Mandela release demanded

Johannesburg, South Africa (UPI) — South African business leaders called Monday for the government to grant concessionary terms to Nelson Mandela and break him out of the Victor Verster prison. The leaders cited the government's recent release of scores of political prisoners and said the government's action was premature.

The Executive Council, in a statement, said: "We hope that the government will keep the promise it has made to us to release all political prisoners."

Mandela is now serving the last year of a life sentence for sabotage. He has been in prison since June 11, 1962, under the Nationalist government.

The statement ended: "We hope that the government will keep its promise to us to release all political prisoners."

The government has already released scores of political prisoners, but many business leaders feel that the government's action was premature.

Extension of paternity leave proposed for UI employees

By Robert O'Connor Staff writer

The UI plans up to five days of emergency sick leave to new fathers to care for their new sons here after their wives give birth, two county employees said.

A recent report by the UI Council on the Status of Women called for a study of extending and including the idea of extending the current paternity leave for employees.

Women's Resources and Action Center Director Susan Buckley said the UI must have future plans for how it will deal with the increasing number of child-rearing skills.

The freedom of women is increased when they share in the responsibility of raising children," says Susan Buckley, a proponent of extending paternity leave.

"Freedom of women is increased when men share in the responsibility of raising children," says Susan Buckley, a proponent of extending paternity leave.

Women UI employees are allowed to use up to six weeks of extended sick leave, without prior notice, following childbirth, according to the report. After that, unpaid sick leave is prorated in three-week increm ents.

Women must be involved in the decision-making process of how the leave will be handled in the future.

Additional future plans will be announced at a later date.

Radical action

Five Iowa City women rode in Saturday's Order Bitch, bars, and: Iowan. They were: with pets, of rock, fog dog and water balloons along the the women massed at the east side of the women who wanted to prove that the female body is not obscene and that it should not be scarred by pornography.

Farley and her pornography-fighter-fueled thumbs are not new to this cause.

None of the anti-viandar pornography group has shown slams into doors and ripped up Pentagon Papers, but Mary Beth Freking, a resident of the Iowa City area, has spoken up to protest the publication of the skin magazine.

The pornography fighters don't oppose nudity as such. They advocate sex education, access to birth control, and counseling sexual aberrations.

They do oppose the demonization and glorification of violence. They object to the display of women's bodies to sell products and they object to the inutility of sex appeal designated for sex and women.

Farley can agree that violent pornography is wrong, that it is inherently obscene. But what is obscene in the manner in which the Women's Freedom Front and similar groups have tried to fight their battles.

Breaking laws and parading through towns has boiled with the rage of violence, a style that will also close the minds of many who might agree with the cause but object to the manner used. This is called the "more maintainer" manner.

Sects actions often elicit radical disagreement. To fight violent pornography and sexual oppression through extreme means, letter-writing campaigns, and petitions would most likely produce more satisfaction with the cause than adherence to the issue.

The United States has now ended a weekend of self-congratulation, celebrating the birth of the nation. The July 4 parade passed through the streets of the nation's capital with reports of other activities that will probably go on for weeks.

But the parade, after a multi-million dollar civic display under the glow of bright fireworks, was marked by a grim reminder that we are a nation rickety founded with a human potential. The impotent strains of the "built ideal" in New York Har.

The events in New York on the Fourth of July were not the only public displays in America. In Japan, Western Europe, and the richly productive third world, the female body is not obscene and it should be celebrated.

But the parade on the Fourth of July was a great event for our nation. We are far from perfection, but we are surrounded by more than five painful truths that threaten to destroy our nation.

Admittedly, the celebrations of the past weekend were not intended to be a formal defeat for patriots and conservatives. Some of those jollities and solemnities that were held.

City planner post amended

By Carol Numanga

The Johnson County Board of Supervisors decided Thursday to place the Job Corps Center project on a new 3-2-2-1 year planning schedule, eliminating a previous planner position that had been created last month.

Supervisor Beth Patandt, who represents the district of the new planner position in Iowa City, opposed the move and said the planner would be needed to handle any new projects.

"We need to address the planning and coordination with the new projects, and I don’t know what will happen if we don’t have a planner," Patandt said.

Future planning efforts will focus on a "mini-plan" proposal. The mini-plan was suggested by Todd Parke, the county’s director of development and planning.

"We need to address the planning and coordination with the new projects, and I don’t know what will happen if we don’t have a planner," Patandt said.

Evelyns return to native Shenandoah

By Kent Schubert

Sunday for The Daily Iowan

SHENANDOAH — From dawn till dusk in Shenandoah, Iowa, were left crying and carrying on Saturday night (Aug. 21) a campaign to boost Iowa’s biggest annual industry — the parade. Several hundred paraders are returning this year to promote the program featuring the Everly Brothers, the Everly Brothers Fan Club, and the Rock Hall.

Saturday’s event was the brainchild of Bill Hillman, a Shoe Repair Inc. and employee of Sierra Lumber Co., who wants to make Shenandoah a better place to visit. Hillman said the parade would be held on August 21, the Everly Brothers’ birthday.

The parade stretched along the entire main street in downtown, with floats and marching bands leading the way. The crowd was estimated at around 10,000 people.

Music

Evelyn was present and performed with the Everly Brothers. They sang their famous songs, including “Bye Bye Love” and “All I Have to Do Is Dream.” The audience was enthusiastic, and many cheered and sang along.

Sunday for The Daily Iowan

SOMEWHERE BACKSTAGE — The audience may have been cheering and dancing to the music of the Everly Brothers, but for the performers, it was all about the music. The concert was the highlight of a weekend of events that included a parade, a rodeo, and a fair.

The Everly Brothers’ set was a celebration of their musical career, with classics such as “Bye Bye Love” and “All I Have To Do Is Dream.” The crowd was in high spirits, dancing and singing along to the music.

Music

The Everly Brothers performed at the La Fosse concert, which was held in the evening. The band was supported by a full orchestra and several backup singers. The performance was well-received by the audience.

THE LAST TIME

The last time the duo performed in Shenandoah was back in 1983 on their parlor-themed show. The seating was excellent, and the audience was enthusiastic. The Everly Brothers performed several of their hits, including “Bye Bye Love” and “All I Have To Do Is Dream.”

Tickets

Tickets for the concert are available at the box office, which is located at 121 E. Main St. in Shenandoah. Tickets range from $50 to $100, depending on the seating section.
