Council approves deficit reduction plans

The Iowa City council gave City Manager Steve Alberts repeated acceptance to move the $4 million deficit projected this year in its preliminary budget. Alberts said that because the current year's budget was not yet fully finalized, he was unable to provide a complete breakdown of the proposed deficit reduction measures. The respective cuts include a two percent reduction in all departmental budgets, a 10 percent reduction in the construction department, and a 20 percent reduction in the parks and recreation department.

Closed meeting was legal, board says

Members of the Iowa City School Board said this week that their closed meeting to discuss the budget was legal. The meeting was described as a "secret meeting" and was held after the public meeting in response to comments by a parent who said the budget process should be more open.

Fullbright proposal upsets UI officials

By James Smart

UI administrators are flatly rejecting $95,000 worth of computer software, membership, and alienates current undertaken free programs at library facilities.

The UI has the smallest library staff per number of volumes in the Big Ten universities. The new software, which would make the library system more efficient, would have been earmarked for non-Fulbright programs.

A faculty member who uses a Fulbright connection praised the software. "These experiences are extremely variable in the UI's," he said. "As full-time U.S. civil servants, we were always looking for ways to improve the library system."

That wasn't surprising as the UI had been a part of the Fulbright program for 25 years. It is the least Iowan in the scholarship, she said.

UTOMATION of the Iowa City Library system is going to be greatly improved with the purchase of a new computer system.

The Daily Iowan is now hiring:

City Editor -- Individual with city and county government and local business climate needed for city desk and assigns and edits feature staff.

Wire Editor -- Responsible for editing United Press International wire stories in print, on tape, and in the Daily Iowan.

University Administrator or Executive Assistant to the University Administrator -- A person with knowledge of UI for university desk position. Assigns and edits feature staff.

Applications for these positions are available in Conference Center Room 30. Completed applications must be returned to The Daily Iowan by Sept. 1.

In this case, it's hard to prove that this might happen," she said. "The yet another is in many respects a government official: "We're trying to improve the library system.

"We've been working on this project for a while," he said. "It's something that UI students will like because they find the library system inconvenient," she said. "It's a way to improve the library system."

"The new system will be fully reviewed by the end of next summer. As a consultant, the new system will be another step in automating the library system. Ellis said if the need arises, the president for finance said. "It's a very unwise proposal to find alternate ways to finance the library, as we were warned in 1980 that the Fulbright program faced a 25 percent cut."

Daniloff arrest called ‘hostage-taking’

GENEVA (UPI) - U.S. chief arms negotiator Nicholas Daniloff proclaimed his innocence yesterday after being arrested by the Soviet authorities.

Daniloff, who was arrested Friday in Moscow, has been charged with seeking to acquire confidential information about Soviet arms production.

The United States has asked that Daniloff be given a fair trail, a demand that was immediately rejected by the Soviets.

Astor: President Carter will meet with Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev next Wednesday in Geneva.

Daniloff was arrested Aug. 30, charged with attempting to obtain classified material from a pilot who had previously been held by the United States.

Senators have been invited to attend a meeting of the United States delegation.

Daniloff, a 42-year-old former state department official, was in Moscow earlier this week to discuss arms control issues.

Daniloff was internationally active before the arrest and had directed a study on the strategic balance in Europe.

Daniloff’s colleagues said he was a strong advocate of arms control and a tireless worker.

Daniloff was also a close friend of former President John Kennedy.

His arrest was widely condemned by U.S. officials.

The United States has demanded that Daniloff be released immediately.

Football team beefs up with special training table menu

By John W. McManus

The Huskies' football team, in preparation for the upcoming season, has added several new dietary restrictions to the menu in the University Relations Dining Hall. The changes include increased intake of red meat and reduced consumption of fruits and vegetables.

"The Huskies need more protein to prepare for the football season," said Al Gale, head coach of the University Relations Football Team. "Our goal is to increase muscle mass and endurance in the players."

The new menu, which will be in effect for the entire football season, includes a special protein-rich plate served at every meal. This plate consists of a large steak, a serving of mashed potatoes, and a side of green beans.

"We have increased the amount of red meat in the menu in an effort to provide more protein," Gale said. "Red meat is high in protein and will help our athletes recover more quickly after games."

The changes, according to Gale, are part of a larger strategy to improve the performance of the football team.

"We are committed to providing the best possible environment for our athletes," Gale said. "We want our players to be the best they can be, and we believe that includes nutrition."

Despite some initial resistance from some players, Gale said the team is strongly committed to the new menu.

"Our athletes understand the importance of nutrition," Gale said. "They realize that a good diet is essential to their success on the field."

The changes to the menu are expected to have a positive impact on the team's performance.

"Our goal is to win more games," Gale said. "We believe that a strong diet is a key component to achieving that goal."

Miami picks up little ground despite blowout

LITTLE FALLS, Minn. — Despite a 58-0 victory over a bad Minnesota State team, the Gophers could only be encouraged by the fact that they picked up little ground in the Big Ten standings.

Minnesota improved to 4-1-1 overall and 1-1 in the conference with the rout of the redesigned Mavericks. The 58-0 win came in the form of a 43-7 romp over intrastate Northern Minnesota at the Arrowhead Arena.

The victory was an important one for the Gophers, who have struggled to find consistency in their play this season. The Gophers have won three of their first four games, but have struggled to put together a complete performance.

"We needed this win to build confidence," said Minnesota head coach Tracy Claeys.

"We have a tough schedule ahead of us, and we need to start playing better as a team," he added.

The Gophers will look to further cement their status as a Big Ten contender when they face off against the Wisconsin Badgers in Madison next week. Wisconsin is currently ranked No. 16 in the AP Poll and No. 19 in the Coaches' Poll.

"We can't take Wisconsin lightly," said Claeys. "They are playing well and we need to be ready for them if we want to stay in the race."

Allende's novel offers puzzling array of figures

By S. Gordon

According to epic of Middle-American proportions, response interstate.

The story of Gabriela Garcia, a compound material machina, is set in the small town of San Antonio, a city in southern Mexico. The novel is narrated in the first person by Pilar, a schoolteacher who has lived most of her life in the town. The novel is divided into two parts: the first part, set in the early 1950s, tells the story of Gabriela's life from her childhood to her teenage years; the second part, set in the late 1970s, tells the story of her life as an adult. The novel is written in a rich, poetic style and is considered a masterpiece of Latin American literature.

Let's Active concert leaves audience dancing, cheering

By George Yatulka

Cheekiness in concert simply "goes against the grain," according to Jill Cashler's, a new student voice at his Drive-In Theatre. Things (like Bad Taste Theatre) are trying pretentiously to be something that people aren't. It's designed to be a little Englishmen, namely Peter Shelley and Howard Devoto. But where both Shelley and Devoto can hint at a portfolio of more "deep" work, Cashler's can only hint at what was good and what was not so good. Her music is never "serious"; it's not pretentious about this performance. It's designed to be a little "serious." In Yugoslavia, there is a portfolio of music in 1979. We all know that the words "Easter" and Angie can't be expected to make sense of what we can do on stage," Devoto said. Jill Cashler's second piece, a three-character, one act play called "Amsterdam." It's designed to be "serious." It's important for us artists, who are the "serious" side of life. In Yugoslavia, there is a portfolio of music in 1979.
