Branstad approves speed lift to 65 mph

MERIDIAN (UTP) — Governor Branstad began driving 65 mph along the state's newest metal plate barrier highway Tuesday. The 52-mile span between Council Bluffs and Sioux City, opened last week, was cleared by the Iowa Department of Transportation, which had scheduled the trial to allow it to be able to make the 35 mph to 65 mph change in the fall. Branstad was accompanied by Iowa Transportation Secretary Bob Ziemer.

UI officials disagree over success of attracting funds

By Stewart Park
The Iowa Legislature is being asked to allocate state university system billions of dollars more next year to attract students and keep them out of the state's public universities and colleges. The legislature boosted student aid, increased public financial aid, scored a $34 million increase in funding for high tech and research facilities, including the Laser Center. But UI President F. John Stork said UI was not fully forthcoming in its funding. "We have not responded to the regents in the way we've had in the past," he said. "We have not that appearance."
NU employees file equal pay complaint

About 400 female managerial professional employees at NU have been subjected to unlawful wage discrimination because of sex, according to a lawsuit filed in federal court in October.

The women, Quisen Terriera and Rosalind Fisher, are employees at the university, university police, the women discovered the discrepancy in December 1988 when they learned that no one in his or her workplace was making the same salary. Essentially the same day they were contacted, the women were told that they were receiving equal pay, according to the law.

The women have filed a complaint with the federal government's Equal Employment Opportunity Commission. According to the complaint, the university has failed to pay the same amount of money to employees of the same job class. The complaint also alleges that the university has failed to pay employees of the same sex the same amounts of money.

The university will not comment on the lawsuit. It has filed a counterclaim against the women, alleging that they were paid equal or more than male employees in the same position.

The complaint alleges that the university failed to provide the women with the same benefits as male employees, including retirement benefits, health insurance, and paid leave.

The university has also been accused of failing to provide the women with the same opportunities for advancement as male employees, including promotions and assignments to key positions.

Democratic lawmakers blast Branstad's special session

DES MOINES (C-J) - A special legislative session would be needed to fix a state revenue problem, according to Senate Majority Leader Bill Dixterie.

"We've been very careful in how we've approached the tax issue, because we didn't want to raise any taxes from 13 percent to 6 percent," Dixterie said. "But the Republicans by proposing the elimination of a provisions of current law allowing Iowans to lower all their federal tax payments on their state returns. The Democrats expressed a half dozen times of trying to keep a compen-

Single-home owners in Iowa City have proposed a smoking ban. The residents are concerned about the health risks associated with secondhand smoke, and they want to create a safer environment for their families.

Estate sale

The Iowa City council is scheduled to hold a meeting on Tuesday, to discuss the proposed smoking ban. The public is encouraged to attend and voice their opinions on the matter.

The proposed policy would ban smoking in all public places, including schools, libraries, and city parks. The council is expected to vote on the proposal at the meeting.

The City Council delays decision on parking project

The City Council has delayed a decision on a parking project in downtown Iowa City. The project would involve the construction of a new parking garage to alleviate traffic congestion in the area.

The council was unable to reach a consensus on the proposed project, and they have decided to table the decision until a later date. The public is encouraged to provide feedback on the project through the city's website or by contacting their local representatives.

Discounts

Discounts are available on a variety of products, including Hy-Vee brand items and popular brands like Pepsi and Tostitos.

The council has also approved a discount program for senior citizens, which includes a 10% discount on all purchases.

Unfair treatment

Next week, while most UI students are enjoying a well-deserved break, university administrators and faculty members will be busy implementing policies that will have a major impact on their lives for the upcoming semesters. While these tasks will keep administrators busy for a number of weeks, evaluating the university's policy on discrimination remains to be seen. The ultimate reason why the unwritten policy prohibiting UPS from publishing sexually explicit pictures was adopted was the issue of whether the university's action had caused the group to lose revenue. The university takes, as a result of the subcommittee's report, that on the issue of end discrimination against women.

Everywhere, voters examine candidates without regard to labels or enrollment. If they like what they see, they are happy to dispense with parties; if they find them wanting, the reaction is quick and decisive.

Comment

There is no longer a two-party system but rather a many-party system. The independent voters in both parties are no longer predictable party politics.

As a result, the traditional labels no longer hold. The candidates are no longer bound by the party line, and the voters can choose freely who they want to support.

In addition, a string of political events beginning with Watergate has bred a nonpartisan electorate that is less interested in the political process. The public is more concerned with their personal lives and less interested in the political world.

It is also worth noting that the 2004 primary season will be decided in the primary season. More people who are more actively involved in the political process. As the number of voters increases, the political landscape changes.

Iowa City masseuse offers unique and relaxing therapy

By J. Maysan
Special to The Daily Iowan

The recent rains in our area may have dampened slightly of scented oil. It seemed to be a place, some- thing special. And so it was.

Iowa City is a small town, nestled in the heart of the Midwest, where the pace of life is slower, and the people are friendlier. It is a place where one can truly feel at home.

I had been hearing about this new massage parlor in town, and I was curious to see what all the fuss was about. So, one day, I decided to pay a visit.

As I walked through the door, I was greeted by a friendly receptionist who showed me to a waiting room. While I waited, I perused the menu of services, which included Swedish, deep tissue, and sports massages.

Finally, it was my turn. I was led to a private room, where I was met by a massage therapist named Harris. She was professional, yet warm and welcoming. She had me undress and lie face down on a massage table.

Harris began by massaging my neck and shoulders, working out the tension and stress that had built up over the past week. She then moved on to my back, finding the trigger points and releasing the tightness. I closed my eyes and allowed myself to fully relax.

Harris continued to work on my legs, calves, and feet, ensuring that every muscle was relaxed and at ease. She even worked on my hands, releasing any stiffness or tension. Finally, she massaged my feet, focusing on the arches and toes.

Throughout the massage, Harris was attentive to my needs, asking if I was comfortable and if I needed any adjustments. She was knowledgeable and skilled, and I felt completely at ease.

After the massage, I was left feeling refreshed and rejuvenated. Harris provided me with a list of tips for self-massage and how to continue the benefits of the massage at home.

In conclusion, I highly recommend The Massage Parlor in Iowa City. It is a truly exceptional massage experience, and I will definitely be returning for future appointments. The staff is friendly and professional, and the facilities are top-notch. If you're looking for a massage that is truly relaxing and rejuvenating, this is the place to go.

Students and boycott after transfer

CAPETOWN, South Africa — Thousands of students at a leading university Thursday refused to return to classes after authorities agreed to transfer a white dentist professor around of town.

Government officials, backing a decision by the "white" University of Stellenbosch Medical Faculty Executive Committee, ordered the move. African National Congress spokesman said the university's executive committee backed the finding by a four-man commission set up to look into "rare" cases of academic nepotism.

"We are still waiting for the report to be released," said Afrikaner Stellenbosch University, probing the racism charges that sparked a nationwide alert was delayed for 10 hours.

"It is possible the researcher who was defrocked would not be able to work in society," said Lee Bogaarden, 87-year-old mother.

"I want to send a very sharp signal that this is not a technological decision," said Jeffry Cohen.

"The whole history of the area will be reviewed," said Simon's 87-year-old mother.

Earlier, members voted 250-19 to allocate $3.1 billion in the bill for the Strategic Defense Initiative, as that was properly handled by President Reagan. The Supreme Court concurred in a 9-0 decision that the bill violates constitutional limits.

"I want to send a very sharp signal that this is not a technological decision," said Jeffry Cohen.

"It is morally imperative, practically, politically, technically, feasibly and prudently finally responsible for us to move in deployment and develop the shields kinetic energy weapons," said事.

Reagan denies soliciting aid

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ronald Reagan, under scrutiny because of recent stances on the Nicaragua Contras, denied Monday that he ever personally solicited aid for the Sandinista rebels or U.S. money to arms the Contras during a meeting with Saudi Arabia.

The White House depicted the meeting as coincidental, and not as a quid pro quo arm sales.

Reagan said his involvement in third-party aid to the Contras was called into question by the testimony of National Security Advisor Robert McFarlane in the Iran-Contra investigation.

White House spokesman Adamistration candidate, said Wednesday, May 13, 1987: "He was aware of the illegal ones - if there were any."

Fitzwater again underscored the separate conundrums Reagan faced all along toward the Contras - a theme the president echoed in a speech to a business group promoting economic development in Latin America.

"We must remember that in Nicaragua, the freedom fighters are rebels, not terrorists," Reagan said.

Aquino-favored candidates set to control Senate, House

The new Senate, headed by Vice President Juan Ponce Enrile, will be packed with politicians who have the support of the late president's immediate family.

Enrile, who heads a bloc of senators from the Aquino administration, is expected to control the Senate, which will be dominated by pro-Aquino candidates.

The Senate is set to take charge of the country's major economic issues, including investments, trade, finance, and foreign relations.

The House of Representatives, which is also dominated by pro-Aquino candidates, will have a majority of lawmakers who support Aquino's policies.

The new Senate and House will have to address the country's pressing issues, such as the economy, poverty, and corruption.

The Aquino administration has been in power since 1986, and its policies have been widely criticized by the public and opposition lawmakers.

The new administration, headed by President Ferdinand Marcos, is expected to be more focused on economic growth and development.

The Marcos administration has been accused of corruption and human rights abuses, and its policies have been seen as favoring the wealthy and powerful.

Montreal remains alive with 5-2 win

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Larry Robinson scored the second goal during a power play and assisted on two of four goals in the Flyers' 5-2 victory over the Montreal Canadiens Thursday at the Montreal Forum and put the Flyers in a tie for first place in the NHL East.

The victory drew the Flyers to within 3-2 of the Montreal Canadiens with 6-2 road records and only seven points behind the New York Islanders, who have played two games in hand. The Flyers' history is the only history in the NHL and third this season.

The victory was the Flyers' second consecutive win over the Canadiens and brought their record to 2-2-1 against the Canadiens for the season. The Flyers are currently tied with the Canadiens for the best record in the NHL East with 4-2-1 records.

With their victory over the Canadiens, the Flyers have won three of their last four games and are currently on a four-game winning streak. They have scored 19 goals in their last three games and have allowed only 12 goals in their last five games.

In their last two games against the Canadiens, the Flyers have outscored Montreal 18-7 and have allowed only one goal in each game. They have scored three goals in each of their last two games against the Canadiens and have allowed only one goal in each game.

The Flyers' defense has been a key factor in their recent success. They have allowed only one goal in each of their last three games and have held the Canadiens to one goal in each of their last three games.

The Flyers' offense has also been a key factor in their recent success. They have scored 18 goals in their last three games and have scored at least one goal in each of their last three games.

Overall, the Flyers are currently on a six-game winning streak and have won six consecutive games against the Canadiens. They are currently tied with the Canadiens for the best record in the NHL East and are currently tied for first place in the NHL East with 4-2-1 records.

Guokas signs two-year deal, will remain with Philadelphia

Guokas said, however, that he has never concerned about job security.

"We were not difficult," Guokas said. "But I think the job security is not too good."

Guokas said that he is looking forward to the upcoming season.

Editor files his final column

I have been covering sports for the last forty years and will be filling that same column for the next forty years or so. Some memories will be pleasant and others will be painful, but they will all be worth writing about.

Some memories will be pleasant and others will be painful, but they will all be worth writing about.

Once upon a time, when the Hawkeyes were getting ready for their final game of the season, the coach had a few words of encouragement for the players. "Good 'ole boys were done sound good. If Iowa loses, and Iowa Athletic Department side of the Hawkeyes' gymnasium for the day."

Iowa had done so quite a bit and talked the Iowa legend—often has to go home walked over and returned her if the men's basketball coach was a very great person. He had been media pressures? he had said, "I try this coupon.

In Iowa men's gymnastics, Coach John Raveling is always easy to work with and very easy to talk to. In Coach Raveling's problem, I found what I was looking for, and not just because he was easy to talk to, but just because he was easy to talk to.

I am not the only one who has found Raveling helpful. I've had a few phone calls from former gymnasts, some of whom have told me they have found Raveling helpful as well. If anyone has any questions, or would like to talk to him, please feel free to call.

Raveling's replacement, Devan Thompson, is a very good person. He has the potential to do a lot of good things, and it is exciting to see what he will accomplish in his new role.

I hope you enjoy the final column. I look forward to seeing you all again soon.

At the Bijou

Midland Plaza (1987). Joan Crawford plays the devoted mother to the unwanted child in this richly textured, beautifully acted drama. She plays the unexpected character of a spirited, talented young woman who has made a life for herself. Juste by the age of 14, she becomes a complete director. As with his previous film, Peggy Sue Murders, he shows a growing strength in his work and an increasing interest in the world around him. It is a story of tender heart, innocence, and childhood dreams. The story is set at Fort Myer. The main section of the film is extensive location filming at the base. It received good reviews and was a box office success.

Gardens of Stone explores unseen side of Vietnam War

By Kevin C. Keene

A SELDOM seen side of the military is glimpsed in director Francis Coppola's Vietnam-era drama Gardens of Stone. The film, from the novel by leslie Hersh, is a vivid, sympathetic exploration of the physical and psychological scars which the war itself, but at the end, it has an omitted sense-bin

Screenplay is masterly in capturing the human element. The character of the hero, who discards his ambivalence, is a masterful character study. The story is set at Fort Myer.
