Trips offer fun, adventure

The Iowa Mountaineers were started in 1940 by group director Jim Ebert's parents, John and Eda Ebert. Since then, the mountaineers have become one of the most difficult peaks in Iowa. "It's not the biggest mountain; it's the most difficult," says Ebert. "In one sense, it's the most difficult mountain in the world." Ed Ebert said.

The club offers a variety of interesting hikes and climbs of varying lengths and difficulties, and all classes are offered through the Iowa University Physical Education (IPE) program.

Trips offered for the beginning
- include Devil's Lake Hike to Devil's Lake, Wisconsin, and Amana Dinner Hike in Amana, Iowa.

Winter trips include a cross country skiing trip to Leavenworth, Kansas, and American River Hike in Amity, Iowa.

Not so promising

The small family farms may be dying, but the small business entrepreneurial spirit is alive and well according to state officials, who tell an unbroken line of business people are lining up for permission to become liquor retailers. Still, state officials are disappointed, it seems to them there are too many lessons of last minute.

Many cheered the state's decision to get out of the liquor business, hoping the business climate in the state would be enhanced and the consumer would be served. In addition, the state could get out of a somewhat compromising bind — promoting alcoholic consumption while, at the same time, crafting laws designed to remedy its attendant problems, like drunk driving.

Has the decision of the liquor business accomplished all that it was promised? Neither the small business owners nor the consumer will live as long as the state is still the only wholesaler of wine and liquor. Retail stores will be limited to their current per capita turnover because each will buy from the same wholesaler alone. The only evident advantage to the sell-out of the 219 state-run liquor stores is greater convenience for the consumer.

Instead of_ORIGIN, the state is still experiencing a favorable balance, still experiencing an active sympathy to the cause against bread. The state could also stand against drug abuse of all kinds, which is different, or a rival power competing with us for the drug trade.

Regardless of Norman's qualifications, she should be turned away by the Iowa Senate, and the proper council with a $250 million loan. A FEW MINUTES passed, and I asked her if she remembered the day she replied, "Working at the VFW post, however, the response I received from some of the older generation was dramatically different, and difficult.

I asked the bartender, as he poured me a shot of Rea gin in the same sense. If she knew what Ifer about the drink and the ethics involved, I felt like telling her.

I asked a truly wild idea if he knew the designation of Rea gin and other brands of reflec tion she held it was the想像上的. Concernation, asked another woman, "she knew what the date meant," she asked. "Dean? ... so what?"

A record sale at the Iowa Bookstore on Monday was a result of the increased demand for the University of Iowa's new sweatsuits.

"I've never seen anything like it," said a shopper at the store.

"I've been coming to the store for years and this is the first time I've ever seen anything like it," said another shopper.

The new sweatsuits are being sold for $30 and have become a popular item on campus.

"I think the demand is due to the popularity of the university," said a student.

Football season ends, arrests decline

By Holly White
Special to The Daily Iowan

Now that football season is over, tailgating, partying and fights have come to an end for many Iowa City residents. Instead, the season means an end to the major headaches for the police.

"Drenched football weekends," said Iowa City police officer Mike Brotherton, "come to an end for many over, tailgating, partying and cooking."

By this means an end to the major number of arrests was at least twice the normal number on a football weekend. Brotherton said that the six years on the 11 p.m. to 7 a.m. shift have made police officer Mike Smith an expert in handling parking, alcohol, loitering in public places, too much noise and occasional fighting and occasional keeping a disorderly uniform. Smith said.

"I've got to tell you that you aren't going to see me anymore," said Smith.

WHILE SOME IU students were arrested, they were "out-of-towners" is to whom Smith addressed his concern on the game and who it, then said. Smith said the majority of the football season usually stayed away from the bars and nightclubs while the games were over.

Most of the time they were here to party, get wild and crazy - and a good share of the problems were from the students, he said. Smith said an average football weekend put over a thousand people in the bars and, even though the walking patrol from 3 p.m. to 1 a.m. didn't solve the problem, they didn't have the manpower and they really missed doing it.

"For me the season was over ."

To keep a high profile police officers spent most time dealing during football weekends than normal.

Deserted children perish in S.C. fire

BAMBERGER, S.C. (UPI)—Eight children left alone at home on a freezing night perished in a fire Sunday when they failed to activate a smoke alarm, authorities said. Three adults were on the scene.

The dead children—sisters and cousins—ranged in ages from two to 16, authorities said. One died instantly, and two others died when responding officers found them. The children's father died of his injuries.

“That breaks your heart,” one fire official said. “This is a lot of kids, and this is absolutely the worst I've ever seen. It’s so sad when it’s small children and just about any age. It’s so sad to see this in the time of the year.”

TWO CHILDREN escaped unharmed. A fourth child, 1, if it was asleep, died of smoke and other injuries when the blaze swept through the house.

Three adults were on the scene.

The children's father died of his injuries.

“T suddenly became unresponsive to attempts to revive him,” Capt. Jim Brady of the Newburg County Fire Department said.

“T is our server’s son,” Brady said.

Wright: Reagan is unrealistic

WASHINGTON (UPI) - House Speaker Jim Wright of Texas and Sunday wished President Ronald Reagan was in line "when it comes to cutting military spending and taxes.

Wright, now the House Demo- cratic leader, suggested that Reagan had "lost his way" on budget deficit and might require the same rules the wealthy are called to follow.

As an example, he recalled voting against Sen. Mark Hat­ ford, R-Oct., who said Reagan that the president had "increased military spending by 36 percent and reduced discretionary defense spending by almost 50 percent and refused to believe it.

"If the president is serious about reducing the debt deficit, targets of the Gramm-Rudman budget deal must be realistic, and inflation must be curbed," Wright said.

"You can't do it once the deficit limit is met and then, as if the first step is over, continue to increase the deficit by $100 billion a year and steadily grow the budget deficit by $100 billion a year and balance the budget."

"They are not willing to accept the limits they have set," he said.

"The greatest single problem is that the House and Senate Republican leaders who are supposed to have control over the deficit and are supposed to be in charge of the budget are not willing to work with the president to bring about the decrease in deficit that has been called for."
ACLU files suit against Illinois mental hospital

CHICAGO (AP) — Alleging conditions at Illinois' largest state-run mental hospital are substandard and inhumane, the American Civil Liberties Union is to file suit against the Illinois Department of Mental Health and Developmental Disabilities.

The complaint charges that the 1,400-bed University of Illinois Hospital in Chicago, the nation's third-largest state-run mental facility, is overcrowded and understaffed and that conditions there, including filthy rooms, infested with rodents and insects, and a lack of adequate recreation facilities for children, are contrary to the health and safety of the institutionalized children.

The hospital school is continuing to make improvements in providing educational programs for mentally retarded children in both short-term or insignificant solutions. A new program director, John Z. DeLaurenti, has been appointed as chief of admissions and interviews with a number of children and parents to discuss the problems and issues that are affecting the school.

In addition, the suit charges that DeLo­ rean's trial is a mistrial, or at least recon­ sider his ruling, because it means DeLaure­ nt's conviction is inadmissible.

“The first day she wrote the of­ fensive words to him, he was in un­ derstanding as Chicago's northwest­ side children's home had to be closed at the time of the suit's filing,” Weitzman said.

After the jury was dismissed, Woll had asked DeLo­ rean to grant a mistrial on the basis of DeLauren's conviction.

Aerospace investigation reveals flaws

Los Angeles — Federal aviation investigators still do not know what caused a 737-700 to land safely in a field after two pilots reported seeing the crash of an Aeronca jetliner and — at least a smaller plane that landed in a field.

While the purpose of the mission was to search for human remains in the wake of the crash, one保证金和航空安全官员使用了信息来预测什么是他们感兴趣的事情。

The main complaint was that equipment used by the FAA Aircraft Administrators on the trail aircraft was inadequate and outdated.

Air traffic managers and radar experts also told investigators the agent's 35-year-old ADSR radar system "may have been running".

New Polish council to heal nation's wounds

WARSAW, Poland (UPI) - Poland's parliament today approved the creation of a new council of prominent persons to advise the government on ways to heal the nation's wounds, including the recent anti-Semitic violence.

The council was created in response to growing public concern over the recent anti-Semitic violence in the country. The violence, which included attacks on Jewish institutions and individuals, has raised questions about Poland's commitment to protecting the rights of minorities.

The council, which will consist of leading figures from various sectors of Polish society, will be tasked with advising the government on how to address the issue of anti-Semitism and promote tolerance and understanding among different communities.

The council is expected to play a key role in shaping public discourse and influencing policies to combat anti-Semitism and promote social cohesion in Poland.

Rebels' civil rights at issue in Manila

MANILA, Philippines (UPI) - Rebel negotiators in Manila today stated that the rebels' right to self-determination is a condition in which they would take part in any negotiations with the government.

The statement came after a meeting between the rebels and government representatives, where discussions were held on the issue of rebel participation in any future peace talks.

The government has been seeking to negotiate a peaceful resolution to the ongoing conflict between the rebels and the government. However, the rebels have demanded certain conditions, including recognition of their right to self-determination, before they would consider participating in any peace talks.

The statement today reiterates the rebels' stance on this issue, highlighting the importance of their right to self-determination in any future negotiations.

Israelis protest against%c2%a0protests persist

JERUSALEM, Israel - Israeli soldiers fired tear gas canisters and shots at Arab demonstrators in the Sheikh Jarrah neighborhood of east Jerusalem on Monday, as the peaceful protest against the demolition of Palestinian homes continued.

The ongoing protests, which began on April 2, have been met with violence from Israeli security forces, who have used tear gas, rubber bullets, and live ammunition to disperse the protesters.

On Monday, the Israeli military announced that it would begin negotiations with Palestinian leaders to try to end the violence. However, the protesters have vowed to continue their demonstrations until their demands are met.

The protests have raised concerns about the escalating violence in Jerusalem, with tensions between Israelis and Palestinians reaching a critical point.

The ongoing protests highlight the ongoing conflict between Israelis and Palestinians, with both sides blaming each other for the violence.

The situation is expected to remain volatile in the coming days, with both sides continuing to accuse each other of provoking violence.

Hawkeye wrestlers battle back after tough defeat to Lions

By Dave Palmer

The Iowa wrestling team overcame a difficult start to do what they have done since wrestling for Ohio State and Cleveland State this weekend. Iowa has done well in the past, but has never had a season as good as this one.Earlier in the week the Haw- keyes went 1-3 at the Cleveland State Invitational and a loss to Ohio State in the Big Ten dual at Iowa City last week. Iowa has had a strong season, finishing 13-5 and 12-5 at 190 pounds.

Randy Friend recorded a tech fall at 197 pounds to beat Iowa's Timmy Scherertz 30-15 at 190 pounds. He is Iowa's second All-American, the first since Larry Larsen in 1982. Friend is the first Iowa wrestler to win a national title since 1982.

Friend scored 12 points in the first period and 14 points in the second period to win the match by technical fall. Friend is now 15-6 and 11-3 at 190 pounds. He is the first Iowa wrestler to win a national title since 1982.

Freshmen star for Hawkeyes

By Scott Rehfeld

The Iowa women's swimming and diving team won one of 16 events in the Wisconsin Invitational last weekend. The meet was held at the University of Wisconsin Aquatic Center. Freshman Becky Anderson, a former state champion in the 100 free, won the 100 free and the 200 free in 1:57.06 and 2:08.28, respectively. She also placed second in the 100 breast. Senior Susan Hollander won the 200 breast and was second in the 200 individual medley.

The other two individual winners for the Hawkeyes were freshman Krista Sakal, who won the 100 free (58.56) and another freshman, Louise King, in the 200 breaststroke (2:18.75). On the whole everyone did well for the Hawkeyes this weekend. It was our first chance to watch all of the events in the Big Ten race, so we were able to see how we are doing in the conference.

Off a lot of our depth and at the same time spot some of our weaknesses.

Testaverde searches for national title

NEW ORLEANS—Testaverde's of an NFL playboy would fit in for whatever reason. Lynch's work ethic, effort and desire speak for themselves. Lynch, 28, is a veteran of two Super Bowls. Hepracticed with the New York Giants last week and is expected to play against the Dallas Cowboys in Super Bowl XXI on Sunday.

In any event, the 6-foot-3, 225-pound running back or the NFL. But if that's what it takes to keep him close to the team, he's worth the effort. Lynch's dedication to his game is what ultimately brought him back to the New York Giants, where he began his career.

Iowa's Brandenburg is the No. 1 recruit in the nation, and he's been dominant. In his second year at Iowa, Brandenburg has already won six individual events and had three seconds in the Big Ten team meet. He's a lock to win the 50 freestyle and 100 butterfly.

The other two individuals with a chance to win are Lynch and Brandenburg. Lynch is the No. 1 recruit in the nation, and he's been dominant. In his second year at Iowa, Brandenburg has already won six individual events and had three seconds in the Big Ten team meet. He's a lock to win the 50 freestyle and 100 butterfly.

ALSO IN THE EARLY running for the Heisman are Notre Dame's kicker, Tim Brown, Michigan's defensive backs, Jamie Morris and Ohio State's quarterback, Brian Bosworth. Bosworth is a rehabilitation project, and he's the leader in yards per carry. Lynch is the leader in yards per carry. Lynch is the leader in yards per carry.

Starship Enterprise flies to No. 1 slot

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) —_Starship Enterprise_ , a new science-fiction epic from Paramount Pictures, knocked off the weekly box office champion, _American Tail_ , in its opening week.

The documentary admits its subject is the government's nuclear tests in the Pacific, which were filmed during the mid-1960s. (The tests, which were conducted over a four-year period, produced over a total of $94.2 million.)

Fine acting, writing highlight Riverside Theatre production

By Ross Olson

December 4, 1986

Riverside Theatre's "November" is not to be missed. The acting is superb, and while the production may be considered a "pity" play, it is due in large part to the skill of the actors involved in the production.

The cast of "November" is excellent, with each actor bringing their own unique take to the roles they play. The acting is natural and believable, and the chemistry between the characters is palpable.

The writing of "November" is also noteworthy. The dialogue is crisp and engaging, and the script provides a powerful look at the struggles and triumphs of the characters involved.

The production of "November" is top-notch, with excellent lighting and set design. The production value is evident in every aspect of the show, from the costuming to the overall presentation.

Overall, "November" is a must-see production. The acting, writing, and production values all come together to create a powerful and moving experience for the audience.
