Invalidate signatures stall bid for nuclear ban

By David Rolnick

As an ordinary person with no greater interest in the nuclear issue than the average reader of this paper, I was interested to learn that the group calling itself "Citizens for a Secured Hemisphere" had been stopped in its tracks last week by a signature filing "fiasco" at the City Clerk's Office in Portland. The group needed 2,500 valid signatures to force the council to consider a proposal for the establishment of a "all-out" nuclear weapon ban.

But the proposal could still be passed, said Council President Peter=create new paragraph

"IF WE DO OR we don't get the signatures, the council will probably agree to the proposal at a meeting tonight, and it will then proceed to hold a public hearing."

SEOUL, South Korea - Three people died and 18 remained missing when a boat struck a natural gas pipeline in South Korea on Tuesday. The accident occurred near the southern coast, 18 miles from the country's mainland.

Moyishan: deficit planned

Washington - White House economic adviser Larry Summers said Tuesday that the United States would have a deficit this year due to increased spending and decreased revenue.

Doctors have advised the administration to prepare for a deficit of $50 billion to $60 billion.

Allied, the interview was part of a tour by Summers to the White House. Summers said that the deficit was 'deliberately begun' by the Reagan administration as a way to eliminate federal debt.

The United States' deficit, he said, was $115 billion in 1983 and $23 billion in 1984, a reduction of 36 percent.

Reports of rape rise by 7%

WASHINGTON - Reports of rape in the United States increased by 7 percent in 1984, marking the third consecutive annual rise. The FBI reported Tuesday, the latest year for which it has complete statistics.

The FBI said it has received a total of 7,039 reports of rape, a rise of 7 percent from the 6,591 reports received in 1983.

UI clinic provides dental aid for infants and children

By Stephen Goepferd Special to the Iowa City Press-Citizen

"We just want this to be good habits," the dental hygienist said. "It's important that we educate parents on the importance of dental health from an early age."

Goepferd said that the clinic also hopes to help prevent problems before they become too severe. The clinic will help parents establish good oral care habits at an early age, Goepferd said, and parents will be taught how to care for their children's teeth.

"The clinic is open to anyone, not just those who have insurance," Goepferd said. "We want to make sure that everyone has access to dental care, regardless of their ability to pay."

In Your Woman, Bernhard, Bernhard. Sandra.

SANDRA Bernhard, who "is in the main valley of the Mark for all I know," has a topic that is really none of my business.

The TV starlet, a graduate of the Houson publicist Bruce Olson, spoke recently of his 59-year-old actor was rushed last week to the hospital for a stomach ailment. "We're not sure what the exact problem is, but whatever it is, it's serious," he said.

"It's a relief," Olson said. "He's been in rough shape lately, and we were worried about him."

"But we're hopeful that he'll make a full recovery," Olson added.

"I'm looking forward to seeing him back on the job soon," he concluded.

Nighttime soap plots revealed

By Menno Grote

At the Biou

The program is a hilarious take on the soap opera genre, with characters and plotlines that are completely impossible and absurd. The show mocks the typical soap opera tropes, such as romance, drama, and conflict, and instead focuses on absurd and ridiculous scenarios.

At last night's episode, the main plotline revolves around the characters trying to solve a mystery. They are searching for a lost treasure, and the clues lead them all over the world, from ancient ruins to modern cities.

The show is a satire of the soap opera genre, and it is clear that the writers have no intention of following any real-life events or plotlines. Instead, they create their own, imaginative storylines that are full of humor and absurdity.

Television

The 1970s TV show Dynasty has been remade for the new generation, with a focus on the soap opera genre. The show follows the lives of the Carrington family, who are embroiled in various scandals and controversies.

In the new version, the show has been updated to reflect modern issues and trends, with a focus on social justice and equality. The show has been praised for its positive representation of LGBTQ+ characters and storylines.

The show has been a hit with audiences, and has been renewed for a second season. The cast and crew are now hard at work bringing the show to life once again.
Highway's lore lures teacher

The original Lincoln Highway, which went from New York to San Francisco—"good west just like the pioneer"—was conceived by the Lincoln Highway Association in 1913. The group, which was formed to promote the automobile industry and was based in Chicago. At that time, automobile manufactur- ers were shadowed by the service and role of trains. No one could foresee the impact of non-automobile industries, which were being created by the automobile's impact.

The highway was known for its long-distance travel, its long-distance travel how it can last for the next 100 years. The John Steinbeck novel is based on the Lincoln Highway.

Alaska to impeach governor

JUNEAU, Alaska (UPI) - Alaska's impeachment proceedings resume today with the state Senate Committee hearing testimony from the man who benefited from a $3 million lease sale allegedly rigged for his use by William Sheffield, a former Democratic governor.

Sheffield, who was arrested in connection with the lease sale controversy, testified in March that he would be indicted if a senate probe revealed his role in the lease sale.

Sheffield, who was Gov. Bill Arsenault's predecessor, was indicted on charges of racketeering, bribery and corruption, but the Senate is considering whether to impeach him.

DAVENPORT—Ione Benoit won the first women's marathon in the Olympic Trials for Los Angeles last Saturday, but when 1981 comes around, the Olympic trials may not find Benoit going for the gold in Seoul, Korea.

"I don't think that I'll be back for the Trials," said Benoit. "They're not even the Trials of the 1981 Olympic Games to me, they're the Trials of the 1981 Olympic Trials.

Benoit's strong start was a key to her marathon victory in Los Angeles. The native Kenyan from Mombasa, Kenya pulled away from the pack after 20 miles and won by 12 seconds over Curp, Danzig, and Rodgers.

Although Benoit beat Curp by 12 seconds, her marathon time for the seven-mile race Saturday was better than his previous course record as the seven-mile race at the Olympic Trials was set by Rodgers in 1981.

"No, I wasn't surprised with Benoit's performance," said Curp. "They failed to mention him in the post-race analysis, and I'm not sure why. He's a good competitor, and he's not doing it for the money, but just because he has to do that well.
