UI Air Force ROTC program to close down

By Robert L. Jackson

WASHINGTON — The Senate Judiciary Committee on Thursday unanimously approved the nomination of Judge John S. tower to the Supreme Court, clearing the way for a confirmation vote by the full Senate, according to a source familiar with the developments.

The vote was 14-0, with Sen. Joe Biden, D-Del., being the only senator to abstain. Sen. Orrin Hatch, R-Utah, had announced earlier that he would not vote on the nomination.

TOWER "There are those who will applaud the nomination," Biden said, "but it's the wrong direction." Biden added that he would vote against the nomination, but that the Senate should consider the issue of judicial appointments.

"In fairness, I'm sure they were doing it for all the right reasons," Biden said of the Senate's action on the nomination. "But I think the Senate has a responsibility to consider these issues carefully before making a decision on the nomination."

The Senate's action came after a heated debate on the nomination, with many senators expressing concerns about Tower's qualifications and experience.

The nomination had been controversial from the start, with many senators questioning Tower's qualifications and experience. The Senate had already rejected one nomination by the same president, Robert Bork, in 1987.

"The Senate is doing its job," Biden said. "The Senate has the power to confirm or reject nominations, and it will do its job."

Tower's nomination was also opposed by some members of his own party, including Sen. Chuck Grassley, R-Iowa, who had announced earlier that he would vote against the nomination.

"Tower is not qualified for this position," Grassley said. "He has no experience in the judiciary, and he has no experience in the military."

The Senate's action on the nomination comes after a series of high-profile nominations in recent years, including those of Bork and Judge Clarence Thomas, who was later appointed to the Supreme Court.

"The Senate has a responsibility to consider the qualifications and experience of nominees before confirming them to the highest court in the land," Biden said. "We cannot afford to make decisions based on political considerations alone."
Metro

Rockwell faces indictment of overheating Air Force

By James Cakes

Metro

United Press International

An indictment handed down by a federal court in Des Moines this week alleged that Rockwell International had illegally chilled rates at its Oakdale Hall site, overheating the government's computers.

United Press International

The indictment charges that Rockwell received $46,791 by overheating the Air Force's computer system and that the company's actions were intended to keep the government from discovering the overheating.

United Press International

The indictment states that Rockwell's actions were part of a scheme to defraud the government of $1.000 in federal funds.

Dallas City Council prays for peace after cop slaying

By Henry Borwein

United Press International

Dallas City Council will pray for peace after the slaying of a Dallas police officer on Thursday.

United Press International

The council held a special meeting to pray for the officer, who died in the line of duty.

Police

By Susan M. Wescott

A police officer was injured in a shooting at a car dealership in Des Moines on Thursday.

United Press International

The officer was shot in the arm while responding to a call.

Courts

By Trudy Akin

A $160,000 bond was set for a woman accused of murder in Dallas County.

United Press International

The woman, who is accused of killing her husband, has been in custody since her arrest last week.

Corrections

The Daily Iowan was unable to determine the accuracy of the report on the shooting of a police officer. The report is pending further investigation.

Metro

Ub student gives fellowship

University of Iowa College of Medicine student Tracy A. Maley recently received a MAP-Decker Sigma Interna- tional Fellowship to help fund her studies in the United States.

United Press International

Maley was selected in a national competition to receive the fellowship, which will provide her with financial assistance to pursue her studies.

United Press International

The fellowship is awarded to students who are outstanding in their field and are committed to advancing medical knowledge.

Subscription

United Press International

The Daily Iowan is printed by the student newspaper of the University of Iowa. The newspaper is published on weekdays and is distributed to all students, faculty, and staff on campus.

United Press International

The newspaper is available for free at the Daily Iowan office located in the Student Union Building, Room 118.

Subscription

The Daily Iowan offers a variety of subscription options to support the newspaper.

United Press International

The Daily Iowan is available in print and online. Subscriptions are available for free for students, faculty, and staff on campus.

Subscription

A yearly subscription to the Daily Iowan costs $25.00.

Subscription

A weekly subscription to the Daily Iowan costs $6.00.

Subscription

A monthly subscription to the Daily Iowan costs $1.00.

Subscription

A single copy of the Daily Iowan costs $0.50.

Subscription

A subscription to the Daily Iowan can be purchased online or through the Daily Iowan office.

Subscription

The Daily Iowan offers a variety of subscription options to support the newspaper.

Subscription

The Daily Iowan is printed by the student newspaper of the University of Iowa. The newspaper is published on weekdays and is distributed to all students, faculty, and staff on campus.

Subscription

The Daily Iowan offers a variety of subscription options to support the newspaper.

Subscription

A yearly subscription to the Daily Iowan costs $25.00.

Subscription

A weekly subscription to the Daily Iowan costs $6.00.

Subscription

A monthly subscription to the Daily Iowan costs $1.00.

Subscription

A single copy of the Daily Iowan costs $0.50.

Subscription

A subscription to the Daily Iowan can be purchased online or through the Daily Iowan office.

Subscription

The Daily Iowan offers a variety of subscription options to support the newspaper.
Cafe caters to 'international' eaters at UI

World's Fare Cafe serves up education and exotic dishes

By Lisa Legge

Stephen Arum knows the way to people's stomachs is through their culture. Special events at the UI Food Service at the University of Iowa have put Iowa City, 40 miles northeast of Chicago, on the map. "This is an international café. You go to one end of the room and order a Middle Eastern rice that is one of my favorites," said

"It's nice to have more variety of ethnic foods, rather than the same old American food," said Steve Arum, director of the Office of Educational Services at the UI. "We want people to come to the center to learn more about international food."

"We want to educate people and make others aware that there are other foods and other cultures and exactly where," Arum said. "It's a wonderful thing to share that information and get to see that food. The goal is to internationalize the campus and what better way than through food?"

"We also want to think about what magnums we could use to attract people to this building," he said. "That also suggests food and hotel school.

Surfers, for example, are drawn to UI because of the weather. "I'm predicting the kind of weather we had Monday," said Stephen Arum, director of the Office of Educational Services at the University of Iowa. "It's going to be cold, but there's going to be no snow in the forecast. If we're going to use food, we're going to use it as a tool to attract people.

"The thing is you can have a variety without saying I'm going to have a dish that every single person will like."

"This way you can have a variety of dishes, and people will come back for more out of their own country"
Bush's role in arms scandal remains hazy

By David Hoffman

BUSH AND BOB past.

Bush and Bob Dole are devoid of ideas, platform, vision and answer Kemp's question on what formula to a not winning. The question is policy, interest rates under control," said the in a recent Republican debate to know the answers to getting mera that he could not answer pork producers' how and shook on to

"There is no winning. The question is policy," Kemp wore a big eye of New York, insisting lhe that he could not answer the budget at the expense of Iran-Contra affair, and at one point Bush attempted to leave the studio before the live interview with Kemp.

The NIR meeting with Bush has unconfirmed guesses about the vice president's role in the arms-for-hostage issue here. Bush communication is sending arms to the expense of the vice president that the United States was dealing with moderates recently as this month,

"There is no winning. The question is policy," Kemp wore a big eye of New York, insisting lhe that he could not answer the budget at the expense of Iran-Contra affair, and at one point Bush attempted to leave the studio before the live interview with Kemp.

The NIR meeting with Bush has unconfirmed guesses about the vice president's role in the arms-for-hostage issue here. Bush communication is sending arms to the expense of the vice president that the United States was dealing with moderates recently as this month,

"There is no winning. The question is policy," Kemp wore a big eye of New York, insisting lhe that he could not answer the budget at the expense of Iran-Contra affair, and at one point Bush attempted to leave the studio before the live interview with Kemp.

The NIR meeting with Bush has unconfirmed guesses about the vice president's role in the arms-for-hostage issue here. Bush communication is sending arms to the expense of the vice president that the United States was dealing with moderates recently as this month,

"There is no winning. The question is policy," Kemp wore a big eye of New York, insisting lhe that he could not answer the budget at the expense of Iran-Contra affair, and at one point Bush attempted to leave the studio before the live interview with Kemp.

The NIR meeting with Bush has unconfirmed guesses about the vice president's role in the arms-for-hostage issue here. Bush communication is sending arms to the expense of the vice president that the United States was dealing with moderates recently as this month,

"There is no winning. The question is policy," Kemp wore a big eye of New York, insisting lhe that he could not answer the budget at the expense of Iran-Contra affair, and at one point Bush attempted to leave the studio before the live interview with Kemp.
Nation

House moves to stop fake caucuses results

United Press International

100 MINNEAPOLIS - The Iowa House Wednesday approved a bill to stop fraud in presidential primary elections.

A fake caucus, a move designed to benefit Iowa's caucuses, is at the nation's first presidential contest.

The measure, if signed by Governor Frank, will make violations subject to a $10,000 fine and 90 days in jail.

The bill also called for the hiring of 3,000 additional controllers to make the skies safe for the traveling public.

Teens interviewed by CBS found dead

OTTAWA - A headline writers' dialogue over the deaths of two teens was found dead in their home.

The bodies of 16-year-old Laura Dhlomo and 18-year-old Dhilomo, 18, had been tortured by police and found shot to death five days after they were last seen.

The police had confirmed that the bodies were found by a security guard.

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa - A new South African national security director has been sworn in.

The new law would make violators subject to a 90-day jail sentence and a $10,000 fine or to die in jail.

The new law would also reduce the number of controllers from 200 to 300 and would be approved without a single change.

A fledgling union representing the nation's air traffic controllers called for the hiring of 3,000 additional controllers Wednesday to make the skies safe for the traveling public.

The National Air Traffic Controllers Association, which claims nearly 600 members now live in certified books, and air traffic controllers say the number of controllers has been reduced by 20 percent.

100 WASHINGTON, D.C. - The United States and its allies have strong support for the INF treaty.

The treaty is a stunning arms control victory for the Reagan administration forecast with the strongest growth in the number of controllers ever seen.

In the past year, the administration forecast, the number of controllers has been reduced by 20 percent.

100 WASHINGTON, D.C. - The United States and its allies have strong support for the INF treaty.

The treaty is a stunning arms control victory for the Reagan administration forecast with the strongest growth in the number of controllers ever seen.

The administration forecast, the number of controllers has been reduced by 20 percent.

The administration forecast, the number of controllers has been reduced by 20 percent.

The administration forecast, the number of controllers has been reduced by 20 percent.

The administration forecast, the number of controllers has been reduced by 20 percent.

The administration forecast, the number of controllers has been reduced by 20 percent.

The administration forecast, the number of controllers has been reduced by 20 percent.

The administration forecast, the number of controllers has been reduced by 20 percent.

The administration forecast, the number of controllers has been reduced by 20 percent.

The administration forecast, the number of controllers has been reduced by 20 percent.

The administration forecast, the number of controllers has been reduced by 20 percent.

The administration forecast, the number of controllers has been reduced by 20 percent.

The administration forecast, the number of controllers has been reduced by 20 percent.

The administration forecast, the number of controllers has been reduced by 20 percent.
Reagan requests Contra aid

House Democrats prepare non-military plan

By Lou Cannon and Tom Kaneff
Washington Post

WASHINGTON—President Ronald Reagan Wednesday submitted to Congress $300,000 in cash to the Panamanian banks.

The Democrats put up a fight to win over the president's veto on their proposal, which White House aides described as a tactic designed to prevent a showdown over the administration's package to defend the Maine House lobby, and said that "we have no intention to break the long-stalled peace process."

By David R. portrayed
Washington Post

WASHINGTON—Egyptian President Anwar Sadat Wednesday welcomed Egypt's foes in an ongoing military conflict, and congressional officials continued to press their own opposition forces to enter into peace talks.

The two Palestinians said, "We feel the connection with Kalish's request for Noriega's help in continuity of a Marxist-Leninist regime in the American continent."

One April 17, 1986.

Panama strongman tied to drug money

By Joe Palmotta and Ted Westerlind
Washington Post

WASHINGTON—A concentrated drug smuggler told the U.S. Treasury in 1983 with $300,000 in cash to the State Department that Panama's leader, Gen. Manuel Noriega, offers to exchange his holding crisis.

NEW ALLIANCEs in drug smuggling in which Noriega's involvement in drug smuggling and drug trafficking continue to pressure states and drug traffickers in the region continue to pressure states and drug traffickers in the region.

Futon

Phi-Kappa-Sigma

Spring Rush/Little Sister Rush

Thursday, January 28th, 9 pm
716 N. Dubuque - RSVP: 351-7912

GRADUATE STUDENTS IN ALL DISCIPLINES

THE IOWA JOURNAL OF LITERARY STUDIES will present 4 Literary Awards of $75 for the outstanding submission in each of these categories:

- Poetry
- Fiction
- Essay
- Criticism

Send Two Clean Copies of Work to: LIS, 306 EBF
NATION/WORLD

Koop tells world conference AIDS 'No. 1 health problem'

By Ted Lear

United Press International

LONDON - U.S. Surgeon General C. Everett Koop called AIDS the No. 1 health problem facing the world today in an interview that it is doubtful an effective vaccine will be available any time soon.

"I don't believe there will be a vaccine," Koop said in a world conference in London, sponsored by the World Health Organization.

The top U.S. medical official said scientists are working "along the lines of basic research," which pays "off down the road somewhere." The three-day conference in London, attended by 150 countries, was scheduled to conclude Thursday.

Koop admitted at a news conference held after the opening session that scientists are working "along the lines of basic research," which pays "off down the road somewhere." He added, "I do believe that somewhere there will be a vaccine. Whether it will be useful effective or whether it will be readily available, I think, is not in this century."

The top U.S. medical official said scientists are working "along the lines of basic research," which pays "off down the road somewhere." This conference elevates AIDS to the No. 1 health problem on this planet. Koop said in a news conference that it is doubtful an effective vaccine will be available any time soon.

Koop, who is attending the world's first summit on acquired immune disease, said in an interview that it is doubtful an effective vaccine will be available any time soon. "I don't believe there will be a vaccine," Koop said.

The virus that triggers AIDS is transferred through the sharing of contaminated needles, are "unfortu­nately," Koop said. It is also transmitted through contaminated blood and blood products, and passed to unborn children by their infected mothers.

The top U.S. medical official said scientists are working "along the lines of basic research," which pays "off down the road somewhere." He added, "I do believe that somewhere there will be a vaccine. Whether it will be useful effective or whether it will be readily available, I think, is not in this century."

The three-day conference in London, sponsored by the World Health Organization, was attended by 150 countries. It was scheduled to conclude Thursday.

Koop, who is attending the world's first summit on acquired immune disease, said in an interview that it is doubtful an effective vaccine will be available any time soon. "I don't believe there will be a vaccine," Koop said.

The virus that triggers AIDS is transferred through the sharing of contaminated needles, are "unfortu­nately," Koop said. It is also transmitted through contaminated blood and blood products, and passed to unborn children by their infected mothers.

The virus that triggers AIDS is transferred through the sharing of contaminated needles, are "unfortu­nately," Koop said. It is also transmitted through contaminated blood and blood products, and passed to unborn children by their infected mothers.

The virus that triggers AIDS is transferred through the sharing of contaminated needles, are "unfortu­nately," Koop said. It is also transmitted through contaminated blood and blood products, and passed to unborn children by their infected mothers.

The virus that triggers AIDS is transferred through the sharing of contaminated needles, are "unfortu­nately," Koop said. It is also transmitted through contaminated blood and blood products, and passed to unborn children by their infected mothers.
Bus tests a new strategy

The Columbia Broadcasting System's "60 Minutes" program aired a story on the anti-poverty campaign on most fronts. In short, Reagan has raised the price of being poor.

"It might be the most flattering thing ever said about the campaign that a TV evangelist would preach morality to the poor," was the quip of one commentator. "The question is why?" asked a business executive. "It's sad, but he had any melody, you know. This atmosphere is obvious. In their subconsciousness, one. Either represents the American public, the other represents the poor. And you must know that what it is.

Poverty is what?

"It'll tell you. The one single phrase that the dominant male.

That's right, that's what the TV evangelist was about.

It'll tell you, the two single phrases that the dominant male. But do not have to worry about it.

To my relief, it's all still there. To do you think fans love to see the "man" of the game?

Jerry, in a primate behavior, presenting your desire left unfilled?

And what about telephone directories? Can you imagine being a son-of-a-gun, an armchair quarterback?

To my relief, it's all still there. To do you think fans love to see the "man" of the game?

And what about telephone directories? Can you imagine being a son-of-a-gun, an armchair quarterback?

Iowa City, Iowa

Style vs. issues

Amidst the apparent confusion between Vice President George Bush and CBS anchor Dan Rather, Bush showed himself at atonishing and, defying questions. One might have thought that he, like the Ring Gapper, has a dead ear to turn. When finally cornered, Bush answered his best, staring me with his eyes, and afterwards performing his standard in a style. At least in Bush's case, the inarticulate and feeble thoughts that the public is exposed to a lot of singing, he would have sought a world where there is no need to speak.

But even if the public is exposed to a lot of singing, he would have sought a world where there is no need to speak. But even if the public is exposed to a lot of singing, he would have sought a world where there is no need to speak.

Afterwards, he was at a loss. "Everybody's talking about poverty," he said. "People are talking about poverty."

What if nothing is quite as it seems? For what it's worth, the audience of devotees, whose own morality at others' expense, and it's an aristocrat, a purebred, rather snooty, so most people would want to deport the protesters.

The question is why? So of course, it is obviou说过. In their subconsciousness, one. Either represents the American public, the other represents the poor. And you must know that what it is.

Nonviolence is the solution

The National Urban League's President, John Johnson, found one bright spot in the generally dismal tale of black America. Increased political participation is helping blacks gain more control over their destiny. But Oklahome notes that the lowest recent study of social conditions paints to little black progress on most fronts.

The study shows that poverty rate during the Reagan boom, that racism and economic continuity to hold white families. Incomes and incomes and incomes are nearly three years more likely to be poorer than whites.

What must have surprised Johnson was the Reagan administration's refusal to acknowledge that it has fewer young people than by closing job training programs, cutting back on health care, refusing to make available more funds to the hungry. In short, Reagan has raised the price of being poor while offering out a single innovative program to tackle the problems.

The real story

By Sally Sonner

Opinion

By Bob Ivy

"Bus tests a new strategy" is the Columbus Dispatch's "60 Minutes" program on the anti-poverty campaign. Why should Vice President George Bush suffer this public relations blow but President Ronald Reagan, the candidate?

The question is why? I asked a business executive. "It's sad, but he had any melody, you know. This atmosphere is obvious. In their subconsciousness, one. Either represents the American public, the other represents the poor. And you must know that what it is.

What if nothing is quite as it seems? For what it's worth, the audience of devotees, whose own morality at others' expense, and it's an aristocrat, a purebred, rather snooty, so most people would want to deport the protesters.

The question is why? So of course, it is obvious that they should raise the price of being poor. But even if the public is exposed to a lot of singing, he would have sought a world where there is no need to speak. But even if the public is exposed to a lot of singing, he would have sought a world where there is no need to speak.

By Mike Royko

Iowa City, Iowa

The Daily Iowan

Guest opinions

The New York Times

Iowa City, Iowa

The Daily Iowan

Guest opinions

The Daily Iowan

Nonviolence is the solution

The National Urban League's President, John Johnson, found one bright spot in the generally dismal tale of black America. Increased political participation is helping blacks gain more control over their destiny. But Oklahome notes that the lowest recent study of social conditions paints to little black progress on most fronts.

The study shows that poverty rate during the Reagan boom, that racism and economic continuity to hold white families. Incomes and incomes and incomes are nearly three years more likely to be poorer than whites.

What must have surprised Johnson was the Reagan administration's refusal to acknowledge that it has fewer young people than by closing job training programs, cutting back on health care, refusing to make available more funds to the hungry. In short, Reagan has raised the price of being poor while offering out a single innovative program to tackle the problems.

The real story

By Sally Sonner

Opinion

By Bob Ivy

"Bus tests a new strategy" is the Columbus Dispatch's "60 Minutes" program on the anti-poverty campaign. Why should Vice President George Bush suffer this public relations blow but President Ronald Reagan, the candidate?

The question is why? I asked a business executive. "It's sad, but he had any melody, you know. This atmosphere is obvious. In their subconsciousness, one. Either represents the American public, the other represents the poor. And you must know that what it is.

What if nothing is quite as it seems? For what it's worth, the audience of devotees, whose own morality at others' expense, and it's an aristocrat, a purebred, rather snooty, so most people would want to deport the protesters.

The question is why? So of course, it is obvious that they should raise the price of being poor. But even if the public is exposed to a lot of singing, he would have sought a world where there is no need to speak. But even if the public is exposed to a lot of singing, he would have sought a world where there is no need to speak.

By Mike Royko

Iowa City, Iowa

The Daily Iowan

Guest opinions

The New York Times

Iowa City, Iowa

The Daily Iowan

Guest opinions

The Daily Iowan

Nonviolence is the solution

The National Urban League's President, John Johnson, found one bright spot in the generally dismal tale of black America. Increased political participation is helping blacks gain more control over their destiny. But Oklahome notes that the lowest recent study of social conditions paints to little black progress on most fronts.

The study shows that poverty rate during the Reagan boom, that racism and economic continuity to hold white families. Incomes and incomes and incomes are nearly three years more likely to be poorer than whites.

What must have surprised Johnson was the Reagan administration's refusal to acknowledge that it has fewer young people than by closing job training programs, cutting back on health care, refusing to make available more funds to the hungry. In short, Reagan has raised the price of being poor while offering out a single innovative program to tackle the problems.

The real story

By Sally Sonner

Opinion

By Bob Ivy

"Bus tests a new strategy" is the Columbus Dispatch's "60 Minutes" program on the anti-poverty campaign. Why should Vice President George Bush suffer this public relations blow but President Ronald Reagan, the candidate?

The question is why? I asked a business executive. "It's sad, but he had any melody, you know. This atmosphere is obvious. In their subconsciousness, one. Either represents the American public, the other represents the poor. And you must know that what it is.

What if nothing is quite as it seems? For what it's worth, the audience of devotees, whose own morality at others' expense, and it's an aristocrat, a purebred, rather snooty, so most people would want to deport the protesters.

The question is why? So of course, it is obvious that they should raise the price of being poor. But even if the public is exposed to a lot of singing, he would have sought a world where there is no need to speak. But even if the public is exposed to a lot of singing, he would have sought a world where there is no need to speak.

By Mike Royko

Iowa City, Iowa

The Daily Iowan

Guest opinions

The New York Times

Iowa City, Iowa

The Daily Iowan

Guest opinions

The Daily Iowan

Nonviolence is the solution

The National Urban League's President, John Johnson, found one bright spot in the generally dismal tale of black America. Increased political participation is helping blacks gain more control over their destiny. But Oklahome notes that the lowest recent study of social conditions paints to little black progress on most fronts.

The study shows that poverty rate during the Reagan boom, that racism and economic continuity to hold white families. Incomes and incomes and incomes are nearly three years more likely to be poorer than whites.

What must have surprised Johnson was the Reagan administration's refusal to acknowledge that it has fewer young people than by closing job training programs, cutting back on health care, refusing to make available more funds to the hungry. In short, Reagan has raised the price of being poor while offering out a single innovative program to tackle the problems.

The real story

By Sally Sonner

Opinion

By Bob Ivy

"Bus tests a new strategy" is the Columbus Dispatch's "60 Minutes" program on the anti-poverty campaign. Why should Vice President George Bush suffer this public relations blow but President Ronald Reagan, the candidate?

The question is why? I asked a business executive. "It's sad, but he had any melody, you know. This atmosphere is obvious. In their subconsciousness, one. Either represents the American public, the other represents the poor. And you must know that what it is.

What if nothing is quite as it seems? For what it's worth, the audience of devotees, whose own morality at others' expense, and it's an aristocrat, a purebred, rather snooty, so most people would want to deport the protesters.

The question is why? So of course, it is obvious that they should raise the price of being poor. But even if the public is exposed to a lot of singing, he would have sought a world where there is no need to speak. But even if the public is exposed to a lot of singing, he would have sought a world where there is no need to speak.

By Mike Royko

Iowa City, Iowa

The Daily Iowan

Guest opinions

The New York Times

Iowa City, Iowa

The Daily Iowan

Guest opinions

The Daily Iowan

Nonviolence is the solution

The National Urban League's President, John Johnson, found one bright spot in the generally dismal tale of black America. Increased political participation is helping blacks gain more control over their destiny. But Oklahome notes that the lowest recent study of social conditions paints to little black progress on most fronts.

The study shows that poverty rate during the Reagan boom, that racism and economic continuity to hold white families. Incomes and incomes and incomes are nearly three years more likely to be poorer than whites.

What must have surprised Johnson was the Reagan administration's refusal to acknowledge that it has fewer young people than by closing job training programs, cutting back on health care, refusing to make available more funds to the hungry. In short, Reagan has raised the price of being poor while offering out a single innovative program to tackle the problems.

The real story

By Sally Sonner

Opinion

By Bob Ivy

"Bus tests a new strategy" is the Columbus Dispatch's "60 Minutes" program on the anti-poverty campaign. Why should Vice President George Bush suffer this public relations blow but President Ronald Reagan, the candidate?
The Daily Iowan — Iowa City, Iowa — Thursday, January 28, 1988 — Page 64

Hazing

Again, a note on the pledge data band worn by pledges to be ready for an adventure round. It’s just another entry in the list of events that make up the fraternities and sororities of Iowa City. This event, in particular, was a bit more exciting than the usual one.

The active students at some of the fraternities and sororities around the state of Iowa City and the University of Iowa participated in a protest against the university’s handling of hazing issues.

"When youpledge..." suggested one, then another, then another, and a final one. The final one was a pledge from the University of Iowa, who said, "I was like a million for me.

The student and his group were important to ensure that hazing was not a problem for the university. They were a part of the fraternity’s efforts to stop hazing in general.

"If you want to stop hazing..." said the student. "It's like being dumb and stupid, but you know what..." he continued. "You need to get better and stop hazing.

PETERTSON SAID... hazing was not as large a problem as it is on some campuses. "It was like a car radios, to find their way back to the house at 5 a.m. and played loud static on Wednesday night the pledges blew cigar smoke in their faces.

"I'm not going to tell you that..." said the student. "I was like a dike.

Furthermore, funds and powers in the university are spent on the removal of hazing in the state of Iowa. The university has taken certain actions to prevent hazing.

I guess you need to get better and stop hazing.

If you want to stop hazing..." said the student. "It's like being dumb and stupid, but you know what..." he continued. "You need to get better and stop hazing.

Another student said, "I'm not going to tell you that..." said the student. "I was like a dike.

So, what are you going to tell me?" asked the student. "I was like a dike.

It added that the FBI wanted to know what’s happening in the sororities and fraternities of Iowa City.

"We haven’t had a major problem..." said the student. "I was like a dike.

BI

FBI

"Now I think you can use the latest, most advanced software. And now there are two choices of keyboards.

As a Macintosh owner, you can use the latest, most advanced software. And now there are two choices of keyboards.

The latest keyboards for the Macintosh SE. Which comes with a choice of keyboards. And the Macintosh SE. Which comes with two built-in 800k disk drives and a 20megabyte hard disk.

That means you’ll be able to work faster and smarter.

No two ways about it.

The Daily Iowan — Iowa City, Iowa — Thursday, January 28, 1988 — Page 64

bodywear

an attitude

— basic

not a style

— comfort

wear it

— intrigue

sleep in it

— individualist

Catherine's

7 x duotone

Start your day with

The Daily Iowan

The power to be your best.
Fieldhouse

I don’t know how well that adopted the idea of admitting underage customers. The Airliner, non-alcoholic on Tuesday nights, ruling on others.

The Fieldhouse is open to all students, said Kennedy, but the owners are more reluctant to adopt the idea of admitting underage customers.

The Fieldhouse is open to all students, said Kennedy, but the owners are more reluctant to adopt the idea of admitting underage customers.

Kennedy spoke of ROTC funds: “We need to do that for the future of ROTC.”

But other Iowa City bars have already adopted the idea of admitting underage customers.

The Fieldhouse is open to all students, said Kennedy, but the owners are more reluctant to adopt the idea of admitting underage customers.

Kennedy spoke of ROTC funds: “We need to do that for the future of ROTC.”

But other Iowa City bars have already adopted the idea of admitting underage customers.

The Fieldhouse is open to all students, said Kennedy, but the owners are more reluctant to adopt the idea of admitting underage customers.

Kennedy spoke of ROTC funds: “We need to do that for the future of ROTC.”

But other Iowa City bars have already adopted the idea of admitting underage customers.

The Fieldhouse is open to all students, said Kennedy, but the owners are more reluctant to adopt the idea of admitting underage customers.

Kennedy spoke of ROTC funds: “We need to do that for the future of ROTC.”

But other Iowa City bars have already adopted the idea of admitting underage customers.
2 all-committers to Iowa

By Richard Morrison

The Daily Iowan

Recruiting

The Hawkeye State

Hawkeye Class of 1993 recruit, was named Player of the Year by the Chicago Tribune and was named All-State player by the Chicago Sun Times.

HARTLEB, WHOSE brother Chuck, will attend the University of Illinois and will be eligible to play in the Big Ten.

Hill plays straight man for Davis

By Joe Ross

The Daily Iowan

Most people who showed up to watch the Iowa-Kent State basketball game last season didn't realize they were watching a variety show that was complete. It was football.

The ball was returned to Davis, who started in at tight end and fullback, and he's continuing a career path.

Hill was recruited out of high school and began to grow during his sophomore year. Iowa is a very tall program, but he's growing as a basketball player.

The ball was returned to Davis, who started in at tight end and fullback, and he's continuing a career path.

BILL SAY NEXT to Davis as Iowa's basketball season nears a conclusion.

The Hawkeyes advanced to the NCAA Tournament, where they defeated Texas and advanced to the Final Four.

Hill was recruited out of high school and began to grow during his sophomore year. Iowa is a very tall program, but he's growing as a basketball player.

The ball was returned to Davis, who started in at tight end and fullback, and he's continuing a career path.

The banquet ends with a bang

The ball was returned to Davis, who started in at tight end and fullback, and he's continuing a career path.

The ball was returned to Davis, who started in at tight end and fullback, and he's continuing a career path.

Stringer says the game is a must-win

The ball was returned to Davis, who started in at tight end and fullback, and he's continuing a career path.

The ball was returned to Davis, who started in at tight end and fullback, and he's continuing a career path.

Hill plays straight man for Davis

By Joe Ross

The Daily Iowan

Most people who showed up to watch the Iowa-Kent State basketball game last season didn't realize they were watching a variety show that was complete. It was football.

The ball was returned to Davis, who started in at tight end and fullback, and he's continuing a career path.

Hill was recruited out of high school and began to grow during his sophomore year. Iowa is a very tall program, but he's growing as a basketball player.

The ball was returned to Davis, who started in at tight end and fullback, and he's continuing a career path.

Iowa basketball center Kent Hill left, goes after the ball held by teammate forward Kent Tubbs.

The ball was returned to Davis, who started in at tight end and fullback, and he's continuing a career path.

The ball was returned to Davis, who started in at tight end and fullback, and he's continuing a career path.

Iowa's basketball center Kent Hill left, goes after the ball held by teammate forward Kent Tubbs.

The ball was returned to Davis, who started in at tight end and fullback, and he's continuing a career path.

The ball was returned to Davis, who started in at tight end and fullback, and he's continuing a career path.

Davis: Don’t underestimate Gopher squad

By Scott Wingert

The Daily Iowan

Although the Minnesota basketball team is ranked in the top 20, the Hawkeyes are a team to watch. Iowa’s Kent Hill and Davis-Kent Hill variety show, and Davis-Kent Hill himself who has been recruited out of high school.

The ball was returned to Davis, who started in at tight end and fullback, and he's continuing a career path.

The ball was returned to Davis, who started in at tight end and fullback, and he's continuing a career path.

Iowa basketball center Kent Hill left, goes after the ball held by teammate forward Kent Tubbs.

The ball was returned to Davis, who started in at tight end and fullback, and he's continuing a career path.

The ball was returned to Davis, who started in at tight end and fullback, and he's continuing a career path.

Iowa women’s basketball Coach Vivian Stringer» pose the ball in a drill during practice Wednesday at Carver-Hawkeye Arena.

The ball was returned to Davis, who started in at tight end and fullback, and he's continuing a career path.

The ball was returned to Davis, who started in at tight end and fullback, and he's continuing a career path.

Women’s Basketball

By Michael Trif

The Daily Iowan

Although the Iowa women’s basketball team faces two very serious opponents this weekend, Hawkeye Coach Vivian Stringer opened her Wednesday press conference on a light note.

"I'm sorry I'm late," Stringer said. "But just got off the plane with Bill Goude. I met someone downtown for lunch yesterday that I expected to be here. I was in New York. He said that the people who you're looking for aren't here. He said he's nearly out of it. I'm late," Stringer said. "Bill Jones and I are the only ones left. He said we would send a personnel report. To Vinnie, but tell the girls that they are going to have to earn their money by continuing to be the 3-1. I'll be apologetic and then I will send you something very special."

BEFORE THE Hawkeyes can even think about being No. 1, they must get past Indiana Friday and Ohio State Sunday.

The ball was returned to Davis, who started in at tight end and fullback, and he's continuing a career path.

The ball was returned to Davis, who started in at tight end and fullback, and he's continuing a career path.

INDIANA WILF» bring a 2-0 conference record and an 8-3 overall record to Carver-Hawkeye Arena Sunday.

The ball was returned to Davis, who started in at tight end and fullback, and he's continuing a career path.

The ball was returned to Davis, who started in at tight end and fullback, and he's continuing a career path.

Iowa women’s basketball Coach Vivian Stringer» pose the ball in a drill during practice Wednesday at Carver-Hawkeye Arena.

The ball was returned to Davis, who started in at tight end and fullback, and he's continuing a career path.

The ball was returned to Davis, who started in at tight end and fullback, and he's continuing a career path.

Women’s Basketball

By Michael Trif

The Daily Iowan

Although the Iowa women’s basketball team faces two very serious opponents this weekend, Hawkeye Coach Vivian Stringer opened her Wednesday press conference on a light note.

"I'm sorry I'm late," Stringer said. "But just got off the plane with Bill Goude. I met someone downtown for lunch yesterday that I expected to be here. I was in New York. He said that the people who you're looking for aren't here. He said he's nearly out of it. I'm late," Stringer said. "Bill Jones and I are the only ones left. He said we would send a personnel report. To Vinnie, but tell the girls that they are going to have to earn their money by continuing to be the 3-1. I'll be apologetic and then I will send you something very special."

BEFORE THE Hawkeyes can even think about being No. 1, they must get past Indiana Friday and Ohio State Sunday.

The ball was returned to Davis, who started in at tight end and fullback, and he's continuing a career path.

The ball was returned to Davis, who started in at tight end and fullback, and he's continuing a career path.

INDIANA WILF» bring a 2-0 conference record and an 8-3 overall record to Carver-Hawkeye Arena Sunday.

The ball was returned to Davis, who started in at tight end and fullback, and he's continuing a career path.

The ball was returned to Davis, who started in at tight end and fullback, and he's continuing a career path.

"I'm sorry I'm late," Stringer said. "But just got off the plane with Bill Goude. I met someone downtown for lunch yesterday that I expected to be here. I was in New York. He said that the people who you're looking for aren't here. He said he's nearly out of it. I'm late," Stringer said. "Bill Jones and I are the only ones left. He said we would send a personnel report. To Vinnie, but tell the girls that they are going to have to earn their money by continuing to be the 3-1. I'll be apologetic and then I will send you something very special."

BEFORE THE Hawkeyes can even think about being No. 1, they must get past Indiana Friday and Ohio State Sunday.

The ball was returned to Davis, who started in at tight end and fullback, and he's continuing a career path.

The ball was returned to Davis, who started in at tight end and fullback, and he's continuing a career path.

INDIANA WILF» bring a 2-0 conference record and an 8-3 overall record to Carver-Hawkeye Arena Sunday.

The ball was returned to Davis, who started in at tight end and fullback, and he's continuing a career path.

The ball was returned to Davis, who started in at tight end and fullback, and he's continuing a career path.

"I'm sorry I'm late," Stringer said. "But just got off the plane with Bill Goude. I met someone downtown for lunch yesterday that I expected to be here. I was in New York. He said that the people who you're looking for aren't here. He said he's nearly out of it. I'm late," Stringer said. "Bill Jones and I are the only ones left. He said we would send a personnel report. To Vinnie, but tell the girls that they are going to have to earn their money by continuing to be the 3-1. I'll be apologetic and then I will send you something very special."

BEFORE THE Hawkeyes can even think about being No. 1, they must get past Indiana Friday and Ohio State Sunday.

The ball was returned to Davis, who started in at tight end and fullback, and he's continuing a career path.

The ball was returned to Davis, who started in at tight end and fullback, and he's continuing a career path.

INDIANA WILF» bring a 2-0 conference record and an 8-3 overall record to Carver-Hawkeye Arena Sunday.

The ball was returned to Davis, who started in at tight end and fullback, and he's continuing a career path.

The ball was returned to Davis, who started in at tight end and fullback, and he's continuing a career path.

"I'm sorry I'm late," Stringer said. "But just got off the plane with Bill Goude. I met someone downtown for lunch yesterday that I expected to be here. I was in New York. He said that the people who you're looking for aren't here. He said he's nearly out of it. I'm late," Stringer said. "Bill Jones and I are the only ones left. He said we would send a personnel report. To Vinnie, but tell the girls that they are going to have to earn their money by continuing to be the 3-1. I'll be apologetic and then I will send you something very special."

BEFORE THE Hawkeyes can even think about being No. 1, they must get past Indiana Friday and Ohio State Sunday.

The ball was returned to Davis, who started in at tight end and fullback, and he's continuing a career path.

The ball was returned to Davis, who started in at tight end and fullback, and he's continuing a career path.

INDIANA WILF» bring a 2-0 conference record and an 8-3 overall record to Carver-Hawkeye Arena Sunday.

The ball was returned to Davis, who started in at tight end and fullback, and he's continuing a career path.

The ball was returned to Davis, who started in at tight end and fullback, and he's continuing a career path.
Sportsbriefs

Sports camp counselor positions open
The Division of Recreation Services, responsible for Iowa summer programs, is seeking applicants for summer positions.
Upper division or graduate students will be selected on the basis of their leadership, experience, scholarship and motivation to work with and support the growth and development of campers living in the university's residence halls.
For more information, contact Michelle Hurley, Division of Recreational Services, 610 Ford House or call 304-924.

Indians take Ohio State, 75-71
COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) - Dean Garrett scored 18 of his 22 points in the second half and Indiana scored 13 straight points to lead Illinois to a 52-51 Big Ten victory over Ohio State.
The victory improved the Hoosiers' record for the season to 10-11 and featured Coach Burt Knight, who broke two of the stars from last year's national championship team, Ron Mallard and Roy Cramer, for apparent disciplinary reasons.

Minnesota drops Michigan State, 9-56
EAST LANSING, Mich. (UPI) - Willy Burton and Melvin Henderson scored 26 points apiece Wednesday night to help Minnesota break the 33-game Big Ten losing streak of 58-59 against Michigan State.

Sooners rout Cyclones by 21
NORMAN, Okla. (UPI) - Harvey Grant scored 30 points Wednesday night to lead the Sooners to double figures and help No. 10 Oklahoma to a 117-85 Big Eight victory over No. 17 Iowa State.
The Sooners had Jeff Gross, the league's top scorer with a 20.7-point average, out for six games as they rallied to their 38th consecutive conference victory and from 115-81 victory against the Cyclones.

Perles expected to be Packers' coach
GREEN BAY, Wis. (UPI) - George Perles, Indiana's highly respected coaching leader of Michigan State, is expected to be named the new head coach of the Green Bay Packers.

Packers President Robert Paronis declined comment on the report, but a Michigan State official said he was unaware of the situation.

Bears' McMahon undergoes surgery
CHICAGO (UPI) - Chicago quarterback Jim McMahon underwent surgery in Los Angeles to repair a secondary joint in his shoulder and will rest up for six weeks before he begins rehabilitation, a team spokesman and Wednesday.

Perls' club will be without its leader while it faces two key West Division opponents this weekend.

John's Grocery

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind. (UPI) - John's Grocery, a supercenter retailer, moved into the new fast food market by opening its first Florida store.

The new restaurant, located on U.S. 19 in Lehigh Acres, Fla., offers fresh, high-quality ingredients for a wide variety of menu items, including salads, sandwiches, and soups.

The store is open from Monday to Friday, from 7 am to 12 am, and on Saturday from 7 am to 9 pm.

Ferdinand wins Eclipse Award voting
NEW YORK (UPI) - Ferdinand, a horse who earned a dramatic victory in the Breeders' Cup Classic last November, Wednesday was named Horse of the Year in Eclipse Award voting.

The award is given annually to the best horse in North America.

Britain's Cose set for U.S. indoor debut
EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. (UPI) - Britain's Sebastian Coe, a double Olympic gold medalist and world record holder, will make his American indoor debut at next month's U.S. Olympic Invitation Track & Field Meet.

The meet is sponsored by the National Education Association.

Coe, the current world record holder at 800 meters in both indoor and outdoor competition, is expected to compete in the 1,500-meter race.

He will also face defending Olympic Gold Medalist Steve Pref, the American indoor 5,000-meter record holder and American Indoor Athletic Association Coach of the Year.

Super Bowl Almanac

The Super Bowl Almanac is a comprehensive reference to the history and statistics of the Super Bowl era.

It includes game-by-game statistics, records, and notable moments from every Super Bowl.

The 2023 edition features updated records and new entries for the most recent Super Bowl.

The Super Bowl Almanac is available for purchase at most local bookstores or online retailers.
Hoopsters jam Field House

By Hugh Donovan

The Daily Iowan

When intramural basketball gets underway, it is easy to find a spot in the gym to catch a pickup game.

That's because there are 32 courts operating in the old gym, a number that has increased as theIAHA and the Central Station have added courts since the old gym opened. That should keep the gym busy until after 3 a.m. the next day.

Basketballs travel the intramural sport with a large number of participants. There are options to suit most tastes. Recruits compete in the indoor practice facility. The following intramurals standards were followed after the league's opening games: Men, Thursday at 8 p.m.; Women, Friday at 9 p.m.

Intramurals

Basketball

Campus Central Station, Recruits

This gymnasium offers four courts, four 12-foot high ceilings and a 25-foot interior track for the outdoor practice facility.

The minutes may have been extended, the rowdy opening games have been smoothed out and the number of players has been increased, but in the end the small gyms will be turned back over to normal use.

Intramural basketball tips off Tuesday evening to participate in an open court to entice。

"We have been here for five years, only have four games and you can see exciting games in the gym," said Marty Mahaffey, a student who has played intramural basketball for four years.

The intramural basketball tipoff is 6 p.m. on Tuesday evening.

Recruits

Men's and women's basketball games are on Sun., Mon., Wed., Thu. and Fri. The games are played at 6 p.m.

Intramural basketball tips off Tuesday evening to participate in an open court to entice.

"It really seems like a lot of fun. All the games have been entertaining," said Pat Ryan, a senior who has played intramural basketball for five years.

The intramural basketball tipoff is 6 p.m. on Tuesday evening.

Recruits

Men's and women's basketball games are on Sun., Mon., Wed., Thu. and Fri. The games are played at 6 p.m.

Intramural basketball tips off Tuesday evening to participate in an open court to entice.

"It really seems like a lot of fun. All the games have been entertaining," said Pat Ryan, a senior who has played intramural basketball for five years.

The intramural basketball tipoff is 6 p.m. on Tuesday evening.

Intramural basketball tips off Tuesday evening to participate in an open court to entice.

"It really seems like a lot of fun. All the games have been entertaining," said Pat Ryan, a senior who has played intramural basketball for five years.

The intramural basketball tipoff is 6 p.m. on Tuesday evening.

Recruits

Men's and women's basketball games are on Sun., Mon., Wed., Thu. and Fri. The games are played at 6 p.m.

Intramural basketball tips off Tuesday evening to participate in an open court to entice.

"It really seems like a lot of fun. All the games have been entertaining," said Pat Ryan, a senior who has played intramural basketball for five years.

The intramural basketball tipoff is 6 p.m. on Tuesday evening.

Recruits

Men's and women's basketball games are on Sun., Mon., Wed., Thu. and Fri. The games are played at 6 p.m.

Intramural basketball tips off Tuesday evening to participate in an open court to entice.

"It really seems like a lot of fun. All the games have been entertaining," said Pat Ryan, a senior who has played intramural basketball for five years.

The intramural basketball tipoff is 6 p.m. on Tuesday evening.

Recruits

Men's and women's basketball games are on Sun., Mon., Wed., Thu. and Fri. The games are played at 6 p.m.

Intramural basketball tips off Tuesday evening to participate in an open court to entice.

"It really seems like a lot of fun. All the games have been entertaining," said Pat Ryan, a senior who has played intramural basketball for five years.

The intramural basketball tipoff is 6 p.m. on Tuesday evening.

Recruits

Men's and women's basketball games are on Sun., Mon., Wed., Thu. and Fri. The games are played at 6 p.m.

Intramural basketball tips off Tuesday evening to participate in an open court to entice.

"It really seems like a lot of fun. All the games have been entertaining," said Pat Ryan, a senior who has played intramural basketball for five years.

The intramural basketball tipoff is 6 p.m. on Tuesday evening.
Graduate assistant Gerry Wright, former Hawkeye hooper, goes up for a dunk at practice Wednesday while helping to teach the team a new drill for the upcoming game against Minnesota Saturday night.

Wright

Program to go on

"Wright was drafted by the Detroit Pistons in the fifth round of the '88 NBA draft. He is now a graduate assistant coach at Swede and is teaching administration of a degree in communications last semester."

WITH DISMISSED

the possibility of playing and is looking ahead to coaching. Currently, Wright is a candidate for the head coaching job at the College in Mount Vernon, Iowa.

Wright said he's serious about playing professionally. "It would be a huge step from what I'm doing."

Wright said he doesn't expect to move to the NBA. "I would like the option of playing in the NBA, but I don't think I'll be able to make the jump."

The Daily Iowan

Graduate assistant Gerry Wright, former Hawkeye hooper, goes up for a dunk at practice Wednesday while helping to teach the team a new drill for the upcoming game against Minnesota Saturday night.

By Anne Specht

The Daily Iowan

During most Iowa basketball games, the atmosphere of Hawkeye fans is enough to fire up the home team.

But crowd enthusiasm and loyalty can sometimes get out of hand. As an example of this negative aspect of the Hawkeye fans, let's look at the case of an Iowa basketball coach Tom Davis and the Iowa State students who violated a team rule during Monday's Iowa-Missouri game. Iowa basketball coach Tom Davis said Wednesday each authority could break a player's concentration and thus outcome of a game.

"My Point Blat that it shouldn't have been during the game," Davis said. "You don't want objects thrown onto the floor when the game is going on. In particular, when Michael Reaves is shooting free throws, it's a mental game out there and the object flying into the free throw is not good."

But only "that was, and Davis, but there on the court could result in injury."

"That's a time when there's no real game, he said. "Thi

Those things are dangerous on the court."

Davis also raised questions about Hawkeye fans becoming rowdy.

"We want to keep maintaining our face that we honor everyone you get during the game with the release of the stole and we're just not going to say the wrong things to people."

Another problem with delinquents, according to Davis, is public relations with300.

"If we do it a little bit more, we don't want recruits getting the wrong message and having some have some problems."

Davis is looking forward to the next game and is hoping the fans can be calm.

Winter weight worries Davis

Wright

"I was disappointed in how much I was disappointed in how much the fans don't take that for granted."

"I know it's been handled real well."

Davis said the fans are doing a great job, and is working on getting the fans to do even better.

The Daily Iowan

"WE WANT TO keep maintaining our face that we honor everyone you get during the game with the release of the stole and we're just not going to say the wrong things to people."

"If we do it a little bit more, we don't want recruits getting the wrong message and having some have some problems."

Davis is looking forward to the next game and is hoping the fans can be calm.

Wright

"I was disappointed in how much I was disappointed in how much the fans don't take that for granted."

"I know it's been handled real well."

Davis said the fans are doing a great job, and is working on getting the fans to do even better.

The Daily Iowan

"WE WANT TO keep maintaining our face that we honor everyone you get during the game with the release of the stole and we're just not going to say the wrong things to people."

"If we do it a little bit more, we don't want recruits getting the wrong message and having some have some problems."

Davis is looking forward to the next game and is hoping the fans can be calm.

Wright

"I was disappointed in how much I was disappointed in how much the fans don't take that for granted."

"I know it's been handled real well."

Davis said the fans are doing a great job, and is working on getting the fans to do even better.

The Daily Iowan

"WE WANT TO keep maintaining our face that we honor everyone you get during the game with the release of the stole and we're just not going to say the wrong things to people."

"If we do it a little bit more, we don't want recruits getting the wrong message and having some have some problems."

Davis is looking forward to the next game and is hoping the fans can be calm.

Wright

"I was disappointed in how much I was disappointed in how much the fans don't take that for granted."

"I know it's been handled real well."

Davis said the fans are doing a great job, and is working on getting the fans to do even better.

The Daily Iowan

"WE WANT TO keep maintaining our face that we honor everyone you get during the game with the release of the stole and we're just not going to say the wrong things to people."

"If we do it a little bit more, we don't want recruits getting the wrong message and having some have some problems."

Davis is looking forward to the next game and is hoping the fans can be calm.

Wright

"I was disappointed in how much I was disappointed in how much the fans don't take that for granted."

"I know it's been handled real well."

Davis said the fans are doing a great job, and is working on getting the fans to do even better.

The Daily Iowan

"WE WANT TO keep maintaining our face that we honor everyone you get during the game with the release of the stole and we're just not going to say the wrong things to people."

"If we do it a little bit more, we don't want recruits getting the wrong message and having some have some problems."

Davis is looking forward to the next game and is hoping the fans can be calm.

"I was disappointed in how much I was disappointed in how much the fans don't take that for granted."

"I know it's been handled real well."

Davis said the fans are doing a great job, and is working on getting the fans to do even better.

The Daily Iowan

"WE WANT TO keep maintaining our face that we honor everyone you get during the game with the release of the stole and we're just not going to say the wrong things to people."

"If we do it a little bit more, we don't want recruits getting the wrong message and having some have some problems."

Davis is looking forward to the next game and is hoping the fans can be calm.

Wright

"I was disappointed in how much I was disappointed in how much the fans don't take that for granted."

"I know it's been handled real well."

Davis said the fans are doing a great job, and is working on getting the fans to do even better.

The Daily Iowan

"WE WANT TO keep maintaining our face that we honor everyone you get during the game with the release of the stole and we're just not going to say the wrong things to people."

"If we do it a little bit more, we don't want recruits getting the wrong message and having some have some problems."

Davis is looking forward to the next game and is hoping the fans can be calm.

Wright

"I was disappointed in how much I was disappointed in how much the fans don't take that for granted."

"I know it's been handled real well."

Davis said the fans are doing a great job, and is working on getting the fans to do even better.

The Daily Iowan

"WE WANT TO keep maintaining our face that we honor everyone you get during the game with the release of the stole and we're just not going to say the wrong things to people."

"If we do it a little bit more, we don't want recruits getting the wrong message and having some have some problems."

Davis is looking forward to the next game and is hoping the fans can be calm.

Wright

"I was disappointed in how much I was disappointed in how much the fans don't take that for granted."

"I know it's been handled real well."

Davis said the fans are doing a great job, and is working on getting the fans to do even better.

The Daily Iowan

"WE WANT TO keep maintaining our face that we honor everyone you get during the game with the release of the stole and we're just not going to say the wrong things to people."

"If we do it a little bit more, we don't want recruits getting the wrong message and having some have some problems."

Davis is looking forward to the next game and is hoping the fans can be calm.

Wright

"I was disappointed in how much I was disappointed in how much the fans don't take that for granted."

"I know it's been handled real well."

Davis said the fans are doing a great job, and is working on getting the fans to do even better.

The Daily Iowan

"WE WANT TO keep maintaining our face that we honor everyone you get during the game with the release of the stole and we're just not going to say the wrong things to people."

"If we do it a little bit more, we don't want recruits getting the wrong message and having some have some problems."

Davis is looking forward to the next game and is hoping the fans can be calm.

Wright

"I was disappointed in how much I was disappointed in how much the fans don't take that for granted."

"I know it's been handled real well."

Davis said the fans are doing a great job, and is working on getting the fans to do even better.

The Daily Iowan

"WE WANT TO keep maintaining our face that we honor everyone you get during the game with the release of the stole and we're just not going to say the wrong things to people."

"If we do it a little bit more, we don't want recruits getting the wrong message and having some have some problems."

Davis is looking forward to the next game and is hoping the fans can be calm.

Wright

"I was disappointed in how much I was disappointed in how much the fans don't take that for granted."

"I know it's been handled real well."

Davis said the fans are doing a great job, and is working on getting the fans to do even better.

The Daily Iowan

"WE WANT TO keep maintaining our face that we honor everyone you get during the game with the release of the stole and we're just not going to say the wrong things to people."

"If we do it a little bit more, we don't want recruits getting the wrong message and having some have some problems."

Davis is looking forward to the next game and is hoping the fans can be calm.

Wright

"I was disappointed in how much I was disappointed in how much the fans don't take that for granted."

"I know it's been handled real well."

Davis said the fans are doing a great job, and is working on getting the fans to do even better.

The Daily Iowan

"WE WANT TO keep maintaining our face that we honor everyone you get during the game with the release of the stole and we're just not going to say the wrong things to people."

"If we do it a little bit more, we don't want recruits getting the wrong message and having some have some problems."

Davis is looking forward to the next game and is hoping the fans can be calm.

Wright

"I was disappointed in how much I was disappointed in how much the fans don't take that for granted."

"I know it's been handled real well."

Davis said the fans are doing a great job, and is working on getting the fans to do even better.

The Daily Iowan

"WE WANT TO keep maintaining our face that we honor everyone you get during the game with the release of the stole and we're just not going to say the wrong things to people."

"If we do it a little bit more, we don't want recruits getting the wrong message and having some have some problems."

Davis is looking forward to the next game and is hoping the fans can be calm.

Wright
Film tip: Forget ‘For Keeps’

By Keith C. Krichman

The Daily Iowan

Remember all those times you wondered what the world would be like if you had been born a generation earlier? Well, here comes another one: "For Keeps," and any advantage a film had with this is neutralized by a far-too-abundant supply of the telethon folder that ABC used to produce to fill up its schedule back when it was a family-oriented operation.

For Keeps stars Sigourney Weaver and Joan Rivers — back then, Randell Ballhoff as Denny and Flora, a high-school couple whose life's renaissance is damaged by parental permission. Their chance to realize their adventures, marriage and parenthood are plopped in the middle of it all.

Early on, the screenwriter seems momentarily nostalgia on a solution to the State's current marriage laws, but as they also have their own children, the tone of the film changes and the audience's attention is drawn to the two main characters. The story follows the lives of these characters as they navigate the complexities of their personal lives.

This review is temporarily postponed to prevent such a movie's movie- ope. Question: How do you determine whether a movie is good or bad? Answer: If it's a bad film it will open in Iowa City at the same time as it opens nationally. Now back in the regularly scheduled review.

IT'S A SHAME TO see the creative effort involved throwing time on such a sentimental story. Director-editor John G. Avildsen, known for working on relatively high production values but often with the tone of the rest of the film.

The character is the main character, the main character's decision to have a child, the main character's goals, and the main character's desires. The main character is a schoolmate, a colleague, a friend, and a romantic partner.

Blood and alcoholism, all plucked from the most well-known, are extrapolated into the credit sequence which chose unexpected shots, re-creating toward as unenthusiastic an age. Later, the birth scene of the young couple's baby receives the most exclusion of such an event that I've seen from high-school level.

The Daily Break

MAMA'S

No 1 S. Dubuque

KANGAROO NIGHT TONIGHT

Spectators in our audience of the "For Keeps" premiere were treated to a surprise appearance of the original cast and were kept on the edge of their seats throughout the entire show.

The show was so popular that the audience requested a second performance the following evening.

Tickets, $5.00, are available at the box office or by calling 319-763-9300.

INTRODUCING

World's Fare Café

Stop in for international cuisine at affordable prices.

OPEN MON-FRI

7-10am 11-2pm 5-9pm

TUES-Thurs 5-9pm

The International Center
(Law Building)

Accepting Visa, Mastercard, American Express, and Discover

The Soviet rock band plays N.Y. club

By John Beasen

The Daily Iowan

New York — The Russian rock band解码解码 has announced its first major U.S. concert, which will take place in New York City on January 30th.

The band's debut album, titled "The Soviet Rock," has received critical acclaim and has been a commercial success, with sales exceeding 1 million copies in Russia alone.

The concert will be held at the legendary Greenwich Village venue, the Fillmore, and is expected to attract a large audience of Russian expatriates and music enthusiasts.

The band's lead singer, Alexander Serebrov, said, "This is the chance of a lifetime to perform in front of our American fans. We are excited to share our music and culture with the world and look forward to a memorable evening in New York."
Bijou to show student films
By Kevin C. Stokeloh
The Daily Iowa

T he latest and largest of the Bijou will be showing an anthology of short films which have been produced during the last three years by students in the University film department. The program marks the premiere of 13 films that range in length from 10 to 36 minutes and represent a cross-section of the film school's output.

Bijou Film Board Andy Langton had the idea of screening the student films and watched approximately 140 films in the process of selecting a cross-section of Langton's films from the trenchant, language, and experimental. Among the films screened, Langton selected 13 for the screening.

Langton promises the viewers to get them out: He pointed out that the films which have been shown elsewhere have generally been shown on video, not in their original format in a theater.

EXAMPLES OF NARRATIVE, documentry, and experimental filmmaking are in evidence, though few of the 13 films fall clearly into any single category. The greatest number of films lean toward the experimental (Dresser, Bull, Karen), but others are straightforward narratives.

The accent is on originality, though several films clearly show the influence of well-known filmmakers. Center City Holiday (1978) is a gritty, trenchant project by Jacques Tan, while Marvin the Talker (1973) uses the techniques of narrative film to portray a group of eccentric students.

Several films of the 1980s and 70s portray a greater sense of social problems. The excellent Ad Man (1980) is a straightforward film about a young family from a lower-income background. The program is nearly two hours long and the large crowd leaves the theater floored by the diversity of short films, browsing on the situation of the viewers.

The program's success is due to the strong leadership of the Bijou Film Board and the director's assurance to the viewers that the films will be shown in their original format. The Bijou Film Board has selected 13 films, ranging in length from 10 to 36 minutes, that represent a cross-section of the film school's output.}

Fluxist art to be shown
By Kevin C. Stokeloh

Fluxus and Friends, an exhibition of Fluxus, the rarest of international artistic movements, will be on display at the UI Museum of Art through the end of the year. The funds movement grew out of pop culture, drawing from the counterculture of the 1960s.

The exhibition is organized by the museum's senior curator, John F. Montgomery, who also curated the museum's 1990 exhibition, Alternatives: Traditions in the Contemporary Art Curriculum.

The word "Fluxus" was first associated with the activities of a group of avant-garde artists in the 1960s. The funds movement grew out of pop culture, drawing from the counterculture of the 1960s.

The Fluxus movement was characterized by a desire to break down traditional boundaries between art and life, and to create a new kind of art that was accessible to the general public.

The exhibition will feature works by artists such as Yoko Ono, John Cage, and Nam June Paik, as well as the Fluxus group's signature blend of performance, happening, and multimedia experimentation.

ACCORDING TO CURATOR John F. Montgomery, although the Fluxus movement was originally serious ideologically, they used humor in lots of ways. Getting people to think about what their art could mean in an open and positive atmosphere.

"Fluxus was anti-artistic." "Despite the antipathy to the established world, Fluxus worked for the audience in ways in which they could understand their complex objects as unassumingly real and complexly mysterious.

Some of the items on display will be a lack of Taka Ono One's, "Fluxus" and "Fluxus, Heritage Vinyl Project." One piece titled "Fluxus" is an audio-visual holograph of the Fluxus group's music and poetry. The piece, which is displayed in the museum, is a unique example of the group's use of sound and visuals in their performances.

At a certain moment, the suspended exhibit in "Fluxus" is a big, impressive sound, according to Montgomery.
To Create Value

At NCR, we’ve found that in order to create value, we must first satisfy the legitimate expectations of every person with a stake in our company. We call these people our stakeholders, and we attempt to satisfy their expectations by promoting partnerships in which everyone is a winner.

- We believe in building mutually beneficial and enduring relationships with all of our stakeholders, based on conducting business activities with integrity and respect.
- We take customer satisfaction personally: we are committed to providing superior value in our products and services on a continuing basis.
- We respect the individuality of each employee and foster an environment in which employees’ creativity and productivity are encouraged, recognized, valued and rewarded.
- We think of our suppliers as partners who share our goal of achieving the highest quality standards and the most consistent level of service.
- We are dedicated to being caring and supportive corporate citizens within the worldwide communities in which we operate.
- We are dedicated to creating value for our shareholders and for the financial communities by performing in a manner that will enhance the return on their investments.

To Win

We’re so committed to our mission that we’re encouraging the next generation of leaders to re-examine America’s business values. We’re doing this by holding the NCR Stakeholder Essay Competition which all full-time undergraduate and graduate college or university students may enter. Entries should explore the topic: “Creating Value for All Stakeholders in Corporations and/or Not-for-Profit Organizations.”

The student chosen as the first place winner will be awarded $50,000 cash. Plus, the entrant’s school will receive $100,000 in NCR data processing equipment. The second place winner will receive $15,000 cash and the entrant’s school will receive $35,000 in equipment. One hundred $1,000 awards of merit will be given to chosen participants. In addition, selected award-winning entrants will be invited to attend the first NCR International Symposium on Stakeholders to be held June 9 & 10, 1988, in Dayton, Ohio.

The Rules

1) The NCR Stakeholder Essay Competition is open to any full-time undergraduate or graduate student attending an accredited college or university in the United States or its territories.
2) Entries must be original, unpublished work on the topic: “Creating Value for All Stakeholders in Corporations and/or Not-for-Profit Organizations.” Essays must not exceed 5,000 words. Areas of discussion may include, but are not limited to: Ethics, Corporate Governance, Strategic Management, Social Responsibility, or Managing Change as these topics relate to managing for stakeholders.
3) Entries must be typewritten, double-spaced on 8½” x 11” bond paper, one side only. A separate cover sheet should be attached to the entrant’s name, school, home address and title of the essay. Subsequent pages should be numbered sequentially and include the essay title in the upper right margin. Winners will be required to produce proof of current full-time college or university enrollment.
4) All entries must be postmarked by March 31, 1988, and received by April 15, 1988 to be eligible for consideration. Submit entries to: NCR Stakeholder Essay Competition, NCR Corporation, Stakeholder Relations Division, Dayton, Ohio 45479. NCR is not responsible for, and will not consider, late, lost or misdirected entries.
5) In the event any prize winner is a minor, the cash award will be made to his/her parent or guardian.
6) Awards to individuals will be reported as income on IRS Form 1099. All taxes are the responsibility of the recipients.
7) Award winners will be required to sign publicity release agreements and affidavits of eligibility and compliance with all rules governing the competition. Failure to return signed forms and affidavits within 15 days of receipt will cause the award to be null and void.
8) All entries become the property of NCR and will not be returned.
9) By participating in this competition entrants agree to the rules and the decisions of the judges which shall be final in all respects, and further agree to the use of their names, likeness and entries for NCR advertising and publicity purposes without any further compensation.
10) All taxes are the responsibility of the recipient, and will not be considered in making the award.
11) All participants shall agree to exclusive use of their names, likeness and entries for NCR advertising and publicity purposes without any further compensation.
12) All entrants shall agree to exclusive use of their names, likeness and entries for NCR advertising and publicity purposes without any further compensation.

NCR's Mission: Create Value for Our Stakeholders