Ul student killed, 3 men hurt in double-motorcycle accident

By John Golen The Daily Iowan

A UL student was killed and three Iowa City residents were critically injured in an accident involving two motorcycles Monday evening near the University of Iowa, police said.

The victims were treated at the University Hospital and were listed in critical condition, according to police.

State Highway Patrol officers said 16-month-old Andrew McGuire, of Dubuque, was killed when his motorcycle hit a car driven by Dan Miller, of Dubuque, near the intersection of Dubuque Street and Magnolia Drive. Miller was listed in critical condition.

Jim Shultz of Dubuque and Linda White of Mississippi Valley were also critically injured in the accident and were transported to the UI Hospital.

The motorcycles involved were nearly identical and were being operated at high speed while passing each other "Debucque Street near the Mayflower Residence Hall," said Patrol Officer Carl Underwood.

The accident occurred at 6:30 p.m. Monday about one mile north of the residence hall.

The accident was not immediately investigated by the University Police, according to Patrol Officer Donald Dill, 18, Omaha, Nebraska. He said the accident was reported by the Dubuque Police Department.

"I thought a car had hit a motorcycle," he said.

The exact cause of the accident was not immediately determined, according to Patrol Officer Tom Berry.

According to Patrol Officer Paul West, 19, Dubuque, the university residence hall may have been the cause of the accident.

"It should have been a quiet area," said West.

Donna Ebeling, who chairs the university's Women's Studies and Gender Studies Program, was concerned about the accident.

Although there was a lack of information about the accident, Ebeling said she was glad that the accident was not more serious.

"I'm glad that the accident was not more serious," she said.

With regard to the university's Women's Studies and Gender Studies Program, Ebeling said she was glad that the university was doing something to prevent domestic violence.

"I'm glad that the university is doing something to prevent domestic violence," she said.

The university has a Domestic Violence Policy that was implemented in 1985 to prevent domestic violence on campus.

The policy states that the university will not tolerate any form of domestic violence, including physical, verbal, or emotional abuse.

The policy also states that the university will provide support to students who have experienced domestic violence.

"We want to prevent domestic violence on campus," said Ebeling.

Local Democratic leaders call for unity at barbecue

By James Celov
The Daily Iowan

Iowa City and Johnson County leaders have called for unity at a barbecue for the Democratic presidential candidates. The event was scheduled for Sept. 27 at 5 p.m. at the Highlander Inn, 505 S. Gilbert St.

"We have quit just trying to fight apathy in the district," said L. "Laird" Anderson, an Iowa City resident. "Let's get organized and do something for the city." Anderson added that the event will be held in conjunction with the oculus program.

The event will feature food and drinks, as well as musical entertainment. It is open to the public and is free to attend.

"We're going to have a good time," Anderson said. "We're going to support the Democratic candidates and their campaign for the presidency." Anderson added that the event will be a way for Iowa City residents to come together and support the Democratic candidates.

The Democratic candidates that are expected to attend the barbecue are Hillary Clinton, Bernie Sanders, and Julián Castro. The event is being organized by the Iowa City Democratic Party and the Johnson County Democratic Party.

The event is also being sponsored by the Iowa City Democratic Club and the Johnson County Democratic Club.

Correction

A story in today's Daily Iowan, "Iowa City council race set as Stref files for candidacy," was incorrect. The story should have stated that Richard Stref is the only candidate running for the District A council seat in the Iowa City council race.

Lloyd-Jones, Dodder perfect in recent ICAN rating system

by John Bartshages

Iowa legislature from the Iowa City area was one step closer with a newly issued report which listed the value of a rating system. The study was done by the Old Capitol Center.

All state matters were given a rating of from 0 to 300, with the final report being based on the results of the study. The rating system helps people to judge legislators on their performance.

The report was based on a study of 41 representatives and 32 senators, and included 62 district offices.

The results of the study were released by the Old Capitol Center.

Swing votes on Bork vote undecided
WASHINGTON — Two key members of the Senate minority enabling the Supreme Court nomination of Judge Robert Bork said Monday they would reserve judgment on President Ronald Reagan's choice until hearing further testimony about his legal qualifications. Sens. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and Edward P., R., and Senator Dennis DeConcini, D-Ariz., urged their fellow members on both sides of the aisle to avoid being swayed by arguments from special interest groups before deciding on the Bork nomination.

"I have not yet made up my mind," Senator said.

The comments, which came just before the nomination hearings went into recess Tuesday for two weeks, were seen as both an attack and an appeal to the middle of the Senate. Senator deConcini said he and his colleagues would not be swayed by "leftist" allegations that the nomination was a "declaration war on the poor," while Senator Kennedy, who supported former Supreme Court Justice Potter Stewart, accused the Republicans of "cynicism" and "shameful tactics.

"The advantage comes in warfare," said Paul Flavie, a space analyst for the National Space Institute, who has written a new computer program that will predict the outcome of a war.

"The war is over," he said. "This computer program will help us win.

If the war is over, the United States should use it to its advantage. A victory in the war will allow us to control the world, and our computers will be able to help us do that."

"It's a good day," Mr. Flavie said. "I'm thrilled to be alive."

Suspicions mounting

The saga of the Rev. Tot Taylor and his law-breaking academy, as chronicled by "Iowa" editor Bill McClure in his recent column, has left many Iowaans concerned. The controversy has raised questions about the role of government in regulating private schools, particularly those that operate under religious auspices. The case has also brought into question the standards for accreditation and oversight of such institutions.

A new surging inclination of criminal political pressures..." the phrase, is a euphemism for the attempt to silence the voice of the populace. This has become a common practice in recent years. It is an effort to stifle the expression of dissenting views and to maintain a facade of stability and harmony. The manipulation of the media by those in power is a method of accomplishing this goal. The press is a vital institution for democracy, and its independence is essential for the functioning of a free society.

Positive sign

President Ronald Reagan announced Friday an agreement with the Soviet Union to dismantle ground-launched intermediate-range missiles. The agreement, negotiated between Foreign Minister Eduard Shevardnadze and Secretary of State George Shultz, is a significant step in the process of reducing nuclear arms. It is a sign of progress in the ongoing effort to achieve nuclear disarmament.

Changing times

The case of a Des Moines woman and the child she recently bore highlights the changing attitudes towards reproduction and family life in Iowa. The woman, who was arrested on a charge of prostitution, gave birth to the child while in jail. The case has sparked debates about the role of the criminal justice system in addressing issues related to reproduction and parenting.

Jim and Tammy Bakker, the Ten Commandments and me

As the recent spectacle of Jim Bakker and Tammy Faye Bakker's infatuation with the Ten Commandments demonstrates, there is a growing fascination with the religious traditions of the past. The Bakkers' campaign has raised questions about the role of religion in society and the impact of religious movements on public life.

Trade plan should be vetoed

James McCormick

I stand on the platform of public policy, where the trade deficit ought to be. By now, the monthly measure of the trade plan has accumulated. My trade plan has not been tested, nor has its effectiveness been examined. The political meaning of these figures is this: In the absence of any other means of advancing free trade and reducing our dependence on foreign sources, the trade deficit is a necessary evil, and a minimum of sentiment.

Eventually, Lump and Morton engaged a lawyer who charged them $10,000. Officials at Lutheran Hospital of Des Moines have refused to comment on the matter, citing patient confidentiality. However, the hospital did release a statement expressing its commitment to the well-being of the hospital's staff and patients.

In addition, many foreign experts have expressed concern about the potential for a global trade war, which could have serious implications for the global economy. The risk of such a conflict is a matter of grave concern.

Unsettled explanation

In this uncertain time, as Americans struggle to make sense of the political climate, I offer my thoughts on the recent developments. The political landscape is complex and ever-changing, and it is essential to remain vigilant and informed.

A call for dialogue

As we move forward, I urge all of us to engage in open and honest dialogue with one another. Let us strive to understand and respect the diverse perspectives and experiences that shape our shared reality. Through this dialogue, we can build a stronger and more united society.

L.A. Law" takes home four Emmy Awards

By Russell Kieh

Los Angeles Times

In 1987, the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences presented 13 different shows with Emmys to their casts and directing teams at the 49th Annual Primetime Emmy Awards. The show that took home four awards was "L.A. Law," a legal drama series that aired on NBC. The show was produced by Steven Bochco and was created by David E. Kelley, who is also known for creating "Dr. Miami" and "Ally McBeal." The show was set in the offices of a prestigious law firm in Los Angeles and followed the cases of its clients. The show was praised for its fast-paced dialogue, complex characters, and social commentary. It was a hit with audiences and critics alike, and its success helped to set the tone for the legal drama genre that would later become popular.
When my friends and I graduated from high school, we all took part-time jobs to pay for college. They ended up in car washes and hamburger joints, putting in long hours for little pay.

Not me. My job takes just one weekend a month and two weeks a year. Yet, I'm earning $18,000 for college. Because I joined my local Army National Guard.

They're the people who help our state during emergencies like hurricanes and floods. They're also an important part of our country's military defense. So, since I'm helping them do such an important job, they're helping me make it through school.

As soon as I finished Advanced Training, the Guard gave me a cash bonus of $2,000. Then, under the New GI Bill, I'm getting another $5,000 for tuition and books.

Not to mention my monthly Army Guard paychecks. They'll add up to more than $11,000 over the six years I'm in the Guard.

And if I take out a college loan, the Guard will help me pay it back — up to $1,500 a year, plus interest. It all adds up to $18,000 — or more — for college for just a little of my time. And that's a heck of a better deal than any car wash will give you.

THE GUARD CAN HELP PUT YOU THROUGH COLLEGE, TOO.

Hawkeyes roll past Cyclones, 48-9

Silent Harmon triggers blowout

By Marc Davis
The Daily Iowan

Football

Against the Cyclones in 1984 Iowa State proved to be the first of many coming seasons in the 1980s that the Hawkeyes would not really open up and let the Cyclones score. It was a game where the Hawkeyes were not even close to playing a good football game. All of the Cyclones first 14 points came in the first quarter as the Hawkeyes couldn't get the Iowa State ball to move. It was Iowa's first touchdown of the day and it resulted in a 21-0 lead by the Hawkeyes after the first quarter. It was a game that was not close and the Hawkeyes dominated throughout.

Iowa takes sweep with rookie goalie

Although plans were to play a regular goalie, the Iowa field hockey team was forced to use a goalie against Southern Maine. In the first game of the season, the Hawkeyes were able to sweep the Southern Maine Black Bears, winning 8-0 and 5-0. The goalie, a freshman, was able to make the save and the Hawkeyes were able to win both games.

The Iowa team had 24 shots on goal to Toledo's three. Tchou, Erica Karlis' attempt off the soggy field was wide left.

"It was like clockwork. We are very pleased with his play," said Stewart, who last year was named the co-Big Ten player of the week.

She saw one person who was shaken up - I was happy to get that and had to get a man until I saw Iowans Harmon 3 run (Houghtlin kick) 2-57.

Stewart rushed seven times for 32 yards from the one.

"He did a good job audibilizing at the line of scrimmage and he has never seen anything like that," said Iowa State Coach Ferrell Welding, who's been with the team for three years and watched Stewart do what he did tonight. "It was very good job tonight. His confidence has improved quite a bit.

Against Toledo on Saturday the Hawkeyes were up 17-17 at the half. Last year's co-Big Ten champions were up 17-0 at half. This year's Hawkeyes are 1-0.

Ironically, the Hawkeyes were up 17-17 at half.

Hawkeyes Referee, not player, is battered and bruised

According to the Iowa team's quarterback, the Hawkeyes weren't very pleased with his play.

"He did a good job auditioning at the line of scrimmage and he has never seen anything like that," said Iowa State Coach Ferrell Welding, who's been with the team for three years and watched Stewart do what he did tonight. "It was very good job tonight. His confidence has improved quite a bit."

But for the Iowa State player, the result was a 52-24 loss to the Packers. The Hawkeyes were up 17-17 at the half.

"It's not the most beautiful passer you'll ever see, but the ball's on target," said Welding, who's been with the team for three years and watched Stewart do what he did tonight. "It was like clockwork. We are very pleased with his play," said Stewart, who last year was named the co-Big Ten player of the week."

"HE'S A GREAT JOB auditioning at the line of scrimmage and he has never seen anything like that," said Iowa State Coach Ferrell Welding, who's been with the team for three years and watched Stewart do what he did tonight. "It was very good job tonight. His confidence has improved quite a bit.

Plot twist wrecks 'Pick-up'

Script suffers from split personality

By Kevin C. Kistenmacher

The Daily Iowan

It was bad when a movie that started out with so much promise fails. The Pick-up Artist takes a wrong turn and ultimately wrecks its chances for success.

This is not a story of a writer-director who has a vision for his film. Exposition was trying to go over the top and already it's got a bad taste. Not a bad idea, but it's not very sensitive. A more sensitive approach to the story might have made the film a bit more successful. Unfortunately, his approach fails to go over the top.

The breezy, fast story of the first half is dropped in favor of an unbelievable take on office life. It is the life of a security guard in a half of a very average film.
