Rehab program aids city property owners

By Lisa Legge

Iowa City housing counselor who works to move residents into homes has been able to check out a little-known program.

The Iowa City Housing and Urban Development Program, a part of the Vergano Development Corporation, has developed a special housing program targeted at city property owners.

The program provides financial assistance to city residents who want to renovate their homes, but lack the money to do so. By renovating homes, city property owners can increase the tax base and improve the quality of life for all residents.

“Many of our residents are unable to renovate their homes due to lack of funds,” said the Housing and Urban Development Program manager. “We developed this program to address the variety of needs and wants of city residents who want to improve their homes, but do not have the funds to do so.”

Stock market soars as trade deficit drops

By David Johnson

Los Angeles Times

"The nation's merchandise trade deficit, in its last showing since May, narrowed to $6 billion in September from $12 billion in August, the Department of Commerce reported Thursday.

"The report helped send the stock market higher, as the Federal Reserve's August decision to keep interest rates low was seen as a vote of confidence in the economy. The Dow Jones industrial average was up 67 points, or 1.4%, and the Standard & Poor's 500 index was up 17 points, or 1.4%. Stock market analysts said the report was significant because of the success of the president's trade policies.

A mini house, designed and built by the Housing Rehabilitation Program, was on display at the Iowa City Community College's annual fall open house.

The exhibit featured a small, two-bedroom, one-bathroom house that was fully furnished and functional.

"We want to showcase the success of our home restoration projects," said the Housing Rehabilitation Program director. "By building and displaying these mini houses, we can show the public what we are capable of doing and how we can help city residents improve their homes.

Truck crashes into overpass

By Joseph Levy

Iowa Avenue, bridge to be closed indefinitely

A College of Engineering student was killed when a truck plowed into a railroad overpass Thursday morning, closing down both the road and the railroad.

Josefas Valanaitis, 22, of Willowdale, Ill., was killed when his truck collided with one on the bridge, knocking it over and causing damage to the bridge itself.

The crash is a third this year and the second, excluding the latest, around Iowa City.

"It's quite a coincidence," said Dr. Charles Towers, police chief. "We've had two calls about the bridge in the last month." The bridge is only 10 feet wide and high and spans the railroad tracks.

Scrnuty of public officials may scare away candidates

Even as President Ronald Reagan prepares to name a new Supreme Court

Educating politicians

A surprise may be coming for those who thought the worst was over in the battle to limit cuts in the Education Department. Threats of federal aid cuts could hit the UI with a loss of over $30 million in financial aid.

That figure is based on across-the-board cuts that will be imposed if Congress passes the Reagan-Dole Education Bill. If Congress doesn’t find an alternative deficit solution, the next year’s student, will lose about $600,000 in financial aid. UI research programs will lose about $10 million. All told, UI will lose up to $30 million.

Congressional representatives have been trying to reach an agreement with the Carter administration to reduce the federal deficit. The White House, of course, wants to see cuts in the federal deficit in amounts less than those demanded by the administration. In other words, the final agreement may well be passed down to students.

The terms of the agreement would cut $3 billion by 1982. Even $5 billion in cuts would eventually mean $6.8 million and UI Hospitals and clinics will lose up to $2 million.

Attorney general symbolizes inquest of administration

I say any democracy is in danger when the man who submits his chief justice, his secretary of state and his education secretary to the American people and the American public as unimpeachable. If this is the attitude of the administration, we can draw the obvious conclusion that the Carter administration is at odds with the American people.

Hawkeyes go for 4 in a row

By Bill F. Tracy

After the Iowa Hawkeyes entered the 1987 NCAA hockey tournament, expect some big bold and big names to be in the mix. The defending national champions, the University of Minnesota-Duluth Bulldogs, are back for another shot at the title. In the opener last Friday night, the Hawkeyes triumphed over the Bulldogs, 3-1, on theroad at the Bear's paw. As expected and as usual, the game was closely contested, but the Hawkeyes emerged victorious.

In 1987, Iowa is set for a 2:30 p.m. game against the University of Nebraska-Omaha Mavericks, a team that has never defeated the Hawkeyes at the national tournament. The game will be held at the U.S. Bank Arena in Cincinnati, Ohio.

In the meantime, Davis knew that he would have to focus on the team's performance in the upcoming season. "We have to be able to execute our penalty killing strategy and our special teams," he said. "We have a good defense and our forwards are going to have to step up and play well." The Hawkeyes have a strong core of returning players, including Senior AI Tchou, who has been a key contributor to the team's success.

"Iowa's starting lineup for the contest has been set," Davis said. "B.J. Armstrong will play point guard, Jeff Moe the second guard, Bill Horton and Roy Marble on the wing, and Roy Marble on the wing. This team will be very competitive, and I expect them to challenge the Hawkeyes for the national championship."

Davis also emphasized the importance of teamwork and chemistry on the team. "We have a strong core of returning players and we need to build on that," he said. "We have a lot of talent, but we need to work on our chemistry and teamwork."

In conclusion, Davis was confident that the Hawkeyes would be able to compete for the national championship. "We have the talent and the coaching staff to get us to that point," he said. "We have to work hard and focus on the process, and I believe we can do it."

The Time of Your Life, a play by Tennessee Williams, is currently being performed by the University of Iowa Department of Theatre and Dance. The play, set in New Orleans in 1928, follows the life of Tom Wing, a man who returns to his hometown after a long absence.

The play opens with Tom Wing returning to New Orleans after a long absence. He is greeted by his old friend, Elmer Dingle, who introduces him to the local women. Tom is immediately taken with the beauty of Kitty Duval, a hooker who works at the New Orleans House of Truth. She is also interested in Tom, and they begin a relationship.

However, Tom's past catches up with him when he is contacted by his former employers, who want him to come back to work for them. Tom is torn between his love for Kitty and his desire to return to work. In the end, he chooses to stay in New Orleans, but not with Kitty.

The play is a study of love, loss, and the struggles of living in a world that is often cruel and unfair. It is a meditation on the nature of human relationships and the importance of finding one's own path in life. The performance of the play is highly recommended for anyone interested in the works of Tennessee Williams.
Versatile Chinese dancer to perform at Dance Gala

A UI dancer will be playing a sophisticated, kind, andReminder, a battle-ready warrior and a triumphant peasant at Munch, Auditorium this weekend. This would be challenging enough for the most versatile of artists, but for the students of the University of Iowa Dance Department, it is a world-class feat.

And of the three, the dancer who does it is En-dong Hu, a top dancer from the People's Republic of China, who will perform "Spectaculars" in the UI Dance Company's Dance Gala at 8 p.m. Saturday and 2 p.m. Sunday in Hancher Auditorium.

In EXCHANGE FOR this structure, he is of dancers who make it through the rigorous program. He has fought a six-year political battle in his own training at the Beijing Dance Academy until he arrived at the UI last January to begin work on his Master of Fine Arts degree.

According to King, he is one of the greatest dancers of his generation in China. His specialty is sword dancing. He will perform during the Dance Gala, Saturday and Sunday.

En-dong Hu found the insecurity of an artist uncomfortable for the rest of his life. He is a singer and a dancer. He has already changed since he came here. His training Hu specialized in sword dancing at the Beijing Dance Academy. He has trained as a teacher as well as a dancer, so he is able to perform with the many companies he worked with he was able to perform. He has already changed since he came here.

His plea was successful. His reserve instead of his usual salary for the rest of his life. "He's a singer and a dancer."
