School bus collision kills 1

By Carol Muskegan

A school bus carrying 19 students and four adults collided with a pickup truck Wednesday evening on U.S. Highway 23 near Walnut, Iowa, and a three-year-old child was killed.

The child, identified as Hannah R. Cozad, was pronounced dead at the scene by an attending doctor, the Washington County Sheriff's Department reported. The crash occurred about 3:30 p.m. on a bridge over the Raccoon River between Calmar and North Bend.

According to the sheriff's department, the driver of the school bus was traveling several miles over the speed limit on the bridge when the collision occurred.

The pickup truck was occupied by a man and a woman from Dutchess, Iowa, according to the sheriff's department.

The driver of the school bus and two other students were taken to Mercy Hospital and later released.

The sheriff's department said the school bus was traveling northbound on U.S. Highway 23 near the bridge, while the pickup truck was traveling southbound.

The school bus hit the pickup truck head-on, and the child was thrown from the bus, according to the sheriff's department.

The child was not wearing a seatbelt, and the sheriff's department said it is unknown if the child was wearing a helmet.

The school bus was carrying five students, four adults, and a driver, according to the sheriff's department.

The driver of the pickup truck was taken to Mercy Hospital with minor injuries, according to the sheriff's department.

The accident is under investigation by the Washington County Sheriff's Department, the Iowa Highway Patrol, and the National Transportation Safety Board.

Regents consider physician exodus

By Paul Thomas

State leaders have a misconception that there are too many physicians, according to a report by the University of Iowa College of Medicine's Board of Regents Wednesday night.

The report states that state leaders have a misconception that there are too many physicians practicing in the state.

According to the report, the state's economy and high cost of living have contributed to the physician exodus.

The report suggests that the state should consider ways to improve the state's economy and reduce the cost of living to retain physicians.

Committee vote blocks Contra aid

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The special Senate Committee voted 18-6 Wednesday to cut off all American aid to Nicaragua until the Marxist government of President Daniel Ortega is overthrown.

The action, approved largely on party lines, was the second in two congressional debates on President Ronald Reagan's policy of supporting the Nicaraguan "freedom fighters." Opponents said that while Congress might want the status quo to continue, it would not and there are not enough votes to override a presidential veto.

The measure would block delivery to the Contras of the $250 million in military aid that Congress approved last year.

REZNAH HAS also asked for $30 million in new military funds to be appropriated for the Contras arsenal this year, but the bill was blocked by the Senate Armed Services Committee.

The sky over several American diplomatic offices was filled with banners denouncing the invasion of a congressional ban has been requested by the Defense Department for $40 million worth of bonding material.

REGENTS VOTED 12-9 to overturn the recommendations of the Senate Appropriations Committee, which had recommended that the university disapprove of the proposal.

The furor over secret payments to the Contras - a provision that could include Israeli, South Korean, and Chinese funds - is likely to continue.

The special Senate committee recently issued a report recommending that the university cut off all American aid to Nicaragua until the Marxist government of President Daniel Ortega is overthrown.

Despite greater federal aid universities increase tuition

By William J. Bennet

Many of our colleges and universities do well financially. In fact, a number of them do so annually for the past six years, they have begun to raise tuition at levels that would shock the residential colleges and universities of the past.

Note, tuition is expected to rise per cent, on average, over the next three years. This is a result of inflation during 1984 was 14.4 per cent.

Yale's president, Benson C. Ford, Jr., attributes his university's tuition hike in part to "reimbursing contributions of gift income that were not expected to be available." This assertion flies in the face of reality.

Since 1982, money available from state and federal student aid programs has increased every year. In 1986, federal, state and local aid to college students increased 27 percent, compared to only 14 percent per year in 1982. This per cent that is the financial vital importance of financial aid to students is self aid programs such as Federal Work-"These programs have increased more than tuition, it is true, but we have our priorities in the context of the overall inflation rates.

Unfortunately, when it comes to higher education, this is not the only problem. The State University System of New York's allocation for increased charges - "now knowledge is increasingly more expensive" only underscores the lack of state and support of even our most ivy universities.

Higher education is not under attack. It is under criticism and ultimate is not the fault of these universities. The 1972 Anti-Ballistic Missile Treaty. For 15 years, the Pentagon has been trying to develop, test or deploy ABM systems or components. This is a start. The remaining groups, however, need to follow suit by extending invitations and membership offers.

The club's move to include women in the traditionally male-oriented business, however, used to prevent the inclusion of any women from entering the ranks of this group is a significant step forward. This is an opportunity for women to participate in the traditionally male-oriented businesses, and to take leadership in the future of this club.

McBride, Perrin, and other women who have been involved in the club's move to include women in the traditionally male-oriented businesses, have been the driving force behind this move. Avalanche kills skier, buries 2 in snow

MERRICK BEACH, Colo. - An avalanche thundered down a 4,500-foot mountain Wednesday, killing one skier and burying at least two others beneath 30 feet of snow. Two of the dead were skiers, the first for months in the region.

The skiers were trudging side-by-side across the Sierra Nevada, pushing the snow with long metal poles, and two dogs tagged along to sniff out avalanche victims.

Witnesses said the avalanche was a half-mile wide. It plowed away the 10-foot path and left a 50-foot wide track in the snow. The path ended at the 4,300-foot level of the Kearsarge ski resort, about 15 miles south of Lone Tree, Colo.

One of the skiers was buried and the other died next to the Rockslide ski resort, about 45 miles south of Lone Tree.

The National Park Service, where the avalanche occurred, held safety tests this year. No avalanche warnings were posted at the time.

COLUMBUS, Ohio — It wasn't supposed to be this way.

But with one second left and the Buckeyes holding on to an 84-82 lead, Iowa's Sean Conlon fired a three-point shot and watched as it rattled through the net.

The buzzer sounded, and Iowa had derailed Ohio State's B1G title hopes.

"It's not the way we wanted to go out," Ohio State head coach Thad Matta said. "We'll have to regroup and move on to the NCAA Tourney."

Conlon, a senior from Iowa City, was the hero for the Hawkeyes.

"I'm so happy for him," Iowa Coach Fran McCaffery said. "You know how it is in college. It's up to them what they make of it."

Conlon's three-pointer capped a 10-2 run by Iowa to avert a 103-100 overtime.

The Buckeyes, who had been favored by 14 points, instead were left to scratch and snarl over a coaching decision that went against them.

"It's a learning experience," Matta said. "It's important to learn from this and prepare yourself for the NCAA Tourney."

Iowa, at 8-3 in the league and 24-5 overall, will take its momentum to the NCAA Tournament.

Ohio State, at 9-2 in the league and 23-7 overall, will probably need some more help from the Selection Committee to get into the NCAA Tourney.

The Buckeyes also played without their leading scorer, Greg Oden, who was suspended for six games.

Matta said he didn't reach his decision to pull Oden until after a timeout with 14 seconds left in the game.

"I felt it was the right thing to do," Matta said. "He reacted OK to it."

Oden is Ohio State's leading scorer at 21.9 points per game.

"We'll have to regroup and move on," Matta said. "We'll get a chance to regroup and improve."

Iowa, which shot 49.2 percent from the field for the game, led 81-75 with just over two minutes remaining.

But Ohio State went on an 8-0 run to grab a 83-81 lead, only for Iowa to rally back to grab the lead.

"I think they're a much better team than we were," Matta said. "They deserved to win."

In the end, the Buckeyes couldn't make the shot that would have helped them send Iowa home.

"I think we have to regroup and move on," Matta said. "We'll have to regroup and move on."

Iowa's Tony Long had 19 points and 12 rebounds, while Iowa State's Kyle Mallard led the Buckeyes with 21 points.

"I think we have to regroup and move on," Matta said. "But we have to regroup and move on."

Iowa's men's basketball team is the No. 8 seed in the NCAA Tournament, and will play the No. 9 seed Oklahoma State in the first round.

The Hawkeyes will face the Sooners on Thursday at 6:30 p.m. in Columbus, Ohio.

Iowa's women's basketball team is the No. 4 seed in the NCAA Tournament, and will play the No. 5 seed Stanford in the first round.

The Hawkeyes will face the Cardinal on Thursday at 6:30 p.m. in Columbia, Missouri.

Women's Tennis

This weekend, the Iowa women's tennis team will travel to West Lafayette, Indiana, to face Purdue and Northwestern.

The Hawkeyes enter the weekend with an overall record of 7-4 and an SEC record of 2-3.

Last weekend, the Hawkeyes defeated the University of Missouri, 6-1.

"We have to regroup and move on," McCaffery said. "We have to regroup and move on."

Iowa's women's tennis team will face Purdue on Friday at 2:00 p.m. and Northwestern on Saturday at 1:00 p.m.

Women's Track

The Iowa women's track and field team will compete in the Big Ten Outdoor Championship this weekend at Northern Iowa.

"We have to regroup and move on," McCaffery said. "We have to regroup and move on."

The Hawkeyes will face the No. 1 seed in the NCAA Tournament, the University of Oklahoma, in the first round.

The Hawkeyes will face the Sooners on Thursday at 6:30 p.m. in Columbia, Missouri.

Triva Teaser

1. Where is the University of Iowa located?
2. Who is the current head coach of the Iowa women's tennis team?
3. What is the overall record of the Iowa women's tennis team this season?

"I think we have to regroup and move on," McCaffery said. "I think we have to regroup and move on."

Iowa's women's tennis team will face Purdue on Friday at 2:00 p.m. and Northwestern on Saturday at 1:00 p.m.

Before moving to Columbia, Mo., Steven Triple Jump star Bill Borg lived most of his life in Iowa City. So when he had to make a decision as to which team he'd like to work for, Iowa was the obvious choice.

"I was excited about playing for the Hawkeyes," Borg said. "I was excited about playing for the Big Ten while Ohio State fell short."

Borg, who coached the Hawkeyes for 10 years, will return to Iowa City in a few weeks.

"I'm looking forward to coaching at Iowa," Borg said. "I'm looking forward to coaching at Iowa."

Iowa takes on Irish in shortened action

When the Blackhawks men's tennis team takes on Notre Dame this weekend, it will be a match they are not officially playing. The team will only be playing for the first time in its history this weekend.

The team is in a state of flux as it prepares for its first competitive match of the season. The squad is currently working on its indoor facility, a building that has been under construction for over a year.

"We're the only university in the world outside the United States to have a Super Bowl coach as our tennis coach," said a team official. "He brings a wealth of experience and knowledge to our team.

Notre Dame is also working on its indoor facility, which the Hawkeyes hope to have ready for practice by the end of the season.

The match will take place at 2 p.m. on Saturday at the University of Iowa Tennis Center. The match is not expected to be completed until Sunday afternoon.

Ballesteros ready for Los Angeles Open

A. M. Ballesteros, 28, was forced to withdraw from the Los Angeles Open on Thursday after tests revealed a stress fracture in his ankle. The injury will keep him out of action for six to eight weeks.

Ballesteros, who entered the tournament as the third seed, was scheduled to play Juan Carlos Ferrero in the quarterfinals.

The tournament, which started on Wednesday, was a stop on the Sony Ericsson Tour. The event was canceled due to bad weather.
Houston (AP) — Michelle Wiggins, who along with Houston Rocket'sinnamon Lewin once governed a successful professional basketball career, is out of the NBA.

"I take this in stride, it's a part of life," Wiggins said, "but I have always been a fighter, and I'll continue to fight."

"For me, it's a new chapter in my life, a new beginning."

But will she be back in the NBA?

"I hope so, but I don't know," Wiggins said. "I have to stay healthy, and I have to stay focused."
The NFL is bargaining with the NFL Players Association (NFLPA) to renegotiate the collective bargaining agreement (CBA) that expired in March 2023. The NFLPA, led by Executive Director DeMaurice Smith, has threatened to go to the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) if the NFL doesn't agree to their demands. The NFLPA is demanding changes to the CBA that would benefit the players, including improved contract language, increased financial compensation, and greater control over their own careers.

The NFLPA has not made any specific proposals for changes to the current CBA, but they have indicated that they will demand changes to the existing structure of the league.

The NFL, led by Commissioner Roger Goodell, has also not made any public statements on the negotiations. It is unknown what changes the NFL is willing to make to the CBA.

The NFLPA has stated that the current CBA is outdated and needs to be updated to reflect the modern game of football. They have also stated that they are not willing to negotiate in good faith until the NFL makes concrete offers on the key issues that are important to the players.

The NFLPA has also threatened to strike if the NFL does not agree to their demands. The NFLPA has stated that they are prepared to strike if necessary to get the league to make concessions on the key issues.

Art students show multi-faced work

By Beth Lucke

ART majors at Grand Valley State University are exhibiting their work on the second floor of the Baggs Center through Nov. 11.

The two art classes are both required to complete four art classes for graduation. Art 118, introduction to art techniques, is mostly a studio class and Art 220, art appreciation, is an elective class. Both classes are required for a degree in art education.

"The students are at different levels and they do different things every three days," said Hugh Heilig, an instructor of the art department.

The art students are divided into sections and small groups, but the work they exhibit is similar to each other. The students work on projects that are designed to help them understand and develop an appreciation of art.

"We try to make art for the student, not just for a mark," said Heilig.

The art department offers a variety of classes that students can take, including drawing, painting, sculpture, photography, and printmaking.

"We want to make art for the student, not just for a mark," said Heilig.

Boring love story spoils 'Hip'

T PROBABLY isn’t a coincidence that all the high points of the John Hurt movie "From the Hip" seem to have been previewed in his recent film "The Day of the Locust," which has the most illogical title.
