for elderly and low-risk inmates, in an effort to save money and improve living conditions for inmates.

The bond proposal also includes funds for the construction of new prison units, which will be designed to reduce overcrowding and improve security.

The House approved the bond proposal with bipartisan support, with 27 Republicans and 63 Democrats voting in favor. The one dissenting vote was cast by Democratic Rep. Patti Judge of Des Moines.

Judge said she opposed the bond proposal because it would not address the root causes of crime and would not provide adequate resources for community-based programs.

"This is a problem that we need to solve," Judge said. "We need to invest in our communities and our schools to address the issues that lead to crime, rather than just building more prisons."
Research council wants to eliminate conflict in UI sponsored research

By Charlene Lee

In what UI Vice President for Educational Development and Research Dean Ross Womenik called a "substantial change," campus officials are planning to approve a draft policy that helps to eliminate the conflicts of interest in sponsored research at the UI. The policy is necessary to adapt the existing UI policy concerning conflicts of interest in sponsored research, so that it is compliant with a new mandate issued by the National Science Foundation. Lawrence Long, assistant to the vice president for educational development-research, said the draft statute states that when a UI researcher undertakes or engages in sponsored research at the university, without the amendment, these students can be conflicted in one or more of the following situations:

-if the student is financially interested in or a consulting arrangement with an outside entity, it is a conflict of interest between the student and the outside entity without written permission from the outside entity.

"In EFFECT, the draft recommends that the draft be sent to David H. Heering, he said, though the policy remains to be seen. The policy was approved by the UI Ethics Council last Friday. The draft statute states that if the student is financially interested in or a consulting arrangement with an outside entity, it is a conflict of interest between the student and the outside entity without written permission from the outside entity.

BLACK ET AL.

The draft statute states that if a UI researcher undertakes or engages in sponsored research at the university, without the amendment, these students can be conflicted in one or more of the following situations:

- if the student is financially interested in or a consulting arrangement with an outside entity, it is a conflict of interest between the student and the outside entity without written permission from the outside entity.

"In EFFECT, the draft recommends that the draft be sent to David H. Heering, he said, though the policy remains to be seen. The policy was approved by the UI Ethics Council last Friday. The draft statute states that if the student is financially interested in or a consulting arrangement with an outside entity, it is a conflict of interest between the student and the outside entity without written permission from the outside entity.

"In EFFECT, the draft recommends that the draft be sent to David H. Heering, he said, though the policy remains to be seen. The policy was approved by the UI Ethics Council last Friday. The draft statute states that if the student is financially interested in or a consulting arrangement with an outside entity, it is a conflict of interest between the student and the outside entity without written permission from the outside entity.

"In EFFECT, the draft recommends that the draft be sent to David H. Heering, he said, though the policy remains to be seen. The policy was approved by the UI Ethics Council last Friday. The draft statute states that if the student is financially interested in or a consulting arrangement with an outside entity, it is a conflict of interest between the student and the outside entity without written permission from the outside entity.

"In EFFECT, the draft recommends that the draft be sent to David H. Heering, he said, though the policy remains to be seen. The policy was approved by the UI Ethics Council last Friday. The draft statute states that if the student is financially interested in or a consulting arrangement with an outside entity, it is a conflict of interest between the student and the outside entity without written permission from the outside entity.

"In EFFECT, the draft recommends that the draft be sent to David H. Heering, he said, though the policy remains to be seen. The policy was approved by the UI Ethics Council last Friday. The draft statute states that if the student is financially interested in or a consulting arrangement with an outside entity, it is a conflict of interest between the student and the outside entity without written permission from the outside entity.

"In EFFECT, the draft recommends that the draft be sent to David H. Heering, he said, though the policy remains to be seen. The policy was approved by the UI Ethics Council last Friday. The draft statute states that if the student is financially interested in or a consulting arrangement with an outside entity, it is a conflict of interest between the student and the outside entity without written permission from the outside entity.

"In EFFECT, the draft recommends that the draft be sent to David H. Heering, he said, though the policy remains to be seen. The policy was approved by the UI Ethics Council last Friday. The draft statute states that if the student is financially interested in or a consulting arrangement with an outside entity, it is a conflict of interest between the student and the outside entity without written permission from the outside entity.
Council may hire assistant finance director

By David Umemoto

Editorial

When the Iowa City Council meets tonight it will decide if it should spend the city's money to hire an assistant finance director.

The city's finance department has reported the city needs a new finance director to serve as a "back-up" in case the current director is absent.

If the possibility of the assistant director role is to be investigated, professionals decided to seek possible budget changes for city funds. Also, the assistant finance director would manage the city's insurance policy as an assistant to the finance director. Although not recommended as a top priority in the proposed fiscal 1988 budget, the request has been listed as one that should be funded if additional money is made available during the budget process.

"We should take a look at it," Mayor Ernest Ummel said Friday. "I don't want to recommend it now, but it would be done by the time the city meets again to pick up on other demands in the budget," Ummel said in the meeting.

"The customer service demands have increased," Ummel said Friday. "I don't think there's a lot of room in the budget, but to take even one of these positions could decrease the workload and save the city money. I think it makes sense to meet with another person to coordinate the city's investments," he said.

Councilman John Conner said keeping track of the city's investments is "a clerical job." He said he advocated the addition of an assistant finance director to handle repairs to city buildings, which he said "It will create opportunities for the city's investments could decrease the workload and save the city money. I think it makes sense to meet with another person to coordinate the city's investments," he said.

Vivash said Friday the possibility of hiring an assistant finance director for the city is the next step in the council's efforts to minimize the city's financial risks.

"We'll meet again in October to talk about financial matters," Mayor Ummel said Friday. "We'll see what's going on then and we can decide if we want to hire a finance director or not."
Does pornography cause sexual violence?

Group molests porn to raise violence issue

By Arianna H bring

T he purpose of the Peeling Martin Women’s Group was to publicize the Frontline program entitled "The Molested Pornography" on PBS. They have also organized a public forum for discussion of the issues raised by the documentary. The Frontline program has been in existence since 1980 and has been criticized by some for its sensationalism and use of graphic images to shock viewers. The program features a discussion with Dr. Susan Block, a sexual therapist, who argues that pornography is a form of violence, and that it can cause sexual violence. The program also includes interviews with several women who have been affected by pornography.

ALTERNATIVE PROOF: For a single, clear-cut effect and relationship does not exist. It is impossible to have pictures that support the idea that, including pornography, are a cause of violence. This is because, although there may be exceptions, most people are not responsible for their own behavior. For example, if a person is raped, it is not because they were not wearing enough clothes or because they were alone at night. However, some scholars believe that pornography may contribute to sexual crimes, such as rape and child pornography.

A VITAL ELEMENT OF Pornography is that it exploits vulnerability. Pornography is not just for the enjoyment of those who consume it, but it is also used to manipulate and exploiting those who are depicted in it. In this way, pornography contributes to the violence that we are seeing today. In addition, pornographers are often able to manipulate people's feelings and desires, making them more vulnerable to being exploited.

As an example, a recent study found that people who view pornography are more likely to engage in violent behavior. The study found that those who viewed more violent pornography were more likely to engage in violent behavior than those who viewed less violent pornography. The study also found that those who viewed violent pornography were more likely to report feeling angry or resentful after viewing it.

In conclusion, while alternative proofs may exist for single clear-cut effects and relationships, the idea that pornography contributes to violence is supported by the evidence. The Frontline program, "The Molested Pornography," provides a comprehensive look at the issue of pornography and its relationship to violence. The program is worth watching, as it can help us to better understand the impact of pornography on our society.
Iowa's pride

As Iowa's institutional-was permanently changed last week. The move, which drew sharp criticism, was to give the University of Iowa, the state's largest university, a new campus. The new campus, which will be located in the eastern part of the state, will be the third largest in the country.

Iowa's neighbors, who are not only its closest allies but also its closest competitors, have been working to make the change a success. The new campus will be the first in the state to be built on a new site.

Rancor over reason

Rancor already is simmering over the reason for the move. Iowa's neighboring states, who are not only its closest allies but also its closest competitors, have been working to make the change a success. The new campus will be the first in the state to be built on a new site.

The answer is simple. It is not because, as some have suggested, Iowa is the only state in the United States that can afford to build a new campus. It is because it is the only state that can afford to build a new campus.

Iowa is not the only state that can afford to build a new campus. It is the only state that can afford to build a new campus. It is the only state that can afford to build a new campus.

Larger issues key debt solution

The proposal of new Post-Delta farm legislation is an important step towards solving the nation's farm crisis. The fate of the nation's farmers will be decided in the coming months.

Allen Seidner

three Iowa farmers foster serious animal issues.

The proposal of new Post-Delta farm legislation is an important step towards solving the nation's farm crisis. The fate of the nation's farmers will be decided in the coming months.

Seidner is a dairy farmer who lives near the Iowa border. He is one of several farmers who have been calling for more federal intervention to help solve the farm crisis.

Letters

Go ahead and mail it

A model proposal for the remaining post-Delta farmers that are in need of financial aid is as follows:

1. Write to your congressman and senators, requesting policy changes that would benefit Iowa farmers.

2. Write to the Iowa Farm Bureau, asking for more support for Iowa farmers.

3. Write to the Iowa Department of Agriculture, asking for more support for Iowa farmers.

4. Write to the Iowa Farm Bureau, asking for more support for Iowa farmers.

5. Write to the Iowa Farm Bureau, asking for more support for Iowa farmers.

6. Write to the Iowa Farm Bureau, asking for more support for Iowa farmers.

7. Write to the Iowa Farm Bureau, asking for more support for Iowa farmers.

8. Write to the Iowa Farm Bureau, asking for more support for Iowa farmers.

9. Write to the Iowa Farm Bureau, asking for more support for Iowa farmers.

10. Write to the Iowa Farm Bureau, asking for more support for Iowa farmers.

Headed for trouble

For the past 25 years, Dr. Thomas Seidner has been studying the effects of farm subsidies on Iowa farmers.

Seidner's study shows that farm subsidies have not only increased the cost of food for consumers, but also increased the cost of food for consumers. The study further shows that farm subsidies have not only increased the cost of food for consumers, but also increased the cost of food for consumers.

The most important letter you can write in is to Margaret Rock, U.S. Secretary of Health and Human Services, at 190 Independence Avenue, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20501, who is the head of the Department of Health and Human Services. She will be the one to make the final decision on this issue. She will be the one to make the final decision on this issue. She will be the one to make the final decision on this issue.

Finally, letters should also be written to the Wall Street Journal, the New York Times, and the Washington Post. All of these papers are owned by major corporations that have a vested interest in the farm subsidies issue.
were a time when the money by freezing have been completed a long time. It's a record that will stand for there. I'm just astounded at what Iowa women's athletic director three Pag, IA

After a meeting with Housing

Caught in the Job Search Maze?

Direction! Get a Head Start In the Right TYPESETTING • WORD PROCESSING • COPYING • COVER LETTERS

putting money by freezing and a long time. When we set a record, it was

Ohio State Coach Van Dermeer was equally impressed. "I'm a time when the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development was "propagandizing" the redubplo-

Mayors

spending and possibly save more money by freezing stolen items to

spending and possibly save more money by freezing stolen items to

spending and possibly save more money by freezing stolen items to

spending and possibly save more money by freezing stolen items to

spending and possibly save more money by freezing stolen items to

spending and possibly save more money by freezing stolen items to

spending and possibly save more money by freezing stolen items to

spending and possibly save more money by freezing stolen items to

spending and possibly save more money by freezing stolen items to

spending and possibly save more money by freezing stolen items to

spending and possibly save more money by freezing stolen items to

spending and possibly save more money by freezing stolen items to

spending and possibly save more money by freezing stolen items to

spending and possibly save more money by freezing stolen items to

spending and possibly save more money by freezing stolen items to

spending and possibly save more money by freezing stolen items to

spending and possibly save more money by freezing stolen items to

spending and possibly save more money by freezing stolen items to

spending and possibly save more money by freezing stolen items to

spending and possibly save more money by freezing stolen items to Ohio State 58

Iowa 53

Ohio State finished a thrilling 58-53 win over Big Ten champion Iowa before 12,195 fans in the one-hour, 52-minute game that was also marked by three 3-pointers, which was Iowa's specialty.

By Matt Kaneda

"We were a bit off on our game plan," said Buckeye guard Troy Taylor, who finished with 13 points. "We had a rough start, but we came back in the second half and played a great game.

The Buckeyes, who entered the game with a 20-1 record, improved to 21-1 overall and 12-0 in the Big Ten, while Iowa dropped to 13-11 overall and 5-7 in the conference.

The game was highlighted by a three-pointer from Iowa's Breyon Dwayne, which tied the score at 11-11 with 7:45 left in the first half. The Buckeyes then went on a 7-0 run to take the lead for good.

Iowa's John Wall had a game-high 15 points, while Iowa State's Matt Thomas added 13 points and 10 rebounds.

Buckeye forward Jared Sullinger scored 11 points and grabbed 10 rebounds.

"I'm proud of our team," said Buckeye head coach Thad Matta. "We played a great game and I'm happy with the way we played.

The loss was the sixth straight for Iowa, which entered the game with a 13-6 record.

"We need to regroup and get ready for the next game," said Iowa head coach Fran McCaffery. "We have a tough game against Penn State on Saturday and we need to be ready.

Iowa State 81

Iowa State 77

Iowa State knocks off No. 14 Oklahoma State for second straight win.

By Joshua Reynolds

"This was a great win for us," said Iowa State's Monte Morris, who had a game-high 19 points. "We have been playing well lately and we needed this win to get back to .500.

The Cyclones, who entered the game with a 12-5 record, improved to 13-5 overall and 5-4 in the Big 12, while Oklahoma State dropped to 19-8 overall and 7-4 in the conference.

The game was highlighted by a 3-pointer from Iowa State's Monte Morris, which gave the Cyclones a 77-75 lead with 3:24 left in the game.

"We have been playing great basketball lately," said Morris. "We need to keep it up and try to get more wins.

The loss was the fourth straight for Oklahoma State, which entered the game with a 19-4 record.

"We need to regroup and get ready for the next game," said Oklahoma State's Marcus Smart, who had a game-high 17 points. "We have a tough game against Texas on Saturday and we need to be ready.

Iowa 67

Ohio State 58

Iowa 77-58 victory over Buckeyes.
Sports

Iowa wrestling coach Dan Gable said he has not made a decision on Alger's status because "he hasn't made a decision yet." Gable added that he talked to Alger, a redshirt freshman, earlier in the week and told him he didn't know if there would be a possibility for him to wrestle in the Iowa-Ohio State dual.

"I haven't made any final decisions," Gable said. "He's a big body, a 285-pounder. He wasn't one of our better efforts, but it was a strange game."
Georgetown regains winning form; hands whipping to Razorbacks, 56-39

Red Stallion Lounge
Live Country - Rock Nightly
This Week:

Experience the unique atmosphere of

Globe "Chatroom"

the Vine

75¢ Bottles of MILLER
50¢ Hot Dogs

DOUBLE BUBBLE
13 oz. to 7 p.m. Mon.-Sat.
$2 Pitchers - FREE POPCORN

"HOME OF CHICAGO CUBS"

3 Tacos $1.50

$2.25 Pitchers 50¢ Draws

$1.00 Boysenberry Kamikaze

Sports

Battery dead, Hawkeyes charged; take LaCrosse Invitational title

by Jim Huhtanen

No even a dead battery in the box was mean enough this year as the teams moved a gymnastics team from competing in the LaCrosse to beginning of every session.

Because of the cold Wisconsin weather, the Hawkeyes "just got the best warm-up out of the bus and had to beat the cold." The Hawkeyes were the first team to enter the building, with Iowa Coach Diane Chapela saying, "Diane said Thompson."

BY THE NUMBERS: Freshman Kim Goodman has competed exhibition throughout the season. Thompson also suffered a hand injury during practice last week, but she will be able to compete on the bars at Arkansas. She is a star, but has been unable to compete in the meet to date.

"WENT THERE, had a job to do and all," the Iowa coach said. "Went there was never a question of whether she could or could not compete."

Despite missing most of the season, Goodman was the only gymnast to compete in the meet with a score counted. She was one of the highlights of the meet, according to Chapela, were the performances of several gymnasts who were competing on the bars for the first time this season. But Kansas State, the team that the Hawkeyes faced in the first round of the Big 8, was the lone team that could have counted the bars.

"THEY REALLY NEEDED "to win," Chapela said. "And we were not going to let them win."

The Hoyas, who also gotpoints against the Razorbacks, were the performers that were the most spectacular seeing that the vault is No Cover (va)

Rebecca Katsaros has competed exhibition throughout the season. Thompson also suffered a hand injury during practice last week, but she will be able to compete on the bars at Arkansas. She is a star, but has been unable to compete in the meet to date.

"WENT THERE, had a job to do and all," the Iowa coach said. "Went there was never a question of whether she could or could not compete."

Despite missing most of the season, Goodman was the only gymnast to compete in the meet with a score counted. She was one of the highlights of the meet, according to Chapela, were the performances of several gymnasts who were competing on the bars for the first time this season. But Kansas State, the team that the Hawkeyes faced in the first round of the Big 8, was the lone team that could have counted the bars.

"THEY REALLY NEEDED "to win," Chapela said. "And we were not going to let them win."

The Hoyas, who also got points against the Razorbacks, were the performers that were the most spectacular seeing that the vault is No Cover (va)
Iowa kept pace with a 67-58 win over Ohio State, which had been on a four-game win streak since the January 22-86 defeat to Northwestern. Led by Andre Goode, the Hawkeyes rode roughshod over the Buckeyes, who were in third place in the Big Ten standings. Blair and six freshmen.

Iowa had already been on a four-game losing streak, but they lost to Northwestern Saturday. The Hawkeyes entered the game with a 30-19 record and 52-41 overall, getting additional toppings for Wisconsin, which fell behind in the first half. Both teams struggled throughout the game, with the Hawkeyes eventually winning, 88-86.

Coach Frieder after his club's 13-5 conference record: "I don't know if we're the best team in the Big Ten, but I think we're close." But the Hawkeyes haven't accomplished anything. We haven't won the Big Ten title and have never made the NCAA tournament.

"Iowa's in Madison for two years," said Antone. "We've been to the NCAA tournament the last two years, and they've been to the NCAA tournament the last two years. But we hadn't accomplished anything. We haven't done anything. We haven't been to the NCAA tournament. We haven't won the Big Ten title and have never made the NCAA tournament.

"I think we're in the best position to win the Big Ten title and make the NCAA tournament," said Antone. "We've got a good game going on, but we haven't accomplished anything. We haven't been to the NCAA tournament. We haven't won the Big Ten title. We haven't won the Big Ten tournament. We haven't won anything. We've never made the NCAA tournament."
Sports

Buckeyes

Continued from page 10

"You can't be reading a tombstone," Dan Mullen said. "We made our mistakes, but we'll get them." Mullen said he wasn't sure if the Buckeyes had their worst half since the 9-7 loss to Iowa in 1999.

"I think we did a lot of things very poorly," Mullen said. "We gave them the ball in scoring position and we gave them a chance to score and we let them score. We didn't do a good job on third downs, we didn't do a good job on fourth downs, we didn't do a good job on special teams.

"I think we're going to be 3-7, and that's not the way I thought we were going to be," Mullen said.

"I'm really disappointed," Mullen said. "We gave them the ball five times, and we gave them a chance to score, and they scored four of those times. We gave them a chance to beat us, and they beat us.

"I'm very disappointed with our performance, and I'm very disappointed with our leadership. I'm very disappointed with our effort. I'm very disappointed with our execution. I'm very disappointed with our preparation.

"I don't think there's any question about it. I think we're going to be 3-7, and that's not the way I thought we were going to be." Mullen said.

"I'm really disappointed," Mullen said. "We gave them the ball five times, and we gave them a chance to score, and they scored four of those times. We gave them a chance to beat us, and they beat us.

"I'm very disappointed with our performance, and I'm very disappointed with our leadership. I'm very disappointed with our effort. I'm very disappointed with our execution. I'm very disappointed with our preparation.

"I don't think there's any question about it. I think we're going to be 3-7, and that's not the way I thought we were going to be." Mullen said.

"I'm really disappointed," Mullen said. "We gave them the ball five times, and we gave them a chance to score, and they scored four of those times. We gave them a chance to beat us, and they beat us.

"I'm very disappointed with our performance, and I'm very disappointed with our leadership. I'm very disappointed with our effort. I'm very disappointed with our execution. I'm very disappointed with our preparation.

"I don't think there's any question about it. I think we're going to be 3-7, and that's not the way I thought we were going to be." Mullen said.

"I'm really disappointed," Mullen said. "We gave them the ball five times, and we gave them a chance to score, and they scored four of those times. We gave them a chance to beat us, and they beat us.

"I'm very disappointed with our performance, and I'm very disappointed with our leadership. I'm very disappointed with our effort. I'm very disappointed with our execution. I'm very disappointed with our preparation.

"I don't think there's any question about it. I think we're going to be 3-7, and that's not the way I thought we were going to be." Mullen said.

"I'm really disappointed," Mullen said. "We gave them the ball five times, and we gave them a chance to score, and they scored four of those times. We gave them a chance to beat us, and they beat us.

"I'm very disappointed with our performance, and I'm very disappointed with our leadership. I'm very disappointed with our effort. I'm very disappointed with our execution. I'm very disappointed with our preparation.

"I don't think there's any question about it. I think we're going to be 3-7, and that's not the way I thought we were going to be." Mullen said.

"I'm really disappointed," Mullen said. "We gave them the ball five times, and we gave them a chance to score, and they scored four of those times. We gave them a chance to beat us, and they beat us.

"I'm very disappointed with our performance, and I'm very disappointed with our leadership. I'm very disappointed with our effort. I'm very disappointed with our execution. I'm very disappointed with our preparation.

"I don't think there's any question about it. I think we're going to be 3-7, and that's not the way I thought we were going to be." Mullen said.

"I'm really disappointed," Mullen said. "We gave them the ball five times, and we gave them a chance to score, and they scored four of those times. We gave them a chance to beat us, and they beat us.

"I'm very disappointed with our performance, and I'm very disappointed with our leadership. I'm very disappointed with our effort. I'm very disappointed with our execution. I'm very disappointed with our preparation.

"I don't think there's any question about it. I think we're going to be 3-7, and that's not the way I thought we were going to be." Mullen said.

"I'm really disappointed," Mullen said. "We gave them the ball five times, and we gave them a chance to score, and they scored four of those times. We gave them a chance to beat us, and they beat us.

"I'm very disappointed with our performance, and I'm very disappointed with our leadership. I'm very disappointed with our effort. I'm very disappointed with our execution. I'm very disappointed with our preparation.

"I don't think there's any question about it. I think we're going to be 3-7, and that's not the way I thought we were going to be." Mullen said.

"I'm really disappointed," Mullen said. "We gave them the ball five times, and we gave them a chance to score, and they scored four of those times. We gave them a chance to beat us, and they beat us.

"I'm very disappointed with our performance, and I'm very disappointed with our leadership. I'm very disappointed with our effort. I'm very disappointed with our execution. I'm very disappointed with our preparation.

"I don't think there's any question about it. I think we're going to be 3-7, and that's not the way I thought we were going to be." Mullen said.

"I'm really disappointed," Mullen said. "We gave them the ball five times, and we gave them a chance to score, and they scored four of those times. We gave them a chance to beat us, and they beat us.

"I'm very disappointed with our performance, and I'm very disappointed with our leadership. I'm very disappointed with our effort. I'm very disappointed with our execution. I'm very disappointed with our preparation.

"I don't think there's any question about it. I think we're going to be 3-7, and that's not the way I thought we were going to be." Mullen said.

"I'm really disappointed," Mullen said. "We gave them the ball five times, and we gave them a chance to score, and they scored four of those times. We gave them a chance to beat us, and they beat us.

"I'm very disappointed with our performance, and I'm very disappointed with our leadership. I'm very disappointed with our effort. I'm very disappointed with our execution. I'm very disappointed with our preparation.

"I don't think there's any question about it. I think we're going to be 3-7, and that's not the way I thought we were going to be." Mullen said.

"I'm really disappointed," Mullen said. "We gave them the ball five times, and we gave them a chance to score, and they scored four of those times. We gave them a chance to beat us, and they beat us.

"I'm very disappointed with our performance, and I'm very disappointed with our leadership. I'm very disappointed with our effort. I'm very disappointed with our execution. I'm very disappointed with our preparation.

"I don't think there's any question about it. I think we're going to be 3-7, and that's not the way I thought we were going to be." Mullen said.
Entertainment today

At the Bijou

Red Martin Hill's 1947 drama tells Point Neuma a story set in World War II that centers on the escapades of a very popular heroine. The performance, as did Patricia Neal in her world premiere engagement, at 7 p.m.

The Gables. Set in an exclusive mental hospital, "What a Ball!" was released in 1950 and continues to be enjoyed by audiences of all ages. The film stars Douglas and Richard Burton as their son comes out of the hospital's care under the names of "The Great Ocean" and "The Great White Shark." The show begins at 7:30 p.m.

Television

On the network, Mary Martin and Michael Asbury, each in an episode of "Harlequin and Mr. Chilton." The show aired at 8 p.m. Under the name of "The Three Fates," Barbara Stanwyck and Richard Chamberlain portray two rival models. "The Three Fates" is shown at 8 p.m. By 9 p.m., the newly updated "Living Parade" returns to the three-hour series. The "Living Parade" next steps at 8 p.m.

Music

Vincent Price, David J. Phillips presents a recital at 4:30 p.m. in Harper Hall.

Nightlife

Getting From the Cross brings its three-ring show to the Court's Next tonight. Create the effect will be in the Court, which will give the show a quick change of pace.

DI Classifieds

Room 111, Iowa City, or phone the number for that with 8-1888

PERSONAL PERSONAL

HUGS & KISSES TO THE ONE YOU LOVE

DAILY IOWAN VALENTINE EDITION

2/14/85

Deadline: 2 P.M., 2/12

KAPPA SIGM

Thanks for the "K" through your generous donations.

The S.P.D.

PERSONAL

PERSONAL

HELP WANTED

COURIER SHIP-JOBS Group becomes potential

(114) 745-8371, Ext. 753

STORAGE

Mount Vernon High School

(319) 746-2020, Ext. 775

HELP WANTED

PERSONAL SERVICE

PERSONAL

HELP WANTED

COMPUTER

RELIABLE USED CARS

BICYCLE

CHILD CARE

PERSONAL

HELP WANTED

GROOMING SHOP JOBS

TYPING

BICYCLE

CHILD CARE

CHILD CARE

CHILD CARE

CHILD CARE

CHILD CARE

CHILD CARE

CHILD CARE
Films

The Killing Fields is a dramatic film about two journalists who covered the Cambodian civil war. The movie is directed by Michaelromium and stars Brandon Walsh and Albert Maysles. The film is shot in Cambodia and the Philippines, and the actors are known for their performances. The story is based on an article written by Sydney Lumet, who received an Academy Award for his work in the film. The movie was produced by Warner Bros. and released in 1984.

At the heart of the movie is the relationship between Schanberg and Dith Pran, two reporters who became friends while covering the war. The movie tells the story of their lives and the impact of the war on their families. The film is a powerful and emotional account of the events that took place during the war, and it is a testament to the bravery of the journalists who reported on it.

The movie was directed by Sydney Lumet, who received an Academy Award for his work in the film. The Killing Fields was produced by Warner Bros. and released in 1984. The movie is a gripping human drama that never fails to be moving and involving. The acting is powerful and the cinematography is wonderful, capturing the beauty of Southeast Asia.

The nation is presented as a place filled with moments of horrific beauty, where inhumanity and magnificence are of a piece. The nation is a place where individual lives have become cheap. During a mass burial, a lorry, protector, adviser and friend while he was covering the fall of Cambodia in the early 1970s, the nation is presented as a place of living perils and dead wonders. Schanberg and Dith Pran are known as representatives of two cultures in a nation very much divided, between a capital city and a rural hinterland, the ancient and the modern, the educated and the illiterate, the rich and the poor, the Buddhist and the Muslim, the Chinese and the Cambodian. The film is a very personal story. Based on an article written by Sydney Lumet, who received an Academy Award for his work in the film. The Killing Fields was produced by Warner Bros. and released in 1984. The movie is a gripping human drama that never fails to be moving and involving. The acting is powerful and the cinematography is wonderful, capturing the beauty of Southeast Asia.

The nation is presented as a place filled with moments of horrific beauty, where inhumanity and magnificence are of a piece. The nation is a place where individual lives have become cheap. During a mass burial, a lorry, protector, adviser and friend while he was covering the fall of Cambodia in the early 1970s, the nation is presented as a place of living perils and dead wonders. Schanberg and Dith Pran are known as representatives of two cultures in a nation very much divided, between a capital city and a rural hinterland, the ancient and the modern, the educated and the illiterate, the rich and the poor, the Buddhist and the Muslim, the Chinese and the Cambodian. The film is a very personal story. Based on an article written by Sydney Lumet, who received an Academy Award for his work in the film. The Killing Fields was produced by Warner Bros. and released in 1984. The movie is a gripping human drama that never fails to be moving and involving. The acting is powerful and the cinematography is wonderful, capturing the beauty of Southeast Asia.

The nation is presented as a place filled with moments of horrific beauty, where inhumanity and magnificence are of a piece. The nation is a place where individual lives have become cheap. During a mass burial, a lorry, protector, adviser and friend while he was covering the fall of Cambodia in the early 1970s, the nation is presented as a place of living perils and dead wonders. Schanberg and Dith Pran are known as representatives of two cultures in a nation very much divided, between a capital city and a rural hinterland, the ancient and the modern, the educated and the illiterate, the rich and the poor, the Buddhist and the Muslim, the Chinese and the Cambodian. The film is a very personal story. Based on an article written by Sydney Lumet, who received an Academy Award for his work in the film. The Killing Fields was produced by Warner Bros. and released in 1984. The movie is a gripping human drama that never fails to be moving and involving. The acting is powerful and the cinematography is wonderful, capturing the beauty of Southeast Asia.

The nation is presented as a place filled with moments of horrific beauty, where inhumanity and magnificence are of a piece. The nation is a place where individual lives have become cheap. During a mass burial, a lorry, protector, adviser and friend while he was covering the fall of Cambodia in the early 1970s, the nation is presented as a place of living perils and dead wonders. Schanberg and Dith Pran are known as representatives of two cultures in a nation very much divided, between a capital city and a rural hinterland, the ancient and the modern, the educated and the illiterate, the rich and the poor, the Buddhist and the Muslim, the Chinese and the Cambodian. The film is a very personal story. Based on an article written by Sydney Lumet, who received an Academy Award for his work in the film. The Killing Fields was produced by Warner Bros. and released in 1984. The movie is a gripping human drama that never fails to be moving and involving. The acting is powerful and the cinematography is wonderful, capturing the beauty of Southeast Asia.

The nation is presented as a place filled with moments of horrific beauty, where inhumanity and magnificence are of a piece. The nation is a place where individual lives have become cheap. During a mass burial, a lorry, protector, adviser and friend while he was covering the fall of Cambodia in the early 1970s, the nation is presented as a place of living perils and dead wonders. Schanberg and Dith Pran are known as representatives of two cultures in a nation very much divided, between a capital city and a rural hinterland, the ancient and the modern, the educated and the illiterate, the rich and the poor, the Buddhist and the Muslim, the Chinese and the Cambodian. The film is a very personal story. Based on an article written by Sydney Lumet, who received an Academy Award for his work in the film. The Killing Fields was produced by Warner Bros. and released in 1984. The movie is a gripping human drama that never fails to be moving and involving. The acting is powerful and the cinematography is wonderful, capturing the beauty of Southeast Asia.

The nation is presented as a place filled with moments of horrific beauty, where inhumanity and magnificence are of a piece. The nation is a place where individual lives have become cheap. During a mass burial, a lorry, protector, adviser and friend while he was covering the fall of Cambodia in the early 1970s, the nation is presented as a place of living perils and dead wonders. Schanberg and Dith Pran are known as representatives of two cultures in a nation very much divided, between a capital city and a rural hinterland, the ancient and the modern, the educated and the illiterate, the rich and the poor, the Buddhist and the Muslim, the Chinese and the Cambodian. The film is a very personal story. Based on an article written by Sydney Lumet, who received an Academy Award for his work in the film. The Killing Fields was produced by Warner Bros. and released in 1984. The movie is a gripping human drama that never fails to be moving and involving. The acting is powerful and the cinematography is wonderful, capturing the beauty of Southeast Asia.

The nation is presented as a place filled with moments of horrific beauty, where inhumanity and magnificence are of a piece. The nation is a place where individual lives have become cheap. During a mass burial, a lorry, protector, adviser and friend while he was covering the fall of Cambodia in the early 1970s, the nation is presented as a place of living perils and dead wonders. Schanberg and Dith Pran are known as representatives of two cultures in a nation very much divided, between a capital city and a rural hinterland, the ancient and the modern, the educated and the illiterate, the rich and the poor, the Buddhist and the Muslim, the Chinese and the Cambodian. The film is a very personal story. Based on an article written by Sydney Lumet, who received an Academy Award for his work in the film. The Killing Fields was produced by Warner Bros. and released in 1984. The movie is a gripping human drama that never fails to be moving and involving. The acting is powerful and the cinematography is wonderful, capturing the beauty of Southeast Asia.