Babbitt hints at bid, speaks on farm issues

By Bruce Japsen
Staff Writer

Arizona Gov. Bruce Babbitt hinted that he is "dangerously close" to announcing his candidacy for president at a Democratic fund raiser Saturday at the Izaak Walton League.

Several local candidates, along with Babbitt, suggested his possible presidential bid at the Johnson County Democrats Annual Fundraising Barbeque.

"I've been testing the political waters for awhile now," Babbitt said. "I'm at water's edge, and tonight, I'd have to say I'm dangerously close to getting wet."

Saturday's visit was Babbitt's third trip to the state, and political observers have said the visits are an indication he is campaigning for the presidency. In August, Babbitt addressed the Iowa Legislature and in July, he participated in the Des Moines Register's Annual Great Bike Ride Across Iowa (RAGBRAI) in July.

DEMOCRATIC gubernatorial candidate Lowell Junkins said Babbitt realizes the importance of gaining support in Iowa where the first caucuses leading to the nomination of presidential candidates are held.

"Presidential candidates need to be strong in Iowa," Junkins said. "They all recognize that Iowa is the first test of presidential politics. So anything he says may be helpful to Democrats."

Babbitt addressed the problems faced in the agriculturally-dependent Midwest and said those troubles are being ignored by national legislators, whose priorities are "bi-coastal." They are paying attention to states on the east and west coasts and neglecting the heartland, he said.

He said this is especially true of the farm depression. "Here in Iowa we're in the midst of the greatest crop ever produced and people are being driven off the land," he said.

MANY OF THE 400 Democrats attending the benefit said they feel more out-of-state politicians, such as Babbitt, should visit the state.

"Anytime we can get people from other states to Iowa it brings people out and makes them aware that Iowa is a key leader nationally," said Democrat John Roehrick, who will face Republican incumbent Sen. Chuck Grassley in the Nov. 4 general election.

Babbitt said electing strong Democratic candidates from Iowa would also change the priorities of present government officials.

"We are the party of government because we believe government can make a difference," Babbitt said.

Third District Congressional candidate Dave Nagle said Babbitt's visit was an effort to "restore hope" in the Democratic Party.

"By being here he's saying, 'don't rule anybody out and don't rule anybody in,'" as a presidential candidate, Nagle said.

U.S., Soviets hint at second summit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U.S. and Soviet officials hinted Sunday at movement toward a superpower summit amid warnings from Secretary of State George Shultz that the case of reporter Nicholas Daniloff precludes substantial progress.

"We want to have a meeting with Mr. Gorbachev that's a fruitful meeting, that's well-prepared and that accomplishes something," Shultz said. "I think it is most unlikely that you could have a fruitful meeting in the conditions that we have today." Shultz, reporting on his Friday and Saturday talks with Soviet Foreign Minister Eduard Shevardnadze, said the cloud cast by the Daniloff case could jeopardize plans for a second meeting between President Ronald Reagan and Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev.

At the same time, however, he said Reagan and Gorbachev appear to agree their next meeting should produce "some substantive result" and spoke with measured optimism about a possible narrowing of differences at the Geneva arms talks.

WITHOUT OFFERING ANY details, Shultz said on ABC's "This Week with David Brinkley" that Gorbachev responded at length to the latest U.S. arms proposals in a letter delivered by Shevardnadze and added, "Some of it was quite interesting."

Soviet Foreign Ministry spokesman Gennadi Gerasimov described the Shultz-Shevardnadze talks as

"businesslike" and said he is "cautiously optimistic about the future."

Gerasimov said there were "several ideas in the air" to resolve the case of Daniloff, a U.S. News & World Report correspondent accused of espionage, and stressed the Soviets "want this case to be behind us."

"This particular case is not an obstacle in our relations and we hope we can solve it," Gerasimov said on CBS's "Face the Nation."

Construction makes city see orange

It's raining and you want to drive, but all the streets are closed. You don't know where the bus stops are anymore so you must walk through mud puddles and barricades until you are 20 minutes late for work.

This scene is a familiar one in Iowa City, where construction and stress are inseparable. All around the UI, students and faculty are expressing feelings ranging from resignation to outrage.

"The noise is outrageous sometimes, not to mention the construction," said Gordon Fischer, who, as Liberal Arts Student Association president, has an office in the Union. He said the current renovation there bothers him. "I kind of liked the Union the way it was."

Robert Baron, UI professor of

social psychology, said the reason construction causes irritability and raises heart rates is that it disrupts everyday patterns of behavior, such as taking a certain path to work.

"ANYBODY WHO'S ever been in a traffic jam knows what a pain it is," Baron said. "It causes delays and it's real frustrating.

"But you don't need to be a psychologist to know this. All you have to do is hit Dubuque Street ... or the Burlington Street bridge," Baron added.

UI junior Paul Dreyer acknowledged that driving around Iowa City is a challenge. "Friday afternoons are really bad," he said. "I try to avoid driving at times when I know traffic is going to be really bad."

Campus driver Matt Fitzsimmons said many people have stopped riding the Campus since construction invaded downtown, probably because the change in the routes has left riders confused.

UI junior Jeff Tank is one of those who has stopped taking the Campus to classes.

"NORMALLY I would take the bus, but all the construction makes it pointless," he said. "I don't like to walk, but at least I am getting more exercise."

Kirk Gustafson, vice president of the Restrict Us Not (RUN), a handicapped students' association, said construction is an inconvenience for all handicapped students. "Obviously it has had a negative effect on their ability to get around campus."

"It's been a real pain in the neck, especially on Clinton Street," said UI senior Laura Gish, who is confined to a wheelchair. "It has made it a lot more difficult to get to classes."

Sam Cochran, a senior staff psychologist for the UI Counseling Service, said the best way to cope with construction stress is to realize that nothing can be done about it individually and to allow more time for transportation.

Baron, of the UI Department of Psychology, had a more radical solution: "Declare armed warfare." And as for construction workers he says, "Shoot the bastards."

If that advice doesn't work, sympathy might. UI students and faculty should know they aren't the only ones irritated by the post-bombing atmosphere in Iowa City.

"It is frustrating to have the construction everywhere," said UI President James O. Freedman. "I will join everyone who will be relieved when it is all over."

Nations set military test guidelines

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (UPI) — Delegates from 35 NATO and Warsaw Pact nations approved a document Sunday night outlining ways to reduce the risk of accidental war in Europe in the first East-West agreement since 1979.

"The measures just adopted establish a good, solid confidence-building regime which should make the European security situation more stable and secure," chief U.S. negotiator Robert Barry said.

The agreement between NATO, the Warsaw Pact and Europe's neutral nations approved at a late-night session sets guidelines for monitoring troop movements and exchanging military information.

It is the first agreement on conventional arms in western Europe since World War II and the first East-West agreement since the 1979 Strategic Arms Limitation Treaty was struck between the United States and the Soviet Union.

SALT II WAS SIGNED by the negotiators but never formally ratified by Congress, although the United States abided by it until this year.

"This is a very good agreement, perhaps unique in East-West relations," Chief Soviet negotiator Oleg Grinevsky said. "For the first time we have inspections, a very deep exchange of information. It forms the basis for a real security system in Europe."

"It goes without saying that the agreement can help boost Soviet-U.S. relations, which are badly in need of solid improvement," Grinevsky said.

Barry added, "This is not the end of the road but an important beginning. We will now keep a close watch on the implementation."

DELEGATES EARLIER Sunday removed two hurdles in the 32-month talks — the questions of on-site inspection of military activities and how large a military exercise must be before observer nations must be notified.

Formal adoption of the agreement, known as the Stockholm Document, was scheduled for today at the conference's concluding ceremony led by Swedish Foreign Minister Sten Andersson.

The agreement is the first in which the Soviet Union, or any nation, accepted on-site inspection to verify compliance with an arms-control agreement. Klaus Citron, the chief West German delegate, said the breakthrough on on-site inspection "opens the road to future arms control agreements."

After resisting Western proposals for on-site inspection for years, Moscow last month said they would allow them.

UNDER THE AGREEMENT, European nations must accept at least three on-site inspections annually. To avoid cheating, a member of one alliance may not carry out a mock inspection of another member of the same pact.

Nations can send four inspectors on 36-hour notice to ensure an exercise is not threatening.

Inspectors would decide on flight paths, speed and altitude and would have access to crew charts and maps to ensure locations during the tours, which can last a maximum of 48 hours.

Hawk offense bombs lowly Huskies

No. 2 Bayless ties Podolak on 84-yard run

By Julie Deardorff
Staff Writer

The Iowa reserves are quietly making a statement. They're not going to make it easy for the injured starters to get their positions back.

Last week wide receiver and former walk-on Jim Mauro sparkled while filling Quinn Early's shoes, and this week the glory belonged to another former walk-on, running back Rick Bayless.

Playing in place of the injured Kevin Harmon, Bayless compiled 154 first half yards in seven carries, including an 87-yard touchdown. The run produced Bayless's second score of the game early in the second quarter and tied him for fourth place in Iowa history with Ed Podolak for the longest run from scrimmage.

"I LOOKED AROUND the corner and no one was there," Bayless, who finished the day as Iowa's leading rusher with 167 yards, said. "I kept on thinking, 'I can't let them catch me,' the whole way. I thought they were behind me so I kept running harder and harder and never looked back. 'You dream about it your whole life but it just happened,' he said. "It seemed like a miracle to me. The offensive line really opened up the holes and made it easy for me."

Iowa Coach Hayden Fry calls Bayless the most valuable all-around player on the team, and sees him in the starting role for now, although Harmon should be back next week.

"Rick is a tremendous football player, he does so many things well," Fry said. "As of now he is the No. 1 running back. Like everyone that gets injured, Harmon will have to work his way back. Right now Bayless is No. 1 until he gets beaten. When you're injured, you move down a pin. It motivates people to stay healthy."

BAYLESS FOUND OUT last Monday that he would be starting, but didn't change the way he prepared for a game.

"I went in today trying to pick up where Kevin left off last week after he was injured, trying to pick up the slack," he said. "The toughest thing about filling in

Big play attack carries Iowa in 57-3 thrashing

By Robert Mann
Staff Writer

The Iowa Hawkeyes scored a touchdown on their first offensive play from scrimmage, setting a pace which would lead them to a 57-3 win over Northern Illinois Saturday at Kinnick Stadium.

Iowa scored two touchdowns in the first quarter and took leads of 15-0, 36-0 and 50-0 after each of the first three quarters. The game, however, did not progress the way Iowa Coach Hayden Fry had planned.

"That was a rather unusual type of ball game," Fry said. "We got so far out in front so quick that we had to desert our game plan. We didn't have a chance to get any stats."

"The two good things that happened were we got to play a lot of folks, and it didn't look like we got too many people injured. Other than that it wasn't that impressive a ball game," Fry added.

THE Northern Illinois Huskies were probably a little more impressed with the Hawkeyes than Fry was, as Iowa pounded out 465 total yards on offense.

"In this game today we had more guys get beat up and hurt than in any game we've played since I've been here with this team," Northern Illinois Coach Jerry Pettibone said. "There was nothing wrong going on out there. It was just we were hurt by a big, strong, powerful football team that was beating up on us."

Because of the heavy rain in the first half, Iowa was forced to go to its ground game, gaining 328 yards on 40 carries. Fullback David Hudson rushed for 103 yards and running back Rick Bayless, filling in for an injured Kevin Harmon, ran for 167 yards on only eight carries.

"You can use your own adjectives for that," Fry said of Bayless' performance, of which 154 yards were gained in the first half. "Rick is probably the most valuable all-around player we have, because he does so many things well. It was really enjoyable to watch him break that long run."

THAT LONG run Fry referred to came in the opening minutes of the second

Hawkeyes fly high; claim Redbird title

By Laura Palmer
Staff Writer

The Iowa women's cross country team fared extremely well in the Redbird Invitational at Normal, Ill., this weekend.

The Hawkeyes won the nine team meet with 42 points, defeated four Big Ten teams and placed five runners in the top 15, a feat which Iowa Coach Jerry Hassard calls quite an accomplishment.

The Hawkeyes left a wide gap between them and second place Western Michigan, who finished with 91 points. Illinois placed third with 100 points, and was followed by Purdue (102), Minnesota (122), Illinois (131), Michigan State (160), Ball State (205), and Marquette (228).

"I was really pleased," Hassard said. "The team ran tired from workouts this week and we gambled with this weekend's meet. We were running tired against tough competition."

Hawkeye Renee Doyle captured first place with a time of 17:45 and 10 seconds. In a field of 78 runners, Iowa placed five runners in the top 15.

Filling those top spots were Kris Watters recording a time of 17:40 for fifth place, Janeth Salazar, eighth, 17:50, Kim Schneekloth, 13th, 18:04, and Sherri Suppelsa, 15th, 18:15.

"I've made a great deal of progress over last year — the whole team has," Watters said. "The team feels a lot more confident, we all feel this way. This year we know what we're doing."

Jerry Hassard

Iowa's Michelle Giampapa clocked a time of 18:23 to capture 18th place. Teammate Rachelle Roberts placed 28th with 18:43 and Wendy Bare ran the course in 18:48 to place 32nd.

"We came out with a clear cut win in the meet. We killed two birds with one stone. We trained well and won the meet. There is no doubt the team was a little nervous before the race," Hassard said.

It rained five inches Friday night and Hassard thought that might present some problems for Saturday's meet but Normal has experienced a drought since June and the rain soaked into the ground.

According to Watters, there were some very muddy spots in the course but the runners weren't slowed down because of them.

Seattle gets revenge on Pats

United Press International

Ray Butler caught a 67-yard touchdown pass from David Krieg to cap a 17-point outburst in the final 2:53 Sunday and give the Seattle Seahawks a 38-31 victory over the New England Patriots and a measure of revenge for past embarrassing losses.

See preview of the Packers-Bears Monday Night contest. Page 3B

The outcome of the game at Foxboro, Mass., was a reverse of last year's matchup, when the Patriots scored 13 unanswered points in the fourth quarter to defeat the Seahawks 20-13 in Seattle. In 1984, New England recovered from a 23-0 deficit for a 38-23 triumph.

The game-winning score was Butler's second touchdown catch of the game. The 3-0 Seahawks, who entered the game with the NFL's top-rated defense, converted two blocked punts into touchdowns.

New England, 2-1, took a 31-21 lead with 6:51 left in the fourth quarter on Stanley Morgan's third touchdown reception. Seattle's Norm Johnson cut the deficit to 31-24 when he connected on a 33-yard field goal with 2:53 remaining.

FORTY-ONE SECONDS later, the Seahawks blocked their second punt of the game. Rich Camarillo's kick from the end zone was blocked by Patrick Hunter, and Paul Moyer recovered to even the score at 31-31.

New England could not move the ball on its next possession and was forced to punt. On Seattle's second play, Krieg hit Butler streaking down the right sideline and he reached the endzone untouched at 1:14.

Morgan caught touchdown passes of 27, 44 and 30 yards from Tony Eason and finished with 161 yards receiving, his third consecutive game of more than 100 yards. Eason finished with a team-record 422 yards, completing 24 of 42 pass attempts.

IN OTHER GAMES, the New York Jets outlasted Miami 51-45 in overtime, Atlanta upset Dallas 37-35, the New York Giants topped the Los Angeles Raiders 14-9, Washington overcame San Diego 30-27, Denver crushed Philadelphia 33-7, the Los Angeles Rams blasted Indianapolis 24-7, Tampa Bay defeated Detroit 24-20, Minnesota trounced Pittsburgh 31-7, Buffalo shaded St. Louis 17-10, San Francisco dumped New Orleans 26-17 and Kansas City slammed Houston 27-13.

On Monday night, Chicago is at Green Bay.

At East Rutherford, N.J., Wesley Walker caught a 21-yard touchdown pass as time expired in regulation, then grabbed a 43-yard scoring strike from Ken O'Brien 2:35 into overtime to lift the Jets over the Dolphins. The winning reception was Walker's fourth touchdown catch of the game. Miami's Dan Marino

McEnroe nets first title since 1985

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — John McEnroe Sunday captured his first title since returning to tennis after a 6½-month layoff, defeating Stefan Edberg of Sweden, 6-2, 6-3 to win the $315,000 Volvo Tennis/Los Angeles tournament.

It was McEnroe's 68th Grand Prix triumph and first since he downed Anders Jarryd of Sweden in November 1985 in a tournament in Stockholm, Sweden. He collected $50,000 for the victory.

"I'm happy to win a tournament, I'm glad I'm back," McEnroe said. "I've been playing better and better as the week progressed. It looks like the decision (to return) is looking better and better. Today, I felt I was on my game."

Edberg, the world's No. 4 player, finished runner-up for the third time this year. He also lost to Paul Annacone in last year's final.

Wallace holds off foe to claim Goody's

MARTINSVILLE, Va. (UPI) — Rusty Wallace beat Geoff Bodine out of the pits with 40 laps to go Sunday and held on to win the Goody's 500 at Martinsville Speedway.

Bodine led the field when Tim Richmond spun in the second turn to bring out the caution flag. Bodine and Wallace both pitted under caution, but Wallace was first out of the pits in his Pontiac and held on for his second career Winston Cup win.

"If it hadn't been for that caution flag, I never would have been able to win the race," said Wallace, who won his first Winston Cup race earlier this year in Bristol.

"If I hadn't beaten Geoff out of the pits, I don't think I could have been able to win either," said Wallace.

On The Line

Nobody, and I mean nobody, picked every game correctly in last week's On The Line contest. Why? Mainly because Northwestern won a game, which happens about as often as tax reform.

We ended up with seven one-miss ballots, two of which were authored by none other than Kurt Stange, whom we presume is the same Kurt Stange that threw baseballs for Iowa last spring, and was the favorite basketball benchwarmer of Iowa fans until Bart Casey took over.

One of those ballots did the trick for Stange. It was perfect with the exception of the Northwestern shocker, but the deciding factor was his tie-breaker score on the Franklin and Marshall Diplomats vs. Ursinus Bears debacle (once more, that's er-sine-us). Stange picked F&M to win 30-13. They actually pounded the Bears 44-12, which isn't too darned diplomatic in my book.

If our winner is indeed the Kurt Stange of basketball and/or baseball fame, he is now the proud owner of a keg of beer. If it's not the Kurt Stange, he's the proud owner of so much beer, he can get drunk and fantasize that he is the Kurt Stange, or the Greg Stokes for that matter.

The keg Stange will be sipping was affectionately donated by Fitzpatrick's, 525 S. Gilbert, a bar that has a sincere good housekeeping type endorsement from the DI sports staff and from everyone else in Iowa City that's neat. So stop in, say you know the Kurt Stange, and see if you get special treatment. If you don't, tell them you know the Bart Casey.

Williams came from one game back of Millea and slipped into a tie by predicting seven games correctly. Millea took a severe beating, missing four of ten games, and is currently a mere shell of his former self — which wasn't a real impressive sight to begin with.

But putting obscene medical deformities aside for a moment, it's time to gear up for this week's contest, the winner of which will be awarded a swell keg from our third 1986 sponsor, Dooley's Dancin' and Drinkin', 1820 S. is getting everybody's confidence in you — getting them to believe in you."

But the senior has found himself in that position before, as a walk-on.

"When I came in as a freshman there were a lot of running backs already," Bayless said. "They told me as a walk-on not to expect to play too much. So I took the attitude that I was going to take advantage of every opportunity I had."

And now that he's had the chance, he's doing his best to stay there.

"I hope I have a shot at starting in front of Kevin, but it's hard to say. I'd love to start again. We're always at it, we (Harmon, Bayless and Kevin Ringer) always push each other but we all get along great," Bayless said. "You can't ever feel that you have the position. You have to play like you don't have it."

quarter, when Bayless took a handoff through the left side of the line and ran 87 yards to the touchdown.

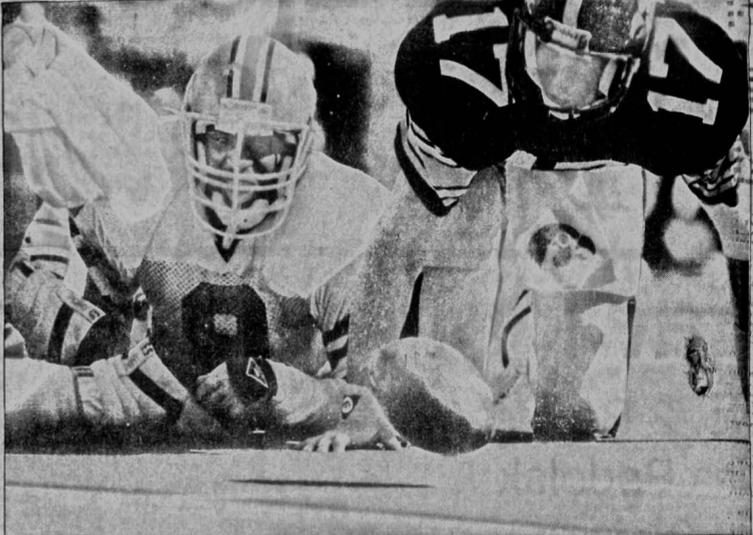

"I couldn't tell how close they were behind me," Bayless said. "I felt like they were behind me the whole way, so I kept running harder and harder and never looked back."

The run equalled the fourth longest from scrimmage for a Hawkeye. Ed Podolak ran the same distance in 1966.

The defense was also sound for Iowa as it limited Northern Illinois to just 159 yards, at one point keeping the Huskies from gaining a yard on a fourth and one play on the Iowa four yard line. Iowa also recovered five fumbles.

After the first turnover, Hudson ran the ball 43 yards for a touchdown on Iowa's first offensive play. After a second quarter fumble, Vlasic immediately threw a 39-yard touchdown strike to Jim Mauro. All five turnovers led to Iowa touchdowns.

"I WAS most impressed with Iowa's defense. No one in particular, just the whole defensive team," Pettibone said.

Iowa reserve quarterback Dan McGwire scrambles for the ball during the third quarter of the Hawkeyes' 57-3 victory over the Huskies Saturday.

"We just can't hang in there with those big, physical people they have. The Iowa team this year is a very fine team and I look for them to be in the race for the Big Ten title and another bowl game."

"Our defensive people did a real fine job," Fry said. "We created a lot of turnovers and put pressure on the Northern Illinois quarterback. The tackling, I thought, was exceptional."

Free safety Kyle Crowe led all Iowa defenders with nine tackles. Right tackle Jon Vrieze had eight, and four Iowa players brought down seven each.

"The wet surface today did not help our wishbone at all," Pettibone said. "But I don't know if the rain and wet field hurt us anymore than it hurt Iowa's passing attack."

IOWA'S quarterback, Mark Vlasic, did not perform quite as well as he did against Iowa State last week, when he connected on 15 of 25 passes for 286 yards.

"At times it was alright," Vlasic said of his 9 of 18 performance for 123 yards and one interception. "Some of the things I did out there I wasn't pleased with."

The downpour kept him from throwing more in the first half and the lopsided score kept Iowa from trying to gain yardage on the big passing plays in the second half.

The afternoon was a mixture of Northern Illinois turnovers and solid offensive drives for the Hawkeyes.

With Iowa leading 7-0 in the first quarter, the Hawkeyes put together an 80-yard drive, ending with Bayless going into the endzone from five yards out.

QUARTERBACK Tom Poholsky fumbled the snap on the extra point attempt, recovered, rolled out to his right and hit tight end Mike Flagg for a two point conversion.

Less than a minute after Bayless broke the 87-yard run, Iowa recovered a fumble and Vlasic hit Mauro for a touchdown, giving Iowa a 29-0 lead.

About seven minutes later Crowe recovered a fumble inside Huskie territory. Five plays later Vlasic threw a twenty-yard touchdown pass to Flagg, leaving the score 36-0 at the half.

On the opening drive of the third quarter Iowa drove from its own 20 down to Northern Illinois' two yard line. Hudson plowed in for the score.

With just over a minute left in the third quarter Northern Illinois quarterback Marshall Taylor fumbled the ball on the Huskie four yard line. This time Richard Bass, Hudson's back up, went in two plays later from one yard out.

Minnesota breezes by Hawkeyes, 45-18

By Brad Zimaneck

Minnesota got a fast start to its season by placing seven of the first eight runners Saturday, scoring a 45-18 victory over the Iowa men's cross country team.

Paul Gisselquist of the Gophers won the race on a wet four mile course with a time of 20 minutes and 38 seconds. Scott Ventura was the only Hawkeye to finish in the top eight as he finished third with a time of 21:06.

"It's a good start for us," Minnesota cross country Coach Roy Griak said of his team's first competition of the season. "We really have a young team."

"We've got a young team and they don't have a lot of experience," Iowa Coach Ted Wheeler said. "We have the potential. Whether it's this week or next week I'm not sure. I'm not happy to lose, but Scott and David (Brown) ran well."

GRIAK BELIEVES that the final score didn't truly indicate the quality of the Iowa team's performance.

"The course was so miserable. I think the Iowa team ran really well," Griak said. "The final score isn't a real good judge of their performance. They were in there."

Other top Iowa runners were Brown, who was ninth in 21:56 and Sean Corrigan, who placed 11th in 22:11.

"We have two people. Sean is a good athlete but he is not running what he is capable of running," Wheeler said. "He can't go on his reputation. He has to prove himself everyday. Sean should be running with Scott (Ventura)."

Iowa is off next weekend and will be in action again in two weeks when they square off against Northern Iowa in Cedar Falls.

"I think so," Wheeler said about his team's chances of scoring its first victory against the Panthers. "Hopefully they can have a good run against UNI."

Hawkeyes win invitational despite first loss of the year

By Robert Mann
Staff Writer

The Iowa Hawkeyes overcame a five game loss to Southwest Missouri State to go on to win the Missouri Invitational over the weekend.

Southwest Missouri State jumped to a lead by winning the first two games 15-11, 16-14. Iowa stormed back to win the next two games, however, in the final and deciding game Iowa lost, 15-11.

"We should have beaten Southwest Missouri State," Iowa Coach Sandy Stewart said. "We really let up at several points to make crucial mistakes."

After the match Iowa fell to 4-1 on the year. But after coming back Saturday and defeating Southern Illinois (15-6, 14-16, 15-13, 15-8) and Missouri (15-9, 15-9, 15-12), Iowa went to 6-1.

"In the fifth game we let them score five or six points off their serve," Stewart said of the loss to Southwest Missouri

Sandy Stewart

State. "We also had a mental breakdown in the second game against Southern Illinois. We still need to work on our own intensity."

IOWA ENDED UP winning the invitational because there was a three way tie for first at 2-1 and Iowa had lost the fewest games.

Stewart said she was especially pleased with the performance of Lana Kuiper, who had 13 kills against Southwest Missouri State and made only one error in 19 attempts.

Ellen Mullarkey also had a good weekend, turning in 13 service aces, 15 assist blocks and two solo.

"She was probably the toughest server at the tournament," Stewart said.

Freshman Stephanie Smith came off the bench to perform well with seven kills against Southwest Missouri State and five kills against Southern Illinois.

"She's really challenging for a starting position," Stewart said.

Iowa opens the Big Ten season Wednesday in Minneapolis against Minnesota.

"Our confidence level is still high," Stewart said. "We know we can't let up now. We're looking forward to going up and beating Minnesota."

Tough field roughs-up Iowa

By Dan Millea
Assistant Sports Editor

The Iowa women's golf team found itself outclassed by a strong field at the Ford Intercollegiate in Atlanta, Ga., last weekend, finishing last among 12 teams over 54 holes at the East Lakes Country Club.

Miami (Fla.) won the three-day tournament, coming from behind during Sunday's final round to post a score of 917. Furman held a four stroke lead over South Carolina and a six stroke lead over Miami after two days, but ended tied for second with the Gamecocks at 920.

Iowa, which shot a 336-348-343-1027, was well behind the leaders and 20 strokes in back of eleventh place Penn State (1007).

"I expected it, to be honest," Hawkeye Coach Diane Thomason said of the last place finish. "Those were some very tough teams."

Four of the teams entered in the Ford meet were in the top 16 at the NCAA Championships last spring, including Miami, which finished second, and Furman, which placed 16th.

"In all fairness to the kids, they were up against some stiff competition and they were probably a little bit intimidated," Thomason said of her team, which is made up of two sophomores and three freshmen.

"They probably feel they regressed a little bit, but I think they had their eyes opened and they realize they have some work to do," she said.

Sophomore Amy Butzer led the team with an 85-86-79-250 score, followed by sophomore Jeannine Gibson's 81-90-84-255. Kristi Heatherly led the freshmen with an 87-87-87-261. Kelley Brooke finished at 86-85-95-266 and Justean Harsh, a walk-on, shot an 84-92-93-269.

Thomason said the performance hurt the morale of her team, but served to indicate what Iowa needs to work on this fall.

"I think everyone, the team as well as myself, is discouraged," Thomason said. "There are some things that are missing in our game. Some of us are having trouble putting, and if you can't putt, you can't score well."

The final results of the Ford meet; Miami (312-309-296) 917, Furman (305-310-305) 920, South Carolina (306-313-301) 920, Texas (307-315-317) 939, Georgia (321-315-307) 943, Wake Forest (321-319-306) 946, Kentucky (314-314-324) 952, North Carolina (314-322-323) 959, Michigan State (325-316-323) 964, Florida State (326-324-323) 973, Penn State (343-333-331) 1007, Iowa (336-348-343) 1027.

Bears-Packers resume brawl

GREEN BAY, Wis. (UPI) — The Chicago Bears and Green Bay Packers renew a rivalry Monday night that has festered for 131 games and 65 years.

Chicago-Green Bay games have traditionally been unceremonious. But the dislike has intensified thanks to two rowdy games a year ago.

The Bears, 2-0, are making their first of three Monday night appearances this season. However, they apparently will be without quarterback Jim McMahon for the second week. He is listed as doubtful with a shoulder injury suffered in the opening game.

The defending Super Bowl champions began the season with two less-than-overwhelming decisions. Green Bay was throttled in its opener by Houston and threw seven interceptions in losing to New Orleans last Sunday.

"IT'S A GAME we can get up for," Packers wide receiver James Lofton said. "But we need the crowd behind us and we need to do some things right."

The first Chicago-Green Bay game last year also came on Monday night and will be remembered in NFL lore as the evening William Perry was thrust upon the American public.

The Refrigerator delivered devastating blocks on two short touchdown runs by Walter Payton and scored himself on a 1-yard run.

Two weeks later the teams played in Green Bay amid a spate of personal-foul penalties. Chicago running back Walter Payton was driven into the bench by a late hit, setting the tone for the day.

A round of typical pre-game barbs were exchanged the past week. But all words aside, Green Bay's chief chore will be slowing Payton, who is off to another excellent start.

AFTER BEING LITTLE factor during the playoffs last year, Payton has gained 290 yards in his first two outings this season to lead the league. The all-time leading NFL rusher passed the 15,000-yard mark last week against Philadelphia.

No. 2 Tarheels defeat Hawks

By Julie Deardorf Staff Writer

To steal a Hayden Fry quote, the bullets were flying this weekend for the Iowa field hockey team. But despite being handed their first loss of the season, the Hawkeyes proved they can play among the best.

Ranked number two in a pre-season poll, North Carolina held Iowa to only one goal in their 4-1 victory. Saturday, Iowa tied with Old Dominion 2-2 and Sunday they ended their stay in North Carolina with a 6-0 shutout against Duke.

"There were a lot of positive things we learned from this game," Iowa Coach Judith Davidson said. "We can play with the top teams in the country although we're young."

Old Dominion was ranked fourth in the poll and Iowa was ranked sixth. The Hawkeye's record is now 5-1-1.

"In some ways the score was indicative of the game, in some ways it wasn't," Davidson said. "They scored twice off of our inexperience. Once we eliminate those mistakes it will of course be better, but it's something we'll have to accept and try to deal with for a while."

NORTH CAROLINA had a 2-1 advantage at halftime and added two insurance goals later in the game, the final goal coming in the last few minutes.

North Carolina's Julie Blaise scored the first goal on an assist from Lori Bruney with 32:25 left.

the 19:14 mark with an assist from RosAnna Salcido who centered the ball hard from the right, but the Tarheels then came right back and took the lead on a goal by Bruney and an assist from Claire Dougherty.

In the second half Mary Ellen Falcone and Anne Marie Rosenbaum scored, assisted by Andrea Walsh to clinch the game and snap Iowa's four game winning streak.

"With a young team we got a little rattled," Davidson said. "But we learned a lot as far as how we should be playing."

THE TARHEELS are 4-1, their only loss a 3-2 setback against New Hampshire.

Davidson was also encouraged by the tie with Old Dominion. "I consider that game a moral victory. They came from behind to score."

Iowa has never beaten Old Dominion since the series began in 1980. Junior Liz Tchou and senior Patti Wan-

"There were a lot of positive things we learned from this game," Iowa Coach Judith Davidson says of her team's loss to No. 2 ranked North Carolina. "We can play with the top teams in the country although we're young. With a young team we got a little rattled, but we learned a lot as far as how we should be playing."

ner accounted for the goals.

"We scored twice on an absolutely beautiful goal by Liz, then we kind of let down," Davidson said. "Patti also had a very pretty shot. She took the ball, waited, assessed the situation and lifted the ball by the goalie. I think it surprised everyone. We let them have those two goals and also missed a penalty stroke."

Iowa had 15 shots on goal while Old Dominion had 11. In contrast, the Hawkeyes had five penalty corners while Old Dominion had 13.

THE SERIES RECORD stands at 0-3-1, and last year Old Dominion edged Iowa 2-1.

In Sunday's game against Duke the oldest and youngest combined for all the scoring. Freshman Melissa Sanders and senior Salcido accounted for all the goals with three apiece.

Iowa had 13 shots on goal while holding Duke to three and also had 15 penalty corners.

"The neat thing about having such a young team is that they're so eager to get going and play again," Davidson said. "Rosanna was spectacular all week. She's really an exciting player to watch. Fred Koch was a stabilizing factor defensively."

"I was disappointed with our goalkeeping this weekend," she said. "We'll be working on mental attitude this week."

The Hawkeyes will also be practicing drills. "We'll also work on our fundamentals," Davidson said. "We need to stick to basics, with passing and receiving. We'll be at those for a while because of the freshmen, but overall I was very encouraged with the weekend."

Big Ten play begins next week for the Hawkeyes as they travel to Ohio State where they will face the Buckeyes on Friday and Michigan on Saturday.

Chinese dominate at start of Games

SEOUL, South Korea (UPI) — China began its quest to dominate the Asian Games Sunday by winning gold medals in shooting, cycling, swimming, gymnastics and weightlifting.

Earning nine of 11 gold medals and a total of 14 medals, the Chinese broke to the front to defend their Asian Games title wrested from Japan in 1982.

The 16-day sports festival, which opened Saturday with a record 4,800 athletes and officials, is a tuneup for the 1988 Seoul Summer Olympics.

China, competing despite a lack of diplomatic relations with South Korea, is expected to win up to one-third of the 267 golds at stake in 25 events. South Korea and Japan likely will compete for many of the silver medals.

There are 27 nations represented, three fewer than the 1982 Asian Games. Six nations are boycotting — North Korea, Laos, Afghanistan, Mongolia, South Yemen and Vietnam — over political differences with South Korea.

NORTH KOREA, which is missing its first Asian Games since they began in 1951, has said the Seoul Games are detrimental to the reunification of the Korean peninsula.

Burma and Syria are skipping the Games because of financial reasons and Brunei canceled because of the death of the sultan's father.

A high security alert has been ordered. Seoul authorities believe North Korea was behind a bombing at the city's airport six days before the Games in which five people were killed and 31 injured. Student radicals have vowed to disrupt the event, saying the hundreds of millions of dollars spent for the Games should have gone to the needy. Seoul has undergone a massive facelift, installed state-of-the-art communication systems and built two large sports complexes.

THE COMPETITION GOT off to a wet start Sunday as a steady drizzle from Tropical Storm Abby canceled tennis matches.

The Chinese collected the first gold medals by winning all four shooting events scheduled.

Qiu Bo, a 26-year-old worker, and fertilizer salesman Xu Haifeng, a 1984 Olympic gold medalist, led the way to men's air rifle and free pistol team titles over Japan and South Korea. Each then won the shootout in his event for the individual gold medal.

"Actually, our women shooters are better than the men," Chinese Coach Zhao Guorui said.

Li Ning, another Olympic gold medalist and winner of the individual all-around in the World Cup tournament three weeks ago in Peking, scored 58.85 out of 60 to lead his team to the men's gymnastic team title.

In swimming, China and Japan split four events, all in record times. The Chinese won the women's 400-meter individual medley and men's 100-meter breaststroke while Japan took the women's 100-meter freestyle and men's 200-meter freestyle.

Crampton overcomes bunkers, wins seniors invite by a stroke

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (UPI) — Bruce Crampton overcame two bunker shots on the final hole Sunday to beat Lee Elder and Chi Chi Rodriguez by one stroke and win the $200,000 World Seniors Invitational.

"I used a driver on 18 to put it as close to the green as I could," Crampton said. "I had no doubt I could play good golf again."

Crampton, who won $30,012 in his fourth PGA Seniors title, started the day in a three-way tie with Elder and fellow Australian Peter Thomson at 209 after three rounds.

Thomson quickly dropped out but Elder managed to stay close until a double-bogey on the par-4 12th sent him to 8-under. Crampton bogeyed to go 9-under.

RODRIGUEZ, WHO started the day three strokes behind the leaders, challenged with four birdies — Nos. 1, 9, 10 and 15 — and finished with a 4-under-par 68 for the day. He said he missed "five makeable putts."

But Crampton sank a 13-foot uphill putt on the 18th for par after the bunker shots to win. "Bruce was destined to win," Rodriguez said.

The victory gave Crampton four earnings of $308,889 this year. In 17 consecutive tournaments he has finished among the top 10.

Big Eight powers pound Illinois, Minnesota

Big Ten clubs post 6-4 mark over weekend

United Press International

Iowa, Michigan and Indiana did what they could to defend the honor of the downtrodden Big Ten by scoring impressive victories this weekend while Illinois, Minnesota and Purdue were victimized in similar fashion by non-conference opponents.

The Big Ten improved its record against non-conference foes to 13-10 Saturday, claiming four independent victims — Navy, Northern Illinois, Notre Dame and Army — along with Oregon State of the Pac-10 and Colorado of the Big Eight. But the Big Two from the Big Eight, Nebraska and Oklahoma, clobbered Illinois and Minnesota, respectively, while independent Pittsburgh outgunned Purdue in West Lafayette and Nevada-Las Vegas topped Wisconsin.

IOWA ROLLED UP a 57-3 decision over newly independent Northern Illinois in Iowa City while Indiana outlasted Navy 52-29 in Bloomington, Ind. Michigan shook off a poor first half to run away from Oregon State 31-12.

The rest of the Big Ten's wins were close ones. Michigan State edged Notre Dame, 20-15, and Northwestern topped Army 25-18 with a strong defensive performance.

Also, Ohio State won for the first time in three games by edging Colorado 13-10.

On the down side, Oklahoma crushed visiting Minnesota 63-0 and Pittsburgh outplayed young Purdue 41-26. Also, Nebraska handled Illinois 59-14 and the Runnin' Rebels of Nevada Las Vegas beat Wisconsin 17-7.

THE QUESTION of poor sportsmanship was shrugged off after the Iowa victory and the Gopher loss.

"There was nothing wrong going on out there," Northern Illinois Coach Jerry Pettibone said. "It was just we were hurt by a big, strong, powerful football team that was beating up on us."

Minnesota first-year coach John Gutekunst said the Sooners made no attempt to embarrass his Gophers, 1-1.

"Oklahoma played 80 players — I'm satisfied they didn't try to run up the score," Gutekunst said after watching Oklahoma score five touchdowns rushing, one passing, one on a kick return and the last on an intercepted pass."

AT EAST LANSING, Mich., Todd Krumm of 1-1 Michigan State got his second interception of the day, picking off a pass at the Spartan 20-yard line with less than two minutes remaining, to preserve Michigan State's 20-15 win over Notre Dame. Krumm's first interception went for a touchdown.

Indiana, 2-0, set a Memorial Stadium record for points by whipping the Midshipmen. Quarterback Dave Kramme came off the bench to throw three touchdown passes after starter Brian Dewitz left the game with a hip pointer. Kramme also ran for a touchdown.

Michigan quarterback Jim Harbaugh threw for one touchdown and passed for two others to lead the Wolverine attack. Coach Bo Schembechler chewed out the Wolverines at halftime, when Michigan led 14-12.

No. 1 ranked Sooners deck Gophers 63-0

United Press International

Oklahoma, the defending national champion, is even better this year according to one foe and now the Sooners will have to prove it to another.

The top-rated Sooners slapped Big Ten opponent Minnesota 63-0 to push Big Eight Conference teams to a 4-4 weekend. No. 5 Nebraska also beat a Big Ten foe in a 59-14 pasting of Illinois but a third Big Ten member — Ohio State — got a measure of conference revenge by beating Colorado 13-10.

The Big Eight did not fare well against the Southwest Conference Saturday, losing all three inter-league pairings: Texas stopped Missouri 27-25, Texas Christian was 35-22 better than Kansas State and Houston topped Oklahoma State 28-12. In other games, Kansas slipped past Utah State 16-13 and Iowa State romped over Indiana State 64-9.

THE SOONERS, 2-0, had some trouble with Minnesota, 1-1, last year in a 13-7 victory, but this season the game was never in doubt. Lydell Carr scored twice in the first quarter and Jamelle Holieway scored twice in the second and the Sooners piled up 458 yards on the ground.

Barry Switzer

Big Eight Roundup

"The score is a pretty good comparison," Minnesota Coach John Gutekunst said when asked the difference between the Oklahoma of 1985 and 1986. "I don't think you can compare them. They're an entirely different football team, both offensively and defensively, than we played last year. They're every bit as good as we thought they would be coming into the game."

Sooners Coach Barry Switzer said, "Our speed and quickness made the difference today. We did not dominate Minnesota with our offensive line like we did UCLA. It was the speed and quickness of our backs that made the difference."

Oklahoma, which has one of the toughest schedules in the country, must now turn its attention to next week's rematch with No. 2 Miami (Fla.) — the only team to beat the Sooners last season.

Kansas, 1-1, gave Coach Bob Valesente his first collegiate victory with a 58-yard punt return by Milt Garner for a touchdown, but the Utah State (0-3) faithful felt the score was tainted.

"We missed five tackles and I think there were three clips," Utah State Coach Chuck Shelton said of the runback. "It makes it tough to stop them. We have to look at the films, but we just didn't get the kid down."

IOWA STATE, 1-1, was the other Big Eight winner, knocking off Division I-AA Indiana State, 2-1. Alex Espinoza moved into second-place on Iowa State's all-time passing list as he threw for 210 yards and three touchdowns. He has thrown for 3,609 yards and trails only David Archer, who had 4,104 passing yards for Iowa State.

"This game took a lot of pressure from us and Coach (Jim) Criner," Espinoza said. "During the week we corrected the mistakes we made against Iowa."

No. 4 Crimson Tide manhandles Florida

United Press International

In their fourth game of the season, No. 4 Alabama "touched on the fringes of greatness."

"I am proud of this football team," Alabama Coach Ray Perkins said after his team dominated Florida to post a 21-7 victory. "The second half was the best football we've played since I've been here. Today (Saturday), we touched on the fringes of greatness."

The Gators have never "officially" won the Southeastern Conference football championship. NCAA probation stripped the Gators of titles they would have won in 1984 and 1985. This year, they're expected to come off probation in time to be eligible for the league title, but that's a less likely goal after Saturday. "This was Alabama's day," Gators Coach Galen Hall said. "They came out and took charge in the third quarter."

FLORIDA DROPPED to 0-2 after opening the season with a loss to No. 2 Miami. The Crimson Tide, 4-0, trailed 7-0 at halftime, but solidified their role as favorites to win the Southeastern Conference with their dominating second-half performance.

Alabama ran off 26 plays in the third period to just five for the Gators to forge into a 14-7 lead.

In other Southeastern Conference action Saturday, Miami of Ohio upset No. 8 LSU, 21-12; Clemson, with a last-second field goal, upset No. 10 Georgia, 31-28; No. 11 Auburn crushed East Carolina, 45-0; No. 18 Florida State tied North Carolina, 10-10; Southern Mississippi upset Mississippi State, 28-24; Ole Miss tied Arkansas State, 10-10; Tulane beat Vanderbilt, 35-17; and Kentucky beat Kent State, 37-12.

NEXT WEEK THE top game will feature No. 1 Oklahoma against No. 2 Miami in the Orange Bowl. Miami was idle Saturday while Oklahoma walloped Minnesota 63-0.

Sparked by an 82-yard third-quarter TD pass, Miami of Ohio continued a 74-year-old tradition of never having lost to a Southeastern Conference team.

Georgia and Clemson were tied 28-28 late in the third quarter after the Bulldogs' James Jackson, who accounted for 254 yards and three touchdowns, threw a 78-yard pass to Fred Lane. Clemson's David Treadwell kicked a 46-yard field goal as time expired.

USC sneaks by Baylor, 17-14

United Press International
Baylor Coach Grant Teaff will be happy not to have the USC Trojans visit Waco again. "I doubt they will be back," Teaff said.

Baylor on the last play of the game Saturday with a 32-yard field goal from Don Shafer — a kick that came as lightning creased the sky and as rain poured down.

AT MONTREAL, ANDY Van Slyke hit an inside-the-park home run and Tim Conroy struck out a career-high 11 in seven innings to lead the Cardinals. Conroy, 5-9, allowed seven hits and walked three. Jay Tibbs, 7-9, was the loser.

THE PADRES PADDED their lead to 5-0 in the fifth. Kevin McReynolds ripped a 2-0 Knepper offering into the left field seats for his 23rd homer to open the inning. Benito Santiago and Tim Pizarro singled to knock out Knepper and Asador greeted Manny Hernandez with a single to score Santiago.

AT CHICAGO, Leon Durham crushed his 20th home run of the year leading off the bottom of the seventh to help the Cubs complete a sweep of their three-game series. Scott Sanderson, 9-11, was the winner in relief of Rick Sutcliffe, who has not won since June 2.

Censorship grips science, technology

By United Press International

Increasing government pressure to restrict the release of information within the American scientific community is the focus of this year's Banned Books Week.

Banned Books Week, which is scheduled for Sept. 20-27, is sponsored by the American Library Association, the American Booksellers Association and other organizations to heighten public awareness on the dangers of censorship. It does so through bookstore displays, information distributed through libraries and other means.

The number of reported challenges to books in general "hit a peak of about 1,000 in 1982 and has stayed at that level," said ALA spokeswoman Linda Wallace. She emphasized that these are only cases that have been reported to the association and that the actual total may be higher. Books that have been taken off library bookshelves or challenged because of content in the past year include Jean Auel's Valley of the Horses, Forever, by Judy Blume — who is probably the most challenged children's author ever — and To Kill A Mockingbird, by Harper Lee.

FOR THIS FIFTH ANNUAL Banned Books Week, the theme is "The Worlds of Science of Technology — How Free?" It is an attempt to raise public awareness of government restraints on scientific information.

"I think it is clear that the U.S. scientific community has been very much troubled by governmental pressures to restrict the open flow of unclassified scientific and technical reports," said William Carey, executive officer of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Carey said that some unclassified work is discussed at scientific and technical meetings. "To the degree that unclassified work is financed through government contracts or grants, certain agencies, mainly in the national security area, have been applying increasing restrictions and requirements for prior review for such meetings," he said.

Carey added that much of the research and development in the United States is directly or indirectly funded by the government. He said that agencies can insert certain requirements for review and consent into contracts.

He said that such requirements have been "disruptive" of scientific communication because the only way science advances is through the exchange of information. He said that "to the degree that those lines are interfered with, for the best of reasons, it is troublesome."

"IF THE TREND CONTINUES we'll move into a period of scientific mediocrity," he said.

John Dessauer, director of the Center for the Book at the University of Pennsylvania at Scranton, said there is "an attitude of tolerance" from the public to censorship in general.

Dessauer said the fault lies both with those with extremist views and with publishers who "don't always show the kind of responsible restraint one might expect in civilized society." He refused to cite specific examples but said that even major publishers have been guilty of publishing what ought not to appear.

Dessauer said that because of the low quality of some books, the public tends to shrug its shoulders at protests from extremist groups, feeling that the publishers are getting what they deserve.

"IRRESPONSIBILITY LEADS to public apathy," Dessauer said. "It's really dangerous. Freedom is so much more important than the sensibilities of the moralist."

Dessauer bemoaned the lack of self-criticism within the publishing community. "I believe irresponsibility encourages critically dangerous censorship. It is not enough to tell the censors to go away."

Whereas Carey applauded Banned Books Week for telling the public about the trends, Dessauer said he feels it is "one of those unfortunate situations where you get the people who already agree with you to sign another sigh and to agree with you, but those are not the ones you need to reach."

The Manhattan Transfer

Manhattan offers predictable show

By Alex Wilding-White
Staff Writer

If there's anything that the human voice is capable of doing, chances are that any or all of the members of Manhattan Transfer can do it. Friday night's 90-minute, three encore set at Hancher Auditorium was proof.

Four-part counterpoint on an old R&B classic? The Transfer produces it just as smoothly as you please. Vocal 64th-note runs with lyrics? No problem. Dynamics? Tonal shadings? Hitting those downbeats like hammer on nail? Are you kidding? The Manhattan Transfer could do more in one song than most groups could in one lifetime.

Those in the audience who had not been to a Manhattan Transfer concert before were undoubtedly knocked for a loop by the impeccable craft of the Transfer's presentation and delivery. There are not many groups that can cut this kind of music nowadays.

BUT THOSE WHO have caught the Transfer's act before were either content that the group is as sharp as ever — that the years have not taken any of the edge off their act — or they were left scratching their heads, wondering when the Transfer will take on something really different or surprising.

Music

It's hard to say which view is right. The group has honestly paid its dues — it has spent many years getting to where it is, both musically and commercially. The way they have maintained, improved on, and even elevated vocal harmony music is an understandable source of enormous pride for the group, a sentiment that came across clearly at Friday night's show.

And yet there is no denying that, with only minor alterations, their set structure is basically the same as it has been for the last five or six years. Digging up an unrecorded number and doing a dedication to Ella Fitzgerald with Thad Jones' "To You" are interesting variations, but it does not make for a significantly different approach. While it would be unrealistic to expect the Transfer to become a vocal Art Ensemble of Chicago (a group whose excitement and intrigue derive from not knowing what they will do next), a major new direction would help spice their musical stew considerably.

For now, their show remains a solid testimony to the qualities of vocal harmony music. Perhaps that is all one can reasonably expect.

On cable: Sweet Dreams (HBO-4 at 7 p.m.) stars Jessica Lange as the ill-fated country singer Patsy Cline.
