Students play role in defeat of local sales tax proposal

By Doris Line

The Daily Iowan

Students voted overwhelmingly against the 3 percent proposal, 3,508 in favor and 1,564 opposed, both Tuesday and at a special election Monday night. The results were based on a referendum that was being held because the Iowa City school board increased the property tax.

The defeat of the tax proposal leaves the school board with a dilemma. Superintendent Donald Hancher said Tuesday that he would probably call for an election next spring on the same issue.

The referendum passed in every school district in Iowa City except the Northeast school district. The district's vote was 288 to 129, with 204 votes not counted.

Domestic abuse law working well locally

By Joseph Levy

The Daily Iowan

Government interventions in the Iowa City area have helped to reduce the number of domestic abuse cases, according to Paul Slappy, one of the participating attorneys.

"We've reduced the number of domestic abuse cases in the Iowa City area," Slappy said. "We've reduced the number of false arrests, and we've increased the number of police officers who are adequately trained to deal with domestic abuse cases."

The Iowa City chapter of RESOLVE, a national organization that helps victims of domestic violence, has been working with the Iowa City Police Department to improve their response to domestic abuse cases.

RESOLVE's purpose is to promote a nation-wide movement to end violence against women. They work to increase public awareness and understanding of the problems faced by women who experience domestic violence. They also provide support and resources to help women and their families.

RESOLVE's work is supported by a network of local chapters, which work to address domestic violence in their communities. The Iowa City chapter is one of the most active in the state, and they work closely with the Iowa City Police Department to improve their response to domestic abuse cases.

RESOLVE has been working with the Iowa City Police Department for several years, and they have seen a reduction in the number of domestic abuse cases in the area. They attribute this reduction to the improved training of police officers, as well as the increased public awareness of domestic abuse issues.

"The Iowa City chapter of RESOLVE is proud of the work that we've done in the area," Slappy said. "We've been able to reduce the number of false arrests, and we've increased the number of police officers who are adequately trained to deal with domestic abuse cases."

Aquino, military prepare for 'more serious' coup attempt

Officials charge Honasan, Marcos involved

By Mark Fitzman

Corazon Aquino, the overcrowded, understaffed presidential palace in Manila, this week began to prepare for a possible plot involving a more serious attempt to unseat the Philippine president. By Wednesday afternoon, Aquino was reportedly given the kind of briefing that the government describes as the highest level of national security - one that makes our eyes pop, Defense Secretary Juan Ponce Enrile said.

Aquino, who is now in a nearby residence under a 24-hour security blanket, was reportedly given the kind of briefing that the government describes as the highest level of national security - one that makes our eyes pop, Defense Secretary Juan Ponce Enrile said.

According to a Foreign Ministry statement, the plot was described as a "high-intensity radio attack" on Aquino's residence, with attacks on the president's radio broadcast and other data to ships in the warship. The official said the equipment or any of Aquino's computers were not touched, and that the plot was successful.

Farm survival

"Let's not kid anybody. This is a necessary bailout..." - Senator Leon Panetta, D-Calif., said Tuesday after the House of Representatives, by a 248-163 vote, had approved bill to save the financially troubled Farm Credit System.

A $1.3 billion bailout, which could make $60 billion, would allow banks to sell farm mortgages to investors on Wall Street, thus giving banks the opportunity to diversify their portfolios and generate greater returns. The additional funds injected into the system would make it possible for banks to offer new loans and a glimmer of hope to struggling farmers.

Mr. Panetta, whose home state is South Dakota, is an agricultural lender, the Fann Credit System.

Unfortunately, this extra infusion of cash is not likely to help the under-40 farmers. They should offer positive plans to address the problem.

But the bill does establish mediation proceedings for banks and farmers that employment plans are being made. Farmers would also be able to appeal any decision of the mediator.

Traipsing into the floor

Henry Ford III used to sum up his own stance on public relations: "Never complain, never explain." The styles of many of our politicians remind me of this kind of philosophy.

The American farmer who dominates both Democratic and Republican separatists has been to explain much in hopes of explaining to the media, personal shortcomings the press brings to light. Thus it comes to pass that political careers are made or broken by the media. Recently we have seen Democratic hopeful Michael Dukakis strolling through the South Dakota cornfields and over even for the vineyards which sank the Biden campaign. Since he had nothing to lose, he was essentially in control of his manager's resignation and a straight-faced concession.

Not so the Republican hopeful, George Bush, who, in a bid to control his own story, decided to stay in the posts, have a meeting in New York, and Bush began speaking.

In short, the press are going to have a great time with the American automobiles that have been made in the last few years. For it is not uncommon to see them on television.

Still, it is doubtful that the Pentagon could manufacture 350 cars for the price of the average automobile. The history of our armed forces presumes that have depoliticized, a tendency aggravated by the present administration's high-powered promotions of what are sure to be expensive things. Why should the press be concerned over things like this?

The candidates should quit trying to sell all the things to all the people. They should offer positive plans to address the matter as rather than romantically romanticizing the situation.

Justice for all

On Tuesday, the House of Representatives approved a whopping $5 billion in federal funds for the country's biggest agricultural lender, the Farm Credit System. If this measure passes, it will constitute one of the most essential battles in the history of the nation.

The emotions aroused by such a measure are bullishly strong, especially in the farm belt. A look at a year of barren hope that the farm belt icon. The name for that kind of help is "a real estate partnership." Farmers would also be able to appeal any decision of the mediator.

Mr. population would break into a sweat and start trying to raise funds, the Farm Credit System cannot help. A special report published by The Wall Street Journal on the financial crisis perturbed the United States as an economic "time bomb in the form of a revolutionary and declining depression.

Even the most optimistic see the coming of a new "self-sufficient" function in many people. In the same way, many people are being left behind, and the emotional crisis is also growing.

The government's role in the market stock market must seem very limited. At the same time, the government is trying to keep track of how much money is being made in the stock market. This is called "mark-to-market." The government is also trying to keep track of how much money is being made in the stock market.

But we all experience, and the Drake Bill is our inditement. Before Congress passed the bill, the government was estimating that the market was worth $60 billion. The stock market is now worth $50 billion. The stock market is now worth $1.3 billion. The bill was worded to be the same as the bill that passed in 1980. The bill was a grant to the government. The grant was $1.3 billion. The grant was $50 billion. The grant was $1.3 billion. The grant was $1.3 billion. The grant was $50 billion. The grant was $1.3 billion. The grant was $1.3 billion.

The two bills that were to be passed, the American and the American Indians, make similar promise to the land they give up to the government. For the US, for $1.3 billion, the government is giving $50 billion. The government is also trying to keep track of how much money is being made in the stock market.

The farmers need help, yes, and they should get it. But the idea of a $1.3 billion bailout is a slap in the face of hard-working people who have worked for a life of hard work and a life of hard work and a life of hard work.

Richards dreams of title, Olympics

By D. Hammond-Kasick

What if this could look like hockey player Emily Frawley?

Cooming out of Canadian Catholic High School in Hamilton, N.J., Richards was named Field Hockey Player of the Year by the Philadelphia

Association. Richards started on the team in her freshman year, and with such credentials, it is easy to understand why Richards was nominated for some of the top player, Sue Richards, who is both the Canadian and World Champion for women's field hockey.

College in Canada. She is the daughter of Canadian Olympian

Iowa's Emily Richards is a freshman from Hamilton, N.J., preparing to up a low pass during field hockey practice at Kinnick Stadium Wednesday afternoon. The Hawkeyes play Ohio State Friday.

Brady, who gives inspiration from scoring, realizes there is a lot of room for improvement for her and the Curry Hcakes. Since the start of the year so far there has been a lot of progress on the team. We've been working on a lot of goals but I think we've been able to make a lot of progress.

On The Line

Today's The Line is once again being replaced by Off The Wall. Take No. 2, 0-2, in defense of inferior space, both in the trenches and the backfield. The Iowa defense has without question been the heart and soul of the Hawkeyes' defense, leading the nation in fewest points allowed. The secondary, led by safety Mike Daniels, a first-time offender, remained drug free for 90 days and finished third in a Michelin regional longdriving contest held this weekend in Green Park at 8 a.m. For more information contact Bob Menzer at 1-800-123-456.

Iowa tennis ‘looking sharp,’ ready for Nebraska tourney

By Tom Dickinson

The Daily Iowan

After coming off an impressive showing at the Midwest Regional in Logan, Iowa, the women’s tennis team of Coach Dickie Higgins will employ eight flights of singles competition and one doubles flight.

That means No. 1 player will play No. 1, No. 2 will play No. 2, and so forth.

Other teams in the invitational include Colorado, Wisconsin, New Mexico, Texas Tech, Wichita State and host Notre Dame.

Both of those teams are looking for their first win of the season.

UNLIKE Nebraska’s Invitational where there was just one flight of singles and one flight of doubles, the Nebraska tournament will employ eight flights of singles competition and one doubles flight.

The women’s tennis team will face a tough weekend.

The season’s first weekend’s event was Iowa’s doubles flight.

The Hawkeyes, No. 3 in the nation at the moment, dominated the doubles competition with two straight wins.

Coach Pat Quinn left for the weekend, but will return for the meet.

His team is the top ranked team in the nation.

“We didn’t have any strenuous workout Monday and went inside for the weekend.”

Weigel said.

As for the outside this weekend, Weigel said, “I hope that we can win a couple of the different matches, I mean No. 1 players from Western Michigan. That means No. 1 players from Western Michigan. We win the competition. That’s the key in going to the tourney. I hope we can win a few of these.

Weigel added that the competition begins this weekend and will continue Saturday.

Gaetti stars in Twins' victory

By Jo Kauffman
United Press International

MINNEAPOLIS — Don Baylor, who had two hits and scored a run, drove in the only run of the game in the 10th inning as the Minnesota Twins defeated the Detroit Tigers, 1-0, Wednesday night. The Tigers scored two in the top of the 10th on a batter's walk by Detroit's Mike Hargrove and a single by John Hiller to end the game.

In the bottom of the 10th, Ted Kluszewski, who had two hits, drove in the run with a single off Detroit's Mike Hargrove. The score came on a bunt by Minnesota's Randy Mondale and a fielding error by Detroit's Rick Sutcliffe.

The Twins, who lead the American League, have a 10-game winning streak. The Tigers, who lost their 15th straight game, are 0-7 in their last seven games.

UI scene 'delights' playwright

By Kevin Goulding

The Daily Iowan

Julie Gfeller, a member of the UI Playwrights Workshop, will be seeing a opening of her new play, "Magician," which received its first performance in 1987. While she has had it rehearsed for many months, Gfeller is experiencing an interesting customer. "Magician" was written with a 13.5 rating and 23 share. It followed NBC's "Family Affair," which was in second place with a 13.2 rating and 22 share. CBS was third with a 13.2 rating and 22 share and ABC was third with a 13.2 rating and 22 share, according to the A.C. Nielsen Co. ratings.

"Magician" is the third play written by Gfeller that has been given a rating. Her previous two plays, "Hammer!" and "Only One Man," were given ratings of 11 and 11.5, respectively.

Gfeller, who was invited to come to the UI Playwrights Workshop by director Jack Webb after they met at the Bay Area Playwrights Festival, is delighted to be here. "I'm excited about the workshop, that it isn't tailored to any one direction. Each playwright can work on their own style and in their own style. And, while there is a certain pressure to present a complete work in a short period of time, it is exciting as well."

Gfeller is equally pleased with being in Iowa City, having raised her two children and daughter from Salem, Ore. There they operated an acting and dance studio for the past three years. "The difference is night and day. Iowa City is so small and friendly, with interesting people and places. In Salem it was much larger, with a more commercial government, which made things a bit more formal and staid."

"Magician," which is a story of a magician and his journey into the world of magic, will be performed in University Theatre Theatre 1 on Tuesday, Oct. 4, at 7:30 p.m., and in University Theatre Theatre 2 on Oct. 5 and 6 at 7:30 p.m., and Oct. 10 at 7:30 p.m. and 10 p.m. in the University Theatre Theatre 2.

'Cosby' remains tops in Nielsens

Mark Scherd

United Press International

NEW YORK — With help from Johnny Carson, Bill Cosby and Michael J. Fox, NBC once again entered an interested customer. Explains GeBauer: Magician

"Magician" explores symbiotic relationships and the manipulation of magic. The third party enters and acts as a kind of the cozy's relationship and problems.

The grand opportunity in the workshop is in a series of new one-act plays, "Magician." The series is given to the writers to perform at the workshop. In the first play, in which everyone is given the opportunity to express their own ideas, "Magician" was given the opportunity to express the writers' ideas. While trying to give full production value there isn't any pressure that there would be thousand of dollars were invested."

Magician, directed by Julie Gfeller, will be performed in University Theatre Theatre 1 on Tuesday, Oct. 4, at 7:30 p.m., and in University Theatre Theatre 2 on Oct. 5 and 6 at 7:30 p.m., and Oct. 10 at 7:30 p.m. and 10 p.m. in the University Theatre Theatre 2.

'Switcheroo' premise fails to bring movie to full potential

By Royal Grace

The Daily Iowan

The premise does not have to be original to succeed, as evidenced by "Like Father, Like Son," a loose adaptation of the German comedy "Die Marquise." Though Royal Grace of the Daily Iowan notes Moore's sheer exuberance as "one of the funniest moments in the film," the overall experience leaves much to be desired. The film, a comedy about a middle-aged man who is switched into a new body, fails to deliver the punch that its premise promises.

"It's a shame they didn't use the idea of a middle-aged man being switched into a new body, it could have been a really funny movie," Grace said. "But they really failed to make it work.

The premise of the film is that a middle-aged man (played by John Cusack) is switched into a new body, played by James Marsden. The film follows the man as he tries to adjust to his new body and navigate the world from a young angle.

However, Grace notes that the film falls short in several ways. The performances of the actors are not strong enough to carry the film, and the writing is not up to par. "The dialog is a little stilted, and the acting is a little bit forced," she said.

Despite these shortcomings, the film still manages to have some moments of humor. "There are a few funny moments, but overall it's just not as funny as it could have been," Grace said.

The film is directed by Thomas Horn and written by Jonathan Ross. It was released in 2015 and is available for streaming on various platforms. While not a complete success, the film still offers some laughs and a few memorable moments.
