Hart plans to withdraw after 25-day candidacy

By Carol Mann
Assistant News Writer

General Johnstown Democratic senators were to shock Thursday evening over the withdrawal of Democratic presidential hopeful Bill Hart from the 1989 presidential race.

Hart, who is expected to announce his withdrawal officially at an 11 a.m. press conference today, had been the candidate expected to succeed him in the November elections.

The senator had spent Friday night in Philadelphia with a woman he had no wish to identify.

"We are deeply concerned over this point," UPI Journalist Butterfield said today. "This is the day Democratic senators and statesmen expected to announce Hart's withdrawal when the candidate cancelled camp­aign plans in New Hampshire and returned to the U.S.

"IT IS KIND OF AMAZING to see the Hart campaign flounder like this," Butterfield added today. "I have a sinking feeling the withdrawal will be left wide open for all the other candidates who are expected to announce their candidacy in a snow-covered Park in 1989.

"It is a sad day for the candidates, but it is a result of Bill Hart's decision to withdraw from the race. We are shocked by Hart's withdrawal, looking for him to be doing, and we have no official comment.

"Our concern is that there is a big question mark about how Hart's withdrawal will affect the campaign's end shocks supporters for Hart, said .

"IT IS A Difficult day for us all," Butterfield said today. "We were all looking forward to the Hart campaign and the hope that he would bring a fresh perspective to the presidential race.

"We did not expect this to happen," Butterfield added. "This is a shock for all of us, and we are trying to come to terms with it. We will make a statement later today."

Summer job search has hit this year
Two recent federal laws requiring employers to have verifiable identification may make colleges and high school students' summer job searches more difficult.

One law requires all job applicants to have a social security number in order to accept their job application for any purpose. Social security card applications can be obtained from any post offices, but cannot be purchased.

The second regulation, part of the Immigration and Naturalization Act, requires employers to check applicants' identification and verify their employability. The law went into effect on Jan. 1, giving the U.S. job market at uncertain low wages.

James Hess, Museum Installation Coordinator, said, "For many of the galleries in the building, this is the first time the walls have been done since the museum opened in 1969. Since the museum opened in 1969. The walls will be lighter in color and cleaner looking.

FBI pursues Arlington Heights official

CHICAGO — The FBI issued an arrest warrant Thursday for Alderman Joe Donini, who is accused of changing his voter village to earn $60,000 in federal unemployment benefits.

A nationwide arrest issued over the FBI’s National Crime Information Service described Donini as “armed, dangerous and suicidal.”

The information was released Monday after being questioned by the FBI and police after the official might have taken a .22 caliber handgun with him when he left.

Donini is accused of using his height and weight to obtain unemployment benefits from the Arlington Heights Police Department fund to buy a $68,000 house in the 1980s and FBI spokesman Bob Long.

Police allegedly transferred the profits to his personal account.

2 men indicted for plot to kill Ortega

TUPELO, Miss. (UPI) - Two self-described adherents of the National Liberation Front were indicted here Thursday on charges of plotting to murder a Guatemala military attachée during a brief appearance before U.S. Magistrate F. Steele Langford and was expected to be held in Okla­

The Justice Department said the men, identified as Reginald Reagan, 27, of Oklahoma City, and Robert Byrd of West Virginia, have been charged with perjury for withholding information from a grand jury that they were to have a role in the kidnapping and murder of a U.S. official.

The indictment charged Reagan to join in taking on a conspiracy to kill the National Liberation Front member and that the president's spokesman had a "little bit of a problem" in the drug trade.

The indictment said that on or about Dec. 10, 1980, Donald Howard killed himself and was charged with conspiracy to murder and attempting to kill a foreign official.

Howard's behavior is said to have led to a grand jury investigation.

The indictment said that in 1978, when the Democrats in Congress were in power, he had to get out from under the pressure of the House investigating the American Indian Movement's activities.

Howard said that he was not aware of the president's spokesman, and that he was not aware of the president's spokesman's financial 'problems.'

The indictment also said that in 1978, when the Democrats in Congress were in power, he had to get out from under the pressure of the House investigating the American Indian Movement's activities.

Despite Secord testimony, Reagan denies involvement

WASHINGTON, D.C. - President Reagan repeatedly has been asked during the past month whether he knew about the diversion of funds to Contra rebels in Nicaragua and whether he approved of the operation.

On Wednesday, the former CIA officer, Oliver North told the Senate investigating committee that Deputy National Security Adviser Edwin Meese III had helped him and the Angleton family. Meese, who made a motion to have the hearing tabled, was quoted as saying that he had not known about the Contra case.

"There's nothing against the law in that," North said. "I'm very pleased that American people felt that I took it as a joke.

"I think humorous was not said to me in a way that it looked as if a joke," North said.

"The president was not aware of the diversion of funds. He didn't know about it," North indicated Reagan was aware of his activities.

"The condemnation was always in order," Reagan said with a big smile.

While House spokesman Ron Brown told reporters that the president knew of the Contra operation early in the administration, a White House spokesman, Fitzwater said he did not know about it. Fitzwater said that while Reagan had been aware of the operation, "Reagan did not know that there was a fund diversion.

"I didn't know that there was a fund diversion," Fitzwater said.

"As far as I know, the president did not know about any government arms sales," Fitzwater said.

When asked about the National Security Council, Fitzwater said, "I'm still waiting to hear from that." Fitzwater said he did not know about the Contra affairs.

"We've got the tools, and we've got the tools that will help other people get the tools they need," Field said.

Botha vows to clamp down on South African opposition

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI) — President Pieter Botha, strengthened by an election win that extended his ruling party's monopoly on political power, Thursday he will clamp down on opposition outside the white-only elections.

"The country must know that I am determined to take a very strong stance on extra-parliamentary politics," Botha said in his first comment on the results of Wednesday's parliamentary actions, "I have no intention of ignoring them, to bringing about change and there is a tendency to finance those organizations from sources not originally South African."

"I must warn against this. The outside world must see that they are being fanned."

Hawkeyes hope for decent conference finish

BY ERIC J. KEESER

The ninth-seeded Iowa men's and women's tennis teams will face the top-seeded Michigan teams in the Big Ten championship matches this weekend.

The Hawkeyes will meet the Wolverines in the No. 1 singles match, and the Wolverines' team will meet the Hawkeyes in the No. 4 singles match. The No. 2 and No. 3 teams in the conference, according to the Hawkeyes, have a pretty good chance for a fifth-place finish. Between the No. 2 and No. 3 teams in the conference, according to the Hawkeyes, there's not a whole lot of difference on the books.

If Iowa wins in the first round, it will meet top-seeded Northwestern in the second round.

Iowa has been very consistent over the last several years, and it's no surprise to see them in the No. 2 position. The Hawkeyes are two wins behind the Michigan Wolverines, and they will meet the Wolverines in the second round.

The Hawkeyes are hoping to use their home court advantage to gain an advantage in the conference.

Hawks seek league tune-up

By Dan Milke
Staff Writer

The Iowa men's track team will get another tune-up for the upcoming Big Ten Championships Sunday, when four conference teams visit Iowa City.

Illinois, Minnesota, Northwestern and Purdue will get a chance to compete on the home track this weekend, the site of this spring's outdoor championships May 20.

While the meet looks like a semi-preview of the upcoming Big Ten meet, at least for the distance races, it will also reflect the likely outcome of the league championship

SEVERAL HAWK TEAMS ARE still nursing injuries, and two more football players whether to compete or not until Sunday, the meet will not necessarily reflect Iowa's chances in the league championships.
