WASHINGTON (UPI) -- The state Department of Justice plans to recommend sanctions against South Africa to Congress next month based on a report that chronicles more than 200 cases of human rights violations in South Africa and other countries.

The department's investigative annual report to Congress on human rights practices around the world found that "serious deterioration" against blacks in South Africa and "serious human rights violations in the former French colony of New Caledonia" have continued to deteriorate.

The Reagan administration has recommended that the United Nations, the European Economic Community and the Administration take steps to solve the problem, reportedly because of the "serious deterioration" against blacks in South Africa, according to the report.

Proposed band shell draws controversy

By David Levens

Several local performance groups are responding to the University of Illinois' proposal for a band shell in Lower City Park, but residents near the park are concerned about the noise and traffic that will accompany the proposal.

The university plans to build a band shell in the park, located near the Illinois State Capitol, as part of a larger development project.

A few performance groups are concerned about the noise and traffic that will accompany the proposal.

"It's a nice noise from the concerts," said local resident Penny Wallace. "But it's a different kind of noise from what we're used to here."

Finals held early for many courses

UI students appear to disagree with change of Liberal Arts Dean Gerhard Loewenberg's announcement that introductory natural history fall recitation is held during the exam week rather than at the departmental time set by the department.

According to Loewenberg, the practice of holding the recitation at a different time than the recitation time set by the department and dean of the appropriate college means that the UI student will hold a final exam at a time other than that scheduled by the department and dean of the appropriate college.

Loewenberg said in a pre-scheduled interview that the change in the recitation time was made to avoid conflicts with other courses. The new recitation time is scheduled to be held at 10 a.m. on Wednesdays during the exam week.

The students also said they believe the change in the recitation time is a problem for them since they will have to reschedule their exams and will be unable to attend the departmental recitation.

The change in the recitation time will affect many students, especially those who are taking courses that have recitations during the exam week.

U.S., Soviets to hold Middle East talks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U.S. and Soviet officials will meet in Vienna next week to pursue START talks for arms control, President Reagan announced Wednesday. National Security Adviser John Poindexter announced that he had met with Soviet Foreign Minister Eduard Shevardnadze in Geneva earlier Wednesday.

"We are prepared to participate with the Soviets in this dialogue," Poindexter told reporters. "We've had a number of meetings already, and we'll further explore the issues.

"There's been a lot of discussion, and I think we've got a good sense of where we're headed," Poindexter added.

The talks were proposed by Shevardnadze during his visit here Monday to the White House meeting last fall, and has been described by President Ronald Reagan and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko in Moscow, Thursday, just before the meeting.

President Reagan said that he and Gromyko are "tentatively agreed that the talks would take place without setting the time and place.

This announcement, following a report in The New York Times Wednesday, comes at a time of renewed activity on the Middle Eastern situation, with heightened concern over the nuclear crisis.

President Reagan has been under fire for not holding the violence in the Middle East.

"We need a Middle East that is free of nuclear weapons," he said.

"And we need a Middle East that is free of violence," he added.

A lesson learned

Gay and Lesbian Pride Week is observed each year on the campus of the Stonewall Inn, a site which has taken on special meaning for the members of the gay and lesbian community. The Stonewall Inn is a place where people could come together and feel safe from the discrimination and harassment that they faced in society. The Inn was the site of the Stonewall Riots of 1969, which marked the beginning of the modern gay rights movement. Every year, the Inn is decorated with pride flags and illuminated with lights to celebrate the gay and lesbian community and their achievements. The Inn serves as a reminder of the struggles that the gay and lesbian community has faced and the importance of continuing to fight for equality and acceptance.

Hawkeyes sign 17 recruits; lose Wallace, Ringer

Recruiting

In the Harris Report, Captain Wallace, a 6-foot, 210-pound end from Marion, Ill., told the Iowa coaching staff last January that he would sign a letter of intent with Iowa on Wednesday.

But he signed the letter of intent with Illinois on Tuesday, leaving the Hawkeye football program with a mixed reaction.

Wallace's decision was a shock to the coaching staff, who had been working on the recruit for months.

"We were really excited about getting Wallace," said Coach Kirk Ferentz. "He's a great player, and he would have been a huge addition to our team."

But Ferentz also acknowledged that the loss of Wallace was a blow to the program.

"We were hoping for a big junior college player," Ferentz said. "But we're still happy with the players we have signed."

Cheevers resigns as Bruins coach

Boston (AP) — Gerry Cheevers resigned Monday as head coach of the NHL's struggling Boston Bruins and general manager Harry Sinden said the team will turn to the man who has twice led the Bruins to the Stanley Cup in the last seven years, 1970 and 1972.

The Bruins, who are 3-9-0 and in last place in the Newly formed NHL division, fired Cheevers last night in Los Angeles.

"It was a tremendously difficult decision to make," said Sinden after his meeting with Cheevers. "As the general manager, I am fully aware that we have had a poor start to the season, despite a strong record last year. It was a decision that had to be made in the best interests of the team and the organization."

Cheevers, who has given a great deal to this organization both as a player and coach, believes he has a chance to make a change in the face of the past performance of the club in recent years.

It has been a disappointing season for the Bruins, who began the season with the promise of last season's Stanley Cup run. But the team has struggled, losing eight straight games.

Cheevers, who has been with the Bruins since 1964, will now prepare for the team's game Thursday night in Los Angeles.

"It was an extremely difficult decision to make," Cheevers said. "I felt we had a lot of potential to make the playoffs."
Timeless 'Anne Frank' delights in spite of flaws

By Richard Panama

Feld Ballet

ANNIE FRANK is not a new musical, it's a new musical. It is the brainchild of Jerry and Brenda Feld, who founded the Feld Ballet in 1985. The musical is based on the true story of the Frank family, who hid from the Nazis in Amsterdam during World War II. The musical tells the story of Anne Frank, her family, and her friends, and how they survived the war.

The musical features a cast of dancers and actors, who bring the story to life through dance and music. The setting is a simple stage, with a few props, and the costumes are based on period pieces. The music is a blend of classical and contemporary compositions.

The musical received mixed reviews from critics, who praised the performers for their talent but criticized the script and the direction. However, the musical has been a commercial success, with several tours and productions around the world.

Reversing strategy enlivens 'BETRAYAL'

BETRAYAL

By Harold Pinter

Exit 7

Betrayal by Harold Pinter, directed by David Jones, at the Harbor Theatre. The production is a reversal of the original play, with Emma and Jerry as the central characters, and the action taking place in reverse. The reversal of the play's events allows for a fresh interpretation of the characters' motivations and actions.

Foolish Pleasure handsome hits Iowan City

By Anne Hopp

Night life

Foolish Pleasure, a popular local band, kicked off their summer tour with a performance in Iowan City. The band's energetic performance and catchy tunes kept the audience dancing throughout the night. Foolish Pleasure is known for their lively shows and has been a favorite of locals for many years.

Theater

The Diary of Anne Frank is a musical adaptation of the diary of Anne Frank, who lived in hiding during World War II. The musical is based on the book by Anne Frank and is set in Amsterdam. The show tells the story of Anne, her family, and her friends, and how they survived the war.

Happy Valentine's Day, Lon

The day of love has finally come.
Today may mean not a thing to some.
But that just isn't the truth for me.
As through this rhyme, I'll hope you'll see.
We've been through times of joy and pain,
But together we'll always stop the rain.
Let me make just one thing clear,
I love you, my dear.
No Mike or Brian or Kevin or Ron,
Will ever replace my own sweet Lon!

HAPPY VALENTINE'S DAY

Bonnie,
I can't fight the feeling,
I can't stop loving you.
I want you, forever and a day.
Always love,

Dear [Name],

I am writing to inquire about the availability of a room in your apartment for rent. I am currently looking for a place to live in the [Iowa City] area and I heard about your apartment through [source of information].

Could you please provide me with more details about the room? I am particularly interested in knowing about the size of the room, the amenities included, and any additional costs that may be associated with renting the room. Additionally, I would like to know if there are any specific requirements or preferences that I should be aware of before applying.

Thank you for your time and consideration. I look forward to hearing back from you soon.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]
