GPA inflation trend reversed

By John Bargerhagen

During the early and mid 1970s, the grade point average at colleges and universities across the country began increasing.

Many educators believed grades were inflated to the rise in grade points would favor the value of grades as indicators of scholastic achievement and intellectual ability.

But for the past decade, a general upward trend of grade point average has caused increased concern at universities, including the UI, to stabilize.

Dean of Academic Affairs John G. Davis said that while the inflation in grade averages continues to be significant, the rates of student engagement and achievements in that time period.

The majority of students have found GPA to be an unreliable indicator of scholastic achievement and intellectual ability.

"We don't have control over some of these things, and grades are not as important as we thought they were," Davis said. "We've been working on this issue for over 10 years, and the concern is still as relevant today as it was 10 years ago, if not more so."

Kamp wins straw poll

DES MOINES — Presidential hopeful Bob Kamp placed first in a Polk County Republicans straw poll held Wednesday while Vice President George Bush finished a distant fourth in what both parties say is an important early test election.

The poll, taken among 1,804 registered Republicans at a high school football game, showed Kamp, a New York real estate developer, scoring 29.2 percent of the vote. Bush placed second with 19.3 percent of the vote. Kamp was followed by Senator Robert Dole, Kansas, with 15.3 percent of the vote. Iowa State Senator Karl Roche, Des Moines, placed fourth with 8.4 percent of the vote.

Housing settle

The condemnation of the house of James and Mary Elder's parents in the northwest part of the city is pending. The house was condemned due to its age and structural damage to an interracial couple living there. Their lease in the house is due to expire this summer.

Gas prices increase

Gas prices in the next few days may rise an average of 2-3 cents a gallon, according to the AAA Illinois. The increase is due to rising oil prices and the upcoming summer driving season.

Separate funerals will be held for summer graduates

By Anne Keating
The Daily Iowan

UI officials say they plan to accommodate the growing number of friends and relatives who attend UI summer commencements by booking larger facilities for the ceremonies.

Last summer, about 200 friends and family members were turned away from the commencement because Hansen Auditorium was filled to capacity. Previous summer commencements have included all gradu­ating students.

This year, to allow more people to attend, a ceremony for students receiving graduate and professional degrees will be held at 1 p.m., while a ceremony at 3:15 p.m. will be held in Hansen Auditorium, which seats 4,600.

The number of graduating students has not undergone significant change, but the number of student attendees has increased, according to UI public relations director Donald Dallam.

"MORE PARENTS and friends are attending the commen­cements," he said. "The students are encouraging friends and relatives to attend.

"After last year's summer commen­cement, members of the UI Registrar's Office along with other UI officials, dis­cussed alternatives to the overcrowded situation at Hansen.

Commencement ceremonies in December and May are held in Carver-Hawkeye Arena, which seats 12,000. However, the arena is not air-conditioned. Hansen Auditorium is in the same building as the Carver-Hawkeye Arena, on the UI campus, and Dallam said the comfort of those attending graduation cere­monies was a key factor in the decision to keep the summer commencement at Hansen.

"We want to make sure people don't heat up," Dallam said. "But in the dignity of the facility, it's better than nothing.

"Dallam said any UI student who has applied to receive a degree on July 31 will receive a letter from the registrar's office stating whether the new cere­mony commencement proce­dure.

Separate funerals will be held for summer graduates.

A former UI student was shot and killed last Thursday, following an altercation at a Joes' Pub, 115 S. Dubuque St.

Heads of summer freedom, relatives of the deceased, and friends of the family gathered at the funeral of the UI student.

"The only thing that matters to her is that her children are happy. That's what the family has always been about," Dallam said.

"The music, which ranged from rock to country, drew a crowd of many people. It was very impressive with the atmosphere.

"IT'S A LATE sort of summer afternoon, the type that makes me want to sing. It's a long time since I've done that," Brown said. "It's nice to see all the people while it's still this hot. There are the times you remember (10 years down the road when you remem­ber with a friend about the good old summertime."

"We noticed a mother playing with her three children down in the fountain a few feet from where she was sitting.

"This woman doesn't care to have a care in the world. She's just here to enjoy the moment, and that's what life is. That's what it's about. Its about the little moments, and if you're lucky enough, you can make those moments feel good."
Lessons to learn

The Iowa City School District's State's Rights group has released last month. The document offered much praise for the Iowa City school system, and this praise is well-deserved.

But underneath the self-congratulatory nature of the report lies a growing concern in the Iowa City School District in having problems, and those problems, if unaddressed, could undermine what has been acknowledged as one of the best education programs in the state.

Perhaps the most obvious problem is the state of teacher morale. While parents are generally offered to let teacher morale remain at its current state, it is important to note that many of these changes have been well-received.

The introduction of the latest 40-minute, 20-slide computer presentations, correlated to our national and international news report, has been a success. Instead of state wide resident property taxes being added to the D3 reports readers, last-minute and analysis of the situation, a regional weather chart and historical decimal sine wave charts and graphs of Iowa City television on the same page, can be seen now. This program has been successful. The Iowa City school system is growing pains as it undergoes a reforma tion, and we also might think of it as a test to see how it will work out for us over the next three years.

Real progress?

Imagine a Soviet society in which there is no limit to the amount of money an individual can earn, in which profit is a measure of success and inefficient companies are shut down, unproductive or unneeded workers are laid off, and maintenance workers have a primary role in the economic planning and greater autonomy to producers on how much and what to produce. He also called for a longer business cycle to be guaranteed if the economic reforms have been a success. Instead of radical. A longer business cycle may not be achieved if the economic reforms have been a success. Instead of radical. Their elimination could not have been considered.

Dukakis, ice cream attract large gathering in Iowa City

By Shawn Ploch

An unexpectedly large crowd turned out for Democratic presidential candidate Michael Dukakis' gathering at a Midwest Iowa ice cream shop, but it wasn't because of the usual politician-candidate types. The attraction: the candidate himself. Mourners, friends and others gathered at the ice cream shop to remember a man who had been murdered the day before.

Dukakis campaign officials would not estimate the crowd size, but one source said it was just about 100. The candidate's staff said it was far more, but the weather was too rainy and cold to accurately estimate the crowd size.

Dukakis' staff also said the candidate was early in his remarks when he told them, "I'm not going to lose. I won't accept PAC money."

He said the crowd was "a remarkable display of strength and all of the assets of the Democratic Party."

Dukakis also addressed the press and refuted recent economic forecasts to the contrary, the farm crisis is not as bad as it was thought.

"We've got to stop the annual cycle in Iowa," Dukakis said at a State University event but said Iowa would not be one of the states that would be "denied the American people."

As governor, Dukakis refused to ask the National Guard to do anything about the current crisis in Central America.

Dukakis also won cheers from Congress and was told by Dukakis that he was going to lose his farm on that day.

"We're going to lose our farm on that day," Dukakis said. "I don't want to lose our farm on that day."
Crime affects a quarter of households
WASHINGTON — Crime hit a quarter of the nation's households last year, with homes in the Northeast the most affected, according to a Department of Justice report released Monday.

The report, which is based on a survey of 11,000 households conducted between July 1985 and June 1986, found that 22 percent of households in the Northeast were affected by crime, compared to 19 percent in the Midwest and 17 percent in the South. The lowest rate of crime was found in the West, with 14 percent of households affected.

The report also found that crime was more likely to affect renters than homeowners, and that crime was more common in urban areas than in rural areas.

Conservative justice could replace Powell
By David S. Savage

WASHINGTON — The Reagan administration was preparing Monday to take another, and perhaps decisive, step toward the appointment of Justice Antonin Scalia as an associate justice of the Supreme Court.

Last week, the Senate Judiciary Committee approved the nomination of Scalia, a conservative who is currently a federal appeals court judge, to the high court. The Senate is expected to vote on his nomination this week.

Shultz defends strategies in Gulf
By DonCharlton

WASHINGTON — Secretary of State George Shultz said Sunday that the Gulf war was in its final stages and that the United States was on the verge of victory.

"There are a few more days of fighting," Shultz said in an interview on CBS's "Face the Nation," "at which time we will announce that we are in the final stages of the war." He added that the United States was "on the verge of victory" and that the war was "in the final stages of its implementation."

Amana V.I.P. tourney set for show

By Marc Reiss

Associated Press

Leading off a pack of professional golfers competing in the Amana V.I.P. Golf Tournament will be five-time major winner Jack Nicklaus.

Teeing off with him will be World Cup winner Tom Watson and Pussy Galore star Kristin Kimbrough. The golfing gallery even during springtime has been booked by 46 professional golfers competing. California Champion John Mahaffey will also compete.

Defending champion Dan Dent, three-time V.I.P. champ John Grakes, Bobby Wadkins, Dan Pohl and John Mahaffey all are among the pros slated to compete, along with 10 amateurs.

WATSON WON $75,000 last week in the U.S. Open at San Francisco, finishing one stroke behind Ken Norton, the seventh seed. He said Watson's major problem will be to finish strong. "I always try to leave everything out of my game until the last day," he said. Fred Strenker, Amana's tournament manager, said the tournament's faithful have made it clear over the years which players are their favorites.

"It always the Tom Watson, and Pussy Galore (Kimbrough). Even when Tom was in a slump the last two or three years, Tom and Pussy even the locals knew him," Strenker said.

Peoria, the seventh seed, will be bidding for a berth in the 1988 PGA Tour. He will be competing in his 18th year on the Tour. The 38-year-old has never finished first. His best finish so far this year was T-34 at the Mobil Track Invitational. His best finish in a tournament was T-34 at the Hartford Open Sunday in Connecticut.

"Our top charter from Hartford (will arrive) at about 8 p.m. Thursday morning. We have chartered a flight to Atlanta for anyone playing in the California Open," Strenker said.

BENNY HIREX WINS Eight of the best pros in the world will be making their 20th appearances at the U.S. Open. Chris Mullin of the Golden State Warriors is the star of the 10-man team. Mullin of the Golden State Warriors is the star of the 10-man team. Mullin has been called the best word you will ever learn.

"My best good day," said Mullin. "I have never had a better day on the course. I was able to use in the English language. The best word I have learned is 'best.'"

In addition to Mullin, the team includes Bill Walton, the Portland Trail Blazers. Walton has been called the best player in the world. He is also scheduled to play in the 1988 U.S. Open. The team also includes Dan Pohl and John Mahaffey, who were part of the 1986 U.S. Open.

WATSON'S STRIKE Watson, making his 19th consecutive V.I.P. appearance in his 19th year on the Tour, was among more than 50 players immediately following the final round of the Greater Hartford Open Sunday in Connecticut.

"Our top charter from Hartford (will arrive) at about 8 p.m. Thursday morning. We have chartered a flight to Atlanta for anyone playing in the California Open," Strenker said.

The future of the NCAA could hang in the balance when a special convention convenes in Dallas beginning today.
