Board debates tuition plan for city schools

By Carol Manherz

Some foreign students complain of high tuition rates and fees at the Iowa City School Board meeting Tuesday night.

The board approved a plan to pay up to $1,500 in tuition if the Iowa City School Board approved a proposed policy which would allow students from other countries to attend the local school and pay tuition. The board approved the plan last week. Students are to be charged $200 per year for the first year of study, and this amount will increase by $200 per year for the second and third years, and by $300 per year for the fourth year. The plan is to be implemented September, 1975.

Some students have complained that the policy is unfair to American students because it allows foreign students to pay lower tuition rates. American students, on the other hand, have to pay full tuition rates. The board has decided to implement the plan as a way of helping foreign students and American students alike.

Most of the Iowa City School Board members were in agreement that the policy was fair and would benefit both students. Member John L. Younger, however, opposed the plan, saying it would be unfair to American students.

Liggott contributes to effective functioning of juveniles

By John Hatten

Shoppers, vendors and locals were all excited late last week to hear June Liggott say, "I see all the kids from Johnson County as my family." Liggott, who has a reputation for making the county a better place for everyone, has been a mainstay in the area for many years. Liggott's dedication to the community is an inspiration to all who come into contact with her.

"When I see the kids, I feel like I'm seeing the future," Liggott said. "They are the ones who will dictate the future of our community, and I want to make sure they have the best possible start." Liggott's work in the community is a testament to her commitment to making a difference.

Liggott works with approximately 250 juveniles a year, providing guidance and support to those who need it most. Her work is essential in helping young people make the right choices and avoid negative outcomes.

The PROGRAM DIVERTS first-offenders from the court system in the same way the former Johnson County Juvenile Court Diversion program divert individuals from the criminal justice system. Liggott was a partner offering a three-year program for first offenders of all types before county courts.

The Juvenile Court Diversion program failed to find work rewarding because of the high costs associated with it. However, Liggott remains dedicated to the cause and continues to work towards making a positive impact on the community.

"I believe in the power of optimism and the ability to change," Liggott said. "I want to be a part of that change and help as many people as possible." Liggott's work is a shining example of dedication and commitment to making a difference in the lives of others.

Star Wars to cost an estimated $770 billion

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Building and deploying a ground- based defense system to protect the United States from nuclear missiles could cost as much as $770 billion, according to a new report released today in the nation's capital.

The report, prepared by a team of economists and defense analysts, concluded that the project would be a major financial burden on the U.S. economy and could have serious implications for the nation's financial health.

The cost of the project, which is expected to take at least 20 years to complete, would be comparable to the cost of building the entire American nuclear arsenal, according to the report's authors.

The report's authors cautioned that the cost of the project could be even higher if the missile threat from Iran or North Korea were to escalate.

Branstad ignoring Guard trip caution

DES MOINES (UPI) - Gov. Terry Branstad, whose state would be in danger of being struck by a limited nuclear exchange in the event of a nuclear war, was not informed of the trip.

"I have not been contacted by the military about this trip," said Branstad. "I am not aware of any plans for a nuclear strike."

Evacuation plans were being reviewed by state officials, who said they were preparing for the possibility of a large-scale evacuation.

Snape to consider Manion vote recall

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Rep. Robert Bancher, D-Calif., said today that he would consider a recall vote on Rep. Jim Manion, R-N.Y., if the congressman votes against the new national missile defense system.

Bancher said Manion's vote could cost the state millions of dollars.

"If Manion votes against the defense system, he will be voting against the interests of the people of California," said Bancher. "I will not support a congressman who votes against the safety of our state."

The recall vote would be held on the same day as the presidential election.

Californians shudder as tremors continue

CHALFANTVALLEY, Calif. (UPI) - Hundreds of aftershocks continued to shake the area Thursday, keeping residents awake and on edge.

"It's like living through a nightmare," said one resident. "I never thought I would experience something like this in my lifetime."

The aftershocks, which began two days earlier, have continued throughout the day and are expected to continue for several more days.

The U.S. Geological Survey is monitoring the area and has not issued any evacuations.

"We are monitoring the situation closely," said a USGS spokesperson. "There is no immediate danger to the public."

"It's been a long and stressful week," said another resident. "I hope this ends soon."

Bear defenders approve of Tobin's new scheme

PLATTSVILLE, N.J. — The huge defense in the National Football League is becoming a smaller version of itself, coach Jim Johnson said.

The Chicago Bears' dominating defense under coordinator Buddy Ryan last season ended up only in third place in the NFL in terms of average defense. When Ryan left to become the Philadelphia Eagles' head coach, linebacker Mike Stewart was hired as Chicago's new defensive coordinator.

"I think it's a good scheme," Stewart said. "I think it's a good scheme. It's a good scheme for us." Stewart believes Tobin's new defensive scheme will work better.

"You just play football," said safety starter Don Wilkins. "You just play football. I don't know what he's talking about. I don't know what he's talking about."

The Bears' defense will be the most different this year. The Bears' defense is expected to play with four down linemen at least on first and second downs, something the team will need to adjust to quickly.

"It's a different scheme," Stewart said. "You've got four good linemen." Wilkins said. "You've got four good linemen."

ON PASSING downs, the Bears will use a 4-4 defense. Sometimes, that will mean tackle Williams "The Refrigerator," Perry. Wilkins said. "He's a great player."

The new alignment will force Perry, who weighs more than 300 pounds, to runB the ball on every play. But there will be times when Perry can line up like a tackle.

"I like it if the defense is better," Wilkins said. "I like it if the defense is better."
Despite tough attitude, NFL fails to lower pay

Despite a deliberate hardline by the NFL, the key issues from the 1983 draft were expected to be a fallback rookie salary to $120,000 as desired, by NFL Players Association and Tom Coughlin of the New York Giants, who is the head of the NFL's浦公 Salary Negotiations Committee. The NFL's primary focus was on stopping the USFL and an expected investigation into the NFL's revenue-sharing practices. The NFL's position was that the USFL was infringing on the NFL's territory. Despite this, the NFL and USFL reached a settlement that allowed players in USFL to negotiate with NFL teams, giving the NFL the option to negotiate with USFL players. The United Press International (UPI) reported that the USFL was expected to suffer significant financial losses as a result of this decision, but the details were not clear.

Football

NEW YORK (UPI) — The NFL Tuesday concluded its case, asking to prove the NFL monopoly of professional football, with a hearing before the NFL's Special Master in a lawsuit brought by the University of Southern California. The case is one of the most important legal battles in the history of professional football.

USFL concludes case with Davis' help

USFL's victory in its case against the NFL was a significant legal victory for the USFL. The NFL's case was seen as a defense of its monopoly status, while the USFL's case was based on the idea that the NFL was an illegal monopoly.

Cancer found in Royals' Hawser

Kansas City's No. 1 -- the Royals' hitting star in the World Series -- was diagnosed with testicular cancer on Tuesday. The cancer was discovered during a routine physical exam. Dr. Pete Hawker, a urologist at the University of Iowa, removed the cancerous tissue from Hawker's testicle.

Former Chicago Cub Bobbie Miller Collins, shown here with successor Harry Caray, will be featured in the September issue of Playboy Magazine. The Chicago Daily News, the Sunday edition of the Chicago Sun-Times, said he was looking forward to the experience.
